North Marin Will Vote On Hospital Secession

Decision Made At Hearing

The proposed secession of North Marin from the Marin County Hospital District will be placed before the area's voters at an election probably to be held May 26.

After a public hearing in Novato last night, directors of the hospital district refused to allow the area to withdraw—which they could have done by vote last night—and took the only other alternative open: Called for an election.

Harold Riede, attorney for the hospital district, was instructed to prepare a resolution calling the election and present it to the board at its regular meeting at 8 a.m. next Thursday.

MAY 26 DATE

Riede said the law requires at least 60 days after adoption of the resolution before the election can be held. He added that the district wants to hold the election as soon as possible, and said he will set the May 26 date in the resolution he prepares, subject to approval of the hospital board.

A simple majority of votes would be sufficient to withdraw the Novato area from the district, he said.

Boundaries of the area proposed to be withdrawn are exactly the same as those of the Novato Fire District. The area includes Hamilton Air Force Base.

43 AT HEARING

Last night's public hearing, although it drew several sharp exchanges between speakers, was neither acrimonious nor heavily attended. Only 43 residents of the Novato area attended, several of them doctors who are actively supporting the secession move.

Khrushchev Accepts West's Bid To Big Four Session

MOSCOW (UPI) — Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev today accepted the West's invitation to a foreign ministers conference on Germany May 11. But he urged full scale talks by all World War II allies to write a final peace treaty with Germany.

Khrushchev made it known at an unusual Kremlin press conference that the Soviet Union will be represented in the Big Four negotiations urged by President Eisenhower in a radio-television address Monday.

The Russian leader signified acceptance even before the invitation had been received officially. The Western powers still are drafting a new round of diplomatic notes to Moscow.

Press reports said May 11 was the date the West had in mind.

The notes were expected to name Geneva as the site for a foreign ministers gathering.

The Soviet Premier put main emphasis, however, on a plea for a final peace treaty with

U.S. NUCLEAR BLASTS IN SPACE BARED

Tests Yield Data Valuable To Missile Defense

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States set off the world's first known nuclear blasts in space last fall and gained information valuable to development of anti-missile missiles.

This appraisal was given today by Deputy Secretary of Defense Donald Quarles. He spoke at a news conference after disclosure last night that the three high-altitude blasts had spread an electronic blanket over much of the earth.

SCIENTIFIC BENEFITS

He still was reluctant to go into any details of results achieved in the experiment, carried out by a Navy task force in the Atlantic last Aug. 27, Aug. 30 and Sept. 6. All he wanted to talk about was purse scientific benefits in the field of radiation and magnetism.

It was confirmed that the blasts were set off at an altitude of around 300 miles.

The closest Quarles and the deputies who flanked him would come to the subject of weapons was a statement that the experiment had "advanced the basis of knowledge required to develop anti-missile missiles."

RESULTS OF 'INTEREST'

At another point, Quarles said the trials—named "Argus"—had produced results "of interest to both offensive and defensive weapons."

"Nothing we learned has made us feel that we have to change the concept of the Nike-Zeus anti-missile program," Quarles said.

That amounted to a partial throw-down of one theory advanced by some scientists—that the creation of the electronic umbrella might in itself amount to a defense against nuclear missiles.

BLOCK MISSILES

Under that concept, disputed by other scientists, the electronic emissions might penetrate warheads hurtling in from space and either set off their nuclear charges prematurely, or block off the reaction altogether.

Quarles and Dr. Herbert York, director of Pentagon research, gave some details of the test shots under questioning about publication of an account of the trial in the New York Times.

They said the explosions were of very low yield in radiation. York said there was no radioactive fall-out on the earth from the tests.

MAIN OBJECTIVE

York said the main objective of the blasts was to test important theories about the trapping of electrons by the earth's magnetic field. He said the detonation of the bombs released electrons into space above the

Macmillan Arrives For Talks With Ike

WASHINGTON (AP) — British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan, arriving for talks with President Eisenhower, called today for Western policies that "combine firmness and reasonableness" in negotiations with the Soviet Union on German problems.

"I am persuaded," Macmillan told Vice President Richard M. Nixon and other U.S. officials who met him at the airport, "that the Soviet leaders realize that they like we, have a common interest in avoiding war."

What he and British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd achieved on their trip to Moscow recently, he said, was Soviet endorsement of the principle of resolving differences between nations by negotiation and not by force.

Nixon and Acting Secretary of State Christian A. Herter led a delegation of American officials who greeted Macmillan at the Military Air Terminal.

Macmillan was accompanied by a 29-member delegation which included Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd.

Their Comet airliner, the first to land in Washington, arrived ahead of schedule. The plane circled the airport for about 30 minutes so that Macmillan's appearance would be at the scheduled time.

Eisenhower and Macmillan will begin their talks tomorrow. If the weather is good, they will fly by helicopter to Camp David, Eisenhower's retreat in the Catoctin Mountains of Maryland.

SWALLOWS KEEP ANNUAL DATE AT CAPISTRANO

SAN JUAN CAPISTRANO (UPI)—The swallows returned to Mission San Juan Capistrano today to keep alive their traditional St. Joseph's Day Appointment.

Crowds of onlookers waited around the mission walls in anticipation of the event and heard the whirring of wings as thousands of birds descended and began building their nests.

Ted Hodges, a 25-year veteran at watching the arrival of the swallows, said he never had seen the birds return in such great numbers as this year.

Legend says the birds first were given shelter years and years ago by a kindly mission padre after an irate innkeeper destroyed their nests. The birds return each year on this date.

Murder Trial Witness Says He Got Threat

Turbulent emotions unleashed by the trial of Prince Sam Davis, 34-year-old Marin City garbage man accused of murdering his common-law wife, spilled out of Marin Superior Court and erupted last night in a threat to the prosecution's star witness, Matthew Walker.

Walker was an eyewitness to the shooting last Christmas Eve of iVola Baker, 34, in the kitchen of Davis's Marin City apartment.

Walker testified yesterday that after Davis fired a third shot he said, "I told you I was going to shoot you." Viola Baker died instantly of two bullet wounds.

REPORTS THREAT

At 8 o'clock last night Walker was threatened by Wade Henderson, 24, in Marin City, the witness reported to the district attorney.

Walker said he was slapped in the face and told that he was a liar by Henderson. Henderson threatened to kill Walker if Walker continued to "lie" on the witness stand, Walker told Dist. Atty. W. O. Weissich in a telephone call to Weissich's home last night.

Henderson is a brother of Jimmie L. Henderson, Marin City sailor convicted of murdering an officer aboard the USS Uvalde at Treasure Island in 1957. Wade Henderson recently served a jail sentence for stabbing a Hamilton Air Force Base airman.

CLAIMS FATHERHOOD

Wade Henderson claims that he is the father of the 9-month-old boy that Davis held in his arm as he fired the fatal shots

Tiburon Bridge Dropped From Highways Bill

State Sen. Randolph Collier (R-Yreka) has agreed to removal of the Tiburon Bridge from his California freeway system bill, it was reported from Sacramento late yesterday.

Se. J. Eugene McAteer of San Francisco said he had received Collier's assurance that he would drop the Russian Hill-Tiburon span from his proposal.

The Tiburon bridge plan aroused a storm of protest on Russian Hill when first proposed—and got a mixed reception in Marin County. It "died" in the Legislature last year, only to be revived in Collier's freeway measure this year.

McAteer said Sen. John F. McCarthy of Marin, most ardent supporter of the bridge proposal, agreed to its deletion from Collier's bill because of the adamant stand taken by San Franciscans.

McCarthy said he still thinks the bridge should be built, however. He suggested it might be one of the first projects of the Golden Gate Authority—if his bill to create such an authority is enacted into law.

Gunman Kidnaps 5 In Vengeance Plot

SOUTH CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—A crazed ex-convict held a mother and her three children as hostages today in a bizarre scheme to bargain their lives for the "head" of his "worst enemy"—a former prison cellmate.

Ex-convict Richard A. Payne, 22, unfolded his scheme in a letter delivered today to Gov. Cecil H. Underwood.

Authorities expressed grave fears for the safety of Payne's hostages—Mrs. Elma Baldwin, 29, and her children, Kenneth, 10; Danny, 7, and Susan, 5. Payne kidnapped them at gunpoint from their South Charleston home yesterday.

Payne's letter outlined a scheme for vengeance on Burton Post, 28, who is serving a total of more than 100 years in the state penitentiary at Moundsville from which Payne was released last week.

He demanded Post's life—his "head"—as the price for the release of Mrs. Baldwin and her children.

The bizarrre demands made by Payne and the hatred he expressed for Post baffled law authorities.

Penitentiary Warden Jonathan Adams and state police said Payne, who had no history of mental illness, had been in trouble at times while in prison, once for fighting with another convict—not Post.

On the other hand, Post, who had spent three years at a state mental hospital had an "excellent" record in prison despite his criminal record, Warden Adams said.

"I thought Payne and I were good friends," Post told State Police Trooper Arthur C. Hill,

Pair Virtually Tie In Police Chief Exams

The two aspirants for the post of Sausalito police chief were so close in the combined scores of their recent written and oral examinations as to be considered tied for the appointment, Sausalito Mayor Howard Sievers said today.

He pointed out that in accordance with the procedure agreed upon by the city council, selection of a new chief to succeed Louis P. Mountanos will be made at an executive personnel meeting of the city council and City Manager Donald A. Duerr.

The meeting reportedly is to be held Saturday.

Candidates for the post are Acting Chief Howard W. Goerndt and Officer David Cooper.

Small craft warnings were in effect along the north and central coasts but the northwesterly winds were expected to decrease tonight.

Office Workers Local Wins Contract With Union Bosses

Office Employees International Union Local 3 won a contract last night with its members' bosses.

The Marin County Labor Council voted to sign a contract giving the office workers a 12-cent hourly wage increase, across the board.

It was a compromise settlement of a dispute that has dragged on since the office employees' contracts with unions in Marin and Sonoma Counties expired last Oct. 31. There have been periodic threats of a strike, which would present the unusual picture of union members picketing union halls.

The affair got to the point of a request for strike sanction from the labor council two months ago. The council refused the sanction, on a closely split vote.

The office employees had sought to have a severance pay fund built up by the employing unions. The union chiefs, in chairs on the opposite side of the bargaining table from those they usually occupy, balked at extending this benefit to part-time employees.

The raise finally agreed upon is only one-half cent per hour less than the total of the "package" sought by the office employees, but is a straight pay raise, without any severance pay "kitty."

One Marin union, the Hod Carriers, Construction and General Laborers, settled earlier on the basis of the office employees' demands.

Six other unions have been involved in the dispute in Marin County. As all are represented on the labor council, presumably they will sign contracts identical with that granted by the council. They are the retail clerks, operating engineers, painters, carpenters, machinists and bartenders.

Three More File For School Posts

An incumbent member of the Marin County Board of Education, Mrs. Nancy Rust of 37 Rancheria road, Kentfield, filed late yesterday for re-eleciton on May 19, reported County Supt. Virgil S. Hollis.

Dr. Gordon Plattes, incumbent trustee of the West Marin School District, today filed for re-election. Doctor Plattes is a resident of Point Reyes Station.

Filing for the first time for the Lagunitas School District board of trustees is Ted Van Midde of Forest Knolls, who filed yesterday afternoon with the county superintendent.

CAKE GREETS CADETS AT HAMILTON

Cadets of the U.S. Air Force Academy at Colorado Springs grin appreciatively at "Welcome to Hamilton" cake baked especially for their arrival last night at the Marin air-base. The academy's class of '62—all 348 members of it—is at Hamilton for annual combat field training trip. Cadets were to participate in an open house program this afternoon.

Merchants Ask Extension Of One-Way Route

San Rafael businessmen near the Third street-Lincoln avenue area will soon lose their patience over the newly adopted one-way circle, unless the one-way system is extended to other parts of town, two businessmen declared this morning. (IP)

Fred Pape, who owns the car wash near the underpass, and Thomas Parks of Parks Electric registered their complaints at a breakfast meeting of the mayor's One-Way Street Committee. They were armed with a petition from seven businessmen.

Pape and Parks said they do not oppose the one-way circle as such, but want the one-way system extended so that bottlenecks at Third and Irwin and Third and Lincoln can be unsnarled.

Under the one-way circle which went into operation on March 2, cars go one-way eastbound under the Irwin underpass, one-way north on Irwin to Third, one-way west on Third to Lincoln, one-way south on Lincoln to Francisco, and one-way east back to the underpass.

Pape offered a plan that would make Third street one way from Irwin to E street, then up E to Fourth, and one-way on Fourth to the Miracle Mile. Second street would be one-way from the Miracle Mile to the underpass. Irwin street would be one way from the underpass north to Mission avenue. This plan is similar to the proposal originally presented by the San Rafael Traffic Advisory Committee.

Discussion on Pape's plan will continue at next Thursday's breakfast meeting, set for 8 a.m. at King Cotton.

Rowlands Sticks By Guns In Tax Suit

P. J. Rowland, president of the Marin County Taxpayers' Assn., declared in a radio debate today that the association still intends to bring suit to recover six million dollars of "illegal" Marin County taxes, although County Counsel Leland H. Jordan asserted "I can't see how any thinking person" can agree with Rowland's claim.

Rowland repeated charges that a 26 per cent increase in assessed valuation of Marin County properties ordered in 1955 by the state Board of Equalization was illegal. The proposed lawsuit would be to recover taxes covered by the 26 per cent hike for 1955, '56 and '57.

Jordan termed "highly improper" efforts of the association to gain new members "on the basis of the association's conclusion that they will be in a position to obtain illegal taxes."

The opposing views were aired on radio KTIM's "Marin Sounding Board," which will be repeated from a recording Sunday at 12:30 p.m.

Other spokesmen who argued for and against the county's right to levy taxes on the higher assessments included Dixwell L. Pierce, secretary of the state Board of Equalization, and Mrs. Evelyn McDougall of Mill Valley, a taxpayers' association director.

"Mr. Rowland's assertion to the taxpayers that they have any chance whatsoever of recovering taxes paid during those years is absolutely incorrect," declared Jordan. "I can't see how any thinking person can agree that the board of equalization's action in establishing the higher assessment was illegal."

In Tulare County, retorted Rowland, the board of supervisors chose to fight a 35 per cent assessed valuation increase ordered by the board of equalization. A superior court there ruled the increase illegal, he said.

Three state supreme court justices have disagreed with the Tulare court's ruling, declared Jordan. "And the other seven have not yet offered their opinions on it. It would only take one more vote to reverse that opinion."

Pierce said "the board of equalization ordered 26 per cent increase for Marin County in 1955, not under the provisions of 1949 statutes, as Mr. Rowland said, but rather under the broad powers of the board granted in the state constitution."

Mrs. McDougall declared that a recent statement by Dist. Atty. W. O. Weissich appearing in the Independent-Journal that he is investigating the taxpayers' appeal, "is unwarranted and unfair publicity."

"The association is not guilty of barratry as has been implied," she said.

Rowland held it was "improper" for the district attorney to make public the fact that he is carrying out such an investigation.

"District attorneys before and after Mr. Weissich have and will announce to the public investigations, particularly when secrecy is of no concern. The public should be kept informed on such matters," retorted Jordan.

HOSPITAL

ation, urged the hospital board to grant withdrawal on its own motion last night, without a public vote.

He argued that the hospital district would benefit from the separation through addition of hospital facilities in Novato by the private corporation. This would relieve overcrowding now frequently experienced at the district-operated Marin General Hospital, he contended.

LONG STATEMENT

Harvey Vicchio, Novato resident, presented a long statement of arguments against withdrawal of Novato from the district.

Vicchio listed these arguments, among others:

1. The petitions asking withdrawal, filed last year with the hospital board, "do not represent the wishes of a true cross-section of the voters of this area."

2. "The wish for withdrawal of this area from the hospital district, as expressed by these petitions, is the result of a very strenuous and well devised campaign by a small, powerful and influential group of people in the medical profession in Novato and is being done for personal gain and profit only. There are at present between 8,000 and 9,000 registered voters in the area . . . Only 585 persons signed these petitions."

CORE OF PROBLEM

Dr. Paul F. O'Rourke, Novato physician, said the entire hospital problem in North Marin centers around the single fact that the area has asked for a district-operated hospital in Novato and the district has been, and is, unable to provide it.

The withdrawal move, he contended, is a plan under which hospital beds would be provided in Novato, "something the district cannot do."

To a question as to why a private hospital cannot be built without withdrawing Novato from the district, Grundstrom replied that lending institutions have indicated they would look with greater favor on loans for its construction if it were located outside a hospital district.

The board, in calling for an election, indicated it could not arrive at a finding that North Marin will not be benefitted by staying in the district, nor could it find that the district would not be harmed by withdrawal. Both findings would be required under law to justify board action to allow withdrawal without an election, Riede said.

On motion of Director William H. Thomas, the board formally found that North Marin would be benefitted by staying in the district, and took its only alternative: Calling an election.

The standard British phone booth has in internal volume of about 50 cubic feet, including the telephone.

earth's magnetic field created a great sheet that eventually circled the globe.

The non-military part of the test, York said, was to find out more about the nature and origin of the Van Allen belt of radiation.

The Van Allen belt is a mysterious radiation band beginning at about 1,000 miles above the earth and extending, with more interruptions, up to at least 12,000 miles. It is named for its discoverer, Dr. James Van Allen, State University of Iowa physicist.

ARTIFICIAL EFFECT

York said the phenomenon created above the earth's atmosphere by the September tests consisted of a sheet of electrons which was "an artificial version of the natural effect" from the Van Allen belt.

The electronic sheet created by the bombs, York said, extended around the whole world except for breaks over both the North and South poles—a pattern similar to the Van Allen belt.

York would not disclose the depth of the artificial sheet or say how long the phenomenon lasted.

The Explorer IV satellite sent back some data on the tests. This information is to be released later.

Hamilton Puts On Big Display Of Airpower

Past, present and future officers of the Air Force—and the public—converged on Hamilton Air Force Base today as the base staged a mammoth display of air power in an open house.

A group of about 140 retired high ranking Air Force officers was on hand to represent the past. The famed Thunderbirds, the Air Force's spectacular precision flight demonstration team, were to stage a display of low-level, wing-tip to wing-tip flying late this afternoon.

The future is represented by 384 members of the Air Force Academy's class of 1962, who arrived at Hamilton last night and were to parade during the open house today.

The cadets "went supersonic" today, as 130 of them were given training flights in TF102 Delta Dart Convair fighters. The planes are two-seat trainer versions of the F102 fighter.

Their flights included supersonic runs over a course out to sea, simulated firing runs at a B29 bomber and simulated radar-controlled returns to base.

The cadets will be honored at a dance at the officers club tomorrow night, and will leave Hamilton Sunday.

Air Force fighters and other aircraft were on "static" display today, with personnel on hand to explain them to visitors.

at Viola, said Weissich. Davis says the baby is his.

The trial before a jury of 10 women and two men in Marin Superior Court, with Judge Jordan L. Martinelli presiding, was to continue at 1:30 p.m. today.

Public Defender Leonard A. Thomas, attorney for Davis, cross-examined Walker yesterday about the statement attributed to Davis after the shooting. At the preliminary hearing on Jan. 2, Walker had testified that Davis said nothing.

WOMAN'S STATEMENT

Walker said he remembered the statement after the preliminary hearing. He also testified yesterday to another statement, this one attributed to Viola, which he had not mentioned at the preliminary hearing.

Walker said Viola told him that she and Prince Sam always fought when he sought to press his love on her.

Walker testified that he went to the Davis apartment on the night of he killing and found Davis holding the door closed, the baby in his arms, so Viola couldn't get outside.

CHASES BAKER

He said Viola had chased Baker out of the apartment with a butcher knife and was slashing at a window of the front door as Baker held the door closed.

Walker testified that he was at the kitchen sink helping Viola wash a cut suffered while she slashed at the door, when she turned and was shot by Davis.

Davis said in an earlier questioning that Viola was reaching for another butcher knife and he shot her in self-defense. Walker testified yesterday that he did not see her reaching for a knife.

East and West Germany and the ending of the occupation of West Berlin by British, French and U. S. Troops.

"We are striving toward just one thing—to see to it that the dark clouds of a new war should forever disappear from the international horizon," Khrushchev said.

"We appeal to the governments of all countries which took part in the war against Hitlerite Germany to sit down at the table of negotiations and settle problems (and) to conclude a peace treaty with Germany," he said.

Khrushchev said the Soviet Union had made proposals on a German peace treaty and on "normalization" of the Berlin situation.

"It is now up to the Western powers," he said. "If they are seriously ready for talks, we shall not hold up matters. We shall do everything we can to make the talks a success."

Khrushchev said that during his talks with British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan it was acknowledged that East-West negotiations are "necessary."

who questioned him in the prison. "We were cellmates for years and the only argument I cat nhink of that we had was one time when we squabbled over a chess game."

Scores of police aided by FBI agents from Pittsburgh joined in the hunt for Payne.

Payne, in the letter to Underwood, said, "I have kidnapped some children who are citizens of West Virgainia . . . which you govern. Only you have the power to save them from certain death by granting my demands. I don't want money—I want VENGEANCE.

"My purpose is to kill and take the head of my worst enemy who is now out of reach. He is in West Virgainia penitentiary at Moundsville.

"I demand that you cause the convict whose name is Burton Junior Post, to cooperate with me. I HATE him with all my existence. Now I must kill him or go mad. I am honorable. Do as I say and I will prove my honor."

Payne's letter then described a "death circuit" which Post was to travel in an automobile. The circuit was a triangular area between South Charleston, Spencer and Salem, roughly 30 by 40 by 60 miles. Payne apparently wanted Post to drive in this area, and he would exact vengeance at some point to be determined by himself.

Payne gave the governor few alternatives.

"If you succeed, then I will release half the kids as soon as I can. I release the rest at the time I get Post. If Post refuses despite all I can do, I will release half the kids anyway but will torture the others to death," Payne threatened.

At another point the five-page letter said, "If Post refuses because you just want him to die . . . then all my captives will be tortured to death. I have spoken."

"By the night of the 21st, I should have his head," Payne wrote.

Pt. Reyes Park Urged By Speakers

More than 100 persons last night heard conservation leaders urge development of the Pt. Reyes Peninsula as a national recreation area, at a meeting of the Marin Conservation League at College of Marin.

Talks and color slide showing were presented by Dr. Paul Wilson, head of the college science department; Garner Curtiss, associate professor of geology at University of California; James Cole of the National Park Service planning department, and B. K. Dunshee of Ross, member of the league.

Mrs. B. K. Dunshee, a vice president, said the surprise speaker of the evening was Aivind Scoyan, associate director of the National Park Service, who spoke on the vital need for development of such seaside areas.

The recreation development is being opposed by West Marin property owners, who cite loss to the county's dairy industry if the land is turned into a national park.

FINAL RITES FOR JUSTICE — The casket containing the body of Jesse L. Carter of Sleepy Hollow, associate justice of the California Supreme Court, is placed in hearse after funeral service yesterday at First Presbyterian Church in San Anselmo. Gov. Edmund G. Brown stands at extreme right. In front of him is Robert E. Smallman, who conducted Masonic rites for the late justice.

300 AT FUNERAL

Dignitaries Pay Last Respects To Carter

Funeral services for Jesse Washington Carter of Sleepy Hollow, associate justice of the California Supreme Court, were attended by some 300 persons from all walks of life yesterday at the First Presbyterian Church of San Anselmo.

Among the notables paying final respects to the 70-year-old jurist, who died Sunday, were Gov. Edmund G. Brown, Atty. Gen. Stanley Mosk, Chief Justice Phil S. Gibson of the state Supreme Court and Carter's fellow associate justices.

Dr. Carl Gordon Howie, pastor of Calvary Presbyterian Church of San Francisco, officiated at the simple rites. There were four floral tributes, one of them forming the emblem of the Masonic order.

MASONIC RITES

Preceding the religious services were Masonic rites conducted by Robert A. Smallman, worshipful master of Fairfax Lodge 556. Justice Carter was a master Mason in Western Star Lodge 2.

Before placing a Masonic scroll on the closed casket, Smallman paid "the last tribute of our affection" to Justice Carter, who, he said, had entered "that celestial lodge above."

Dr. Howie quoted several selections from the Bible, including the 23rd Psalm. He offered a prayer asking that the good influences of Justice Carter's life be blessed and sustained "that they may continue to bless those whom he knew and loved."

'MEMORY BE SWEET'

"May the memory of him be sweet to those who knew him best," Dr. Howie said.

The funeral, directed by the Harry M. Williams Mortuary of San Rafael, was attended by members of Justice Carter's immediate family and many relatives. Burial was in Mt. Tamalpais Cemetery, San Rafael.

Family members present included the justice's widow, Jean; two sons and a daughter, Oliver Jesse Carter, a judge of the U.S. District Court in San Francisco, Prof. Harlan Field Carter and Mrs. Silvio Bui of Redding; two sisters, Mrs. Emma Lane of San Anselmo and Mrs. Lizzie Reese of Perris, Riverside County, and two brothers, Henry Carter of Redding and John E. Carter of Cottonwood, Shasta County.

ACTIVE PALLBEARERS

Active pallbearers included two nephews, Robert D. Carter of Modesto and John Harvey Carter of Sacramento; Daniel S. Carlton of Redding, Superior Court Judge Samuel Finley of Del Norte County, Charles Goff of Merced and Leonard Martin of Ross.

Governor Brown, Attorney General Mosk and Chief Justice Gibson were among the honorary pallbearers.

The rites were attended by many Bay Area attorneys and judges, the latter including Albert Wollenberg of the U.S. District Court in San Francisco; Murray Draper of the 1st District Court of Appeals; Jordan L. Martinelli, N. Charles Brusatori and Thomas F. Keating of Marin County Superior Court; Richard M. Sims Jr. and Harold J. Haley of Marin Municipal Court, and Byron Arnold of San Francisco Municipal Court.

PAY LAST TRIBUTE

Also among those paying final respects to Justice Carter were David Menary, former Marin County sheriff; George W. Hall, former Marin assessor; Donald T. Wood, San Anselmo police chief; Sally Stanford, Sausalito restaurateur; Senior Capt. Walter Nash of the Salvation Army; Arthur Samish, former legislative lobbyist in Sacramento; Edwin (Horsetrader Ed) Shapiro, San Francisco automobile dealer; Clinton T. Duffy, former warden of San Quentin Prison; Walter R. Castro, chairman of the Marin County Board of Supervisors; Joseph Karesh, U.S. commissioner in San Francisco; David Snodgrass, dean of Hastings College of Law, San Francisco, and Dr. Leo L. Stanley, former chief surgeon at San Quentin Prison.

Brown (center), who was attorney general before becoming governor Jan. 3, converses with former Sheriff David Menary (left, back to camera), Police Chief Donald T. Wood of San Anselmo and Thomas A. Maloney, who served as a state senator from San Francisco for 32 years. (Independent-Journal photo)

NORFOLK, Va. (AP)—Mrs. Grady D. Hendrix was wiping off a .22 automatic pistol she and her husband kept on a table in their trailer home. It went off and hit Hendrix in the ankle. The shock startled her so much that her hand tightened and the gun went off again. Hendrix was hit in the other ankle.

'New Look' Atlas Missile Flops In Test

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Air Force fired a "new look" Atlas missile from Cape Canaveral last night but it developed trouble and fell far short of the planned intercontinental-range flight.

All indications were that the failure headed off an intended effort to recover the new model nose cone intact after its red hot re-entry into the atmosphere from the fringes of space.

The Air Force said today that the huge missile, carrying the same type of nose cone that would house a deadly thermonuclear warhead in combat, developed "propulsion and control problems." It dropped into the Atlantic about 700 miles from the launching pad on the Florida east coast.

The shoot was intended to send the Atlas about 4,500 miles.

NATION'S BUSINESS IN EASTER BOOM

Retail Sales On Increase In Most Areas; Only Big Deterrent Is Bad Weather

NEW YORK (AP) — Rising prosperity, a booming stock market and a return to fashions that flatter the female form are putting new life into the nation's Easter retail trade.

So say many of the merchants, bankers and chamber of commerce officials interviewed by the Associated Press in a coast-to-coast survey.

"Business is shapping up beautifully," says an executive of a big department store on Chicago's State street. "Easter sales are far ahead of last year."

SPENDING MORE

"People are spending with more confidence," said Richard H. Rich, president of Rich's in Atlanta.

"Consumers are more confident and seem to be spending more," observes Joseph Liebman, senior vice president of L. Bamberger and Co., Newark, N.J.

While optimism is the keynote, you'll find dissenters here and there. A New York department store executive complains that "women don't get excited about fashions when there's a half foot of snow on the ground."

HEAVY SNOW

Wide areas of the northeast and upper midwest were blanketed by a heavy snowfall late last week, and store sales took a nosedive.

Other localized deterrents to an unbounded shopping spree include: Persistent pockets of unemployment in some industrial centers, scattered state and local tax increases and—in cities where winter has lingered on—the earlier Easter date.

Not all merchants regard the earlier Easter as a handicap. In some southern and western cities where the weather has been mild, it is considered an asset.

L.A. SENTIMENT

That's the sentiment of merchants in Los Angeles where the mercury climbed into the high 80s while snow fell in New York. It's echoed by store officials in Miami, San Francisco, Dallas, Denver and Kansas City.

"Business is tremendous," exults Cyril Magnin, president of Joseph Magnin's, San Francisco women's store.

The weather is cause for much grousing among merchants in Boston, New York, Philadelphia, Seattle, Cleveland and Pittsburgh.

Marshall Resting Well In Hospital

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gen. George C. Marshall was reported to be resting well at Walter Reed Army Hospital today.

A hospital spokesman said there has "been some slight improvement" in Marshall's condition the past few days. The spokeman added that Marshall is visited daily by his wife.

Marshall, 79, has been in a serious condition for several weeks as the result of two strokes.

24-Hour Prayer Vigil

A 24-hour pre-Holy Week prayer vigil will be held from 8 p.m. tomorrow through 8 p.m. Saturday at the Mill Valley Methodist Church, Rev. Edgar Nelson, pastor, announced today.

STOCKS TODAY

NEW YORK (AP) — Stock prices turned mixed late this afternoon as many issues bounced back from earlier lows.

Trading ran at a relatively busy clip. Volume for the day was estimated at four million shares against 4,530,000 yesterday.

Standard Oil New Jersey picked up nearly a point. Royal Dutch added a few cents.

Ford maintained an early gain of about two points while Chrysler and American Motors advanced around half a point.

Zenith surrendered some of its four-point morning gain but still was about 1½ ahead. Radio Corp. rose a fraction and Raytheon slipped a bit.

Anaconda, Kennecott and Phelps Dodge all lost around a point. Republic gave up about half a point.

Lorillard advanced more than two. Du Pont pared an early two-point loss to under a point.

U.S. government bonds held to a narrow range.

New Meeting Called On Bret Harte Access

San Rafael and Marin County officials will try again tomorrow morning to get the long-sought Auburn street railway crossing, which would provide an outlet from the Bret Harte area to Highway 101.

T. Fred Bagshaw, assistant director of the state Public Works Department, called the meeting for 10 a.m. in the county courthouse supervisors' chambers. Expected to attend are Supervisor William D. Fusselman, County Public Works Director Marvin Brigham, City Manager Dan Andersen and San Rafael Public Works Director Norris Rawles.

San Rafael wants Auburn street extended over railroad tracks to tie into the newly built highway access road, giving Bret Harte an access to the highway at the California Park overpass area. But Northwestern Pacific Railroad Co. wants either an overhead or an underground crossing of the tracks, which would be costly.

Roads exist on both sides of the track. About 100 feet of paving would connect the roads.

Social Meeting Set

A social meeting of the newly formed San Francisco-Marin chapter of Parents Without Partners will be held tonight at 7:30 o'clock in the Hall of the Good Samaritan, 1290 Potrero street, San Francisco.

Sign Ordinance Change Asked

Directors of the Mill Valley Chamber of Commerce, still wrestling with the city's controversial sign ordinance, voted yesterday to ask the city council to change the wording of one portion of the law so as not to limit the number of signs permitted for a multiple occupancy building.

The present regulation limits such signs to four.

Chamber secretary John E. McSweeney said the two buildings primarily involved are the Keystone Building on Lytton Square and the Avenue Market Building.

The directors also agreed again to sponsor the annual Easter flower display and to publish a membership list broken down by business classification.

Marin Employment Up; Some Jobs Are Unfilled

No only is there full employment for Marin County union members, but in two fields there is a shortage of help.

This was reported by union delegates at last night's meeting of the Marin County Labor Council in Painters Hall in San Rafael.

Pat Dailey of the Bartenders and Culinary Workers Union reported a shortage of worker, especially cooks and waitresses.

Omar McNally of the Machinists Lodge reported his union was having difficulty meeting demands for both skilled and unskilled labor.

Delegates from other unions generally reported full employment. Leon Ginsberg of the Carpenters Union said 60 members of that local are out of work, but such a small number "is almost unaparalleled for this time of year," reported Hugh Cassidy, Labor Council secretary.

Two Slayers Will Die In Gas Chamber In May

Two convicted murderers on San Quentin Prison's Death Row will be executed in the gas chamber in May, Associate Warden W. D. Achuff announced yesterday. Both are double slayers.

Richard G. Riser, 33, of Stanislaus County, who fatally shot Mr. and Mrs. Earl Hastings during a holdup at their Oakdale tavern in July, 1955, is scheduled to die May 22.

The date was set in Stanislaus County Superior Court after the U. S. Supreme Court turned down an appeal for review by Riser's attorney, Carl B. Shapiro of Fairfax. Riser, who has been on Death Row since February, 1956, was to have been executed last September, but won a last-minute stay from Justice William O. Douglas of the U. S. Supreme Court.

Vender Lee Duncan, 31-year-old San Franciscan, will pay with his life May 29 for strangling two San Francisco women. Elizabeth Manning, 75, who was killed on Sept. 4, 1955, and Mrs. Ada Romig, 68, on May 9, 1957, had both been robbed and raped, reported the deputy warden.

San Francisco Superior Court fixed the date after the state Supreme Court affirmed Duncan's conviction. (All cases involving capital punishment are automatically appealed to the higher court.) Duncan was admitted to San Quentin last May 27.

Fund Drive Starts For Heart Surgery

ORINDA (AP)—Residents along the route of mail carrier Lawrence Isola launched a drive last night to raise funds for an operation to correct the deformed heart of Isola's 7-year-old son, Danny.

Doctors said Danny's condition was almost identical to that of David Stewart, the Sharp Park boy who underwent surgery at Chicago last Thursday.

Danny, who lives with his parents in nearby Concord, was born with a hole in his heart and with the two main blood vessels transposed.

Surgery has become imperative for the youngster, physicians explained.

Marin School Administrator May Suffer $1,288 Yearly Salary Cut

By WAT TAKESHITA

One of the top school administrators of Marin County will suffer a salary cut of $1,288 per year from the coming fiscal year, under a budget proposed by County Schools Supt. Virgil S. Hollis.

Among salary cuts recommended by the superintendent is a reduction by that amount of the salary of Leland J. Harris, assistant superintendent in charge of business administration services.

Dr. Hollis explained that Harris has been drawing regular pay ($10,860) from the county general fund, and in addition has been getting the $1,288 from the school services fund, which is state money. Dr. Hollis said he does not feel it is proper for a man who draws a regular county salary to get the additional pay from another source.

IN MERIT SYSTEM?

Whether Harris comes under the county merit system (which gives employees certain rights as to appointment, promotion and dismissal) or is serving at the discretion of the superintendent has also come up for question. Superintendent Hollis asked the county counsel for a legal opinion on Harris' status. In asking for the opinion, Hollis said he has no immediate plan for changes in his staff members.

"Some people thought he was under the merit system, and others thought not. I merely wanted a clarification of Mr. Harris' status," Hollis said.

County Counsel Leland H. Jordan's opinion, handed down this week, is that Harris has acquired permanent status in his position and therefore comes under the merit system. Thus, any dismissal would be subject to review by the county personnel commission and the board of supervisors.

UNUSUAL CASE

Under ordinary circumstances, the chief deputy or assistant under each department head serves at the pleasure of the department head and does not come under the merit system. Therefore, the county schools superintendent, for example, would be free to appoint or dismiss his chief assistant who is paid from general county funds. But the case of Harris is unusual, the county counsel points out. Here is why:

Harris was appointed director of school administration in 1953 under Dr. Wallace W. Hall. At that time, the position of assistant superintendent was filled by Miss Martha Smith. When Miss Smith retired in 1957, her duties were distributed among other staff members. And Harris got the title of assistant superintendent, although his duties remained the same as before.

UPHELD IN COURT

County Counsel Jordan points out that courts have upheld this line of reasoning: Where a public employee acquired job security under a merit system, as Harris had done, he cannot thereafter be deprived of his rights by changing the title of his position but not his duties.

If Harris should quit his post, a new man appointed to fill the assistant superintendent's post could be hired and dismissed at the will of the superintendent.

LIGHT MOMENT AT TRIAL — Mrs. Elizabeth Duncan throws back her head and roars with laughter during recess of her Ventura trial yesterday when reminded about some of the testimony presented to the jury which is determining the penalty for the murder of which it convicted her. Most of the laughs came from testimony of George Satriano, 51, one of Mrs. Duncan's dozen known husbands. He told of marrying her for her money and then discovering she didn't have any. (AP Wirephoto)

Mrs. Duncan Can't Keep Mates Straight

VENTURA (UPI) — Convicted murderess Elizabeth Duncan couldn't keep her 10 to 16 husbands straight today in a hearing to decide her penalty for hiring the slaying of her son's wife.

Mrs. Duncan took the stand to testify about her life from childhood in a New Mexico mining town in an effort by defense attorney S. Ward Sullivan to show what forces motivated the greying defendant.

Sullivan had progressed through eight husbands that Mrs. Duncan could remember, and was starting on her ninth mate when she interrupted him and said:

"I think D'Amato was before Sollenne."

Mrs. Duncan's list up to that point included Dewey Pessier, Frank Low, Frank Duncan, Joseph Gold, George Satriano, Stephen Gillis and Leonard Sollenne.

The man by the name of D'Amato testified earlier in the trial under the name of Robert D'Amato, 37. He said he had met Mrs. Duncan on his bus run from Los Angeles to Santa Barbara and back.

The bus driver said he had three motel dates with Mrs. Duncan but denied marrying her.

The matronly defendant insisted, however, that she and D'Amato were wed in Las Veggas. Sullivan asked Mrs. Duncan if the name Mitchell meant anything to her. She said "no."

According to Dist. Atty, Roy Gustafson, a man named Mitchell might have been one of her former husbands.

Speaking Contest Set Tomorrow

Student speakers contest zone finals for the Kentfield, San Anselmo and Fairfax Lions Clubs will be held tomorrow night at Rickey's Rancho Rafael in Ignacio.

Charles E. Gillis of the Kentfield club said the finalists will be David Wilson of Marin Catholic High School for Kentfield, Linda Allison of Sir Francis Drake High for San Anselmo, and Norma Fong of Sir Francis Drake for Fairfax.

The dinner meeting will start at 8 p.m. with talks scheduled to start about 8:45 p.m. The public is invited, Gillis said.

Topic for the competitive talks will be, "Complacency—A Danger to America."

The winner of the zone contest will go on into the regional competition.

Gillis said the Kentfield winner was chosen from a competition last month. He won out over Melinda Krause, Sue Hayes and Michael Anderson, all of Marin Catholic High.

Bible Expert Cites Sayings Of Jesus In Old Manuscript

NEW YORK (UPI) — A noted Biblical authority said last night that an ancient Coptic manuscript found in Egypt in 1946 contained 114 sayings of Jesus which may be as authentic as those found in the New Testament Gospels.

Dr. Oscar Cullman called the discovery of "The Gospel of Thomas" of greater significance to scholars than the finding of the famed Dead Sea Scrolls.

Dr. Cullman, professor of early Christianity at the Sorbonne in Paris, is a visiting professor at the Union Theological Seminary.

MANY PARABLES

He said in a lecture last night he had been in possession of the text of "the Gospel of Thomas" since 1956 and had found many sayings and parables attributed to Jesus that have no parallel in the gospels of Matthew, Mark, Luke or John.

The Biblical expert said the Thomas gospel appeared to be an apocryphal work compiled by a Gnostic and dating in part from the second century after Christ. He said the quotations attributed to Jesus were possibly derived from the same collection of Jesus' sayings that Mark — and perhaps Matthew and Luke—drew on when they wrote their testaments.

QUOTES 'PEARLS'

Dr. Cullman described some of the new sayings as "pearls" and said their interpretation would occupy scholars for decades to come. Some of the "pearls" he quoted were:

"Jesus said: He who is near me is near the fire, and he who is far from me is far from the kingdom."

"Split a piece of wood—I am there; lift the stone and you will find me there."

"Jesus said: If those who lead you say to you: Behold, the kingdom is in heaven, then the birds of heaven will precede you; if they say to you that it is in the sea, then the fish will precede you. But the kingdom is within you and it is outside of you."

Dr. Cullman stressed that the Thomas gospel is not actually a gospel with a narrative of events providing a setting for Jesus' utterances, but merely a collection of quotations. However, he said he believed it to be "much more important than all the other apocryphal gospels" because of the age of the material contained.

The Thomas gospel was one of 44 treatises written on papyrus and bound in 13 leather-covered volumes. The book had been hidden in a jar in a tomb in a limestone cliff near Khenoboskion, 60 miles from Luxor, Egypt. Peasants found them and burned at least one of them to heat a pot of tea before scholars in Cairo got wind of the discovery.

All but one of the books are now in the Coptic museum in Cairo.

Twang Talk

TOLEDO, Ohio, (AP) — Arthur Harris, "twanged" when he talked. Playing with his toys, he caught a coil spring ¾ of an inch long on his tongue and upper jaw. Manfully, he went to bed without telling his parents and ate breakfast the next moring without saying a word. Teachers at Lagrange school noticed his peculiar diction and sent him to a hospital where the spring was removed.

Public Barred From Bonita Lighthouse

The picturesque lighthouse at Pt. Bonita on the north side of the Golden Gate has been closed to visitors, according to Rear Adm. Russell E. Wood, commander of the 12th Coast Guard District.

A popular attraction for hikers and camera fans, the lighthouse was closed because "deterioration of the hazardous trail leading to the installation due to storm action," Admiral Wood said.

Although plans are being made to repair the trail, visiting at the lighthouse thereafter "will be discouraged due to the hazardous nature of the terrain," the announcement added.

The lighthouse has been accessible by traveling through Fts. Baker and Barry and past the Army Nike installation.

Hallinans In London For Start Of Tour

Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Hallinan of Ross and their sons, Butch and Tuffy, were in London today, the stepping-off place for a tour of Europe that will last until September.

The Hallinans will be in Moscow on May Day.

Their month-long visit to Russia will not start until May. Before that time they will tour Europe at will. Their Russian visit is carefully scheduled however, and will include tours of Kiev, Odessa, Sochi on the Black Sea, Tbilisi in Georgia, and Leningrad. They will travel Russia by train, boat and air.

Their travels will also take to Helsinki, Warsaw, Prague and East Berlin.

In June, 24-year-old Butch will return to the United States and leave for a trip to Mexico before entering Hastings College of Law in September.

The Hallinan's other four sons, Dynamite, Kayo, Flash and Danny, will join them in Europe at the close of school for an extended trip on the continent that will last until September. Mrs. Hallinan told Mrs. Alice Burman, Hallinan's secretary, they might pay a return visit to Russia at that time.

Fight World Hails Moore

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Triumphant Davey Moore, the world's featherweight crown perched on his head, today received the plaudits of the fight world for his 13th round knockout victory over Hogan Kid Bassey of Nigeria last night in a bruising title bout.

In one round, the sixth, the former national amateur bantamweight champion turned the tide of battle as he sent the champion reeling into the ropes with a wild flurry of blows that left Bassey dazed and an easy target.

The Springfield, Ohio, challenger followed up his advantage in the next round to cut up the champion even more. He then piled up a big margin of points through the 13th round when Bassey's manager, George Biddles, stopped the fight because the champion could not see from the blood flowing into his eyes.

Moore weighed 125½ and Bassey 125 for the bout.

BIG OVATION

The crowd of 10,000 which paid $65,602.98 to see the title bout in Olympic Auditorium gave both fighters a tremendous ovation when they left the ring after their nationally-televised bout.

"I knew at the end of the sixth round that I was going to win the title," Moore said happily as he received congratulations in his dressing room.

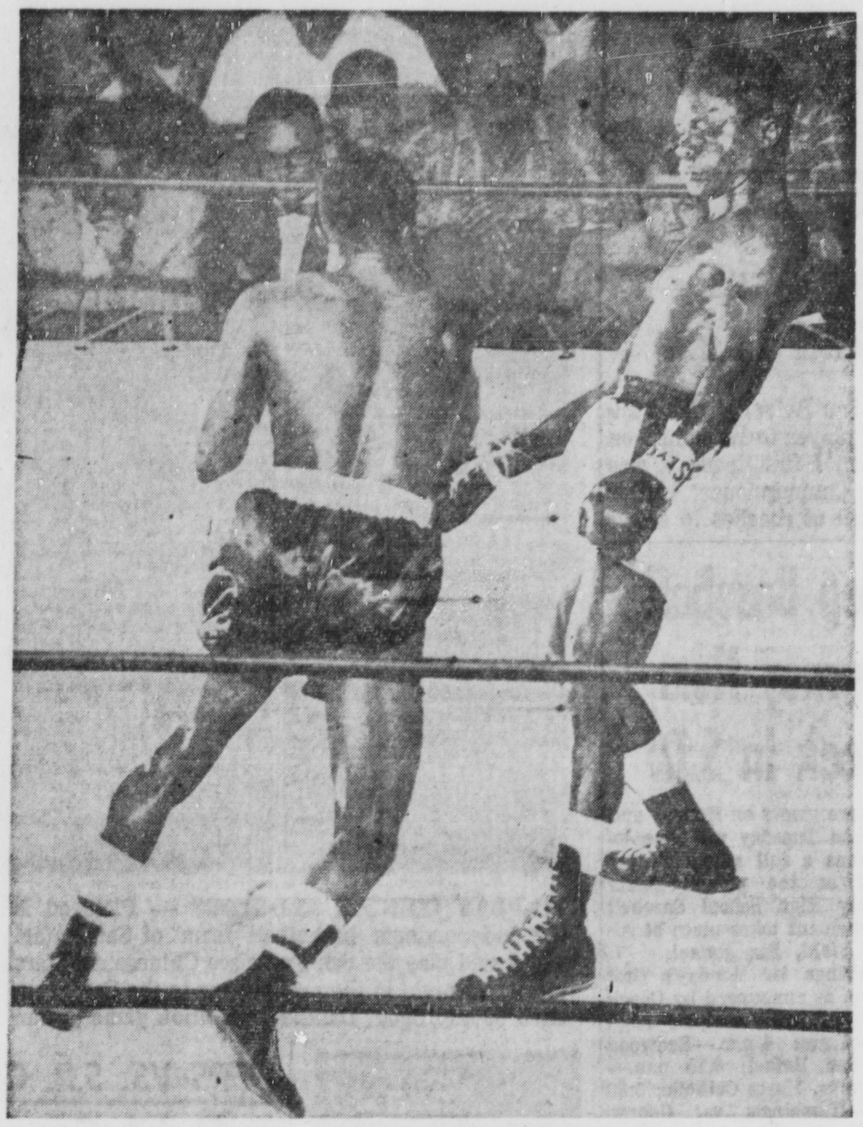
The fight agreement called for a return match within 90 days—if the champion lost.

COULDN'T SEE

"He couldn't see," Biddles explained to Bassey's wife at ringside after ordering the fight stopped. "I wouldn't send him out to be murdered — champion or not."

Mrs. Bassey's plaintive cry of "Come on, Hogan!" had resounded through the crowded auditorium repeatedly as she tried to urge on the little Nigerian.

Referee Tommy Hart had Moore in front on points, 126-119, after 13 rounds, as did Judge Mushy Callahan. Judge George Latka scored it 125-121 and the United Press International, 128-119, for Moore.



MOORE FLOORS HIMSELF—Davey Moore, of Springfield, O., misses champion Hogan Bassey with a sweeping right that pulled Moore off balance and momentarily to the canvas in the third round of their featherweight title fight last night. Moore went on to win the 13-round slugging match and the title when Bassey's manager stopped the brawl because of his fighter's eye cuts. (AP Wirephoto)

Cal Coach Scoffs At Home Advantage For Louisville

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Take a hot team like Louisville, blend in a heaping portion of home court advantage and you have the probable favorite in the NCAA basketball championships at Freedom Hall here Friday and Saturday.

Or do you? Coach Pete Newell of California's Pacific Coast Conference champions—for one—isn't buying the Louisville advantage.

"In a tournament like this," Newell said today, "a home team doesn't have the advantage it has for a regular season game.

"For one thing, the men officiating the games all are from different sections of the country. The rules sometimes are interpreted differently and whatever advantage a team might have would tend to be minimized."

"For another," Newell added, "with a tournament like this, the folks are here to see the championship decided—not to root solely for the home team."

Newell's Golden Bears, who swept past Utah and St. Mary's in the Far West NCAA regional last weekend while pushing their winning streak to 14, face Cincinnati and the great Oscar Robertson in the second game of Fridays semifinal program.

Louisville, a surprise survivor after successive upsets of defending champ Kentucky and Big Ten king Michigan State in the Mid-East regional, meet West Virginia's Southern Conference champions in the opener at 8:30 p.m.

California was the first of the three visiting teams to arrive, flying in in time for a workout.

"We got here early because we knew the boys would be tired from the long flight and would need a day to get back to normal," Newell said.

The next question was inevitable — and Newell was ready.

"What about Robertson?"

"We've been very good on defense all season (the Bears ranked No. 1 nationally) and I don't think this is any time to concoct anything strange or novel. We know we aren't going to shut him out—but we have an idea we can minimize him."

PLAYOFF ON TV

The California-Cincinnati game in the NCAA championship round at Louisville tomorrow night will be televised live in the Bay Area by station KTVU, Channel 2. Air time will be 7:30 p.m. PST.

The station said also that if California enters the finals, Saturday's championship game would be televised at 7 p.m.

LAS VEGAS, APRIL 21

Patterson To Defend Title Against London

NEW YORK (AP) — World Heavyweight Champion Floyd Patterson today was made a prohibitive 1-6 favorite to whip Britain's burly Brian London in a "warmup" title fight at Las Evas, Tuesday, April 21.

Broadway bookmakers set the odds shortly after Patterson's manager, Cus d'Amato and fledgling promoter Cecil Rhodes Jr., a Cranford, N.J., steel firm executive, announced the television (NBC) fight was set for the New Convention Hall in the Nevada resort city.

D'Amato stressed that Patterson's June fight in New York (probably June 23 in Yankee Stadium) with Ingemar Johansson, Sweden's undefeated European champion, still was scheduled.

"Patterson, if victorious—and I'm confident he will be—not only will fight London and Johansson, but probably will have other fights this year," said the manager.

London, a 24-year-old, 209-pound brawler, and former British and British Empire champion, is ranked fifth by the NBA and ninth by Ring. He lost his titles last Jan. 12 to Henry Cooper in a bloody, 15-round bout in London.

The son of a former British champion, Jack London, Brian won the British titles by knocking out Welshman Joe Erskine in the eighth round last June 23. When he followed up with a controversial fifth-round technical knockout (on cuts) over high-ranking Willie Pastrano on Sept. 30, he was boosted to No. 2 challenger.

London, a pro four years, has a 22-4 won-lost record, including 19 knockouts. He has been stopped once. That was by Cooper in their first clash in 1956 and was London's first defeat.

London will receive in the neighborhood of $75,000. D'Amato said Rhodes and the promoter's associates had guaranteed the fighters $250,000.

Patterson's cut (including D'Amato's share) figures to be around $150,000. If he should lose, the 24-year-old New Yorker will get a return bout within 90 days.

London has been in training for some time and is expected in New York within 10 days. Patterson has been training at Summit, N.J., for nearly three weeks.

Pearson O.K., To Return To Action

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP)—Albie Pearson, last year's American League rookie of the year, and teammate Ron Samford have a doctor's clearance to resume spring training with the Washington Senators.

After examining both ailing players in Washington yesterday, Dr. George A. Resta, Nats' physician announced:

"Pearson has a hernia but no surgery is indicated. Samford has a nerve injury of the shoulder that should clear up soon . . . I believe they'll be all right when the season starts."

TWO HOME RUNS BY BOCCABELLA SPARK MARIN

John Boccabella, considered Marin County's most promising high school baseball player, lived up to the reputation yesterday when he clouted two booming home runs in one inning to lead Marin Catholic to a 10-3 triumph over the Tamalpais Indians at Tam.

The husky senior slugger drove across five runs with his circuit shots to center and left field during Marin's nine-run explosion in the sixth inning of the seven-inning tilt. Twelve players went to bat in the big frame as Marin overcame a 1-0 Tam lead.

Lefty Dave Creighton went the distance on the mound for Marin, limiting Tam to two hits, one each by Bill Buffalow and Tim Farrell. Creighton and Jerry DeRosa each got two safeties for Marin.

Buick Electra To Pace 500-Miler

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — The Indianapolis Motor Speedway announced today that a Buick Electra convertible will pace the start of the 43rd annual 500-mile race May 30.

Two Indianapolis Buick dealers accepted Speedway President Troy Hulman's invitation to provide the pace car. Hulman said, "Selection of Buick is in keeping with the speedway's custom of choosing the car we believe has shown the greatest advancement in styling and performance."

S. F. OUTSLUGS CUBS

Roasting By Rig Perks Up Giants

PHOENIX, Ariz. (UPI) — Manager Bill Rigney sent Johnny Antonelli to the hill today here against Cleveland in hopes that his charges could improve their play behind the ace lefty.

After losing to the Red Sox for the third straight time Tuesday, Rigney roasted his players in a closed door session in which he reportedly warned them not to risk "going along on their 1958 reputation."

Yesterday, the Giants got back on the win trail with an 11-8 victory over the Cubs, but even the staunchest Giant backer admitted that it was the type of loosely played comedy of errors which happened every spring, but seldom during the regular season.

BLINDED BY SUN

The crucial five-run San Francisco rally in the eighth was touched off when Tony Taylor lost Giant pinch-hitter Willie McCovey's pop fly in the blazing Arizona sun. Taylor, caught without his sunglasses, ended 10 feet away from where the ball landed as two runs cavorted home.

The Giants were scared in the ninth when with two on and two out mighty Ernie Banks strode to the plate. He had rapped four hits during the day, but took a called third strike when chunky Dom Zanni broke off a curve on the outside corner.

The San Franciscans outslugged the Cubs 15-13 while crowding nine of their 11 runs into the last two frames, during which 19 men came to bat.

RODGERS HITS

Andre Rodgers led the swat parade with three hits and three runs batted in, but looked disappointing in the field Filipe Alou and Don Taussig had two hits apiece.

For the Cubs, Taylor partially made up for his miscue with three hits.

Giant pitchers Mike McCormick, Gordon Jones, and Zanni pitched adequately, with the Cubs really getting to only Curt Barclay, off whom they scored five runs in one inning.

Meanwhile, an impatient Willie Mays told club officials he would be back in action Monday. The bandages were off his injured leg.

GRID COACHES GET TOGETHER

Two well-known coaches talk over plans for Saturday's High School Football Coaches Clinic at Redwood High School. Left is Larry Siemering of Santa Cruz, one of eight main speakers, discussing the clinic with Director Bob Troppman of Redwood. Troppman said an estimated 300 coaches will be on hand for what has become "the largest clinic of its kind in California." Program will start at 9 a.m. and continue through 5:30 p.m. Other main speakers include Bill Gott of Stagg High, Stockton; Stu Carter of Castlemont; Johnny Johnson, Oroville; George DeKlotz, of the Northern Diablo Valley champions; Joe Marvin, Sequoia; Bob Robinette, Carlmont; Milt Axt, Poly High.

Four Other Marin Aces Make All-NBL 2nd Team

Forward Brent Marshall of San Rafael High's Bulldogs was the only Marin County player to be named on the All-North Bay League Section I first team, it was announced yesterday by NBL Commissioner Walter Hemmerling who conducted a poll of coaches to select the all-star squad.

The Section I first team also included Andy Alkire of Montgomery, Neil Austinson of Santa Rosa, Willie Anderson of Vallejo and Bill Robertson and John Rawlins of Napa. Six men were picked on the first team because Robertson and Rawlins tied in the voting.

Marin County players dominated the Section I second team, taking four of the five berths, including Ray Edwards of Tamalpais, Dick Llewellyn of Drake, Dave Neumann of Redwood and Mike Curry of San Rafael. The fifth spot was filled by Doug Davis of Napa.

San Rafael and Vallejo were co-champions of the team standings with 11-3 records.

Novato High's Jack Sparrow won first team honors in Section II while Jack Woodard of Tomales was a first team selection in Section III.

Following is the league's complete all-star list, Varsity and Class B.

Prep Baseball Tourney Next Week In S.R.

Three games on Monday and four on Tuesday will give local fans a full schedule next week as the annual Marin County High School Baseball Tournament takes place at Albert Field, San Rafael.

Pairings for Monday's first round, as announced by Coach Ray Bell of Tamalpais High School are: 4 p.m.—Redwood vs. San Rafael; 6:15 p.m.—Drake vs. Marin Catholic; 8:30 p.m.—Tamalpais vs. George Washington High of San Francisco.

Washington was added to fill out the byes on the schedule and games against the San Rafael entry will not count in tournament standings, Bell said.

Tuesday's schedule will start at 1:45 p.m., followed by games at 4, 6:15 and 8:30 p.m.

Winning team will receive a handsome trophy donated by Taveggia-Brusati Sports Shop of San Rafael and 10 players selected on the All-Tournament squad will receive miniature gold baseballs.

20 Bouts On Golden Glove Ring Finals

A 20-bout ring program will bring Golden Gloves championships to an end in Civic Auditorium tonight where titleholders will be crowned in 10 weight divisions.

Those who capture senior titles will represent this area in National AAU competition at Toledo in April.

Veteran observers, after watching semi-finals, regard this year's crop of youngsters far better all-around ringmen than those who fought for the titles in the last five years.

Stanley García, a young Oaklander, looms as one of the best fighters in the show. He clashes with Hal Doreun for the 156-pound honors.

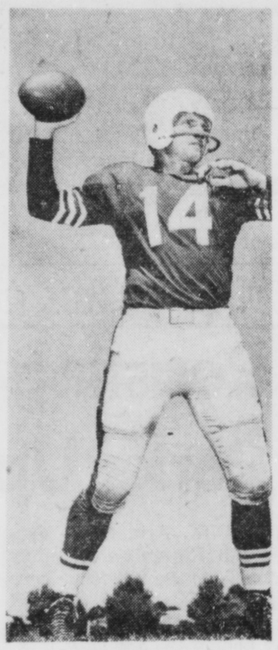
San Jose will be well represented, The flyweights, George Gonzales and T. C. Chung, both hail from the Garden City.

James Erwin, 178-pounder, Johnny Hernandez, 132 and the two Berg brothers, Art and Bob, are just a few of the others slated to see action.

Russell Lee, who reached and lost in the finals last year, hopes to go all the way this time. The rangy Oaklander tosses punches with Sacramento's George Kostenko.

There is no raise in prices for the finals. Ringside $3.50, dress circle and main floor elevated $2.50, general admission $1.25.

TO PLAY CHINESE ALL-STARS — Pictured is the Independents basketball team of San Rafael which will play the San Francisco Chinese All-Stars tomorrow night in the preliminary to the San Francisco 49ers-Dugout Dandies exhibition game at San Rafael High School. Front row, left to right are Ed Donegan, Tom Wilbert, William Gildehaus, John O'Connell and Tom O'Connell. Back row, l to r, Noel Bartlett, Mike Finn, Gene Burris, Richard Denham, John Snider and Don Schroeder.



Y. A. TITTLE, shown in football gear, will be decked out in basketball togs tomorrow night at San Rafael High School when his San Francisco 49er basketball team meets the Dougout Dandies of San Rafael in an exhibition game.

Davis Cup Playoffs In Rose Bowl?

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The U.S. Davis Cup Tennis Committee is considering the Pasadena Rose Bowl for the 1959 challenge round, but no decision has been reached on the matter.

So says Perry T. Jones, nonplaying captain of the team. Jones and W. Harcourt Woods, chairman of the cup committee, have inspected the Rose Bowl, but have reached no conclusion on whether it is feasible.

Jones is leaving this weekend with Davis Cup stars Alex Olmedo and Earl Buchholz Jr. for a goodwill trip to Peru. After his return March 29, Jones intends to confer with Pasadena officials and go over the entire situation.

49ERS VS. S.R. CHAMPS

Grid Stars To Play In Marin Cage Tilt

Young Marin County autograph seekers should have a field day tomorrow night at San Rafael High School's gymnasium where several members of the San Francisco 49ers' professional football team will be on display.

Led by Captain Gordy Soltau, the 49ers will meet the Dugout Dandies, champions of Marin County, in an exhibition basketball game sponsored by the San Rafael 20-30 Club. The 49er stars usually remain on the court after each game to satisfy young autograph seekers.

The main event will start at 8 o'clock. A preliminary game will match the Independents of San Rafael against the San Francisco Chinese.

Tickets will be on sale at the gate, the sponsors announced.

The 49ers have surprised fans with their basketball skill, but it was no mystery to those who knew the players' backgrounds. For 1959, Player-Manager Soltau can present such stars as these:

R. C. Owens, College of Idaho and the National AAU champion Buchan Bakers; John Thomas, College of Pacific, who had a tryout with the world champion St. Louis Hawks; Clyde Conner, College of Pacific, All-Coast cager in 1954-55; Billy Wilson, three-year varsity cage letterman at San Jose State; Bob St. Clair, sophomore court star at the University of San Francisco in 1951.

Soltau himself earned a varsity basketball award as a sophomore at the University of Minnesota. Rounding out the roster are such 49er stars as Hugh McElhenny, Y. A. Tittle and Ed Henke.

Opposing the 49ers is the team that has won the San Rafael Men's League for the past four years in addition to invitational tournaments at Vallejo and Santa Rosa.

The Dugout Dandies' roster includes such well-known local stars as Glen Robinson, George Slender, Bob Stout, Al Murray, George Geister, Bob McGrath, Jack Wynn, Bob Liebe, Scott Jones and Harry Myers.

Robinson starred at College of Pacific and Stout and Slender at University of Oregon. The others have local high school, junior college and industrial league stardom to their credit.

St. Rita's Honors Its CYO Cagers At Dad-Son Fete

St. Rita's CYO basketball teams of Fairfax concluded their season with a father-son Communion breakfast held last Sunday in the parish hall.

The St. Rita's teams competed in 70, 80, 90 and 100 pound divisions, playing more than 40 games throughout the Bay Area.

Awards were presented in the 100-pound division to Tom O'Connell and Gary Kimball; 90-pound division to Pat Murry and Tom Fitzpatrick; 80-pound division to Bob DeMartini and Dan Foley; 70-pound division to Mike Courtz and Bob Stout. Honorable mention went to Bob Tobin and Gary Pfaff.

The teams were under the direction of Father Kenneth Hunt with Larry Walsh, Bob Sousa and Bob Warner serving as coaches.

Is S.F. Still Bobo Olson's Lucky Town?

Most fighters have their lucky towns and lucky fight arenas and Bobo Olson, who meets Rory Calhoun at the Cow Palace, Monday, March 30, is no exception.

Ever since the Honolulu-born Olson first arrived in San Francisco his ring fortunes have been good. He's fought 18 times in San Francisco, losing only one — a close 15-round decision to Sugar Ray Robinson.

Even that loss, in March, 1952, brought him luck—earning him far more recognition in the national middleweight picture than ever before. Even Robinson said later: "That fellow probably will be the next middleweight champ."

The Olson-Robinson scrap was held in the Civic Auditorium, leaving the Cow Palace, scene of the forthcoming Calhoun bout, as the luckiest arena. He scored important wins over Robert Villemain, Joey Giambra, Joey Maxim, Rocky Castellani and Pierre Langlois—the last two in title defenses.

Calhoun, accompanied by comanagers Frank and Al Bachman and trainer, Freddie Brown, arrives in San Francisco today and will open local workouts Saturday at Dolph Thomas' Gym, 541 Turk street.

Baritone In Hospital

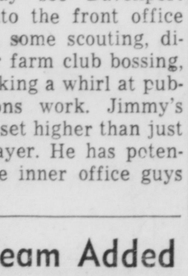
LOS ANGELES (AP)—Baritone John Charles Thomas underwent minor surgery at the UCLA Medical Center yesterday.

A spokesman said his condition was satisfactory.

The BULLPEN

With JOHN J. CONNOLLY

Jimmy Davenport Busiest And Most Improved Rookie From The '58 Crop



CONNOLLY

The busiest man on the Giants squad, whether it be in Phoenix, Mesa, Scottdale, Tucson or Yuma, is the most inconspicuous. His name is James Davenport, third baseman, out of Siluria, Alabama, 26 years of age, a free lance dinner speaker, an undestudy to the "Great Mails" in the winter and, for all intents and purposes, the most improved infielder among the crop of rookies developed in 1958.

No one, except Davenport, seems to know who the 1959 regular third baseman for the Giants is going to be . . . Jimmy is sure. And make no mistake about it he doesn't say it in a whisper, either. He speaks frankly, boldly and openly invites competition. He's the one in a million kid, apple cheeked and with a slight trace of fuzz still on his cheeks.

Davenport fully appreciates his somewhat flimsy batting average of .253 last season, his first as a regular.

"I HAD ALL I could do to concentrate on my fielding. But this year I'm devoting more attention to my hitting," he says modestly, but firmly.

No youngster in camp at Phoenix is more dedicated to his third base assignment than Davenport.

"I know I have a scrap on my hands, but I'm prepared. The pace I set last year was too speedy and I weakened when I should have just been getting my second wind," Davenport declares. "I know now how to pace myself and I'm not getting tired or weak any more. From now on when I feel tired, I'll get mad and when I get mad I usually get what I want."

So there you have an inkling of what sort of a gent the Giants are "stuck with."

Owner Horace Stoneham and Manager Bill Rigney, both would be happier if Davenport could hit harder.

IN FACE Rigney has switched several of his infielders to covering third base, but none of 'em seems to make the steady work click.

They've tried Orlando Cepeda, Ed Bressoud, Ray Jablonski, Ben Valenzuela and even Danny O'Connell at the hot corner. But after a short whirl, Rigney goes back to Davenport, so I assume he is fairly well satisfied that Jimmy will be the regular when the gong opens in St. Louis.

Davenport is beginning his fourth year as a Giant hand. He began in 1955 with El Dorado and played in 105 games, batting .363. Then came Dallas, Minneapolis and finally the San Francisco Giants.

At Dallas Davenport hit .271 in 153 games and at Minneapolis .291 in 148 games.

Considering that Cepeda drove in 96 runs batting .312, it isn't too bad a report card for Jimmy who hit .256 to bat in 46 runs.

Davenport has power, for he clubbed 12 home runs and 22 doubles among his 111 hits.

JIMMY IS no shrimp either in size or in weight. He tips the beam at 165 soaking wet and stands 5 feet 11 inches.

There is a touch of refinement in Jimmy and a shy manner that is unusual for such a peppery infielder. But that, perhaps, is part of his campaign to go higher in baseball than just that of a player. I wouldn't be a bit surprised to someday see Davenport moving into the front office and doing some scouting, directing, or farm club bossing, or even taking a whirl at public relations work. Jimmy's sights are set higher than just as ball player. He has potential, as the inner office guys say.

New Team Added To Pony League In North Marin

North Marin Pony League Tuesday night accepted a team from Raphael Village, Loma Verde and Hamilton Air Force Base as the seventh team in the league.

Manager of the new outfit is Lt. Richard H. Zyzak of Raphael Village.

Other teams in the league include three from Novato, two from Santa Venetia and one from the Marinwood-Terra Linda area.

Play will open May 24. The league schedule is being drawn up by Steve Meuse, and will be adopted at a meeting of league managers March 26 at the home of Major Gordon R. Sorensen, league president, at 1380 Joyce street, Novato.

HANLEY'S REPORT

At 40 Sauer Still Top Clutch Hitter

By JACK HANLEY
I-J Correspondent

PHOENIX, Ariz. — For John Henry Sauer life may be just beginning at the ripe old age of 40, but Big Hank says "I couldn't enjoy it more."

He is starting his 23rd year in baseball, his 15th in the majors and his third with the Giants, but No. 6 on the Giant roster isn't looking backward or even inclined to make more than a passing comment about the bygone years.

Sauer, a thorough-going realist, states it this way:

"What's the percentage in looking backward. All that can give you is a pain in the neck. No boss is interested in what you did several years ago. He is only concerned with what you are doing today. And that's the way it should be."

And what is Sauer doing today? He still is the kind of power hitter any club would like to have in a tight pinch-hit situation. An old pro, Sauer never freezes at the plate. Somehow he manages to put his big 6-foot-3½-inch frame to very useful work in clutch situations.

His bases-loaded, pinch-hit homer in the eighth inning against the Chicago Cubs a week ago was a flash of his 1952 form when he was the National League's most valuable player. That was Sauer's big year with 37 homers and 121 RBI's.

IN 1956 Sauer's career seemed to be reaching the end of the baseball trail. St. Louis released him. The Giants did not leave him long on the streets. They signed him and in 1957 he was the come-back-man of the year.

An even 40 on St. Patrick's Day, Sauer's Giant teammates surprised him with one of the largest birthday cakes ever seen in a Giant dressing room.

ANOTHER pleasing incident on his birthday, celebrated in Scottsdale where the Boston Red Sox clobbered the Giants for the third time in the Cactus League, was the fact that Ted Williams sought him out and ribbed him about being an old man.

"Everytime I pick up the paper I see where you are knocking another home run," Williams said. "You're an old man now. You shouldn't be doing that."

"I'm an old man?" Sauer ribbed right back. "Why, you have me in that category and you know it. You should be in that old timers celebration today."

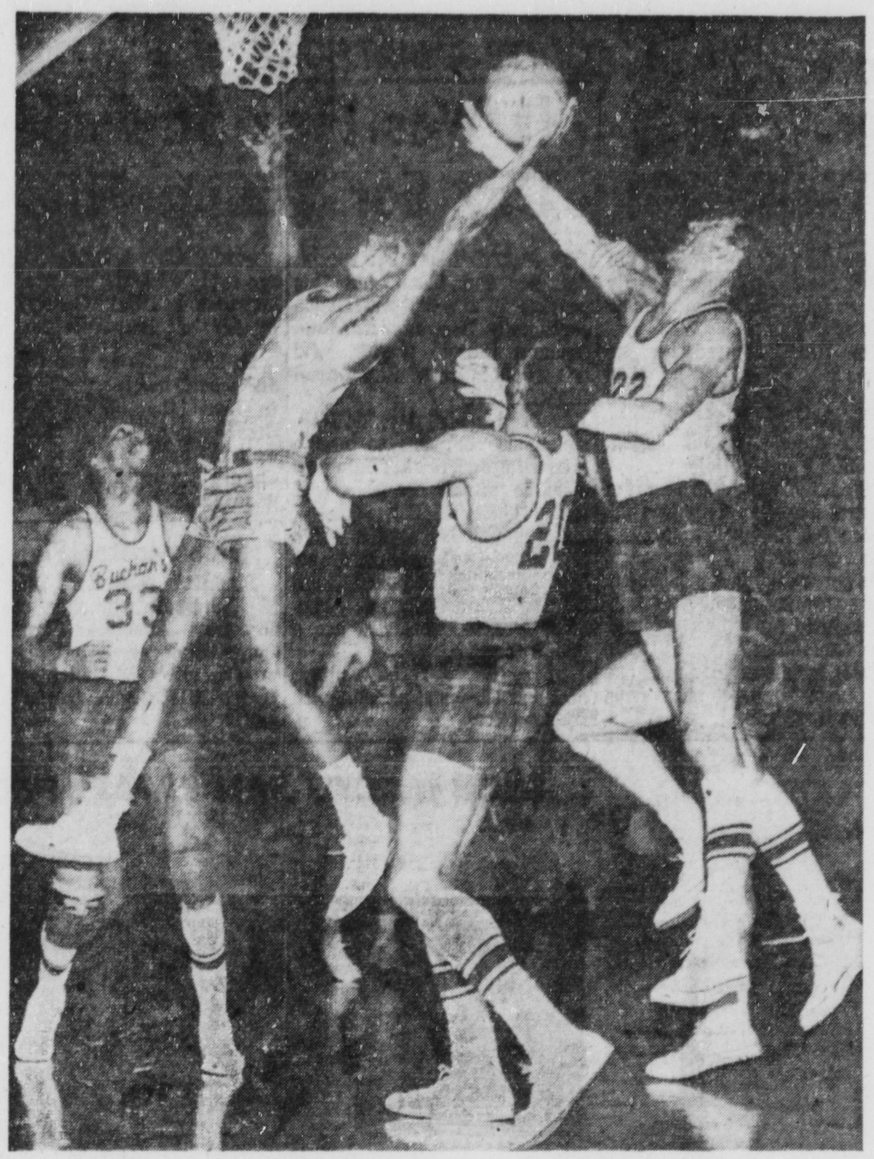
Neither Williams, 41, nor Sauer took bows when real old-time baseball greats were introduced before the third Boston-Giant game. Among them were Ty Cobb, Lefty O'Doul, Art Nehf, Jimmy Foxx, Rudy York, Dutch Ruether and others.

Nevertheless, Sauer was willing to take a bow with them provided Williams did. But Williams, who had taken fielding and batting practice with the Red Sox team, did not appear on the field thereafter.

SAUER REALIZES that his playing days are nearing a close. He won't like it when he must retire No. 6 permanently. A fine golfer, who plays from scratch, he has given some thought to the possibility of becoming a teaching golf pro.

But his first love still is baseball and because he does have an adept way in advising and counseling young players on the Giant team, the president of the Giant organization, Horace Stoneham, may have other plans for him.

Sauer could wind up as a coach or a manager in the Giant organization. He believes it to be the best in baseball and as for the boss, Stoneham, Sauer says "He's just like another baseball player."



THE BIG STRETCH — Bruno Boin (22), at right, of the Buchan Bakers from Seattle goes high to regain a rebound in the AAU championships at Denver yesterday. Cliff Daniels (44) of the Marine Corps finds Boin a bit too tall and loses the ball. Other Seattle players are Arthur Day (33) and Charles Brown (20). The Marines upset favored Seattle by 63-62. S.F. Battles Denver In Quarterfinal

DENVER (AP)—The co-favorites, Peoria and Denver, are still in the running as the 52nd national AAU Basketball Tournament hits the quarter-final stage tonight.

Peoria's defending champions pushed aside McPherson, Kan., 106-59, and Denver purred by Chicago 99-85 in yesterday's second round.

The U.S. Marine All-Stars overturned Seattle 63-62, and the Army All-Stars shot down favored Akron, Ohio, 88-71, in two form reversals.

The Army sharpshooters battle Peoria in tonight's first quarter-final. Denver plays the San Francisco Olympic Club which nipped the U.S. Air Force All-Stars 72-70.

The Marines face Bartlesville, Okla., which scrambled a rocky road to an 82-76 triumph over Louisville, Ky. Wichita, an impressive 99-68 victor over the Navy All-Stars, meets the tournament darkhorse in Baton Rouge, La.

The Louisiana club scooted by Milwaukee 90-75.

Bob Blake got the basket which gave the San Francisco team its decision over the Air Force. With the score tied at 70-70, the Californians swept down the floor for a last shot by Ron Tomsic, who contributed 34 points. Tomsic's shot rolled off the rim, but Blake rammed it in on the rebound.

Small Yacht Racing Assn. Announces 7-Race Schedule

By BETTY FROST

Small Yacht Racing Assn., youngest of the Bay Area's racing organizations, framed 1959 plans at a recent meeting held at the San Francisco Yacht Club, Belvedere.

Chairman Harry Jacobs of Mill Valley conducted the business meeting, which was attended by representatives of the Aeolian, Corinthian, Richmond, Sausalito, St. Francis and San Francisco yacht clubs.

A seven-race champion season was adopted. All races will start at noon. This is the schedule, noting dates, scene of the action, and sponsoring clubs:

June 28, Raccoon Straits, San Francisco Yacht Club;

July 5, Richmond, Aeolian and Metropolitan Y. C.;

July 26, Raccoon Straits, Corinthian Y. C.;

August 2, Richmond, Richmond Y. C.;

August 9, Richardson Bay, Sausalito Y. C.;

August 30, Richardson Bay, Sausalito Y. C.;

October 11, San Francisco, St. Francis Y. C.

The organization, which gives intermediate class boats a racing schedule on the Bay's deep waters, has attracted participants in the Star, 110, Zephyr, Mercury, Clipper, BB-11, and Dragon classes. This year the Mermaid class, with 12 boats registered, will be added to the keel boat racers.

Don Urquhart of Mill Valley continues as recorder. Urquhart, whose services to Small Yacht Racing Assn. have been widely recognized, has served the young SYRA as recorder since its organization in 1957. Frank Miszkowski of Mill Valley is SYRA secretary.

Signups Tomorrow Night For Novato

Novato youths who missed the early signups for Little League play will be given another chance to register tomorrow night, it was announced today.

League officials said they will signup the 8-12-year-olds at Druids Hall starting at 8 o'clock Friday night. Each boy must present proof of age and be accompanied by a parent. Each family will be required to pay a $3 registration fee to help cover costs of the Novato Little League.

Bill Russell & Co. Hot As Celts Win Playoff Opener

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Boston's "terrific trio" of Tommy Heinsohn, Bob Cousy and Bill Russell gave advance notice today that the Celtics are bent on regaining the National Basketball Assn. championship.

Heinsohn scored 28 points, Cousy counted 22 plus 15 assists, and Russell grabbed 32 rebounds and 19 points last night as the Celtics routed the Syracuse Nationals, 131-109, in the opener of their best-of-seven Eastern Division final playoffs.

Minneapolis reached the Western Division finals against defending St. Louis last night by defeating Detroit, 129-102, in the deciding game of their semi-final series.

Experts expect Boston and St. Louis to meet in the title round for the third straight year. The Western Division finals open in St. Louis on Saturday.

Rookie Elgin Baylor, pivotal figure in the Laker spurt to a playoff berth this year, scored 30 points to eliminate the Pistons from the post-season classic. Minneapolis, however, will have to be a "Cinderella" team to knock off the Hawks, who beat the Lakers in eight of 12 games during the campaign.

Plenty Of Easter Week Events; Marin Skier Wins At Sugar Bowl

If this lovely spring weather continues, next week in the Sierras will be an exceptionally good week of Easter ski activities.

The Sugar Bowl on Highway 40 has scheduled an Eagle Standard Race on Sunday, Guest Slalom on Wednesday and the sixth annual Sugar Bowl Family Race on Friday for all to enter. Events on the calendar for the youngsters include a Junior Obstacle Race on Monday, Three Legged Race on Tuesday, Annual Easter Village Langlauf Race on Thrusday, and the Sugar Bowl Junior Championships, FWSA for junior classes I, II and III, on Saturday.

Climaxing the week's activities will be the Torchlight Parade down Mt. Disney Saturday evening, and Easter Sunday the Easter Egg Hunt for children 10 and under, Annual Walt Disney Perpetual Trophy Race for children 11 and under, and the Easter Bonnet Parade on the Lodge porch at noon.

There is an average six-foot snow pack at Sugar Bowl and temperatures range from 26 to 65 degrees. Skies have been clear and skiing is good to excellent on all runs with all lifts and ropetows operating.

KRAMER HERZOG of San Rafael won first place in the boys' division of the Sugar Bowl Ski Club Championships last Sunday.

Other Marin skiers at the Sugar Bowl last weekend were Doug Herst and Charlie Evans of Ross, Terri and Angela Ford of Corte Madera, and Mark Hall, Stan Goldsmith, Robert and Willie Newhause of San Rafael.

SHELDON VARNEY, Tahoe school teacher, won the Snowshoe Thompson Memorial Cross-Country race last weekend for the fourth time at Echo Summit. The original course was changed from Edelweiss-Heavenly Valley to Echo Summit Ski Area-Edelweiss-Echo Summit-Edelweiss because of lack of snow on the eastern slopes of the Summit.

IN THE Heavenly Valley-Tahoe area last weekend were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Shotwell of San Rafael, Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Shimmin of Mill Valley and Linda Young of Kentfield.

Jeanne Snyder, Jane Felmlee, Ann Gannon and Gayle Charles of Dominican College skied at Peddlers Hill . . . Thelma and Stan George of San Rafael spent a week at Squaw Valley . . . the E. D. Robin family of San Anselmo and Gordon Brown of Kentfield skied at Dodge Ridge, and Kim Layton of San Anselmo skied at Squaw Valley.

THE NORTHERN team of Herb Blatt, Lewis Fellows, Al Grismer, Roger Crist, Joe Aukenthaler, Jack Turturici, Larry Dangel, Rusty Crook, Chris Berg, Bob Beattie, Jim Nicklos, Hal Roberts, Terry Schwegler, Pat Nast, Ruth Anderson and Sonja McCaskie beat the southern team for the third time in the fourth annual running of the grudge race held at Yosemite last weekend.

DeMAESTRI IS A's REGULAR S.S. AGAIN

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—It's still three weeks before the baseball season starts, and the Kansas City Athletics lineup is virtually set.

This is in sharp contrast to the club's three previous years.

The outfield is set with Bob Cerv in left field, Bill Tuttle in center and Roger Maris in right. Ex-catcher Hal Smith has nailed down third base and Joe DeMaestri of San Anselmo, Calif., will open at short. Harry Chiti and Frank House will share the catching.

There's still a scramble for the right to start at first and second base. Veteran Hector Lopez has an edge at second over Wayne Terwilliger. At first, it's a wide open scrap between Harry Simpson, Preston Ward, Dick Williams and rookie Kent Hadley. Simpson is regarded as the leading candidate.

TRUCK CRASHES THREE HOUSES — Unidentified man tries to comfort Richard Glenn Hubbard, Marin County Jail work furlough prisoner, as Hubbard lies on floor of San Francisco basement after truck he was driving (background) lost its brakes and rolled down Rivera street hill. The truck crashed three houses, going completely through one basement. (AP Wirephoto)

Runaway Truck, Marinite Aboard, Crashes Through 3 Houses In S.F.

A runaway truck, with a work-furloughed Marin County Jail prisoner at the wheel, crashed through three houses as it careened down a San Francisco hill late yesterday.

The driver, Richard Glenn Hubbard, 32, of 90 Porteous avenue, Fairfax, was reported in "fair" condition today at Marin General Hospital. He suffered several rib fractures, a fracture of the lower left leg, and extensive cuts and bruises.

The crashing truck did damage to the three homes which San Francisco police estimated at $15,000.

Hubbard's employer, Dennis Holtzinger of 39 Karl street, San Anselmo, co-owner of the H. Holtzinger Grading and Excavating Co., was in the cab with Hubbard when the truck started its roll down the Riviera street hill in Golden Gate Heights. He leaped out and suffered only minor injuries.

Hubbard was serving 100 days in the Marin County Jail for writing a bad check and making a false report of a vehicle theft. He was to complete the sentence March 31.

He drew 10 days for passing a fraudulent check, drawn on a Sausalito bank. He was given 90 days for falsely reporting that his car was stolen after he wrecked it against a utility pole in Tiburon in January. The sentences were to run consecutively.

He was placed under the work furlough program to enable him to support his present wife and two children, plus three children of a former wife. He obtained work driving a dirt-hauling truck for the Holtzinger company. Each day, he left the jail at 7 a.m. to report for work. Each night he returned to his cell.

Yesterday, he reported for work as usual and was assigned to an excavation project on Golden Gate Heights.

Everything went along routinely until about 3:30 p.m. Then the truck suddenly went out of control.

As Hubbard vainly pumped the brake pedal, the heavy vehicle, loaded with dirt, crashed into the garage of the home of Mrs. Bertha Jew at 501 Rivera street. It smashed a portion of the garage wall, and rolled on into Fifteenth street. Mrs. Jew and several children were inside the house, but were not hurt.

Holtzinger jumped. With Hubbard still clinging to the steering wheel, the truck slammed into the residence of John Lanfear at 2207 Fifteenth street. It lumbered clear through the basement, emerging festooned with broken electric wires and twisted pipes.

Witnesses said Hubbard jammed the truck into low gear to slow it down. But it wouldn't stop.

It went through the basement wall of a third house, that of Joe Francisco at 2211 Fifteenth street, finally halting against the wall of Francisco's basement rumpus room.

Seconds before the truck crashed against the Franciscos' basement wall, Hubbard jumped. He was unable to get clear. He struck a 4-by-4 inch post inside the basement and was dragged and twisted as the truck rolled on.

Police picked Hubbard off the litter-strewn basement floor and an ambulance took him to Park Emergency Hospital. Later he was transferred to Marin General Hospital. Holtzinger received emergency treatment at Park Hospital.

Rates Hiked For Kaiser Health Plan

An increase in rates of the Kaiser Foundation Health Plan amounting to an average of $1.80 per month per family was announced today by officials of the plan.

The Kaiser Foundation operates a medical clinic in San Rafael. Its hospitals are in San Francisco, South San Francisco, Oakland, Walnut Creek, Richmond and Vallejo.

"Steadily climbing costs of medical care" was cited as the reason for the increase.

In the standard coverage, dues for individual subscribers will go up from $5.50 to $6.55 per month; for subscriber plus one dependent, from $10 to $11.95; for subscriber plus two or more dependents, from $13.20 to $15.55.

QUITE A BIRTHDAY

It Was Fine St. Pat's Day For Young Flier

St. Patrick's Day is a special day for the Irish, and this year's St. Pat's day was an exceptionally fine day for John Garland (Butch) Taylor, who is a sophomore at San Rafael High School.

It was his birthday, his 16th, which also happens to be the minimum age for obtaining an airplane pilot's license. And that is just what he did.

Butch put his studies aside and flew to Sacramento, accompanied by his father, John W. Taylor of 675 Calle Arboleda, Ignacio, who also has a pilot's license.

There he took the written, oral and air tests, passing with flying colors.

Butch started flying at the age of 14 and has been taking instruction from George K. Matley of San Anselmo.

Butch's birthday was topped off when he returned home to learn that he and Mike Casselman of San Rafael had won a prize in the Marin County Science Fair with their wind tunnel model.

Almonte Club Hears 3 Fire Candidates

Members of the Almonte Improvement Club last night heard comments from all three candidates for a post on the Tamalpais Valley Fire District board in the April 7 election.

The three are incumbent Raymond J. Massagli, Wayne D. (Bill) Ellis and William Mibach.

The members named Patrick Price to a directorship, succeeding Jerome F. Downs, resigned.

Panel Moderator

Stephen C. Bruff of Novato, an instructor at College of Marin, moderated a panel discussion at last Saturday's annual meeting of the National Assn. of Geology Teachers, Far Western Section, at the University of California at Davis. Bruff is vice president of the section.

Teeners' Opinion On Dances Sought

Directors of the Strawberry Recreation District last night decided to conduct a survey among seventh, eighth and ninth graders of the district to determine interest in resuming Friday night teen-age dances.

District president L. J. (Budd) Smith said the plan would involve professional instruction at the dances, with a party to be held periodically.

Directors also discussed the summer recreation program which will again have College of Marin coach Cal Riemcke as director. Smith said the program would run about six weeks, with dates yet to be set.

Smith said about 150 boys are signed in the Little League and 35 in the Pony League for summer play.

Dance At Hamilton To Honor Academy

Hamilton Air Force Base officers' daughters who became 17 since last March had something special to look forward to. They became eligible to receive bids to the dance given in honor of the Air Force Academy Class of 1962. They have been included among the more than 300 young ladies aged 17-22 (matching the cadets' ages) from Marin and surrounding areas who received the invitation: "Commanding Officer Hamilton Air Force Base cordially requests the pleasure of your company—" tomorrow night at the Officers' Club at Hamilton.

The Hamilton girls, daughters of officers of other military installations nearby, and their friends make up the nucleus of the guest list. Others are coming at the specific request of cadets whose homes are in the area, and still others from schools in the vicinity. Lt. Robert W. Dobrowolski was assigned as project officer to invite the girls.

All Officers' Club members are sponsoring the dance and club officer Capt. William C. Webb has engaged an orchestra from San Francisco for dancing, and comedian Jack La Delle for entertainment.

Hosts for the evening will be Maj. Gen. and Mrs. Hugh A. Parker, Brig. Gen. and Mrs. E. L. Tucker, Brig. Gen. and Mrs. Curtis R. Low, Col. and Mrs. James H. Bearly, Col. and Mrs. Howard A. Cheney, Col. and Mrs. George F. Ceuleers, and Lt. Col. and Mrs. John M. Ballew.

LOOKING OVER the invitation to the dance in honor of the freshman class of the Air Force Academy to be held tomorrow evening at the Officers' Club of Hamilton Air Force Base are, left to right, Mary Beth Garrison, Patricia Wright, Karen Woodman and Carol Robertson.

MODELING dresses they will wear at the dance are Carol Robertson and Mary Beth Garrison. The Hamilton girls and daughters of officers of nearby military installations make up the nucleus of the guest list.

Rodef Sholom Will Stage Theater Party

A gala Theater Party will highlight the 1959 activities of the Women's Auxiliary of Temple Rodef Sholom on Wednesday, May 6, at the Sequoia Theater in Mill Valley.

The afternoon of fun will duplicate last year's successful format. It will include a fashion show revealing the newest in spring styles and a preview showing of a movie.

Mrs. Joseph Guterman, president of the group, has chosen Mrs. Mervyn Cohn to chairman the day. Assisting her will be Mesdames Joseph Arons, decorations, Abe Blumenfeld, refreshments, Wilfred Cohen, gifts, and Arnold Colton, ushers.

Mesdames Leo Strauss and David Cohn will co-chairmen the fashion show, which will feature styles selected by a San Francisco store.

The working committee-at-large also includes Mesdames Philander Beadle, Melvin Bleadon, Sidney Braverman, Joseph Cohen, Herman Cohn, Theodore Diller, Edward Goodman, Richard Harris, Steve Liggett, Kurt Rosenthal, David Rosenberg, Bert Rude, Sidney Rudy, Aaron Schwartz, Aaron Shenson, and Herbert Stark.

The Women's Auxiliary functions as a sisterhood to the young Jewish congregation, Temple Rodef Sholom, and has just completed its second year of service.

Women interested in attending the affair are asked to contact Mrs. Mervyn Cohn.

Junior Pink Ladies Attend Orientation

A special Orientation Class for Junior Pink Ladies of Marin General Hospital took place recently in the coffee shop at the hospital.

The unusual briefing was presented by Mrs. George Boyd and Mrs. Russell Chatham to the "Red Hot Y'ers" of Redwood High School, Marlene Asbell, Vicki Dufton and Jeanne Ongaro of Ross; Suzanne Girot, Cynthia Quick, Dorothy Wilson, Helen Wilson and Joan Wilson, all of San Rafael, and Pattie Patterson of San Anselmo.

Other Juniors who attended the class were Dona Billinghurst and Gail Garneri of San Rafael, Deanne Hensley and Nancy Orlandi of Mill Valley, and Susan Matteson of Kentfield.

One senior, Miss Sara Skinner of Sausalito, took the orientation prior to active in-service.

YWCA Directors Are Entertained At Verling Home

Members of the Marin YWCA board of directors and guests were invited to a recent tea at the home of board chairman Mrs. Kenneth W. Verling, 108 Woodland road, Kentfield.

Mrs. William E. McCormack, president of the San Francisco YWCA, Miss Mary S. Buchtel, executive director, and Mrs. Sallie N. Edwards, associate executive, discussed the progress of the YWCA in Marin County since its beginning two years ago. Miss Kaye Hunt, director of the Marin YWCA, presented the new program plans for spring.

Pouring tea for this affair were Mrs. Samuel Archibald of Ross, and Mrs. Frank Rice of Sausalito.

Guests included Mesdames T. J. Mellon, R. A. Galloway, and P. L. Fahrney of Kentfield; W. A. Hillhouse, Clyde Trudell, Clement McKaig of Sausalito; Albert J. Evers, Dan Dougherty, Balfour James and Albert Daniels of Ross; Rulon Brown of Terra Linda; Robert Agnew of Novato; and Hugh Middleton of San Rafael.

St. Rose Tour Planned April 11

The St. Rose House Tour will take place on Saturday, April 11, from 1 to 5 o'clock.

Houses on the tour include the Presidio Terrace home of Mrs. Joseph Alioto; the Marina Boulevard homes of Mesdames Rene Grialou and Harry Tocchini; the Pacific Heights home of Mrs. Robert Christian and the elegant apartment of Mrs. C. Harold Caulfield.

Tea will be served from 3 to 5 o'clock in the newly-acquirer Crocker home, Rose Court, at Pine and Pierce.

Both the Robert Christians and the Rene Grialous have summer residences in Marin County. Mrs. John N. Dicks is chairman; Mrs. John McCrystle is in charge of publicity and Mesdames Joseph Lopez and John Schaeffer and Miss Jeanette Bastiani are in charge of tickets.

Square Dance Party

The Mill Valley Folk Dancers' monthly party tonight will have a St. Patrick's theme with Irish music and dances planned by Mickey McGowan.

Everyone interested is invited to attend the party which begins at 8:15 p.m. at the Outdoor Art Clubhouse. Refreshments will be served.

Hostesses will be Mesdames Henriette Rush, Richard Bryant and W. J. McGowan.

Mt. Carmel Club Plans Family Dinner

"Italian Holiday" will be the theme for the Mt. Carmel Women's Club's family dinner to be served to parishioners and friends from 6 to 7:30 p.m., April 11 at the Mill Valley American Legion Hall.

Mrs. J. J. Rassella, awards chairman, announces that exceptionally worthwhile prizes to be offered during the evening are: a weekend for two in the fabulous Flamingo Hotel in Las Vegas, including roundtrip fare by plane from San Francisco; a dinner for four at Ondine's in Sausalito; and a nylon wool blanket.

Mrs. William Love, dinner chairman, will be assisted by Mesdames John Farnham, A. J. Almada, Frank Martinez, Claude Jones and the young girls of the CYO, who will help serve.

Taking reservations are Mesdames Keith Cramer and Carl Moore. Mrs. James Stinchcomb Jr. will be in charge of publicity.

Proceeds will go to the Mt. Carmel building fund.

At the last monthly meeting Mrs. John Larson made her report as a delegate to the third quarterly archdiocese conference of the National Council of Catholic Women held in San Mateo.

GUILD PLANS 'DAISY DOINGS' ON APRIL 15

April 15 is the date chosen by the St. Rita's Women's Guild for its annual luncheon and fashion show, at the Meadow Club. "Daisy Doings" is the theme, and Mrs. L. J. McCormick has been appointed general chairman. Mrs. Leo McClain will assist her.

Other chairmen include Mesdames Clyde Allyn, fashion show; Peter Helms, models; A. G. Niehaus, waitresses; Walter Sivori, decorations; Oscar Street, finance; Jack Hite, program; Albert Conta, hostesses: Charles Gnecco and James DeMartini, awards; and reservations will be taken by Mesdames Joseph A. Bianchini and William H. Behre.

AAUW Section Visits Studios In Sausalito

Members and guests of the Decorative Arts section of the AAUW recently spent the day in Sausalito where they visited artists' studios.

Mrs. Lothar Salin arranged the tour.

The group visited the David Cole Gallery, and the studios of Nan Fowler, Seige Trubach and Enid Foster.

The April 1 meeting of the section will be a panel discussion on "How to Select a Print."

West End P-TA Has Panel Program On Report Cards

At the regular March meeting of the West End P-TA, Dr. Mildred Barnard, director of instruction of the San Rafael Schools, moderated a panel discussion on report cards. Participants on the panel were Mrs. Daniel Turrentine, representing parents; Elmer Benedict, speaking from the teacher's point of view, and Lynda Anderson, sixth grade pupil who represented the pupil's standpoint.

Mrs. Marjorie Unruh's fourth grade class presented their program, "California Fiesta," with songs and dances depicting the days in early California history.

During the business meeting which preceded the program, Miss Edwina Codoni, principal, welcomed teachers from other schools who had come to hear the program. The meeting was turned over to Mrs. Avery McClurg, parliamentarian, and the following slate of officers was elected for the coming year:

Mrs. Richard Webster, president; Mrs. Douglas Godfrey, first vice president; Miss Codini, second vice president; Mrs. George Mezzera, secretary; Mrs. Bryce Anderson, treasurer, and Mrs. Louis Yuvan, historian.

Elected to the nominating committee to serve for one year were Mesdames John Macery, Reinhard, and Earl Dixon.

Fifth grade mothers were hostesses.

Fashion Focus Luncheon Guests Say 'Erin Go Braugh' Tuesday

St. Patrick would have been charmed with the gay "Shamrocks and Silhouettes" that paraded on Tuesday at Rickey's popular Fashion Focus luncheon before an appreciative audience of O'Toole's, O'Reilly's and a number of Smith's and Brown's!

"Erin go bragh" said Tuesday's honored guests, the members of the three Marin chapters of the Children's Home Society with 12 of their attractive group wearing the "Grace Graham Green" plus other enticing spring-into-summer country sportswear from Mrs. Graham's Kentfield shop.

The Jolly Roger, Peter Pan and Tom Thumb chapters work the year round along with 122 other auxiliaries throughout California to help raise the needed funds that assist the Children's Home Society in its wonderful adoption program, a work so rewarding that it truly makes all eyes to smile!

On Tuesday, carrying bouquets of spring flowers to accent the key color of their Grace Graham fashion, the pretty models enthusiastically answered questions as they modeled informally among the tables where guests could see and feel the luxury of a David. Crystal silk, the crispness of spring's sharkskin, the touch of cotton that feels like silk. They heard from Marion Bellamy, Fashion Focus coordinator, that everyone can find a fashion four leaf clover this spring.

COUNTRY COLLEEN

To keep a topknot as pretty as befits a country colleen, Penthouse Coiffures of Kentfield had created some important new spring hair fashions among them a spectacular double twist for the lovely long blonde hair of Mrs. Gerald Jampolsky; St. Patrick's Day make up magic for each model was planned by Gai Fleming.

Splashy shamrocks decorated the Rickey Smorgasbord with green flags flying to say "Erin go Bragh" as the fashion parade saluted St. Patrick with bold Kelly green and white fashions at beginning and end.

The Grace Graham "spring-into-summer silhouettes":

"Delicious Denims," the skirt a "tablecloth" check of blue and white, the long-line matching halter striped in white, the Jamaica's to mix or match as desired by Mrs. Ralph Natress.

"The Silk Suit," green light to fashion success, David Crystal's sleek pure silk black town suit, the skirt slim and jacket a fitting detail to the figure of Mrs. E. M. Giles.

"Flower Song," Keynote shades from pink to red to maroon in dainty flowers splashed on white linen, the scooped neck piped in red, the whole slim and springlike for Mrs. Jampolsky.

"The White Coat," to win acclaim, white wool jersey, the new loose sleeve cropped at the elbow; the high empire belt buttoned over a matching wool jersey empired square neck sheath for Mrs. James Collins.

"The Silk Sheath," as elegant as its color, champagne, pure silk, the neck scooping front and back, the sleeves becomingly capped; Mrs .Walter Derr adding the Grace Graham touch, a voluminous full length chiffon stole delightfully polka dotted in varying greens.

"Joyous Jersey," easy on the upkeep, Gina of Italy's emerald two piece wool jersey, the skirt slim, the V-neck pullover banded in white stripes; Mrs. Rex Thompson topping it with Zolot's white knit mohair coat.

"Spring Separates," pink-pink and red-red delightfully combined; Sloat's red Moygashel linen detailed skirt with button trim; the shirt Lady Hathaway's imported cotton; the sweater, Braemer's elegant cashmere around the shoulders of Mrs. Douglas Faulkner.

CITY KNIT

"City Knit" sophisticated pleasure year round, black wool jersey knit, the elastiband at the waist for a becoming fit, the long tight sleeves and scooped neck becoming to Mrs. Andrew Ferrier.

"Garden Gadabout," how to be pretty while gardening answered by Mrs. Thomas Carson hidden head to toe in coveralls of khaki sailcloth, the paisley print flowers roaming the scene; a saucy straw hat and hoe her accents.

"Shirtmaker Standout," slick white sharkskin, the unpressed pleats a significant addition plus Mrs. David Ring and one boldly shocking striped cummerbund.

"Breezy Blazer," and blazing red to team with navy and white checked pleated skirt plus a white silk blouse and Roger Van S. navy calf belt, Mrs. Joseph Huffaker, blazing the Grace Graham trail.

"Spring Short Story," to miss the knee of Mrs. Phillip Hoehn, sleek white sharkskin Jamaica's, pin striped in coral.

Mrs. Jerrol Flood Will Address AAUW

"Project Pakistan-India-Ceylon" will be the topic of Mrs. Jerrol L. Flood when she addresses the International Relations section of the Marin Branch of the American Assn. of University Women Monday evening, March 23.

A member of this group, she is well qualified to speak on such a subject as she was sent to this area upon her graduation from the University of California in 1953. She was a member of a PIC team, a group of representative American students who with their advisers studied the social, cultural, economic and political patterns of the countries with the idea of furthering projects of friendship and aid. The aim of the team was for the students to live in the countries and bring back to the United States an understanding which might help in the easing of world tensions.

For a year after her return, Mrs. Flood addressed clubs and universities, interesting groups in the aims of PIC. Although now married and the mother of three children, she is still keeping up-to-date on the subject and will tell international relations section of the past five year's progress. She will illustrate her talk with slides she took while in Asia. All AAUW members are invited to the meeting, to be held at the home of Mrs. Emil Nelson, 6 Sierra circle, San Rafael.

"AUSTRALIA" was represented by Brownie Troop No. 24 of Strawberry Point School when it observed World Friendship Day recently in the multi-purpose room of the school. "The Foolish Koala" was the play presented carrying out the Australian Aboriginal legends that the koala bear could speak like a human being but was unpopular with the other creatures of the forest because he bragged so much. In the cast were (left to right) first row: Barbara Lischeske, Sandra Sonne, Sherry Partridge, Carol Drolla; second row: Rebecca Galloway, Brenda Newman, Sandra Ratto, Linda Chaffin, Peggy Jordan, Patsy Tierney, Annette Green, Virginia Ness and Phyllis Blaha. Gaye Marchini was absent.

TO HONOR SISTERS

Loretto Chapter To Conduct Annual Reunion On Sunday

Marin Chapter, Loretto International, will hold its annual reunion on Sunday, beginning with Mass at the Mission San Rafael Arcangel at 8:30 a. m. Rev. John Ferguson, S. J., will be celebrant.

The chapter has again invited Sister Ternetia and Sister Alexander to be their honor guests at this annual reunion.

Breakfast will follow at Deer Park Villa.

Mrs. Kenneth Ritchie has again assumed chairmanship for this event, and will be assisted by Mrs. John Pattocchi, Mrs. Dorothy Barton, Miss Elizabeth Irwin, Miss Carmel and William Marelli.

An invitation is extended to all former students of the Sisters of Loretto to attend. Anyone wishing to make reservations may call any member of the committee, or send their reservation to Marin Chapter, L. I., P.O. Box 458, Fairfax.

Marin Chapter is composed of former students taught by the Sisters of Loretto. These attended St. Anselm's Grammar and High School during the years 1926 to 1937. However, if there are any persons in Marin who are alumni of any of the Loretto Schools throughout the country or China, they are most cordially invited to join the Marin Chapter in this annual celebration, which is held in honor of the feast of the Sisters, the Feast of the Seven Dolors, which is on the Friday of Passion Week.

Missed greatly will be the late Sister Mary Stephen who was one of the teachers at St. Anselm's. She went from there to China to teach and with the other members of her mission was interned by the Japanese during World War II. In failing health she returned to this country and was at the Motherhouse in Nerinx, Ky., where she died a few months ago.

AT THE FIRST PRESBYTERIAN Church in San Rafael Marjorie Ann Futrell and Edwin Duane Stewart exchanged marriage vows. The newlyweds are now residing in Corte Madera. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Futrell of Novato are parents of the bride. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Joy Stewart of Corte Madera.

IMPRESSIVE RITES

Judith Angier Wed To Naval Officer

It was a wedding in the finest tradition of the United States Navy when Judith Angier, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Angier of Belvedere, became the bride of Lt. (j.g.) Bruce Obbink, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Obbink of Berkeley recently at the Mill Valley Community Church.

As the young couple left the church following the noon ceremony they walked beneath an arch of crossed swords, held by the ushers, who wore Navy white dress uniforms.

Judith, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a white satin and lace gown with a train. The bodice and long sleeves were of lace and the neckline scalloped. An elbow length veil fell from a coronet of white satin sprinkled with pearls. The bride carried a shower bouquet of Eucharist lilies and lilies-of-the-valley.

The church was decorated with white stock, tulips and carnations and there were white tapers in the candelabra. The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Gordon L. Foster.

Attending the bride as maid of honor was Miss Elizabeth Fey and as matron of honor, Mrs. Bruce Barrie, both of San Mateo. Bridesmaids were the Misses Jennifer Mills of Berkeley, Jean Woyciehowsky of San Mateo, Gail Fitzgerald of San Carlos, Susan O'Brien of Philadelphia and Joy Webb of San Mateo. All wore emerald green chiffon ballerina length gowns styled with bouffant skirts, cowl necklines and three-quarter length sleeves. They had matching bows on their hair and carried white tulips and hyacinths.

The reception, which was attended by 250 guests, was held in the Veranda Room of the "Lurline" on which the bride and bridegroom were sailing for the Hawaiian Islands where he is station by the Navy. He is an aviator.

The three tiered wedding cake was decorated with bells on the top tier and heirloom figures of Dresden, double gold rings and two white doves. Miss Barbara Hill of San Mateo was in charge of the guest book.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Angier wore a Dior blue ribbon knit with matching accessories and pink orchids. The bridegroom's mother chose a dress of champagne lace with matching accessories and wore beige and brown orchids.

Judith attended San Mateo High School, the College of Marin and is a graduate of the San Francisco Dental Nurses School. She has been employed by Dr. Maurice M. Glazer of Belvedere. Her maternal grandmother is Mrs. Gussie Sollars of Belvedere and her paternal grandmother is Mrs. Nettie Angier of Carmel.

Bruce's best man was his brother Lee Obbink of Berkeley. Ushering were Lt. Carl Cook, Lt. (jg) Norman Mueller and Ensign Ronald Findley, all of Honolulu and Lt. (jg) Douglas Denton, Lt. (jg) William Smith and Lt. (jg) Neil Knott, all of Alameda.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Central Missouri State where he was affiliated with Sigma Tau Gamma. His paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Obbink of Lincoln, Neb., and his maternal grandmother is Mrs. J. W. Mills of Berkeley.

The engagement of the couple was announced last December at the home of the bride's parents.

The new Mr. and Mrs. Obbink will be at home to friends at Ewa Beach, Hawaii.

'Backstage Wives' Are Playing Diversified Roles For Comedy

"Backstage wives" are playing very important and diversified roles for the comedy "The Velvet Glove" to be presented April 9, 10 and 12 in St. Raphael's auditorium under the sponsorship of St. Raphael's Mothers' Guild.

As stage manager Frieda Turrini not only has the responsibility of seeing that the set is properly "rigged" and "all hands are on deck" to "man their battle stations" but she wields a mean and efficient hammer to boot! Both she and her assistant, Inez Nunes, double as "hostessses with the mostest" during rehearsals as they serve coffee to cast and crew during rehearsal breaks. The even spread their maternal wings to the extent that they serve hot chocolate to director Ursula McCarthy who is expecting her seventh child opening night of the play. Drama backstage as well as on!

Hovering like true shepherds over their flock are the reliable prompters Pat Bradley and Marian Grady. They "feed their sheep" by giving lines quickly and softly to the actors and actresses as nervous tension mounts within them as opening night approaches.

AT HOME

Making the thespian nuns and priests feel "at home" on stage is the challenging job of scene designer Elsie Nevin who has created a very authentic and attractive study of Reverend Mother's which is the locale of the comedy.

Finding, securing, and placing just the right properties in the right place on stage to enhance the authenticity of the convent setting is the demanding role of Captain Mina Costin. A "proverbial needle in a haystack" challenge for her and her assistant Petrinella Luchetti is the very small but important property . . . a Phi Beta Kappa key!

Transforming two members of the cast into very old people with wrinkles, pouches, shadows is the special talent of make-up artist Denise Cerutti.

Authentic robes for the Bishop and the elderly Monsignor are the creative contribution of Mrs. James M. Costin and Mrs. George Hermann.

With a view to making each performance of "The Velvet Glove" an entertaining and enjoyable evening Marjorie Butterworth and Virginia Snyder have arranged for a regular concession stand for each performance of the play.

In charge of usherettes with experience in smiling graciousness is Yvonne Vattuone. The attractive concert size programs of professional calibre are the creation of Pat Bradley.

Like fairy godmothers, production chairman Shirley Vanderbilt and her assistant Barbara Curtin hover over all their backstage wives, soothing and protecting the happy family that is excitedly engaged these weeks in the ever fascinating life of "show business."

MOTHER HEN

And like a true mother hen director Ursula McCarthy coaxes, leads, entices, commands when necessary her enthusiastic actors and actresses to reach their full potential of talent so that the audiences may refresh themselves in experiencing the joys of "The Velvet Glove," the Christopher award winning comedy by Rosemary Casey.

Tickets for the three performances on April 9, 10 and 12th are available at the following stores in San Rafael: Cottage Book Shop, Modern Eve, Charlie's Market, Dominican College Book Store, and Rossi and Hook Signal Service, 902 Irwin street; in Fairfax, St. Rita's Library; in Mill Valley, Mt. Carmel Library and Dimitroff's; and at Marin Catholic High School in Greenbrae. Those who would like to purchase by mail may send their check payable to St. Raphael's Mothers' Guild to Mrs. Gene O'Connor, 150 Forbes avenue, San Rafael. Tickets will be sent you upon receipt of your check. Further information regarding tickets may be had by calling Mrs. Guido Scotto.

Marin Women

Musical Program Held By Mothers Of Nursery School

A fun-filled musical evening was enjoyed by the Mothers of the San Anselmo Co-op Nursery School at their recent meeting at the College of Marin.

Mrs. James Glen Carlson of the Creative Music School gave a demonstration performance on the banjo, guitar, recorder and autoharp.

The evening was highlighted by an impromptu performance by Mrs. Robert Cooper on the autoharp showing how easily one can be played. A five tone autoharp was donated to the nursery school by Mrs. William B. Lewis, member of the nursery school's advisory board.

Mrs. Carlson rounded the evening out with a question and answer period and recommended a few good books on music such as "How to Bring up your Child to Enjoy Music' by Howard Taubman and Margaret Sheehy's "Music in Children."

New Officers Named By West Novato P-TA

Officers for the coming year were presented at a recent meeting of the West Novato P-TA.

Mrs. Patrick Owens was named president with Mrs. James Studley, first vice president; Don Wineland, second vice president; and Mesdames Paul Henerlau, secretary; Thomas Masterson, treasurer; George Vierra, auditor and Fred Babo, historian.

A play was presented by Miss Mary Westwood's fourth grade class and the Board of Trustees was presented.

Creamed Crab

Creamed crab makes a delicious sauce to serve over tender green asparagus stalks for a special luncheon or supper dish. Add a little instant minced onion and California white dinner wine for fine flavor. A salad of orange and Calavo avocado slices with a tangy French dressing will make an excellent accompaniment.

THE BETTER HALF — by Bob Barnes

"She bought one! . . . She bought one! . . . After eight years she finally BOUGHT one!"

Arthur H. Hartig Feted On Birthday

To honor her husband's birthday which is on St. Patrick's Day, Mrs. Arthur H. Hartig of Little Reed Heights invited a number of friends and neighbors for cocktails on Saturday night.

Much admired by the guests was a new rock garden which has recently been added to the back area. The most popular spot during the evening was around the organ which the Hartigs have recently installed and which was played by Mrs. Audrey Gosser, one of the guests.

Among the guests were Dr. and Mrs. William Edwards Sr., of San Rafael and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Salamon, Mrs. William Moran and Charles Busekit of San Francisco.

Miss Helen Hartig and Miss Linda Menke assisted with the serving.

Coleman P-TA Has Style Show

The handmade look and homespun touch were absent at the recent fashion show staged by the Coleman School P-TA in the cafeteria of San Rafael High School.

Mrs. John Chapman was chairman of the show. Decor included quince blossoms and miniature dolls and trees in silver. The dolls were featured at work on miniature sewing machines.

Mrs. Chapman was assisted in general planning by co-ordinators Mesdames Kenneth Walkmeister, Charles Strom and Ralph Markey.

Models were Carol Scovill, Debra Burns, Susan Burns, Mrs. Jack Ghilardi, Nancy Nelson, Nan Grimes, Diane Grimes, Jane Walkmeister, Kirsten Walkmeister, Pamela Ghilardi, Nancy Colombo, Mrs. George Cary, Nancy Cary, Mrs. Kenneth Walkmeister. Mrs. R. J. Krugman, Lynn Krugman, Wendy Strom, Mrs. Chapman, Robin Rogers, Mrs. Ragnar Thaning, Mrs. Richard McGinnis, Theresa McGinnis, Patricia Bruck, Mrs. Kergan Bruck, Susan Clayton, Connie Clayton, Susan Woodbury, Rhea Budd, Carol Budd, Mrs. Ralph Markey, Mr. and Mrs. William Allen, Nancy Dorking.

Mrs. Albert Goldberg served as narrator and Mrs. Alfred Thomson was at the piano.

Cake and coffee were served by Mrs. George Melanson, tea hostess, and Mesdames Irving Blabon and T. Robert Nelson.

Cub Scout Den 7 opened the show with the flag ceremony. Installed as new officers of the P-TA are Mesdames Alfred Thomson, president; George Melanson, first vice president; Anne Philbert, second vice president; Chester Sipkin, secretary, and Richard Albert, treasurer.

'Woman's Place' Theme For AAUW

"A Woman's Place" is the provocative theme chosen for the monthly meeting of the Mill Valley Branch, American Assn. of University Women, according to Mrs. Milton J. Kodmur, March program chairman.

The meeting will be held Tuesday at 8 p.m. in the home of Mrs. Harry T. Magill of Mill Valley.

Development of the program theme will be accomplished by the evaluation of four current books.

"Mrs. Bridge," the new novel by Evan O'Conner, will be reviewed by Mrs. A. Robbins Whittlesey, while Jade Snow Wong's "The Fifth Chinese Daughter" will be discussed by Mrs. Norman Hammersley.

Mrs. Leonard Downing has chosen "The Natural Superiority of Women" by Ashley Montague for review, and "The Art of Loving" by Erich Fromm will be criticized by Mrs. Alfred F. Kerr.

The books deal primarily with contributions women can make and were selected by members of the branch book study group meeting monthly under the leadership of Mrs. Kodmur.

Brownies Have Party At Deer Park School

The Fairfax-San Geronimo Valley neighborhood of Brownies participated in a recent "Brownie World Friendship Party" at the Deer Park School in Fairfax. Mrs. James Tovatt acted as chairman.

A program of songs and dances in German, English and French were presented by the six participating groups.

Troops included 234 with Mrs. J. Kay Schneider as leader; 268, Mrs. Stanley Schriebman, leader; 28, Mrs. Alfred Schultz, leader; 255, Mrs. Robert Seeba, leader; 10, Mrs. Robert Moyle, leader, and 136, Mrs. Rosemary Magnus, leader.

Linda Gillespie was mistress of ceremonies.

Park School P-TA Elects Officers

Mrs. Harold Jolley was elected to succeed Mrs. Norman Ortman as president of the Mill Valley Park School Parent-Teacher Assn. at the meeting held recently at the school.

Others elected were Mesdames Robert Graver, first vice president; Steven Cook, second vice president; W. E. Casterson, secretary; and Robert Andresen, treasurer.

For the program a film entitled "3 R's Plus" was introduced by Mill Valley School District Superintendent Robert McConnell, with explanations done by Dr. Logan Miles, director of instruction for the Mill Valley School District.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Robert Knapp and her hospitality committee while questions were written for discussion and answer by the panel composed of McConnell, Miles and Leo Edson, Park School principal.

Marin Terrace P-TA To Hold Spring Festival

Saturday, April 11 was the date selected for Marin Terrace Parent-Teacher Assn.'s spring festival at the recent meeting in the school, and Mill Valley District superintendent of schools gave the last in a series of talks on the philosophy of education.

Mrs. Paul White, president, appointed as committee heads for the festival Mesdames Jack Martin and J. B. Norall, booths; Robert Adams, games; Stephen Smith and Ervin Cox, refreshments; and Raymond Kemp, decorations and publicity.

Elected by unanimous approval of the slate of officers submitted by Mrs. Earl Reinke's nominating committee were Mesdames J. F. Young, president; J. H. Hemingway, vice president; Ada E. Gurney, secretary; Jaenne Ross, treasurer; G. R. Smiley, auditor; and W. O. Grimstead, historian.

According to McConnell, the only way to reduce school taxes is through an informed citizenry being interested enough to support good government and a wise fiscal policy. A question and answer period concluded the evening.

A social hour preceded the meeting, with Mrs. Grimstead serving refreshments.

SEVEN DECADES

St. Stephen's Guild Tour Will Be Event Of April 30

"Seven Decades of Homes in Belvedere" will be the theme of the annual house tour of St. Stephen's Guild which this year will be held Thursday afternoon, April 30. The earliest decade to be represented will be the 1890's when the first building boom occurred in the area. The other homes to be shown will represent subsequent years ending with a modern home built during the current construction climb. Hostesses at the six homes will wear fashionable gowns from each period.

Wealthy San Franciscans built their holiday retreats on Belvedere Island 60 years ago and their homes were of the Victorian and Edwardian period which featured luxurious comfort, country style. Today Belvedere is no longer an island and the homes for the commuting San Franciscans reflect modern convenience, suburban style.

The homes to be shown to represent this transition will soon be announced by Mrs. Harold Fletcher, tour chairman. This year's tour should have special appeal for students of architecture and period decor and local historians as well as the house tourist. Reservations may be made by calling Mrs. Thomas Wark of Belvedere or Mrs. George Stephens of Keil Cove, Tiburon.

Transportation from the village green will be provided and is being planned by Mrs. Robert Kirchmann and Captain H. Nordmark Williams.

Tea will be served during the afternoon at the San Francisco Yacht Club on the Belvedere Cove with Mrs. Chaylon Brown, Guild vice president, as hostess chairman.

College Women Will Attend Delta Gamma Meet, Auction

The Marin County Delta Gamma Alumnae will have as their guests at the Wednesday, March 25 meeting Judith Ann Crawford, Barbara Cushman, Virginia Gillis, Wendy Graupner, Martha Hurlbut, Lauralie Melland, Geraldine Solari, Carolyn Hoefer, Sheryll Illingworth, Nola Markey, Carol Martin, Wendy Robson. Katherine Solari, and Julie Williams.

These Marin County girls are attending West Coast colleges and will be enjoying a week away from studies during Easter vacation.

Mrs. Charles Wray's home in Novato will be the setting for this meeting and Silent Auction. Along with Mrs. Wray the co-hostesses for the afternoon will be Mesdames J. H. Smith Jr. and Skip Corley, and William H. McNamara. All Delta Gamma alumnae are invited. Please contact Mrs. Wray or Mrs. Peter Ribar of Kentfield for reservations.

Another highlight of the afternoon meeting will be information concerning the Founders' Day Reunion Luncheon to be held at San Jose, March 21, 22 and 23. The Gamma Eta Chapter of Delta Gamma is playing host this year and is inviting all Delta Gamma Alumnae to attend the 1959 Province XII Conference to be held at the chapter house.

Official To Visit Blythedale Rebekahs

Further plans for the official visit of Mrs. Charles Peterson, district deputy president of District 61, Rebekah Assembly of California, on April 9, were discussed at the recent meeting of Blythedale Rebekah Lodge 305 in the Mill Valley Odd Fellows Hall.

Also discussed was the 69th annual session of the Rebekah Assembly to be held in Long Beach May 18-22, for which Blythedale lodge will elect delegates at the March 26 meeting.

Committee chairman for the meeting was Mrs. Connie Ford, who was assisted by Mesdames Frank Gamble, Robert Gerrish and Susie Slape.

Stephens Alumnae

At the recent meeting of Northbay Alumnae of Stephens College at the home of Mrs. Robert M. Bramman in Marinwood, officers were nominated. Election will take place at the April meeting.

Sandwich Spread

Tired of the usual sandwich fillings? Try chopped tangy watercress, chopped ripe olives and lemon juice blended with softened cream cheese. Accent with a little salt and Tabasco sauce. Use as a spread for sandwiches or hors d'oeuvres.

William Stevensons Honored At Dinner

Honoring Mr. and Mrs. William Stevenson of Belvedere who are moving to Millbrae, the elders and deacons of the Westminster Presbyterian Church of Richardson Bay entertained at a dinner party at the Seafirth home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Benton Bostick Jr., recently.

Stevenson is an elder in the church and Mrs. Stevenson sings in the choir and has been active in the Sunday School.

Attending were the Rev. and Mrs. Forrest Youngquist and Messrs. and Mesdames Vernon Libby, Leslie Lippiatt, Claude Chapman, Charles Bigelow, Marvin Denekas, John Hackney, Vaughn Terry, Glenn Luther, Harold Curtis, William Gwynne, Mrs. David Boffey, Mrs. Alfred Graefe, Miss Winnie Johnson, David KortKamp and John Thomas.

Dorcas Society Marks Birthdays Of Its Members

At the recent meeting of the Dorcas Society of the Fairfax Congregational Community Church, birthdays of members whose birthdays occurred in January, February or March were celebrated. A special table was set and decorated for them but only five could attend. These were Mesdames Thomas Teare, Shirley Lucas, J. W. Darlington, C. J. Bergstrom and C. B. Brooks. To those unable to attend, the committee sent birthday cards. Mrs. John Herman was ill and Mesdames C. J. Condrette, Ernest Kruse, Thomas Humphrey and C. C. Welch were away from town that day.

The hostess committee for the month includes Mesdames Louis Dallara, August Rasmussen and Lucas. They will be hostesses at the meeting on Tuesday, March 24 at 1:30 p.m. A dessert luncheon will be followed by a business meeting to be conducted by the president, Mrs. C. J. Bergstrom. Plans will be discussed for two important meetings to be held in May, the first an Apron Day and the second the regular semi-annual bazaar.

Two Honored By P-TA In Kentfield

Mrs. Thomas E. Gilboy and Henry H. Muller are two Kentfield citizens who were honored recently by their fellow residents and P-TA members.

At a general meeting of the P-TA in the multi-purpose room of the A. E. Kent School they were presented with honorary life memberships in the P-TA in appreciation of their volunteer work for children and for the community.

Mrs. Gilboy, mother of five daughters, has for nine years played one of the leading roles in a program involving hundreds of children. She has devoted her summers to the Red Cross to help with their swim program. She is a Camp Fire leader, a member of a Sunny Hills auxiliary, a March of Dimes leader, past president of P-TA and past chairman of the Kent School May Festival.

Muller has been a Kentfield resident for 26 years, 15 of which have been spent in local business. To raise funds for the Kentfield Fire Department, he played football on their team from 1925 to 1929. For five years he was active in Cub Scout Pack 11 and Boy Scout Troop 11, both of which are still in existence. He took an important part in the Kentfield children's recreation program in 1946 and 1947 and inaugurated many of the ideas which are the basis of the present program. During World War II he was head of the Auxiliary police for Kentfield and was coordinator for Civil Defense in 1951. He has been chairman of the Ross Valley Flood Commission for two years and in 1956 he assisted in the formation of the Lion's Club. He served as the Lion's charter president in 1957 and is presently a member of the board of directors.

Beginners' Class

A beginners' class for those interested in learning square dancing begins March 26, sponsored by the Charm 'N Farmers. Classes are to be held at E Street School, San Rafael, from 8 to 10 p.m. Larry Twist, well known Marin County caller, will be the instructor. Anyone interested is welcome.

The next Charm 'N Farmer party night will be April 4 at Davidson School, 8 to 12. o'clock.

Job's Daughters Have Dinner Meet

Losing team members in the activity points contest conducted by Mill Valley Bethel 119, Job's Daughters, entertained the winners at a dinner recently in the Mill Valley Masonic Temple. Hostesses were past junior custodian Linda Brown and Mrs. William Brown.

During the meeting conducted following the dinner by honored queen Patricia Bogel, members decided to continue their Indian project. This project is providing Nevada Indians with clothes and food.

Another recent activity was a very successful go-to-church Sunday at St. Stephen's Church in Belvedere, which was followed by brunch at Sabella's.

Introduced and honored were honored queen Sue Reed of Bethel 246, Larkspur; Junior past honored queen Sandra Bishop of Bethel 119, Mill Valley; Mrs. Francis Burt, guardian, and Francis Burt, associate guardian of Bethel 119. Council members were also introduced.

Marcia Rideout Feted At Birthday Party

Marcia "Skofhi" Rideout, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. James Rideout of Legend road, Sleepy Hollow, celebrated her fourth birthday at a recent luncheon party at the home of her parents.

Camellias were used in arrangements and an Easter birthday cake was presented in her honor.

Attending were Mrs. Ernest Box and Wally; Mrs. Charles Hardeman and Mark; Mrs. John Rockwell and Stephen; Mrs. Hugh Stroupe and Marsha, Kathleen and Cynthia; Mrs. Gerfon Jacobs and Michael; Mrs. Gunnar Abramson and Nils and Elin; Mrs. Russell Schabel and Denise; Mrs. John Dumon and David, Mrs. Jerome Leitner and Judy and Mrs. Edward Ory and Babette.

Woodwardia Circle Elects Delegates

Delegates to the meeting of District 14, Neighbors of Woodcraft, to be held in Santa Rosa in September, were elected at the recent meeting of Woodwardia Circle. Elected were Mesdames E. C. Berg, H. J. Cahill, J. M. Sullivan, F. A. Linebaugh, Joseph Santos and Mrs. Della Cline. Alternates elected were Mesdames F. J. Mattos, J. M. Bernards, G. W. Hall, C. A. Bell, Norvina Helton and Jessie Leavelle.

Mrs. Esther Lewis announced that Woodwardia's annual luncheon and bazaar will be held on Wednesday, March 25 at the IOOF Temple in San Rafael. Mrs. Lewis will be general chairman with Mrs. Bernards co-chairman. Mrs. Berg, guardian neighbor, presided at the meeting.

Georges Take Trip

Frank George of Ross, manager of Redwood Travel Advisors, and his wife, did a bit of traveling for themselves recently. They sailed aboard the "President Cleveland" from San Francisco and left the ship at Los Angeles. They flew to Las Vegas where they enjoyed the current hit show at "The Stardust." The "Cleveland" is on its way to the Orient with several of the agency's clients aboard.

PROTECTING THE DEARS

Anti-Loitering Law Asked In Mill Valley

Police Chief James P. McGowan asked the Mill Valley City Council last night for an anti-loitering ordinance similar to that adopted four years ago by the county.

McGowan cited recurring cases of vandalism, disorderly conduct and other police problems on lower Miller avenue in the vicinity of C's Drive-in as pointing the need for such a law.

Although the drive-in is located "on an island of county property just outside the city," the disorder has involved Mill Valley, the police chief said. The place has become an attraction for "disorderly young men," he asserted.

One of Mill Valley's oldest ordinances is a so-called curfew law but McGowan said it is virtually useless. The council considered a new law last year, but at the time McGowan felt it would not be required.

The council asked City Atty. Thomas C. Nelson to draw up a new ordinance.

The fire department also received attention of the Mill Valley council last night.

The council promoted Fire Capt. James Mathews to second assistant chief, on recommendation of Chief Leslie Armager. Also approved were promotions of Firemen Al Marovich and Henry Pierroz to captain, both to receive a $10 monthly salary increase. Mathews' pay is to remain unchanged.

The changes are to be effective April 1.

The council also:

1. Referred to City Treasurer Edward H. Daniel a request by the Mill Valley Garbage Co. for a rate increase of 15 cents monthly to householders and 15 per cent monthly for commercial customers. Daniel is to analyze the reasons for the request and make a recommendation.

2. Appropriated $400 toward restoration of the Old Mill and development of a nearby recreation spot by the Native Sons and Daughters of the Golden West. The amount is to be supplemented by $800 which is to be provided by the organizations.

3. Granted a request from the parks and recreation commission asking County Planning Director Mary Summers to set a date for completion of a feasibility study on Richardson Bay recreation and small craft harbor possibilities, including Mill Valley's proposed small craft harbor.

4. Also agreed to ask the county, through the county parks and recreation commission, to give high priority to acquisition of about 40 acres of tideland for a possible district recreation area.

5. Declined to support a request from library board president Robert Jenkins endorsing pending state legislation for library grants in aid. Although Jenkins declared it would be a method to help the library, Councilman Joseph E. Sheeks resisted it as being "not a good bargain" and one that "would tend to create obligations to the state and remove local control."

6. Took no stand on many written requests for and against the proposed Golden Gate Authority.

7. Approved a basic policy that funds collected from subdividers for future drainage corrections should be earmarked for the area served.

8. Accepted a proposal by property owners in the Del Casa area (Councilman Peter H. Behr abstaining) to pay for improvements if the city will accept them within five years.

9. Referred to the architectural advisory committee a recommendation from the chamber of commerce for changes in the sign ordinance.

10. Approved warrants totaling $25,583.17.

DUCHESS STILL GETS AROUND

Duchess, a 6-month old St. Bernard puppy in Kansas City, has been slowed down a bit by a couple of broken legs but she still gets around with the aid of a stroller contrived by her veterinarian. The puppy—she weighs 85 pounds—was struck by a car 10 days ago. She suffered fractures of both left legs. Her owners, the Joseph Lembergers, took her to the veterinarian who patched her up and got her into the stroller. She's able to wander around the animal clinic by pushing with her two good right legs. (AP Wirephoto)

Special Plea Made For Marin Blood Donors

The Irwin Memorial Blood Bank today issued a special plea for donors on the eve of a visit from 2:30 to 6:30 p.m. tomorrow at the San Rafael Elks Club.

Walter J. Jacobs, coordinator for the blood bank at Marin General Hospital, said the plea is being made because "it is imperative to keep up the blood reserves." He mentioned two recent cases where blood requirements of hospital patients diminished the bank's supply.

Nine-year-old Darlene Hitzeman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Hitzeman of 692 Gallarita way, San Rafael, has required 15 units of blood. Her future requirements are undetermined, he added. "Replacements in her name will be appreciated by her parents, and by Darlene herself," he declared.

Dr. Lorne Tanner, San Anselmo dentist, who has been confined to Marin General since Feb. 1, has required more than 24 units of blood, all of which have been replaced, said Jacobs.

Blood donated directly to a patient is returned to the bank if not needed within a 30-day period.

Brown Lauds His Tax Plan, Blasts N.Y.'s

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Gov. Edmund G. Brown took a verbal swing at New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller's "soak the poor" tax program here last night but urged support of his own as "fair and equitable."

Brown said that "the tax program I have outlined is fair and equitable as it can be. Unlike the 275-million dollar 'soak the poor' program of Governor Rockefeller in New York, it treats the low-income taxpayer fairly."

The governor told a meeting of United Steelworkers of America that his proposed taxes on cigarettes and beer "are sought only as a part of a much larger over-all tax program."

He claimed that "other taxes have been carefully designed to reach upper income groups and industries not paying their share of the tax load."

Brown reiterated the need for a minimum wage law and boasted that his bill to establish a Fair Employment Practices Commission "seems certain of passage."

The administration-sponsored minimum wage bill calls for a $1.25 per hour floor

Senate Move Places FEP Act In Doubt

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Progress of Gov. Edmund G. Brown's No. 1 legislative item—enactment of a Fair Employment Pratices Act—was slowed today by a Senate move which left its future in doubt.

The governor had better luck with another major proposal to strike at "hidden money" in California election campaigns. His purity of elections bill cleared the Assembly Elections Committee, 9-1.

The Senate agreed yesterday, 35-1, to refer the Assembly-passed FEP bill to its Finance Committee, presumably for a review of its cost features. Sen. Alan Short (D-Stockton) dissented.

The measure, creating an FEP commission to police job discrimination because of race, religion or color, previously was approved by the Senate Labor Committee, 5-2 Democratic.

The Finance Comittee is 7-6 Republican. Sponsors of the bill remained hopeful of getting it returned to the Senate for a vote, although possibly revised some more. The Senate is Democratic, 26-13, with one vacancy.

Brown himself was optimistic. He told a steel workers meeting last night that for the first time, "it now appears certain that we will have fair employment practices legislation in California."

Smog Research Plan Moves Up In Assembly

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—A bill establishing California's first statewide smog control project has reached the home stretch of its legislative race.

The Assembly Public Health Committee added its approval yesterday to a bill by Sen. Richard Richards (D-Los Angeles) which would direct the state Department of Public Health to find out how much smog it takes to injure a person's health.

Richard's legislation has already passed the Senate. It now must win approval of the Assembly Ways and Means Committee and the full lower house.

The measure is a modest beginning in the fight against smog. It contains no program to keep pollutants out of the air.

But Richards said the Health Department's survey would provide figures which would form a basis for later programs aimed at reducing or eliminating smog.

Richards said his bill was the first attempt to throw the weight of the state behind a smog control effort. In addition, he said the survey would produce uniform figures for the use of all air pollution control districts in the state.

The Los Angeles senator said his bill was "identical in purpose" with one introduced by Assemblyman William Byron Rumford (D-Berkeley) at the request of Gov. Edmund G. Brown.

CHP Chief Warns On Speed Limit

SACRAMENTO (AP)—The new boss of the California Highway Patrol emphasized yesterday the present speed limit will be strictly enforced until the 65 mile per hour ceiling goes into effect next Jan. 1.

Commissioner Bradford M. Crittenden told his first news conference that means you'll drive over 55 at your own risk.

The law now sets 55 as the limit but allows you to go faster under safe conditions. And most people do on the open road. Legislation signed by Gov. Edmund G. Brown last week provides for an absolute 65.

In the meantime, Crittenden said it would be a good idea for motorists who drive faster than 65 to get used to the forthcoming change.

He said, too, that the law will be strictly enforced on both public carriers and trucks.

Low Bidder Named For Mt. Tam Job

National Enterprises of San Carlos was low bidder on construction of a new electrical power installation and other revisions for the 666th Aircraft Control and Warning Squadron on Mt. Tamalpais, Col. John S. Harnett, Army district engineer, announced today.

The bid, one of nine opened Monday, was for $85,843. The Army said that the award of a contract would probably be made later this week, with 180 working days allowed for the job.

Bill Would Free Art From Tax

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Assemblyman Thomas M. Rees (D-Los Angeles) has struck a tax-exempt blow for art.

He introduced a bill to exclude works of art from the 3 per cent state use tax if the purchaser promises to make them available for exhibition at least three out of every 12 months.

Rees said the tax discourages private collectors from bringing in expensive works of art. He said one collector recently shipped one-and-one-half million dollars worth of art to New York rather than pay the tax.

Garden Society Awaits Speaker

Louis Glaudon of San Anselmo, Hugh Paterson of San Rafael and Linton Whitby of Kentfield will speak on azaleas and camellias at a meeting of the Garden Society of Marin at 8 p. m. tomorrow in the chemistry room of College of Marin.

The speakers, all members of the garden group, are authorities on their subject, according to president Eleanor Doll of Corte Madera. Specimen plants will be displayed and a question and answer period will follow the talks.

The San Rafael Lions Club is the first service club in San Rafael to donate this year to the American Field Service international scholarship fund at San Rafael High School, sponsors reported today.

This is the scholarship that brings a student from a foreign country to live in San Rafael and attend the senior year of high school here.

An American Field Service bank account has been opened at the First National Bank at Fourth and B streets.

MANY MARRIED COUPLES PAY TOO MUCH TAX

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—Some 10,000 to 15,000 California married couples have been overpaying their state income tax and the state isn't happy about it.

State Controller Alan Cranston said today that many couples inadvertently compute their tax on the basis of the tax rate schedule fixed for persons filing a separate return.

"Not that the state can't use it," he said, "but it is money that rightfully belongs to the taxpayer, and must go to the time and expense of refunding it."

Cranston said public accountants have been sent a circular warning them of the common error. Deadline for filing a state income tax return is April 15.

Navy Pilot Killed In Alameda Crash

ALAMEDA (UPI)—The pilot killed in the crash of an SJ4 Fury jet fighter was today identified by Alameda Naval Air Station authorities as Lt. (j.g.) Roy David Varner, 26, of San Leandro.

Varner was attempting to land last night when his craft was believed to have suddenly nosed over and crashed into the runway.

The jet careened into an abandoned Quonset storage hut and set it afire. The flames were visible from the crowded Eastshore freeway nearby and police said they were deluged with calls concerning the crash. Nearby residents said the crash sounded like a sonic boom.

There were no witnesses to the mishap, which occurred just 100 yards from Encinal High School here.

10 Killed As Train Hits Auto In Ohio

XENIA, Ohio (AP)—A freight train plowed into a car carrying 10 passengers in a tragic railroad crossing accident near here yesterday. All 10—including eight Girl Scouts—were killed.

The car was dragged 50 feet along the tracks. The body of the driver, Mrs. Lucille White, 44, was found 75 feet beyond the car.

The daughters of Mrs. White and the other adult in the car, Mrs. Jeanette Randall, 39, were among the eight Girl Scouts who perished.

The girls were returning home from a library here where they had been studying for merit badges. They lived in Beavercreek, a rural suburb between Xenia and Dayton.

Kenneth Ward, father of one Girl Scout, is an auxiliary fireman. He was helping gather up the bodies, unaware his daughter was a victim, when he recognized what was left of the car. Then he found the body of his daughter, Linda, 12.

The other girls were Sharon White, Cindy Moorman, Connie Laprise, Patricia Lapinski, Ann North, Paulnetta Randall and Anna Wilvert.

All were 12 years old except Anna, who was 11.

W. R. Murray of Columbus, engineer of the Pennsylvania Railroad's three-diesel express freight, said the car slowed down as it approached the crossing. He thought it was going to stop, but it kept coming, he said.

The speed limit for trains in that area is 50 m.p.h.

The crossing is unprotected by flasher signals and has only a crossbar railroad sign.

$4,000 Mink Coat Vanishes Mysteriously

A $4,000 mink coat vanished from a San Rafael home under mysterious circumstances, police reported yesterday.

Mrs. Leona Herzog Lee of 48 Summit avenue discovered the mink missing from her bedroom closet Tuesday. She said three other fur coats in the closet and jewelry in the same room were not disturbed. There was no evidence of a forced entry. The missing fur is insured for $2,500.

Mrs. Lee said the theft may have occurred on March 4 or 5 while she was away from home. She said she had left a sandwich in wax paper inside the refrigerator for the maid. When she returned, her maid told her the sandwich was gone, and the paper bag was left on the drain board.

The maid has worked for her for three years and is completely trustworthy, she reported.

SERVING ALL OF MARIN COUNTY

18 EDITORIAL PAGE Thursday, Mar. 19, 1959

TODAY'S EDITORIAL

D. A. Should Stick With Prosecution Of Criminals

If District Attorney William O. Weissich isn't careful, he may wind up making martyrs out of members of the Marin County Taxpayers Assn.

Over the weekend he declared his intention to investigate the taxpayers organization to see if its leaders might be prosecuted for "common barratry," an obscure and vague offense involving unnecessary litigation.

Weissich also said he would have investigators and a court reporter present at tonight's meeting of the taxpayers at San Rafael High School.

Our feeling is that the district attorney would be better advised to limit his activities to the prosecution of criminals in Marin County, and we don't think there are any in the taxpayers association.

Several years ago we observed in this space that the taxpayers assn. had become a mere label passed from one special interest group to another.

P. J. Rowland is merely the present "owner" of the taxpayers assn. label. We agree with almost nothing he has said or done in the name of the taxpayers group. He and others of his clique regularly denounce this newspaper.

There's no love lost between the taxpayers assn. and the Independent-Journal.

But we'll go to bat for their rights, nevertheless. Their rights include the right to say and think what they please about anybody including the district attorney and the Independent-Journal.

Their rights also include the constitutional right to petition for redress of grievances, no matter how unfounded their petition may be.

And they ought to be able to say what they think in their meetings and file such legal actions as they think justified without being intimidated by investigations or implied threats of prosecution.

We disagree with almost everything Rowland and the taxpayers group have to say, but we will join up with them against anybody who tries to muzzle them or otherwise suppress them.

We don't agree with their claims of illegality in handling of taxes and assessments in Marin over the past few years, but we will join them in fighting anybody who tries to prevent them from "having their day in court."

As we said, the district attorney would be better advised to get back to the business of prosecuting criminals.

Lay That Pistol Down, Junior

A recent meeting of the Marin Audubon Society disclosed that juveniles were using our song birds for target practice. A member reported that he had approached the parents of one such rifle-toting boy to protest.

Instead of being indignant that anyone would intimate that Johnny would do such a dastardly thing, the parents seemed sore at the bird lover for calling the situation to their attention. It's alright with the Sheriff's Office, they bluffed.

Song birds are protected by federal, state and county laws. The Sheriff's Office assured the Audubon Society that the laws are being strictly enforced.

We won't argue here today against the doubtful wisdom of giving guns to minors when supposedly mature adults are daily blowing holes in their legs practicing "fast draws" and killing one another with guns they didn't think were loaded. But we must point out that every adult who permits a juvenile to have firearms assumes the awesome responsibility of seeing they are not used improperly.

One such improper use is the shooting of song birds. Parents who don't discourage it are apt to find themselves and their children in trouble.

TEENAGERS SET UP SHOP

Five Long Island teenagers who left school because of their inability to keep up with studies, recently opened a "Fix-It" shop.

Local merchants helped the 16 to 18-year-old boys set up the project, which they feel is "something we can do on our own." The young men are prepared to tackle practically everything from washing windows to making electrical repairs.

The policeman who first suggested the idea was convinced of its fundamental soundness. He commented: "It is a prevention program that has unlimited possibilities. The boys are enthusiastic . . . they don't want any favors, just a chance to make a living."

Most young people, whether talented or not, start living normal, constructive lives when the energy which God has entrusted to each of them is directed into worthwhile channels.

Rather than complain too much about the apathy or trouble caused by some teenagers, uncover and nurture the power for good in every one of them.

"Do not withhold him from doing good, who is able; if thou art able, do good thyself also. (Proverbs 3:27)

Inspire parents and teachers, O Lord, to help young people to do good, rather than merely be good.

Single Girls Scream When They Hear Smart Remarks Like These

NEW YORK (AP) — Remarks single girls get tired of hearing or overhearing:

"How come a pretty girl like you never got married?"

"Seriously, dear, don't you think you're being too choosy?"

"Now, Harry, you can't tell that joke. Remember, not all of us here are married."

"Sorry, miss, we don't serve unescorted ladies at the bar."

"If that loud-mouthed sister of hers could land a man, I don't see why—"

"He's a little older than you, but—"

"I just love your premature gray hair. It is premature, isn't it?"

"Stop grumbling Harry, and pick up her check."

"Cheer up, honey, he's not the only pebble on the beach."

"Why do you waste your time on him? Can't you see he's not the marrying kind?"

"Why don't you try the Virgin Islands this year, Cecily? You've been everywhere else."

"I'd like to give you a raise, Cecily, but I've got to take care of the married men first."

"Isn't it ironic? In high school we all thought she'd be the first to get married."

"SHE'S SUCH A COMFORT to her mother."

"I envy you unmarried women. Your apartments are always so neat and clean."

"It's this way, Cecily. My wife just doesn't understand me. Have another martini."

"If you just had a husband, Cecily, you wouldn't be so nervous."

"OH, IT'S NO TROUBLE, Miss Jones. I'll be glad to see you home. You do — uh, uh — live alone, don't you?"

"She's at the awkward age — too young for old men, too old for young men."

"It says here in the paper there are 1,564,328 more women than men in America. Isn't that funny?"

Religious Freedom Should Cover All

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

The editorial of Saturday, March 14, on religious freedom states, "Freedoms are interdependent and when we tread on our neightbor's liberty, we threaten our own." I agree wholeheartedly.

Nevertheless, the above is seemingly contradicted on the same page by the cartoon scorning those who are anti-Christian.

Perhaps, though, it was meant to cast reflection only upon the Russian dictatorship, It is hard to tell.

If agnosticss, as exemplified by Nobel Prize Winner Bertrand Russell, are meant to be included under the cartoon's anti-Christianity label, then I would like to quote Prof. Robert E. Egner.

In "Bertrand Russell's Best" he writes, "Those who claim that religious freedom is a necessary condition for democratic society sometimes forget that tolerance means more than a concordat between adherents of rival creeds. Religious liberty implies equal tolerance toward those who profess no dogma whatever."

'Little Wagner Act' Goes Ahead Despite Opposition

By JAMES C. ANDERSON

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — One of Gov. Edmund G. Brown's most important bills is finally beginning to move through the Legislature despite determined opposition from farm groups and employers.

The measure is AB 419 by Assemblyman Allen Miller (D-San Fernando) and has been called a "little Wagner act" overing labor relations within the boundaries of the state.

SELDOM HAVE SO many different interpretations, frequently diametrically opposite been placed on a piece of legislation.

Miller says the lot of the small businessman would be improved as far as work disputes were concerned if AB 419 became law.

But Gil Rowland, representing employer associations in San Francisco and Sacramento, said just the opposite when he testified on the measure.

"If you pass this bill," he said, "you'll turn over to unions the absolute power to organize every small business in California."

Miller insists that the bill, which sailed out of the Assembly industrial relations committee last week on a 5-1 vote, would in no way change existing law as regards to the rights of unions to organize or not to organize farm laborers.

But the testimony of Jack Ward, counsel for the Associated Farmers, was just the opposite.

"Agricultural labor is not beyond the concept of this bill," Ward said. "The Taft-Hartley law specifically excludes domestic workers and agricultural labor — but they are not excluded in this bill.

"It omits most of the protective conditions of the Taft-Hartley law," he added.

JACK HENNING, a onetime AFL-CIO official appointed by Brown to head up the state department, explained that the bill has three main proposals:

—it recognizes the right of workers to form unions of their own choosing, to select their own bargaining representatives and to bargain collectively with employers.

—it would repeal the jurisdictional strike act which Henning said some "unscrupulous employers" had used to recognize unions made up of strike breakers.

—it sets up state machinery to determine conflicts between unions and to settle work assignment disputes.

The bill declares public policy to be that workers "shall have full freedom of association, including the right to organize (and) to bargain collectively."

It would not, according to Henning, cover public employes or professional people such as doctors, lawyers or engineers — although employer lobbyists dispute that, too.

It provides for secret ballot elections to determine union representation although the act specifically bars strike breakers from voting.

The Miller bill is one-half of the governor's labor program. The other measure is SB 209 by Sen. Stephen P. Teale (D-Westpoint) and is similar to the Kennedy-Ervin bill setting up democratic procedures for labor unions and safeguards against corrupt practices. The Teale bill has not yet been heard by a legislative committee.

From a very old and very experienced German bookseller: "To write books is easy: it requires only a pencil or a typewriter. To print books is a little more difficult because genius so often revels in illegible manuscripts. To read books is more difficult still, because of the tendency to go to sleep. But the most difficult task of all that a mortal man can embark upon is to sell a book."

A college with small salaries for its professors but a fine stadium for its football team had to give up the honor system. As the dean ruefully explained, "Our faculty had the honor and our students had the system."

Search For 'Lost' Mission Turns Out To Be Comedy Of Flat Tires

"MANY PEOPLE have referred to the Santa Isabel expedition as a comedy of flat tires," said Donald Darling, 31-year-old chef of Red Robin catering service in Kentfield.

"This is partially true," he admitted. "We had 13 of them plus a broken axle and drive shaft."

He and his wife and two others embarked on a trip to Baja California, searching for a lost Jesuit mission called Santa Isabel where legend says a tremendous hoard of treasure was hidden.

With or without finding the lost mission, the four adventurers hoped to return with enough film footage for a travel film or television program such as "I Search For Adventure." (This also would bring in treasure of a sort.)

Amazingly, the adventurers armed with cameras believe that they actually did find the site of the lost mission.

Its location remains their secret until they can return and explore some more.

"THIS FIND WAS made possible only by a chance meeting with an old Mexican who said to look for a cross on a hill," continued Darling. The hill was somewhere in a mountainous region 25 miles north of Loreto on the Gulf of California.

What they found was a cross which looked more like an "X" and an ancient stone wall, almost completely buried.

Their excavation work was cut short by a landslide which put one of the party out of commission with a bad leg. At that juncture, the diggers decided it was time to return to California.

Someday soon they plan to journey south and begin excavation work in earnest to see if the Jesuit padres really buried their treasure near the odd cross.

THE LEGEND which lured them on their way in the first place went like this: At the beginning of the 18th Century, Jesuit missionaries penetrated into Lower California and began establishing missions.

Few of the 14 or 15 missions which once flourished are still standing. The adobe walls of the abandoned missions gradually disintegrated. The Jesuits, however, did not leave of their own volition.

King Charles of Spain issued an edit in 1767 ordering all members of the Jesuit order to be arrested and evacuated from Baja California.

His order ended 70 years of a virtual theocracy on the peninsula. Even the Spanish governor in Mexico City had been able to send only men approved by the Jesuits into their territory.

SHORTLY BEFORE the Spanish soldiers arrived to eject the padres, the Jesuits at Loreto received a confidential message from the Jesuit general in Rome revealing to the members of the order what was about to happen.

The message instructed the Jesuits to submit peaceably but to leave no trace of their wealth. Rumors had trickled out to Mexico City that the Jesuits had accumulated a fabulous hoard of gold and silver.

According to legend, treasure from the missions was transported by burro train to a deep gorge in the moutains someplace beyond Santa Maria. There the Jesuits are said to have founded one last mission named Santa Isabel as the hiding place for their treasure.

ROSCOE DRUMMOND

Rockefeller Off To Great Start As Governor Of New York State

WASHINGTON — If Nelson Rockefeller wants to be the Republican Presidential nominee next year — and I know of no one who says he doesn't — he is going about it the right way.

The best possible way for Rockefeller to bet ahead in national politics is NOT to try to get ahead in national politics but to prove, by his works, that he is a courageous and skillful Governor of New York State.

Obviously what has happened during his first two-and-a-half months is not a final answer, but the evidence thus far is on the side:

That Gov. Rockefeller is a decision-maker, not a report-maker.

That he is a determined and effective political leader capable of uniting his party behind a politically unpopular program — increased taxes to pay for increased public services.

That Gov. Rockefeller can govern.

It is certainly an arguable point whether the stand which he has taken in Albany to maintain and at points to increase spending for public services — hospitals, schools, roads, and other community facilities — and for higher taxes, will help him or hurt him in respect to the 1960 Republican Presidential nomination. My instinct is to feel that it would help more than hurt. What it does is:

Show that Mr. Rockefeller is a conservative party leader who does not intend to neglect the public and social-welfare services of the government.

Prove that Mr. Rockefeller stands for fiscal responsibility and for a pay-as-you-go, policy It is a stand for solvency which neither Gov. Harriman nor Harriman's Republican-controlled legislature would take.

In a word he has demonstrated that his leadership means using conservative principles to deal with public problems, not to brush them under the rug.

BUT THE LARGER significance of what happened in Albany this past week when both houses of the Legislature passed his budget and tax program — with nearly every Republican voting with him and every Democrat voting against him — is that it revealed Mr. Rockefeller's mastery — at least in this critical instance—of the art of political party leadership.

He took the politically unpopular course—raising taxes in order to keep the state solvent. He was absolutely firm in keeping to the substance of his program. He was sufficiently yielding to his party's legislative leaders in making changes in some details.

In this signal test — and a very exacting test at that — Mr. Rockefeller, with the opposition Democrats lined up unanimously against him, proved to be an effective Governor.

If there are more of these accomplishments, Gov. Rockefeller will not have to seek the national spotlight. The national spotlight will seek him.

No Place To Hide, State Stresses In Master CD Plan

Combined AP and UPI

SACRAMENTO — Stressing that no place is safe from nuclear attack, the state Disaster Office has compiled a master plan for saving as much life and resources as possible in the event of all-out war.

Harold G. Robinson, director of the disaster office, said the plan, released yesterday, gives California a head start of 18 months over the rest of the nation in such planning.

The disaster office, after a $300,000 study appropriation, made these points in its official civil defense operations plan:

NO PLACE TO RUN

1. There's no place to run from a nuclear attack.

2. California's coast line is particularly vulnerable because of the heavily concentrated population.

3. There is not enough adequate shelter.

4. No part of the state is free from the threat of radioactive fallout.

The most critical target areas listed are Los Angeles, San Diego and San Francisco Bay and the state's five prime Strategic Air Command bases —Castle, March, Travis, Vandenberg and Beale Air Force Bases.

The cities considered next vulnerable are Sacramento, Stockton, San Jose, Fresno and the San Bernardino, Riverside, Ontario vicinity.

11 MILLION PERSONS

The combined areas have a total population of more than 11 million.

The operations plan, contained in a book three inches thick, outlines specific duties for all state departments and divisions and for local government agencies.

Under the general medical plan, the less seriously injured are to get first priority on treatment. Patients would be admitted to hospitals only as a life-saving measure.

The plan stresses:

Survival depends upon the efforts of all.

When nations possess the capacity for total destruction, military victory becomes a matter of recovery ability.

EVACUATION DIFFICULT

Harry Braze, director of survival planning, said the statewide plan recognized that it is not possible to completely evacuate such population centers as Los Angeles and San Francisco.

But he said the system outlined would scatter the population wherever possible and save some segment of California's population from death or injury.

Braze said a major emphasis in the plan would be on the "relatively new" concept of operations by civil government in a war-caused emergency.

"The idea is to pick up the pieces," he said.

Most of the plan, he said, had been discussed on a local level but this is the first time it has been drawn together. The bulky plan includes a large map showing dispersal routes from most population centers—routes which may never be used.

VALUE OF PLAN

The value of this, Braze said, was to prevent evacuees from two large nearby cities from colliding with each other after an initial warning.

It was difficult to describe the escape routes, which ran everywhere but west.

From Los Angeles, for instance, the routes would lead in three directions—north as far as Kern County, east into San Bernardino County and south into Orange County.

From San Francisco, the routes run north and south along the coastline and then branch out eastward.

LEGISLATORS BOMBARDED WITH TEA BAGS

SACRAMENTO—(CNS) — With the state Assembly now furnished with free coffee and milk (two flavors) legislators also are being bombarded with free tea.

Tea bags are being sent to the lawmakers in opposition to the proposed 256-million-dollar-a-year tax program of Gov. Edmund G. Brown. There has been little activity of late on the tax bills, as the administration apparently is marking time until after passage of the budget bill (not before mid-May).

The tea bags bear the inscription: "Remember the Boston Tea Party." Some have a few pointed comments on the new tax program. One senator said he already has received more than 50 of the leafy missiles.

Bills Hiking Aid To Blind Pass Tests

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Two bills increasing state aid to the blind have passed their first legislative tests.

The Assembly Social Welfare Committee yesterday approved a bill eliminating the five-year residence requirement for blind and a measure appropriating half a million dollars for medical aid to needy blind.

Assemblyman John O'Connel (D-San Francisco) authored the bill which would eliminate the requirement that blind aid recipients must have lived in California for at least five of the preceding nine years.

O'Connell's measure would not change the requirement that persons asking blind aid must have lived in California for at least one full year.

Assemblyman Samuel R. Geddes (N-Napa) offered the measure providing $500,000 to pay half of the cost of hospitalization or nursing care to needy blind. Under Geddes' plan, counties would pay the other half.

Satchmo A Sellout

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (UPI) —The demand for seats at the April 2 Louis Armstrong concert was so heavy among jazz-starved Yugoslavs today that black marketeers were getting $10 for a $3 ticket.

Tickets for the concert, booked in the 2,000-seat auditorium of the Yugoslav trade unions, were sold out shortly after the box office opened Tuesday. Only 800 were sold to the public and the rest were reserved for Yugoslav dignitaries and foreign embassies.

High Catholic Honor Goes To Marinite

Cyril Jackson Fairhurst Sr. of San Rafael, president of Fairhurst Lumber Co., today was named winner of the De-Smet Medal, to be awarded May 24 by Gonzaga University in Spokane, Wash.

The medal, awarded to prominent Catholics who have advanced the cause of Catholicism, has not been awarded since 1942.

Fairhurst was named recipient, it was announced, "because he has always been a most exemplary Catholic and has consistently assisted the church and the Society of Jesus in many ways . . ." and "for the high moral principles he brought into the business world where he is respected as much for his integrity as for his ability."

4 Home Owners Plead Innocent In Sewage Case

Four home owners in the Fairhills section of San Rafael, accused of permitting a public nuisance to exist on Fairhills drive by allowing sewage to seep to the surface Feb. 16, entered pleas of innocent yesterday in Marin Municipal Court and demanded a trial by jury.

They are Joseph Storrs of 216 Fairhills drive, P. L. Van Shook of 272 Fairhills, R. H. Wiley of 276 Fairhills and Bari Frolich of 280 Fairhills. They were represented in court yesterday by attorney Raymond H. Shone who lives not far from them on Forbes avenue.

Judge Albert F. Sheidecker continued the case to April 8 at 1:30 p.m. for setting the trial date.

Historic Flag To Alaska

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate approved a resolution yesterday to award Alaska the first 49-star flag flown over the west front of the U.S. Capitol.

The flag, containing Alaska's statehood star, will be raised on the Fourth of July. It will be presented to the Alaskan congressional delegation which will turn it over to the governor for preservation.

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

Farm Output Up

WASHINGTON (UPI)—American farmers apparently are headed for a new production record again in 1959.

The Agriculture Department estimated yesterday that this year's crops will be grown on about 339,000,000 acres, almost nine million more than in 1958 when farm output rose to an all-time high.

The acreage in 1958 was the smallest since 1917 but record yields per acre produced the bumper harvest. If a similar production trend is maintained this year, America's huge farm surpluses will grow larger.

Son Kills Mother

NEWARK, N.J. (AP)—Lee Daniels Jr., an ex-convict, strode into his mother's luncheonette late last night and shot her to death, police said, when she refused to give him money. He also shot his sister.

Daniels, 24, was caught three blocks from the C and L Sugar Bowl where police say he fired two bullets into his mother, Clara Daniels, 58.

He was charged with murder.

The sister, Lorraine Taylor, 22, was also shot by her brother, police say. The slug lodged in her back. Her condition was reported as fair.

4 Children Die In Fire

GRANGER, Wash. (AP) — Flames raced through a frame house occupied by a Texas farm worker's family of 14 last night, killing four children.

Officers identified the victims as Maria Sandavol, 9, her sisters, Enedlia, 6, and Eva, 3, and a brother, Aleja, 4.

The father, Pedro Sandavol, 42, was hospitalized with burns. He escaped with his nightclothes afire after rescuing some of his children.

The mother and the other children escaped unharmed.

Airliner Claims Record

LONDON (UPI) — A British-built turboprop airliner which flew around the world in 65 hours claimed a record today for commercial aircraft.

The Britannia averaged 370 m.p.h. for the 24,000-mile flight.

Ike, Sean To Dine

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Sean T. O'Kelly of Ireland winds up his Washington visit today with the accent on art and education.

The 76-year-old visitor and his party then go to New York City.

He arranged a luncheon in honor of the President and Mrs. Eisenhower to follow a busy morning schedule taking the O'Kelly party to the National Art Gallery, and to Georgetown University for dedication of a new medical research building.

Actor Warned

SANTA MONICA (AP)—Actor Edward G. Robinson Jr. gets one more chance.

"This is it," Superior Court Judge Allen T. Lynch told him yesterday. "There aren't going to be any more excuses."

Robinson, 26, appeared for a probation hearing as a result of a disturbing the peace arrest last November. He has been on probation since serving 60 days on a drunk driving conviction in 1957.

ALGIERS (AP) — French authorities say they have destroyed a nationalist terror network that operated out of a Koranic school and a mosque in the heart of the Algiers Casbah.

Royalty To Visit Israel

BRUSSELS (AP) — Belgium's 82-year-old Queen Mother Elizabeth will visit Israel at the end of the month to dedicate an archeology museum in Jerusalem named for her.

'Safe' Golf Course

NORTHBORO, Mass. (AP) — Two physicians are planning what they call a noncoronary golf course.

Drs. John Decicco and Pasquale Tomaiolo asked the Northboro selectmen last night for permission to construct a nonhilly 18-hole course.

They said they also would need a permit from the Westboro selectmen as the course would straddle both towns.

Napoleon Hair On Sale

WORCESTER, England (UPI)—A lock of Napoleon's hair, snipped off after his death on St. Helena in 1821, goes on sale at a public auction here today.

Ship On Mercy Mission

HONOLULU (UPI)—The Navy icebreaker USS Staten Island, now in Wellington, New Zealand, will perform a mercy mission while en route to her home port of Seattle.

The New Zealand government and the American Embassy asked the Navy last night to send the Staten Island with emergency food supplies to Niue — a storm-devastated island possession of New Zealand.

Hoover Outbills HST

WASHINGTON (AP)—Herbert Hoover has drawn more government funds for office allowances as a former president than has Harry S. Truman, but has donated his personal pension to charity.

The information was included in testimony Feb. 24 to a House Appropriations subcommittee, which made it public today.

The law providing allowances and pensions for former presidents and for widows of presidents became effective last Aug. 25.

Lou's Girls Inherit

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Comedian Lou Costello left the bulk of his estate, valued at more than $200,000, to his three daughters.

Costello's will, admitted to probate yesterday, acknowledged his wife Anne had a right to half of the community property but said she had been adequately provided for before his death March 3.

Industrialist Dies

PHOENIX (AP)—Paul Weeks Litchfield, dean of the American rubber industry and honorary chairman of the board of Goodyear Tire and Rubber Co., died in a Phoenix hospital last night.

The 83-year-old industrialist had undergone surgery at the hospital a week ago.

After a career spanning 61 years in the industry, Litchfield retired last October as board chairman and chief executive officer of Goodyear.

NAVY JUNKING GALLANT CRUISER SAN FRANCISCO

Aging Warship Played Key Role In Crucial Guadalcanal Battle

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The Navy is scrapping the USS San Francisco, the cruiser that successfully challenged a Japanese battleship in a key battle for Guadalcanal.

Now mothballed at Philadelphia, the aging 10,000-ton cruiser is among five outmoded battleship, 23 cruisers and 15 light carriers the Navy is junking.

All that will be left of the gallant old cruiser will be two navigation wings from her bridge, a flagpole and a chipped ship's bell.

Those are part of a monument overlooking San Francisco's Golden Gate, halfway around the world from where the cruiser blasted her way into history the night of Nov. 12-13, 1942.

This was the situation: Attempting to reverse the tide of World War II in the Pacific, eight months after Pearl Harbor, the United States had sent Marines to take Guadalcanal. With planes based on this key island in the Solomons chain, the Japanese sweep of the Pacific had gravely threatened Australia.

The battle for Guadalcanal was a strategic turning point of the war.

The San Francisco was the flagship of a hastily assembled fleet of five cruisers and eight destroyers. That little force stopped two Japanese battleships and 14 destroyers from shelling Marine-held Henderson Airfield in a confused night action. Historians probably never will be able to recount it specifically.

The San Francisco went into that battle only one day after being hit by a falling Japanese plane that ruined her radar and killed 30 men.

In pitch darkness, the U. S. ships steamed into the middle of a Japanese fleet capable of throwing three times as much steel. Radar was imperfect. A lot of the firing was done at point blank range by the light of the ship's own searchlights and star shells.

American aims can best be summed up by this command of Rear Adm. Daniel J. Callaghan of Oakland, U. S. commander who was killed a few minutes later:

"Take on the big one first."

The San Francisco did. With 8-inch guns, she dueled the 14-inch-gunned battleship Hiei and crippled her so she was an easy target for U. S. bombers and torpedo plane to sink the next day. She also sank a destroyer before she was disabled.

When it was over, the United States had lost two light cruisers and four destroyers. The Japanese lost two destroyers plus the Hiei, so losses were called about even.

Most important, Henderson Field was saved. The next day, U. S. planes from Henderson disposed of 11 Japanese transports and their invading troops as well as the Hiei.

The San Francisco was hit by 45 shells, 15 of them 14-inchers from battleships.

Aboard were 107 dead. Her bridge was a shambles.

Among the dead were Callaghan and Capt. Cassin Young of Coronado, her skipper.

Lt. Cmdr. Bruce McCandless of Long Beach, communications officer and the only able-bodied man on the bridge, assumed command and got the cripple out safely. He was awarded the Medal of Honor.

A month later, the battered ship reached San Francisco for repairs at Mare Island Navy Yard, where she had been built.

News of her arrival at the Golden Gate spread quickly despite wartime secrecy. Hills were crowded with watchers. There were cheers —and poignant silence.

The men still aboard had won 29 Navy Crosses, 28 Silver stars, the Medal of Honor and a Presidential Unit Citation.

After repairs, the San Francisco went right on fighting. When peace came, her record read like a roll call of Pacific battles.

San Francisco dedicated its monument to the ship on Nov. 11, 1950. On it is engraved President Franklin D. Roosevelt's citation:

The San Francisco sailed right through the enemy fleet, her guns blazing. She engaged and hit three of the enemy vessels, sinking one of them. At point blank range, she engaged an enemy battleship, heavily her superior in size and firepower. She silenced the battleship's big guns and so disabled her that she could be sunk by torpedoes from our destroyers and aircraft."

Teachers Show 'Ivory Tower' Theory Untrue

By ROBERT MUSEL

LONDON (UPI) — "Where's Mike Todd Jr.," I asked.

"Follow your nose," said his friend. He laughed and laughed.

Ever since the son of the late, great showman announced that his solo debut in show business would be called "Smell-O-Vision" the jokes have been flying at half mast.

Example: How will young Mike calculate his percentage of theater grosses?

Why, count your noses, of course. (Laughter?)

Finally along came the man of a thousand smells, young Mike himself, with not even a whiff of after-shave lotion. He had been working on the contract for the star he hopes to get for his first film, "Scent of Mystery."

Mike explained he was calling his new process "Smell-O-Vision" because it was advancing the cinema another notch along the five senses.

They were originally called movies because they moved. Then talkies because they talked.

"Now," said Mike, "through a Swiss process fixed at each seat, the audience will be able to smell for a few seconds each of those scenes which are important to the story, or which give the audience greater identification with characters on the screen."

Young Mike can understand the amusement his idea is creating among the public but it took him only a few minutes to convince some hard-headed movie men that he has inherited his famous father's nose for that rarest of perfumes—money.

For what Mike will be shooting in Andalusia in Spain is a comedy-thriller that in story, writing and cast should be able to return him a profit as a film alone.

And to this big-screen extravaganza, he is adding the novelty of 15 different smells concocted by his Swiss backroom wizard, Hans Laube, all of which will help the audience follow the clues being pursued by Peter Lorre and others on the screen.

"We've tested it in an actual cinema," Mike said. "It was a fanatstic success. For example, on screen we've got a man murdered by being run down by a great cask of wine.

"Lorre sniffs the broken cask and says:

"'Portobello '52. An amusing wine but not much body.'

"The audience will not only note the pun about 'body,' it will actually smell the wine!"

For the film, Laube has also produced the aroma of peaches, coffee, freshly baked bread and horses.

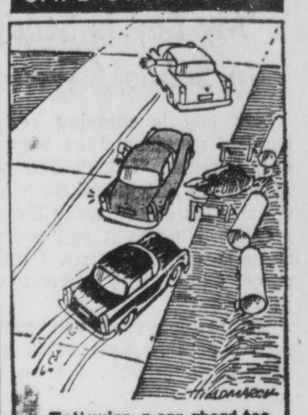
Someone asked Todd if his business partner and stepmother, Elizabeth Taylor, was going to play in the film.

"Certainly," young Mike said. "She has a small but key part."

The inquirer could not resist:

"I smell success," he said.

SAFE DRIVING TIP



Following a car ahead too closely can lead to serious trouble.

For every 10 miles per hour on your speedometer you should be one car length behind the vehicle ahead of you, warns the Chicago Motor Club. Don't swing to the right around left-turning vehicles if you can't see what's ahead.

Be sure before you change traffic lanes that the road ahead is clear. On the open road never pass on the right side.

Bill Would Clarify Road Right Of Way

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—A bill to make it clear which driver has the right of way at intersections was introduced yesterday at the request of Gov. Edmund G. Brown.

The bill was drafted by the California Highway Patrol as a safety measure and was introduced by Sen. Carl L. Christensen (D-Eureka).

It it becomes law, drivers who want to make a left turn off a through street and drivers who want to enter a through street from a stop street must wait until the way is clear.

Under present law, cars may proceed into the intersection after waiting for immediately approaching cars. Christensen said this was "a statutory right to pull out into danger."

He said the present law results in many accidents in which it is a thorny question of who had the right of way. His bill eliminates the provisions which permit the driver to proceed after stopping for immediately approaching cars.

He said he knew there was a real problem for drivers who want to enter a through highway, but he said it was more a problem of traffic handling to be cured by traffic lights than by statute.

Miller's Stand On U.S. School Aid Comes Under Fire In House Hearing

Federal aid for teachers' salaries embodied in the 11.5-billion-dollar four-year school aid bill co-sponsored by Rep. Clement W. Miller, Marin's Democratic congressman, came under attack earlier this month when Miller testified in favor of the bill.

The complete transcript of Miller's March 5 testimony before the House Special Education Subcommittee was received today in Marin County.

The Marin congressman was criticized by Rep Carroll D. Kearns (R-Pa.) who declared: "When you start subsidizing teachers' pay, it is socialism."

SCHOOL AID BILL

The Murray-Metcalf school aid bill (co-sponsored by Miller) provides that individual states determine how federal funds are to be distributed between school construction and teachers' salaries.

Congressman Kearns objected to the salary aid. "Now suppose you took the teachers' subsidy phase of the Murray-Metcalf bill out, what does he have left? Then Mr. Metcalf and his co-sponsor would have to go back to my approach of brick and mortar. We will build school houses," said Kearns.

Miller replied: "What good does it do to have the brick and mortar if you don't have the teachers?"

KEARNS' RETORT

"You have the cart ahead of the horse," retorted Kearns. "If we can build the schoolhouses, they can take care of their teachers back in the local areas and the states, and you know that."

Miller: "There are a number of proposals in which we might get greater utilization of our schools. There is a growing feeling we might use these schools 11 months a year. If this is the case, we might be able to cut down on our investment in brick and mortar, and step it up in terms of teachers' salaries, and we would need more and more teachers . . .

"If I could respectfully say so, I believe that there is too great a preoccupation of this administration with brick and mortar and not enough with the intellect."

Miller scoffed at the notion "that somehow or other the federal government is going to reach down into the mind of the teacher purely because it is a federal dollar that pays part of their salary."

'My Boy Is Studying Communism In School,' Writes Worried Dad

"My boy is studying communism at school," an angry father writes. "I don't like it. He's in the 12th grade. He tells me all kids should study Communism. He says it will make them better Americans. I disagree. I think it is subversive. Don't you?"

Many people share your concern over the study of Communism in schools. I hope I can reassure you.

Properly done, the study of this subject makes the students better Americans. I don't consider it subversive. For many years our schools shunned Communism and young people graduated with no knowledge of it. They didn't know Communism's meaning. They had no concept of the threat it represents to our way of life. The results were bad. Some young people were victims of Communist propaganda. Remember the American prisoners who went over to the Reds in the Korean war? They're examples.

Educators saw what was happening. They revised their courses to include the study of Communism. The subject now comes in the 12th grade. Students read about Marx, Lenin, Stalin and Khrushchev. They look at the pros and cons. They compare life in the iron curtain countries with their own lives in the U.S.A. and draw the proper conclusion.

The Russian language was taboo too. Remember? Now we realize we need people who can speak it fluently. So this year we have thousands of high school kids studying Russian. The results will be good, not subversive.

I understand your anxiety. I can sympathize with it. But I think you are worried unnecessarily. Talk with the school principal. He'll explain further.

Novato Egg Hunt Set For March 28

Novato's community Easter egg hunt, sponsored by the Novato Volunteer Firemen's Assn., is set for noon of March 28.

Novato children 8 years and under will scurry across the Safeway Stores property on Diablo avenue in search of eggs —especially three golden eggs which will entitle finders in three age groups to special Easter basket awards. Age brackets are under 4, 4 to 6, and 6 to 8.

The event is being arranged by a firemen's association committee headed by Frank Helbing. Other members are Charles Smith, James Guibbini, Reno Pronzini, Paul Hansen, Robert Manzoni and Louis Cavallero.

2 Men Jailed On Morals Charges

Two men were jailed by sheriff's officers on suspicion of indecent exposure Tuesday.

Wayne Allen Minyard, 20, of 105 Auburn street, San Rafael, a delivery boy, was arrested in his car parked on Lucas Valley road near Marinwood Tuesday night about 7 o'clock.

Sheriff's Deputy Gerald Fries on patrol made the arrest.

In the second case, a man from Pasadena, identified only as Sheridan C. Blackburn, was found by the railroad bunkhouse near Grant avenue about 3:40 p. m. A mother who lives nearby complained that Blackburn was using loud and obscene language. He was booked on suspicion of drunkenness, vagrancy and indecent exposure.

Convict Denied Parole For Year

The state Adult Authority has postponed for one year further parole consideration for Wallace Cox, San Quentin prisoner serving a life sentence for the 1941 slaying of a fellow inmate.

Cox, who entered San Quentin in 1939 after conviction of auto theft, participated in the murder of an inmate whose throat was slashed in the prison basement. The victim's body was found stuffed in a ventilator.

Tried in Marin Superior Court, Cox was convicted of the slaying and sentenced to life. In 1952 he was paroled. Three years later he was convicted of attempted robbery in Los Angeles County and returned to San Quentin to resume the life sentence.

CAP Cadets To Visit Testing Area

Five Civil Air Patrol cadets from Marin are among 35 from Northern California who will go to China Lake Naval Special Weapons Testing Area during Easter vacation next week. The cadets were chosen by vote from their squadrons.

Representatives from Cadet Amphibious Squadron 2, which meets in Sausalito, are A/3c Raymond Riha and A/3c Paul Kordic, both of Mill Valley. From San Rafael's Marin Squadron 4 are cadet 2nd Lts. Gary Penders of Terra Linda and Robert Hamstra of San Rafael. Cadet 1st Lt. Karen Woodman, also of Terra Linda, works directly with the headquarters of the California CAP Wing.

The cadets will fly from Hamilton Air Force Base by military aircraft.

Guitarist Will Present Concert

A breakfast concert will be presented at Sabella's Sunday by Karl Herreshoff, student guitarist who won a $200 Marin Music Chest scholarship last year.

Herreshoff, 17, has been giving a series of performances to raise money for a trip to the University of Sienna in Italy, where he will study under famed guitarist Andres Segovia.

Angelo Sabella is donating the use of a dining room for 80 patrons. Breakfast will be served at 9:30 a.m. Reservations are available at Sabella's and at the Ave Maria Shop, 973 Grand avenue, San Rafael.

Dads Club Sets Variety Show

The annual variety show of the Larkspur-Corte Madera Dads Club will be presented April 24 and 25 at the Corte Madera Recreation Center.

L. W. Simmonds, director, said the show this year will be called "Midway Capers of 1959." He said the 14 variety acts will be done with a circus setting. Funds derived from the show will be used for extra-curricular activities for children of the district.

Work Starts Soon On Apartments

Construction of three apartment buildings on Sir Francis Drake boulevard next to Zip's Drive-In is slated to begin early next month by Lang Construction Co. of San Rafael.

Plans for the buildings containing eight one-bedroom apartments in each were approved Monday evening by the San Anselmo Planning Commission.

Rudy D. Lang Jr. and Boyd Lang, brothers, are builders of the $275,000 apartment development.

San Rafael Man Guilty Of Burglary Attempt

A Marin Superior Court jury yesterday found Robert Eugene Gingras, 22, of 28 Stevens place, San Rafael, guilty of attempted burglary last Dec. 2 when he tried to enter the Red Fox Restaurant at 704 Fourth street, San Rafael.

Judge Richard M. Sims Jr. postponed sentencing until April 6 for a report from the probation department.

Tenor, Soprano Will Wind Up Concert Series

Glade Peterson, National Broadcasting Co. opera tenor, and Korean-born soprano Joy Kim will present an evening of musical theater on April 2 as the final program in the Mill Valley Concert Series.

In their joint recital beginning at 8:15 p.m. at the Outdoor Art Clubhouse, the duo will stage scenes in costume from "La Boheme" and "Madame Butterfly," popular Puccini operas, as well as excerpts from Mozart operas and Korean songs.

Petite Joy Kim was brought as a child from Seoul, Korea, to Los Angeles and received her bachelor and master of music degrees from University of Southern California. Under a scholarship she also studied with the great opera singer Lotte Lehmann.

Miss Kim has sung with the Cosmopolitan Opera, toured Europe in recital for the U.S. State Department and appeared in motion pictures with John Wayne. She is returning from her engagement as star of the Wurzburg Opera on March 21 for her annual spring tour.

Born in Salt Lake City, Glade Peterson gave up an athletic career for one in singing and became leading tenor with the NBC opera after his first audition.

Peterson has starred in NBC opera-television productions of "La Boheme," "Rigoletto" and others, and was one of the four singers chosen by the hard-to-please Maria Callas to appear with her in her Carnegia Hall concert in New York last year.

Peterson comes to Mill Valley from Nassau, where he has been starring in the month-long light opera festival.

The duo's accompanist will be Raymond McFeeters, organist and composer, who has toured with such concert artists as John Charles Thomas, Lily Pons and Marian Anderson.

Those who do not hold subscriptions may obtain tickets at the door.

Committee Reports To Carry Prices

SACRAMENTO (AP)—The Assembly decided 55-18 yesterday to require interim committee reports to carry a price tag.

Assemblyman Jack A. Beaver (R-Redlands) pushed the resolution through on the argument the public is entitled to know how much was spent by the interim committees.

Disagreeing, Assemblyman S. C. Masterson (D-El Sobrante) declared the committee reports shouldn't be judged on what they cost but on the work that went into them.

Assemblyman Richard H. McCollister (R-San Rafael) cautioned the cost figures "will excite the imagination of a lot of people unnecessarily."

Ways and Means Chairman Jesse Unruh (D-Los Angeles) complained the resolution he called "lousy" carries things too far. He was against "telling everybody everything about everything we do."

In support of Beaver, Assemblyman Bruce F. Allen (R-Los Gatos) said the cost declaration would help educate the people to the fact it costs money to run the Legislature.

Dads Club Endorses School Bond Issue

The Larkspur-Corte Madera Dads Club went on record Monday night as approving the proposal for a $267,000 bond issue, on the May 19 election ballot in Larkspur School District.

The Neil Cummins School Parent-Teacher Assn. also has pledged its help in passing the bond issue, which would qualify the district for state aid in purchase and development of a fourth school site in Mariner's Cove subdivision.

IT'S 'DESTRUCTIVE'

Actress Diane Varsi Gives Up Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Diane Varsi, one of the movies' brightest new stars, an Oscar nominee last year for her performance in "Peyton Place," says she's quitting acting to live quietly in Bennington, Vt.

Acting, she finds, is "destructive to me."

"It has nothing to do with my studio," she said. "I just don't want to act any more or be a part of this business."

Miss Varsi, 21, was flying today with Shawn, 2, a son born during her former marriage to James Dickson, 26, co-owner of a record company.

A shy girl who drives an old jalopy and has shown up to talk to producers in blue jeans, shirt and bare feet, she said it's hard to explain her motives.

"I don't like some of the ways of Hollywood, but my reasons go deeper," she said. "It is the performing itself that I object to. I find it destructive to me. I don't see any reason to be made miserable just because other people say I should go on with my career.

"If I have any talent I will try to find some other outlet for it that will make me less unhappy. For the present I will just live quietly in Vermont and take care of my child."

Protest Meeting's Place Changed

A tax protest mass meeting called by the Marin County Taxpayers Assn. for 8 o'clock tonight will be held in the cafeteria of San Rafael High School.

The high school auditorium, where the meeting originally scheduled, has been preempted for a repeat performance of "Oklahoma!" by the high school music department, announced Principal Ralph Phelps.

Curtain time for the "Oklahoma!" performance is 7:30 p.m.

Marin Man Named Showroom Manager

Walter Hotzner of 208 Miranda avenue, San Rafael Meadows, has been named manager of a new showroom of High Fidelity Unlimited at 1560 California street, San Francisco.

Formal opening of the San Francisco showroom will be 10 a. m. to 9 p. m. Saturday and from noon to 5 p. m. Sunday.

Science Fair Opens At Kent School

A. E. Kent School in Kentfield opened its science fair this morning with 150 entries from pupils in fourth through eighth grades.

The displays in the school multi-use room will be open for inspection from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. tomorrow. Displays were to be judged this afternoon.

The entries are of two types: One which uses the scientific method to evaluate something like the intelligence of rats with the aid of a rat maze, and another which is a visual aide, such as a model or drawing of a heart.

Spearheading the science fair have been upper-grade science teachers John Richard and Mary Howie.

Judge Fines 2 Men For Drunken Driving

Two men arrested last month for drunken driving were fined yesterday in Marin Municipal Court by Judge Albert F. Scheidecker.

John Reynolds, 46 of Ft. Barry was fined $263 for drunken driving on Bridgeway on Feb. 22. Reynolds withdrew an earlier plea of innocent and pleaded guilty yesterday.

Frank Edward Werner, 30, of 620 Nevada street, Sausalito, was fined $158 and put on six months probation. He was arrested Feb. 23 on El Portal street.

Dinner Slated To Benefit Little Theater

A cabaret-dinner will be held at the Marin City Administration Building at 7 p.m. Saturday as the first of a series of benefit affairs to launch Marin City's little theater.

Dinner of chicken-in-a-basket will be followed by an evening of entertainment, said Henry Malcheski of Mill Valley, who, with Harry N. Bailey of Marin City, is organizing the little theater.

Several San Francisco night club entertainers will be on the program, Malcheski said. Tickets are on sale at the Waldo Market in Marin City and the Mart in Sausalito, or may be obtained from Bailey or Dorothy Parker in Marin City, Lorraine Weinbrenner and Bruce Risley in Mill Valley and Betty Meredith in Ross.

The Marin City Community Theater has employed David Sacks, well known Bay Area director, to direct its first play, "Take a Giant Step," which is now in rehearsal.

Marinite's Ticket Drawn In Sweeps

An article in the April issue of Reader's Digest, which reached subscribers this week, calls the Irish Hospital Sweepstakes "the world's greatest bleeding-heart racket."

Maybe so, but you'd have a hard time today convincing Mrs. Ethel Sabraw of 1924 Grand avenue, San Rafael.

Mrs. Sabraw learned yesterday her ticket in the "Sweeps" has been drawn for a horse, Balsize, in Saturday's running of the Grand National Steeplechase at Aintree, England. This assures her of a substantial prize and gives her a chance at $140,000 if Balsize, a 33-to-1 shot, should romp in first.

Mrs. Sabraw is a beauty operator at Andre's Beauty Salon in Mill Valley. Her husband, Gerald, is a member of Sabraw Brothers, San Rafael building contractors.

Junior Theater Discussion Set

The Marin County Junior Theater will be the topic of discussion on Kitty Oppenheimer's KTIM radio program "Open House" at 11 a.m. Monday.

Mrs. Oppenheimer will interview Mrs. Paul Talbot, chairman of the Sleepy Hollow unit of the Marin County Junior Theater, and Mrs. Robert Salles, summer workshop chairman.

CLASSROOM TV CAN'T REPLACE TEACHER, COLLEGE PARLEY TOLD

Television in the college classroom may offer real competition to the professor, but there are certain areas where nothing but a human instructor is satisfactory, it was asserted at a conference of the California Junior College Assn. in Long Beach last week.

Ward H. Austin, president, and Paul Clymer, vice president of College of Marin were among educators attending the meeting.

Panelists at the conference held that "television in either an open or closed circuit situation" can present subject matter as well as can a teacher, Austin reported today.

Kennel Club Sets Show For April 19

An American Kennel Club sanction and all-breed obedience match for pedigreed dogs has been set for April 19 at College of Marin, J. A. Boegman, president of the newly formed Sir Francis Drake Kennel Club, announced today.

Winners of the match will be awarded trophies, but will not be competing for points toward earning AKC certificates of title, said Boegman.

Boegman, a Mill Valley resident, was recently elected president of the group. Other officers include Paul Putnam, Novato, first vice president; Arthur Foff, Mill Valley, second vice president; Thomas McWatters Jr., Larkspur, treasurer; Nora Randolph, Stinson Beach, corresponding secretary, and Helen Michaels, Corte Madera, recording secretary.

Anna Taylor, a woman, was the first person ever to go over Niagara Falls in a barrel and survive. This was in 1901.

Assembly Unit Passes Old Age Pension Hike

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—Legislation increasing the basic monthly check of California's old age pensioners from $90 to $100 has passed its first legislative test.

The Assembly Social Welfare Committee yesterday approved the legislation authored by Assemblyman John O'Connel (D-San Francisco) and sent it along to the Ways and Means Committee.

Pension promoter George McLain explained the bill provided a "cost of living" increase for the state's 265,000 old-age pensioners.

McLain said under present law oldsters were allowed $28.50 a month for food.

"It costs more for food than that," McLain said.

The measure was opposed by William Siegel of the County Supervisors Assn., who said the Legislature should establish a "priority list" for increases in public aid.

An immediate advantage from the bill would be enjoyed by 114,000 oldsters receiving both federal and state aid. When an increase in the federal grant went into effect last month, the state began deducting that amount from the state payment.

O'Connell's bill would permit federal-state aid recipients to keep the federal increase as well as upping their state payment.

Marin GI Injured In Mishap In Italy

Pvt. Ted L. Zink of Novato is undergoing treatment for two fractured legs at a U.S. Army hospital at Vinzanza, Italy.

He was injured in a barrack accident while serving with the Southern European American Tactical Army Forces in Italy. Zink, a graduate of San Rafael High school, is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold F. Zink of 805 Eucalyptus avenue, Novato.

Four Who Fought With Loggers Plead Innocent

Four East Bay teen-agers who tangled with some tough loggers at Olema on March 8 entered pleas of innocent yesterday to charges of disturbing the peace and illegal liquor possession.

Their attorney, T. Roy Hoover of Oakland, entered the pleas before Judge Albert F. Scheidecker of Sebastopol, sitting in Marin Municipal Court.

The four are William P. Lipps, 18; Stanton G. Friedman, 19; James M. Cooney, 18, and Robert A. Fansler, 18. Fansler is from El Cerrito, the other three from Berkeley. They are free on $150 bail each except Friedman, whose bail was increased to $500 yesterday.

Jury trial was waived and their trial was set for March 31 at 9:30 a.m.

'Haman Hop' Slated

A "Haman Hop" will be held at the Marin Jewish Community Center in San Rafael Saturday beginning at 9 p.m. in celebration of the festive holiday of Purim, it was announced today by the Sisterhood sponsoring the event. Dancing, refreshments and entertainment are planned.

FASHIONS.....

It's spring—a fresh, exhilarating season so full of the joys of living, so completely wonderful that the whole family goes eagerly forward to greet it. Among spring's most exciting pleasures is the change to new fashions for everyone in the family.

Important fashion trends include the dainty party dress in organdy or taffeta, scalloped and deftly shaped with a skirt billowing into a trio of bouffant flounces.

"Continental" is the word for the newest style in men's suits this spring. Featured are jackets somewhat shorter than other styles, coming with two-buttons, as well as three.

In swimwear, the snug fitting armholes and tiny straps are a feature of designer's collections this year. Wool knits continue to be popular and expect bright colors at the beach.

Just like "Pop's" are the spring topcoats for little gentlemen. These new topcoats are lighter than ever in weight and the new styling also features shorter lengths. And, there are new colors and shades for the young men this season.

Fashion's "lifted look" with its focus on the top of the silhouette gets support from milliners, who give spring hats more height in the crowns. Hats show new softness this season both in trimming and shape.

Playclothes feature dainty touches from the blousson to the scalloped topette. Slim trim tapered pants are ever popular.

It is a safe prediction that more men will turn out in walking shorts this year with Bermuda lengths or longer getting the preference.

HOME AND ABROAD

Natural Line Gains Unanimous Approval Of Fashion Designers

By PATRICIA ZINN

The curtain has gone up on spring fashions and it is apparent that the shirtwaist dress, the short jacketed suit and the dress-and-jacket costumes with belt at the normal waistline are the outstanding silhouettes in the opening scenes.

Artistry displayed in today's fashion edition is by Independent-Journal staffers Jack Lucey who designed the cover and Ken Molino and Bob Hax, photographers.

The American woman has final proof that fashion is back to normal with the Paris high fashion houses united and singleminded about a new style, the "natural line."

Gone and let us hope forgotten are the sacks, chemises, trapezes and all silhouette exaggerations.

Skirts are longer than last year. They cover the knee cap with a couple of inches to spare.

The beloved shirtwaist dress has made a much heralded return to the spring scene in every type of fabric from cottons to chiffons.

The new suits will bring a welcome touch to many a wardrobe for their soft necklines, shorter jackets and slim skirts highly becoming to every woman. And the short sleeves, often ending at the elbow, that mark all the spring suits give special emphasis to bracelets.

No one color overshadows all others. White, coming up steadily the past seasons, is at its strongest for spring, in natural and bleached types, in white-on-white combinations, to pale down one or more colors, to accent such strong colors as red, vivid blue, black, yellow or navy. Cream and off-white show strength. Greens show the greatest increase perhaps of any family; pinks are strong in myriad shades; blues hold their own, and buttercup yellows are up-coming.

Now that the trapeze and chemise have been "sacked" what about the needle shoes? The graceful elongated last is still there, but there is less shoe to the shoe. The sides are lower or become straps — wide straps, sling straps, T-straps or intricate cut-outs. A whole spectrum of luminous shades and "hot" pastels have been produced. All told, to reach the height of fashion, point they must.

The over-all fashion picture can perhaps best be told by previews of leading designers:

MARJORIE CARNE says California stylings show these 1959 trends:

There will be fuller, shorter skirts and more form-revealing styles; waistlines will go down from their present highs; in swimwear, there will be two-piece, bikini type suits, bared midriffs, and bright colors such as yellow, orange and lime.

NETTIE ROSENSTEIN—This veteran designer, back at work after a one-season "sabbatical," cinched waistlines, scooped necklines, and featured the shirtwaist dress. Prints were among the prettiest seen in this, a heavy print season. They included light and dark blue florals; blue, violet and white combinations; and yellow gilt flowers on an orange ball gown.

CLAIRE McCARDELL clothes by Townley — Mildred Orrick, who became head designer for this firm after the death of Miss McCardell, featured the cardigan-jacket suit. The firm also is selling the chemise — with belt. "It's a house classic; we've always had it," said Mrs. Orrick. Some waistlines are high, but a woman can adjust the belt to suit herself—buttoning it on at any one of three locations.

PAUL PARNES—This manufacturer favors suits with slim skirts and short jackets. Jackets are semi-fitted or slightly bloused.

B. H. WRAGG—The classic shirtwaist reigns at this house, famous for its casual, young suburbanite fashions. Wragge also introduces the "slipcover" dress, oriental style. The overdress, or slipcover, is in print, unbelted and with side slits in the skirts; it's worn over a solid color sheath.

EDWARD ABBOTT—Designer Wilson Folmer fixes the waistline at normal, with east of silhouette above and below. "Puffery" is his term for a silhouette with bulk above the waistline.

ANN FOGARTY — This designer sticks with two silhouettes for which she long has been known—the sheath and the shirtwaist. The full-skirted shirtwaisters come with color-matched petticoats.

JANE DERBY—This designer likes the fitted silhouette, but without the taut look. Skirts and necklines of dresses, suit jackets and even coats are flounced. Big, soft collars and sheer fichus cover the shoulders in some costumes; other coats and suits are collarless.

VERA STEWART — Shirtwaist and coat dresses abound here. She also shows a group of sleeveless dresses paired with cashmere sweaters in a young-looking hipbone length.

BEN GERSHEL — Suit jackets are short, topping strictly slim skirts with neat, trouser darts. Coats in the collection suggest a high waistline in front. In some coats, an inner belt circles the waist, emerging only at the center front.

MARQUISE — Designer Philippe Tournaye gives waistline emphasis with cummberbund belts or wide, crushed sashes of suede. Topping suit skirts or slim-cut dresses. He also uses flat, half-belts on some coats and suit jackets.

Paris high fashion houses have seldom been uniform. When the season got under way with small, belted waistlines and a natural silhouette in the Heim, Patou and Cardin shows, the trend was firmly set. Laroche, Balmain, Lanvin Castillo, Matta and the others fell into step. Still, some experts wondered of Dior's young designer Yves Saint Laurent would follow.

He did, and unofficially christened the season's silhouette when he named his own version the "natural line." The other houses must have breathed a sigh of relief.

What the spring styles may lack in breath-taking originality, they make up in pure figure flattery.

IVAN FREDERIC points the way to a most beautiful spring. Polka dots, one of the season's most pleasant basic patterns, is a wonderful addition to any traveling or stay-at-home wardrobe. This dress is available in many colors at Mayer's in Mill Valley.

Bolder Patterns Seen In Neckties

Many of the new neckties are flaunting bright Spring-like colors, bolder patterns and lighter shades. Among the top neckwear choices are shantungs, in both bright and dull silk surfaces. Stripes and plaids predominate. The under-knot pattern or design is headed for quite a comeback this season. These are the ties that show a distinctive pattern under the knot, and go well with striped, checked or plaided shirt fabrics.

SPRING ON TO summer ensemble is modeled by Kathy Menini. The rayon linen sheath with matching orlon sweater in turquoise is featured at Kaufman's in San Anselmo. A black patent bag and Trifari accessories complete the outfit.

Handbags Like Smaller Size, Softer Shapes

Handbags, which for the past several seasons have had the proportions of small suit-cases, go ladylike this spring.

Smooth leathers are softer, grained leathers are finer, suedes are silkier — and dimensions have dwindled to meet the ladylike proportions of the feminine, more fitted silhouette.

One of the most popular new handbag fashions is the oblong, smooth and flat with soft gathering at the topline closing to give inside roominess without bulk. This handbag appears in both smooth and suede leathers for afternoon and evening, in the new bright colors as well as the off-whites and darks.

The smooth leather handbag with horizontal length and a gently rounded contour and single strap handle wins spring popularity, especially for daytime wear.

For casual or sports wear, handbags become more commodious but still retain a feminine appearance.

Boxiness is replaced with softened contours, gathered effects and expansion bases. Most effective in finely grained textures in mellow, natural tones or neutrals, these causal bags show little ornamentation except in shiny metal hardware or novelty closures.

New Emblems

Embroidered emblems are the newest fad for men's sports shirts. The emblems are made of Acrilan, which is washable, does not shrink or pucker. Look for crossed flags, heraldic lions, swordfish, and sports car designs. The shirts come in pullover styles, coat types, and a new bloused style which is elasticized at the waist. Colors are white, black, red and powder blue, aimed to show off the emblems.

A CARL Naftal cotton satin Polynesian brown and beige print dress is so becoming on Mrs. Robert Middagh. The ensemble, which is featured at Luana's of San Rafael, has a beige jacket of Burlington silk shake.

Front Pockets Take Over Wool Slacks

Have you taken a close look at your slacks lately? Chances are, if you compare them to the new exceptionally lightweight worsteds now in men's shops, you'll notice a marked difference in styling.

The slacks in your closet are probably more fully cut, with double pleats on each side of zipper, have conventional pockets, and of course, come with a buckled backstrap. To borrow an old phrase, all these details are old hat—and date them as yesteryear's.

Let's see what's new. Your eye is directed first to the unusual styling of the waistband and pockets. Let's take the waistband first. Most new worsted slacks come without belt loops, for the emphasis today is on trim extension waistbands and side tabs that make you look slim. You'll marvel at how they fit more comfortably around your waist, and without pleats, provide you with a trimmer appearance. And these cool wool tropicals have the ability to "give" with your body movements, yet retain their neat shape. Golfers, take note!

Now, about pockets. They've finally dared to make the move to the front of the trouser. West of the Mississippi, they're proudly called "frontier" pockets, but east of the Great Divide, it's something to do with the new Italian influence that's making a tremendous change in the styling of clothing for us Americans. And it's a welcome change, too.

You'll find these new sports slacks in the coolest wool-worsteds, some practically tissue-thin, and in patterns. Miniature checks and muted plaids are taking the place of drab solids. They're the perfect complement to a navy flannel blazer. One last word. Have them tailored cuffless for the "new" look.

THE RETURN to the natural line is seen in this navy blue crepe Caryle worn by Mrs. John Willcutt. The dark color is accentuated by a detachable white pleated collar and cuffs. The set-in waistband ends in a button belt in the back. The dress is from the Ross Valley Shop in Kentfield.

FOR SUBTEENS

Shirtwaist, Sheath Popular For Spring

Such well-established favorites as the shirtwaist and the sheath take subteens into spring. These fashions acquire a new-season air through fresh colorings, fabrics and trims.

Natural waistlines predominate, with the high-waisted look almost always a midriff line which gathers over young bosoms and draws in middles.

Brightly printed cotton dresses are liked with bouffant skirts and wide contrasting sashes, bows or cummerbunds. Splashy florals, woven plaids and polka dots are all popular.

The slim dress for subteens is usually a fitted sheath, banded under the bustline. It may be topped by a short jacket for an ensemble look. Two piece styles have banded or drawstring overblouse tops.

Shirtwaists appear in slim and bouffant versions, casual or dressed up by such details as organdy collar overlays and flower trims. Mushroom collars, full sleeves and cummerbunds provide other new looking accents.

The suit-conscious subteen has many interesting styles to choose from, including three-piece suits with blouses in harmonizing colors or prints. Especially new are jackets with scarf collars, bandbottoms, high belts or chesterfield styling.

Coats are favored in silhouettes that are full enough to wear over bouffant skirts. Many are marked by back-interest details. Slim coats have inverted back pleats for ease.

Some coats have shallow empire bodices joining flared skirts. Double-breasted closures are popular for toppers, one style being a cut-off version of the boy coat.

Popular coat fabrics include textured wools, navy and gray flannels, vivid mohairs, wool suede checks and monotone tweeds.

FRESHNESS OF SPRING INSPIRES IMPORTANT TRENDS IN JEWELRY

Spring is the season of newness—and the jewelry designed to complement spring fashions takes it inspiration straight from this mood of the new and the fresh, reports the Fashion Coordination Institute.

Important among the new trends is the shorter length of necklaces. Short bibs, shorter chokers and the shortest necklace of all, the dog collar, star for spring.

Short sleeves for suits and dresses spotlight bracelets, with a deep-cuff look and jeweled and textured surfaces.

Earrings assume new forms and designs to complement the shorter necklaces. Button earrings, with a dimensional, "crusted" and jeweled look, pair with short bibs or chokers, while other earrings sweep up the outline of the ear, to provide just the right accent for the dog collar.

Pins, pins and more pins of every size, shape and description fill a big fashion role.

But perhaps the most spring-like touch of all in new jewelry is color. With many pale pastels and many neutrals seen in dresses, suits and coats, colored jewelry has special importance in the fashion scheme of things, the Institute reports.

JOHN LARKIN, a senior at Sir Francis Drake High School, wears an all-wool student's sport coat made especially for the wide-shouldered, slim-hipped young man. His flap-back slacks are of Orlano, a new blend of orlon and wool worsted. The coat and slacks are featured at Marin's Boys' Store and Men's Corner in San Anselmo.

Missiles Miss

Look for the Miss in Missiles, say engineers with a Milwaukee metal spinning firm, which manufacturers rocket parts. They noticed a marked similarity between shapes of fashions and the rockets.

For example, the trapeze look, popular last year, is repeated in the conical spinning which forms part of the Honest John missile. The chemise, another 1958 style, looks like the cylinder that forms the first part of many missile spinnings. And the sheath, back in fashion this year, resembles a nozzle component from another missile.

Shoe Colors Feature Five Top Families

Color becomes a family affair in women's shoes for spring — a five-family affair, in fact. Grouped according to popularity, the five top families of fashion colors in leather shoes include hot pinks, brilliant reds, bright blues, light salad greens going into Irish greens and avocados, and deep, hot oranges and sea corals.

Other favored colors are mauvepinks, lilacs and deep purples, featured mainly in dress shoes. Continuing in popularity, too, is the beigeto-brown group, including bone, toast and the grayed browns.

Particularly beautiful are these dazzling colors interpreted in new calfskins that are silky soft with a subdued luster, shown for dressy, casual or street wear.

Use of multicolor for spring shoes is best interpreted in casual styles, but two-tone combinations are seen in daytime and dress shoes — blue brushed leather with accents of green smooth leather, geranium pink with pale orange in smooth, lustrous leathers, blued shocking pinks with lilac leather.

Ultra smooth surfaces or softly brushed leathers have great fashion appeal. Textured leathers, very finely grained, are seen in tailored shoes for street or country wear. High in popularity, too, are patent leathers in new fashion colors.

Shape of the shoe continues to be lean and tapered with needle-point toe or with a flattened and gently squared toe. The closed toe and heel pump is most favored, but the pump opens up a bit for spring, with cutout vamps and variations of the T-straps and ties.

The open shoe, such as the closed-toe muleback, wide strap styles that replace the stripping sandal and halter styles, finds a fashionable place at after-five occasions.

SPRING IS the season for brides and Tami Evans looks lovely in this bridal gown from Modern Eve in San Rafael and Novato. A drift of nylon embroidered organza, the ballerina gown is fashioned with a square neckline and sheer scalloped sleeves. The light silk bouvardia veil is attached to a scalloped half hat of tulle with pearl appliqued lace.

Saddle Shoe

The junior set will be back in the saddle shoe, predict shoe manufacturers. The saddles have new lightweight flexible soles in brushed leather which is said to provide insulation for foot comfort. The shoes are more sleek and tapered than previous models.

The all-leather sneaker also will be introduced for spring. It is so soft and flexible that the manufacturers claim you can roll it up in the palm of your hand.

Colors will be bright for both saddles and sneakers. Look for blues, reds, greens, yellows, pale beige, pearl grey and white.

Bridal Gowns Take Freshness, Charm From Fashion Ideas

Gowns for the spring bride combine traditional influences with new ideas for freshness and charm.

High empire waists are marked by bows, bands or sashes, often in contrasting pastel shades. Lace, floral appliques, seed pearl and crystal beadings are also used to emphasize an empire bodice.

Silhouettes range from dome shapes to styles with flat fronts and side fullness. Carriage skirts with bouffant backs and fan skirts with soft waistline pleating are other choices. Many skirts are slightly raised in front, with court trains in back.

Period influences include high-rising Regency backs and trains, Watteau panels and Victorian self-roses and bustle-back effects. Sleeves are usually never longer than elbow length.

Among the favored fabrics are Chantilly lace, taffeta, nylon chiffon and nylon tulle, peau de soie and satin. Sheer fabrics, such as organdy, are often embroidered with allover floral patterns or feature all-over lace appliques.

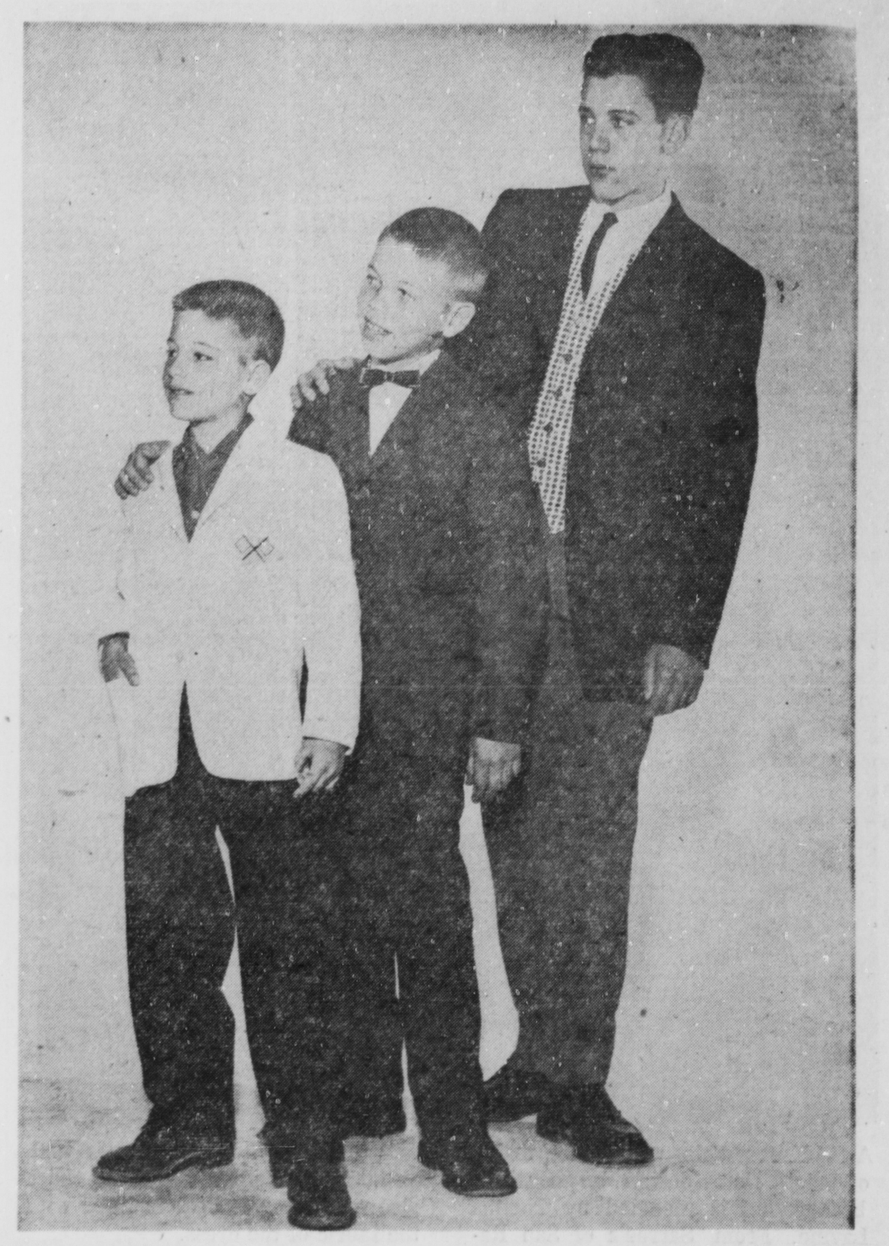
Sunny Themes Seen In Raincoat Styles

Styled for wear in sunshine as well as showers, spring raincoats combine weather protection and '59 fashion themes.

Attractive textures and distinctive colors characterize many raincoats. Corded cotton stripes, cable-stitch cotton knits light wool basketweaves, cotton checks and waffle weaves are among the choices.

Such classic raincoat fabrics as poplin and cavalry twill take a new look in floral or paisley-type prints.

Gently high-waisted effects vie with demi-fitted models and chesterfields for popularity.



HANDSOME TRIO, left to right, Skip Codsini, Barry Stockwell and Frank Smart are all ready for spring festivities in outfits from Jr. Esquire of San Rafael. Skip wears an all wool white flannel blazer detailed with red and blue flags on the breast pocket and navy slacks. Barry is a contrast in red blazer with metal buttons and charcoal gray slacks. Frank completes the picture in navy blazer with metal buttons and a bright foulard vest and gray flannel slacks.

A SILK ensemble with print dress of bright floral design on a white background is modeled by Thelma Lavine. From Sarrae's of San Rafael, the dress has cap sleeves and an empire waistline while the short sleeve full length coat is lined with the fabric of the dress.

High Marks Being Given Spring Coats

The newest looking coats this spring are marked by high lines bright colors and versatile "personalities" that adapt easily to suburban, urban and travel situations.

This three-way wearability is achieved through fabrics that can assume several roles. These include vivid nubby and fluffy-surfaced woolens with interesting textures, mohairs, mesh effects and hopsackings, substantial double-knit jerseys in wool or cotton.

Colors are brilliant. There are golden yellows, flower tones of blue, vibrant pinks to ruby reds, melon shades, leaf and sea greens, lilac tones, bleached and unbleached whites. Navy, black, beige and rose-beige offer popular choices among neutrals.

A hand-woven look is stressed in plaids and a great variety of checks, from small worsted patterns to giant windowpanes They appear in bright or beige with white and in two-color and raised patterns.

For the high-waisted line, the waist may be lifted by belts, sashes, drawstrings or multiple seaming. Gathers, high pockets, flaps, tucks and banding are also used.

A return to demi-fitted and fitted silhouettes is seen in coats with either rounded full skirts or sheath skirts. The waistline is revealed by belts crushed softly at front, by short bodices worked closer to the figure and by all-around belts.

They're Reversible

"Reversible" is an important trend in new coats and jackets. Solid color on one side, print on another is a popular turn-about effect. Other reversibles offer a quick change from color to color and from fabric to fabric.

ALL READY for the Easter parade is Diana Burdisso in her lavender imported organdie and Panama straw hat from Henrietta's Children's Shop in San Rafael. A matching bouffant slip and flattering wide double lace collar make the little miss in perfect style harmony with spring.

Infants' Wear Is Pretty, Practical

Easy-care fabrics with a luxurious look and new views on color unite to produce a spring shower of infants' wear that's exceptionally pretty yet practical.

Colors for baby's wardrobe include pale lavender, sea green, pinks from bright to pale rose and organdy yellows.

For tiny girls, there are "empire" dresses with little bodices and full skirts, in a host of wonder fabrics, blends and easy-care cottons, adorned with laces and embroideries.

Miniature suits and coordinates for infant boys come in such fabrics as cotton knit, cotton cord, corduroy and broadcloth.

Washable woolens for both play and dress up help to make this a more restful season for mother.

THIS FAMILY is smartly outfitted in spring fashions from J. C. Penney Co., of San Rafael and Corte Madera. Mrs. Gerald Johnson, pictured with children Rebecca and Mark, wears a rayon spun linen with polka dot lined duster. Rebecca is wearing a pattern flocked nylon with permanent pleated skirt while Mark has on a four piece, two-slack sport ensemble.

Evening Costumes Show New Drama

Some of the most exciting coat and dress costumes of the spring season are those intended for evening wear.

They take into spring such opulent fabrics as moire or lame, as well as chiffon and other silks. Rich colors, prints and embroideries and much feminine flattery of style make them dramatically beautiful.

A favored silhouette for the dresses combines wide, shapely necklines with fitted bodices and belled, bubble or harem skirts. Lovely alternative is the softly slim long dress.

Companion coats are either wide and sweeping

Bridal Bouquet

Christian Dior adds a fifth "something" to the bride's apparel — pearl-trimmed shoes and stockings. Seed pearl motifs are hand embroidered on the front instep of each stocking and on the vamp of shoes. Called "Bridal Bouquet," the coordinates come in full-fashioned and seamless sandalfoot styles and champagne shades.

Blues, Yellows Fashion Forecast For The Males

Most families like to take their vacation in a car. There's plenty of room for the kids, the dog, all the clothes, the baby's favorite toys — everything can be put in somewhere. You stop when you want, you eat and sleep where you want; you are your own boss. And the family has its fun together.

Whether this year you plan a long drive to the National Parks of the West or to a lake sixty miles from home, you want to take the right clothes with you. If you don't plan a proper wardrobe a lot of the enjoyment of a vacation can be spoiled.

When a man travels, he likes to be comfortable. When driving, he wears a sports shirt, and walk-shorts or slacks — all lightweight, uninhibited in color. When he goes away for a vacation, he takes a suit for evening, a sports jacket and a sweater, just in case. He prefers wool, because it holds up through a trip, always looks neater and fresher, makes him feel comfortable but well-dressed.

Walk-shorts — most popularly worn with knitted wool shirts this summer — come in all the brightest colors and in white and black. New are the lightweight wools with patterns, everything from stripes to plaids to novelty prints. The same is true of slacks — one of the smartest resort outfits this summer will be a pair of plaid worsted slacks worn with a solid-color wool blazer. Husband and wife can find matching "his and hers" walk-shorts and slacks, too, for a "togetherness" ensemble that will keep your friends talking.

The color you will see most this spring and summer is blue — in all shades from deepest navy to light copen blue. It will often be contrasted with white — for example, white slacks with a blue pullover shirt. But the high fashion colors are the yellows — mustard, lemon, bronze, brass — and they will look best, of course, worn with browns.

Low-holers — three or four buttons placed low to create a deep V-opening—are the smartest styling in both wool sweaters and leisure jackets. Many have shawl collars, but the newest syle jacket has no collar — a cardigan effect that is cooler in hot weather, a very sensible design. Knitted wool sweater-shirts are another welcome innovation, worn outside the trousers, very casual and comfortable, again usually in cardigan style.

IN HARMONY with spring blossoms are these "Tree of Life" pumps in geranium pink from The Sandal in Sausalito. The Capezio shoes worn by Mrs. John Terrence Ward are fashioned with a princess heel.

FITTED COATS MAKE SPRING COMEBACK

Coming in strong for the girls' spring are fitted coats. High belts and pockets or bows at mid bodice mark many, while others are gathered, pleated or draped from a raised waistline.

As an alternate to the fitted coat, there are many versions of the chesterfield and classic reefer.

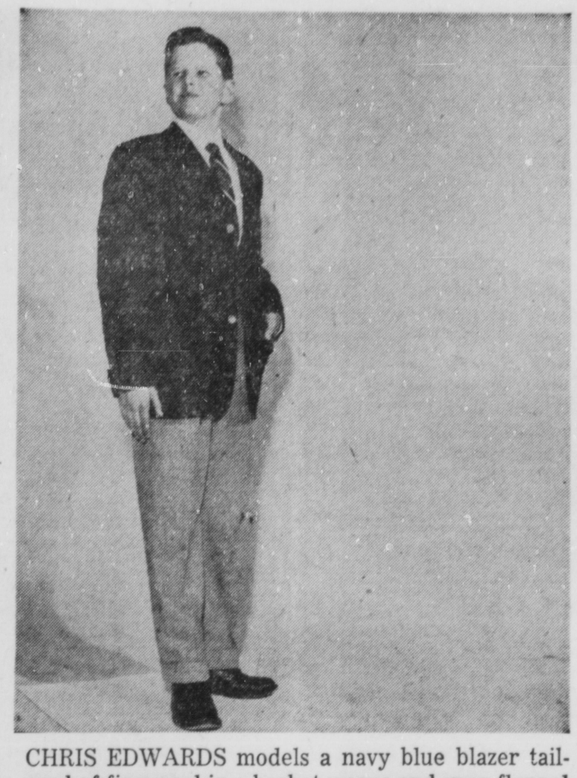
Little girls can choose their coats in a wide range of textured fabrics and bright colors. Looped wools and mohairs appear in such hues as vivid orange or aqua.

Navy, red and gray worsteds and flannels, bold tweeds and plaids and water-repellent cottons are all popular.

Newest looking of all are white coats.

Enter Silk

Silk coats bring black into the spring picture, with silk and worsted mixtures, silk ottoman and douppioni weaves.



CHRIS EDWARDS models a navy blue blazer tailored of fine wool in a basket weave and grey flannel slacks from Kaufman's in San Anselmo. The white Oxford button down shirt by Arrow worn with a pure silk rep tie in conservative stripings featuring tones of blue are compatible companions.

New Fabrics Take On Airy Look

Appropriately for spring, new fabrics take on an airy look, with textures refined, and often crisp. Mohairs are fluffy rather than shaggy, and tweeds and other fabrics show a marked preference for almost-lacy effects.

Looped mohairs and souffle woolens are impressive in open basketweaves, and fishnet mohair makes an entry, looking refreshingly springlike. Other cool and lacy looks are achieved in wool and mohair boucles, hopsackings, and blends of wool with silk, cotton or synthetics.

Some looped mohairs have been pressed flat, making for a novel effect and easier care. Also favored are brushed surfaces, tweeds lightly embellished with mohair loops, and the knit look.

Worsteds express texture interest through ribbed, linen-like or knit-look surfaces, with classic checked and glen-plaid worsteds continuing popular. One of the nicest new ideas in worsted for spring is worsted crepe, liked especially for suits and costumes.

On the crisp side are the refined tweeds, appearing in wool or silk or in blends of wool and silk. There's crispness, too, in new-looking blends of reindeer hair and wool.

Silk — a frequent choice for the all-popular dress and jacket costume — goes along with wool in the demand for texture interest. Rustics, such as tussah, and douppioni are among the leaders.

Both cotton and the man-made fibers show a new talent for emulating wool and silk in many dimensional textures.

For Bridesmaids

Pretty fashion choices for spring bridesmaids are dresses with empire and princess lines, pouffed and back-interest styles and bell-skirted silhouettes.

HARBINGERS OF spring with their new colors of pistachio green, April in Paris red and soft beige, are these Avonette pumps with descending throat line modeled for Netboy's of San Rafael by Mrs. Maurice J. Koch. The pumps are accented with a diagonal band of matching pearlized calf. Matching handbags are also available.

New Styles In Millinery Show The Hair To Better Advantage

Fashion's "lifted look," with its focus on the top of the silhouette, gets support from milliners, who give spring hats more height in the crowns.

Along with this goes more news—and very welcome news for the many women who would like their hats to show greater respect for their hairdos. Spring hats take notice of the coiffure. New silhouettes often show more hair, and where the hair is covered, the hats are designed to protect the coiffure against excessive mussing.

Higher crowns frequently combine with wider brims this spring. The breton has a high-rising brim that goes straight up. Whether the brim is wide or narrow, the classic cloche keeps a tall crown. Toques are step-like or smoothly slanted. Sailors combine high or spread crowns with bumper brims, while pillboxes show new depth.

Wide-brimmed hats, flower-heaped, and head-hugging shapes are noted among the popular spring silhouettes. Still others have an Oriental motif.

Whatever the silhouette, hats show new softness, both in softness, both in shaping and trims. Fabrics are put to good use, from the airy light organdies to the textury checks, and many creators accent the use of fabrics in their designs. Both textured and smooth straws are evident in the millinery fashion world, the latter predominating.

Feathers, satin or grosgrain banding, velvet, chiffon and flowers from tiny to out-size are among the many pretty spring trimmings.

Dresses Follow The High Road To '59 Fashion

Dresses are taking the high road to fashion this spring, "high" meaning anything that is, or looks as if it is, above the normal waistline. While there aren't too many with true empire lines, a wide variety of "lifted looks" and "shortwaisted" looks may be chosen to flatter many different figure types.

One of the favored ways to achieve this look is through dress and jacket costumes, composed of dresses with a closer-to-the-body fit and jackets that stop just below the bustline or just above the waistline.

The trick may also be turned by mock bolero effects, contrast bodices, high-placed bows, inset bands, seaming or buttons. Then there are high-rising contoured belts, sashes, draped scarves and drawstrings all of which contribute to the "lifted look" for dresses.

Alternates to the high-rise effect are offered by many dresses with natural waistlines, some with dropped waistlines, and princess styles. Blousons continue as a popular favorite, with the blousing often starting above the waist. Tunics provide a new and fashionable look for still other dresses.

Neckline interest centers around large collars, usually standing away from the neck and often pleated, fluted or folded. Spring-like lingerie touches of white linen, lace or organdy are favored.

Brief Toppings, Reversibles In Newly Luxurious Little Furs

Rising high in spring fashion's favor, the little jacket achieves some of its loveliest and most luxurious looks in fur. It appears in a variety of lengths—all short, and ranging from bolero-brief to waist length or just below—and in many furs, with mink predominating.

Along with the little jacket, notable fur fashion ideas this season are the long and narrow stole and reversible or convertible furs.

"Handled like cloth" is still the trend where fur is concerned, and fur jackets reflect this, being softly shaped to display spring '59 fashion themes.

In addition to shorter lengths, the jackets take many of the treatments that characterize the "lifted look"—large collars, double-breasted closings, short to bracelet length sleeves, notched collars, wide-away necklines, high-placed belts or belt effects and scarf necklines made to tie in many different ways.

Even classic shapes for the little fur jacket reflect fashion trends in fresh handling of necklines and collars. Flounced capelets, too, express an empire feeling.

COLORFUL AND GAY for spring is this white drip dry brunch coat by "Lazy Togs" fashioned with a tulip print midsection of either coral and pink or blue and fuschia tones. Model Eileen Herdman calls attention to the tie belt. The coat is from Munter's Intimate Apparel, San Rafael.

DASHing flair may be added to this "Palina" wash and wear from Montgomery Ward of San Rafael with either a self belt or polka dot tie sash. Carole Krause models the dress which features a circular skirt and three quarter sleeves accented by white linen cuffs.

Lifted Waistline Effects Seen In Newest Styles Of The Season

Fashion plans for spring revolve around the costume look. Although the general style trend is upward — shorter skirts, lifted-look waistlines, more top interest effects—the emphasis is not so much on silhouette as on the attractive combination of all fashion elements.

Such spring partnerships as the dress plus jacket or coat, the coat with a matching skirt and the suit with a coordinated blouse are present in abundance, ready for wearing. Certainly one or all of these will find their way into most wardrobes, and fashion-conscious women will want to assemble additional costumes, from dresses, coats, suits, jackets and blouses that are purchased separately.

As a focal point of fashion, costumes reveal the outstanding spring trends. Take, for instance, the little jackets, ribcage to waist length, that appear so frequently in dress-jacket combinations. These brief jackets help to carry out the high-waisted look, which is often just a look and not an actuality. Thus, a fitted sheath with natural waistline may rely on its accompanying short jacket to give a high-line effect.

Wide belts, fitted midriffs, brief bodices in contrasting colors and fabrics, and high-placed tabs, bows or belts are other ways that the lifted look is created.

Silhouette Fitted

All point up the fact that, while spring fashions owe inspiration to the empire and Directoire, some flattering changes have been made. Even when the raised waistline is a matter of fit rather than look, the trend is away from the mid-riff fullness of the true empire and toward a more fitted line.

Spring's view of color—plenty of "hot" and pale hues, with strengthening interest in basic navy, beige, black and gray is beautifully illustrated by coat and dress costumes, in such combinations as a pale beige coat over a dress printed in the vividest of pastels. Often the coat is lined to match the dress.

Important coat entries for spring as part of costumes or individually—are the coat with the gathered and tapered or blade-pleated back, the fitted coat, the slim sheath coat and the coat with a softly gathered high waistline.

With much attention being given to top interest, shoulder lines of both coats and suits are often wider, though not padded. More top interest comes from the big, big collar, a major fashion theme.

Adds a Scarf

In contrast, there's the collarless or mandarin neckline, indicative of an Oriental feeling seen in many phases of spring fashion. Top interest isn't neglected here, for the collarless-neckline coat or suit usually comes with a matching, and probably fringed, muffler-like scarf to wrap the neckline.

Because of the emphasis on the costume look, many suits are equipped with their own blouses.

Belts Are Back In Prettier Shape

Belts, sacked last year by the chemise, are back — and in prettier shape than ever.

Gently contoured or straight, the majority of belts meant to be worn at the waist — not empire fashion — are slim. To compliment the "lifted look," belts take on a sash effect in soft, crushed leather to be worn wide and high above the waistline.

For dressy wear belts are simply designed and, most often, ornamentation is merely a pleating or a scalloping of the leather itself.

For casual wear there are all sorts of amusing "hobby" belts made of glove-soft leather and ornamented with sports car insignia, foreign coins, sports symbols and other items.

Others feature double strap effects in matching or contrasting leather, novelty closures, and leather overlays.

Varied Effects

Hats are designed to wear level or tipped back on the head. Some styles have a decided tilt, worn at provocative angles. The Millinery Creators of America, a group of 17 designers, shows wide, floppy brimmed picture hats which give two different effects, depending on the angle. They hide the face when worn straight or frame the face in a youthful manner, dipping to the shoulder in back, when tilted.

Veils are in abundance — swathing evening hats, obscuring the face in a cloud, or falling from brim to neckline in harem fashion.

Lighter Look Seen In Children's New Soft Spring Shoes

Youngsters' shoes for spring are lighter looking, slimmer and more flexible. Toes, though gently tapered, follow the contour of the foot, for fit and comfort.

Ultra-soft leathers, of the type used in baby shoes, are prominently featured, most often in variations of the oxford.

Boys' "soft shoe" styles are simply designed with emphasis on comfort. Equally comfortable, girls' styles are dressed up with bright colors and dainty, decorative touches at the toe or vamp.

Slim little pumps and strap shoes appear in leathers that range from ice-cream colors to bright reds, blues and greens. Pumps are low-cut with "built-in" ornaments at the vamp or delicate cut-outs.

Swivel straps and T-straps are seen in dressy styles and also in bubble and saddle-type shoes. Shown in both smooth and brushed leathers, the square-toed shoe is seen in slip-on, oxford and moccasin styles.

Moccasin styling, generally, is favored, with new variations in close seams, flat seams and finely stitched patterns.

New Shop

In milliner Don Marshall's office, they'll be calling it a "chapeau" instead of a hat. Marshall has opened a new shop in Paris in the house of couturier Serge Matta. The milliner, who designed Grace Kelley's controversial "honeymoon hat," specializes in veil-hats which cover the hair lightly without mussing it. His other offices are in New York and Beverly Hills, Calif.

Cutaway Liked

A modified cutaway line — high in front, dipping slightly lower in back—is liked for easy suits. Wide belts for dresses and suits follow the same line.

IN STYLE FOR square dances this spring are Wilieta Moore of Moore's Square Dance Shop in Novato who wears one of her cool looking new summer dresses of white gorgette trimmed in black lace with horsehair petticoats and pantalettes. Irv Links of Irv Link's Novato Men and Boys' Store wears black frontier trousers with autographed drip dry western shirt and removable studs. Wilieta is a member of the Novato Fiddle Footers and Marin Crickets while Irv is a member of the Charm 'N Farmers.

Hues, Styles Reflect Gay Young Ideas

Juniors and teens can choose from all the things that fashion favors this spring — among them, checks, vivid colors and new-looking neutrals, textured fabrics, lifted-look silhouettes, costumes, reversible coats.

In addition, young and young-figured shoppers will find that the new fashions designed for them are marked by a special flair for adapting to their busy lives.

Both the slim dress with closer fit and the full-skirted dress get extra attention from junior and teen designers. And there's also a generous helping of shirtwaist, blouson, princess and harem-skirt styles.

Youthful gayety is reflected in bright colors, vivid patternings and a world of exciting accents. Green, red, vibrant pinks, yellows and blues show up as solids or, prominently, in checks. Bold plaids and vibrant stripes are liked, as are paisleys, polka dot and prints in blue-green colorings.

For contrast, there are browns, and beiges, followed by navy, gray and black. Classic prints, in black or navy and white, come in for spring attention.

Resort Cottons

The high-waisted look is tops in resort cottons. Waists range from a small elevation of about two inches to an extreme Empire line. The Oriental look also is strong. Designer Greta Plattry shows a beach ensemble with a polished cotton swimsuit in butterfly print, wide obi sash worn slightly above the waist, and a mandarin-coolie coat in solid color.

Another ensemble by Cabana teams a dressmaker beach-dress coat over a flowered Empire swimsuit. A Directoire slit tunic goes over a suiit by Brigance.

A BRIGHT, open shoe with a bonbon look that satisfies a yen for fashion's spirited prints in Fiancees' "Prissy" featured at Chapman's Shoes in San Rafael and Novato. A cool, pale sandal in the softest black patent, just made for short billowing skirts, gay hours.

Bridal Colors

Subtle color treatments are an intriguing feature of spring bridal gowns. They included elicate pink or blue midriffs with looped obi back bows, colored embroideries and white lace or organdy over a pastel foundation. Sometimes the entire gown is in ivory, blush pink or ice blue, as an alternative to the traditional white.

Walking Suits Vary Fabrics For Season

Walking suits move into spring, continuing the fashion interest they attracted during the fall and winter season. Now they appear in a choce of coating-weight wools — often with fur collars — for early spring wear and lighter weight fabrics such as dress worsteds for late spring. Favored silhouette of these topper-and-skirt combinations is slim, with a fitted, easy or tapered-oval jacket.

FLORAL ACCENTS

Fresh And Pretty Is Lingerie Theme

Interesting colors and prints and feminine trims help to make lingerie look very fresh and pretty this spring.

Flowers "bloom" everywhere Floral accents are embroidered on pastel slips, peignoirs and sleepwear, while flowery prints team with harmonizing solid colors for a new look in sleep sets.

These prints are characterized by a delicate air, inspired by Oriental watercolors or English gardens.

Other prints are bright and bold, sometimes with an opalescent effect. They include overblown blossoms, space prints over pigment white stripes and scattered fruits in flat black outlined technique. All are effective designs for dusters, on glazed or plain percales or cotton satins.

Embossed cottons and flocked and printed nylon sheers for robes make use of such new ideas as allover lace effects and patterns that suggest Swiss applique.

Texture Is News In Tinted Hosiery

Growing interest in new textures joins the continued trend to color, to create fashion news in stockings for spring.

Shades range from pale bisque tones and pastel mists to dark off-blacks. Stockings may have only a whisper of a tint or come in such hues as deep, rich blue or bright pink.

There are colors to complement just about every fashion shade, including greens, lilacs, golds, apricots, grays and beiges. Some are treated so as to give a fragile glow to the leg.

Textured sheers with a look of lace are sometimes reminiscent of the early Thirties.

Among other textured stockings are those with a very fine rib effect, shadowy check and tweed patterns in such two-tone combinations as beige-brown and gray-white, and honeycomb weaves. Many come in seamless styles.

It's not always necessary to match hose to costume colors. More striking effects may be achieved by wearing dark stockings with white, pale stockings with bright colors and adventurous shades with prints.

Enter Horsehair

Enter horsehair of another color. Underslips for little girls now come made in nylon horsehair with patterns. The fabric also comes in petticoats and slips for toddlers. It is guaranteed to stay permanently stiff for the life of the outer garment.

FABRICS SHEER

Curve-Conscious Silhouettes Foundations Shaped To Aid

For a curve-conscious spring, foundation garments form a pretty alliance with fashion, underlining shapely, feminine day and evening clothes.

Colors for the new foundations are lush pastels, along with white and black, and fabrics are sheer, though controlling.

For spring's modified empire styles — which are better described as short-waisted than high-waisted — there are brassieres with gently curving cups, and bands that stretch downward, sometimes passing the waistline.

Cropped jackets, shaped close to the body, likewise focus attention on the bustline, and offer another argument for the youthfully uplifting brassier which underplays rather than accentuates the bosom.

For the slim, easy-fitting sheath, there are new corselets, most of them all-elastic and virtually weightless. Down-stretch paneling front and back flattens where most figures need flattening.

In both brassieres and corselets, particular attention is paid to styles for the A-cup and the D-cup figure. And the young teen-ager will find greater variety this season in all types of foundations.

For the dress with naturally placed waistline and pleated or swirling skirt, the cinch is making a comeback.

Not so "belittling" as the cinch of the multi-petticoat era, but nevertheless intent upon tapering, are these types of waist control: the hip-length brassiere, usually called a bralette; the high-rise girdle or panty girdle, and the narrow band with waist-whittling its sole purpose.

Hip control is concentrated in the side panels of girdles and panty girdles alike, with additional paneling front and back to trim the figure from the waist down.

Long-legged pantie-girdles are available in junior, average and full-figure versions to trim the thighs for spring sheaths.

Late-day and evening fashions have prompted a wonderful collection of strapless and low-cut foundations. Both brassieres and corselets plunge front and back to accommodate either the short strapless dress with billowing skirt or the long, wand-like sheath with deep decolletage thinly veiled by chiffon.

IN THE HEIGHT of fashion is Gladys Sanquinetti in this feminine dressmaker suit of pearl gray chiffon flannel by Moordale. The ensemble which is featured at Modern Eve in San Rafael and Novato is fashioned with the wider lapels and natural waistline. A black straw sailor sets off the suit.

NAVY AND WHITE, so good this spring fashion-wise, is shown in this navy rayon crepe sheath from Maryon Taylor, Inc. in Ross. The sheath, modeled by Mrs. John Parsons, is completely lined and the linen collar may be removed.

PERFECT FOR the spring and summer cocktail party is this "After Five" dress from Fio-Rita's in Sausalito modeled by Mrs. Leonard S. M. Beckett. The pure silk navy check has elbow length sleeves and jewel scoop neckline with blue ribbon accents.

Little Girls Go For All-American Look

Color coordination is especially important in girls' sportswear. The red, white and blue "American" look is favored, along with sun colors, deep pinks and aquas.

Although color and textured fabrics—such as hopsackings, twills and spring corduroys — take precedence over silhouettes when it comes to young sportswear fashion news, there are new style approaches, too.

Ponchos and bloused tops, for instance, team up with pants or skirts, creating a fresh look and vying with overblouses and tuck-ins for popularity. Just-below-the-knee slim pants and no-bag knickers join Jamaica and Bermuda shorts in a bid for spring attention.

Women In White

The women in white now can wear mix-n-match uniforms. Skirts fasten to blouses by means of the new nylon adhesive closure (Velcro). Thus blouses cannot pull out, giving a messy appearance. The uniform separates come in white slub-textured Dacron. Skirts are wrap-around style, with a single patch pocket. Blouses have deep V-seaming in front and cuffed cap sleeves.

Orlon Separates

The Paris couturier, Hubert de Givenchy, has designed a line of separates in Orlon. The collection includes combinations of knits — long-haired yarns with fabrics. Waistlines are small, and definitely marked Skirts bell gently. Colors are bold, teamed with black or muted shades. For evening, Givenchy showed a full shaggy, knitted skirt worn with a scooped-necked pullover in flat knit. Bulky pullovers with enormous collars are shown with at-home pants in loopy fabric of Orlon, wool and mohair.

Prints Popular

Prints on silks, cottons and blends are much in demand. They have a modern art look of shock color contrasts in such combinations as orange and yellow, hot pink and red, blue and aqua, in abstract florals or paisley effects.

Ladies Color Stockings Are Up In Sales

By PATRICIA McCORMACK

NEW YORK (UPI) — Ladies color stockings are going up.

"Up in production and up in sales," said William F. Williamson, head of the National Assn. of Hosiery Manufacturers.

"More than 400 bright 'tints' color one pair of every four going to market this spring. One major maker has colored 50 per cent of his line."

American women, according to Williamson, buy better than 700 million pairs of sheers in a year. The "average" Miss or Mrs., he said, buys about a pair a month. Career girls excepted. They wear out 20 or more pairs a year, the NAHM spokesman said.

Statistically, it's estimated that the average woman will buy colored hose three times during 1959:

A sprinkling of color was tried four years ago, but the idea didn't catch on full-blast until recently, according to Williamson.

The snag, he recalled, stemmed from the fact that most ladies looked down on sheers of red, green, violet, orange, blue, yellow.

"Motivation experts told us colored stockings had a quite offensive reputation in most women's minds. To break down that notion, we've been saying that the stockings have just a hint of a colorful tint."

Celebrities turning to colored sheers during the past year also helped to crumble the resistance, Williamson said.

IDEAL FOR Marin County is this three-season suit worn by Aaron Schwartz of Schwartz Bros. in San Rafael. The three button continental suit is of a silk and wool in shadow plaid.

CASUAL TURNABOUT look for spring is modeled by Beverly Schwartz from Ella Joseph, Casuals, San Rafael. Pockets in the back are featured in the new Schooner blue sweater with matching flannel skirt.

Range Of Masculine Sportswear As Bracing As A Spring Tonic

As bracing as a spring tonic is the 1959 range of masculine sportswear. In addition to colorful good looks, these garments for fun and leisure also boast new construction features for greater comfort and ease. And greater use of "science" fibers in the fabrics makes for easier care, says the American Institute of Men's and Boys' Wear.

A quick run-down of what's new for and in tune with 1959 starts with sports jackets, fashioned in lighter-than-ever wool fabrics, wash-wear cottons, man-made fabrics, or blends of any or all of these. All are designed for that basic consideration: To keep cool in the hottest weather, and to look smart and crisp at all times.

As for the good looks, the jackets range all the way from the traditional blazers in solid colors, to bold checks and king-sized plaids. The muted tones of India madras are also in favor.

Fans of wool will find lightweight hopsaking weaves attractive, while other men will prefer the sleekness and sophistication of silk coats. Flannel blazers never go out of style, and this year will be found in solid colors, stripes, and again solids with contrasting piping.

The same variety and appeal are to be found in the range of sports slacks, with Ivy models heading the list for many. Some of these feature pack-flap pockets, English-inspired self-supporting beltless slacks, and the new-as-tomorrow "Continentals" which are distinguished by their single-pleat cut, slim lines, polo pockets and side tabs, among other features.

The growing demand for wash-wear slacks brings about a greater variety of them than ever. There are even wash-wear, featherlight flannel slacks this year, ready to wear after laundering and drip-drying. Other models include slacks with that now-familiar iridescent sheen effect and a great variety of patterned types that go with solid colored blazers.

It's a safe prediction that more men will turn out in walking shorts this year than ever, with Bermuda lengths or slightly longer versions getting the preference.

Sweaters continue to enjoy their great revival, with cardigans among the standouts. These feature button-up fronts among other styles, and are woven in lightweight wools, "science" yarns and cottons — or blends.

Widely Collared

Wide collars, some shoulder-spanning, have strong fashion significance this season.

Bigger The Better Is Word For Hats

PARIS (AP) — The bigger the better is the word for new Paris hats.

Brims of all shapes and sizes are the dominant note in all collections, in both tailored and frilly versions.

Paris milliners say there's a hat for every woman's taste in the new lineup. The tailored girl may take her pick of trim, mannish sailors and derbies, preferred in shiny straws and often worn with big-mesh veils drawn snugly over the face. Great swaths of fine tulle veiling also are much in evidence, either softening the severity of tailored hats or adding drama to evening confections.

The big, dramatic black hat for restaurant dining also stages a comeback this spring. A striking example is a huge crownless cartwheel made of shirred black tulle, sparked by a huge jeweled ornament front and center. This is designed by Paulette.

In addition to brimmed hats, there are plenty of deep cloches and bulky pillboxes, but even these take on added height and width.

New Sports Coats Weigh About Pound

In the summer the family spends as much time out-of-doors as it can. If a man is in his own backyard, a pair of shorts and a shirt are all he needs to wear, but when the barbecue is at one's neighbor's, or the family decides to have dinner in the country or go to an air-conditioned movie, the first thing a man reaches for is his wool sports coat. He'll wear a tie if he has to, but his sports coat is a must.

Men are practical (in spite of what their wives may think!). They want comfort above all. And sports coats for summer are so lightweight and comfortable, they hardly feel any heavier on one's shoulders than a shirt. The smartest patterns are found in all-wool jackets that weigh only about one-pound!

THE BLAZER

The wool blazer is going to be even more popular this summer than last. In navy it looks fine with white slacks or the new check and plaid slacks you see this season. But there are also striped blazers, and white and red blazers, and double-breasted blazers — all with the fancy metal buttons.

There will be many new styles in lightweight wool sports coats this year. The once popular Norfolk has returned, both in the traditional model and one with a yoke front, vertical center panels, and no belt. There are hacking jacket models — with slanted pockets, a ticket pocket and side vents — usually in bold checks and plaids. The new Italian Continental silhouette can be found in featherweight wool sports jackets, too — a shorter coat with two buttons and a cutaway front. Many jackets show novel pocket treatments — like curved V-shaped button flaps.

The patterns are bolder than last season—wide panel stripes, oversize plaids, madras type plaids in wool, and even wool challis and paisley patterns. And colors are brighter — mustards, reds, and multiple-color plaids and checks. The sports jackets are bold and cheerful, in tune with the summer sun and the fun of vacation and outdoor living this July and August.

CARDIGAN JACKET

Becoming more popular for warm weather are cardigan-jackets, with no lapels — extra light, very comfortable, and sensible for hot July days. You will find cardigan wool blazers in one button styling in all colors. Favorite fabrics are the cool open basket weaves and wool hopsackings.

Sports clothes take a lot of punishment in the summertime —it is wool that keeps its shape wears best, and keeps you comfortable both in the hottest sun and the cooler evenings. And only wool has that noble look of a real gentleman's sports coat.

For all but the dressiest occasions, in summer a lightweight wool sports coat is a man's best wardrobe friend.

BLACK AND WHITE so stylish this season is worn by Mrs. Lois Nacch from the Marin Smart Shop, San Rafael. The black pique sheath is fully lined and features a companion black and white jacket. A white Milan straw bag and hat set off the ensemble.

Sheath Styles Lead For Maternity Garb

High-waisted sheath styling predominates in maternity fashion this spring, giving fabric interest and color first importance. Textured fabrics appear by day, while chiffon and printed silks and wool challis are liked for dressier outfits.

Checks and solids are often combined, sometimes in such off-beat combinations as orange and lavender. Other interesting color combinations, appearing in prints and plaids, include orange and turquoise and burgundy, black and navy. Neutral basics may be alternated with brilliant reds, hot pinks, willow greens, coral and gold.

High waistlines appear in the form of drawstring ties, front or central panel ties and bands, bolero effects and fringed ties or bows. Mix and match separates, tunic tops and blouson silhouettes are all popular.

Today's Jet Age In Travel Calls For Worsted Suit

Five and one-half hours actual flying time between New York and Los Angeles on the new jets, and chances are the wool suit you have on at departure time from New York's Idlewild International will see you through important business appointments in Los Angeles that very same day. With distances between cities growing shorter, it's most important for executives to wear the newest styles in fine woolworsted suits, in up-to-date wool clothes that are right at home wherever business takes you.

THREE MODELS

Here's what the top styles in men's medium-weight worsted suits will be this spring '59 . . . the Italian Continental, the American Ambassador, and the Natural Shoulder.

Newest entry is the Italian Continental. It originated in Rome only last fall among style-conscious businessmen. The true Italian influence is seen first in the length of the two-button worsted jacket; it's much shorted than other models, more cutaway, and has side vents. You'll notice, too, the definite shape to the silhouette. Pockets are angled, flapless. Lapels come semi-peaked. And trousers, which are beltless and held up with side adjustments, are tapered, pleatless. We predict you'll wear them cuffless.

BLUE IS NEW

You'll see the new Italian Continental in trans-season wool-worsteds comfortably thin for spring's warm days and cool nights. If you're a travelin' man, you'll appreciate the way they hold a press. You'll admire the new smooth iridescent jacquard weaves in all shades of blue, the small checks in gray, and brown ombre stripes . . . shades and patterns which make the Italian Continental a handsome suit to own—and to wear.

The American Ambassador, which made a favorable impression a few seasons back, continues to grow in popularity with mature businessmen throughout the country. The three-button American Ambassador in worsted emphasizes squarer shoulders, an indented jacket, flapped pockets, and slim trousers with single pleats. Trousers are worn cuffed. Easterners favor medium to dark shades. On the Pacific Coast, light to medium shades are more popular. Midwesterners and southerners go for these tones, too.

The suit that did most to bring men's fashions to the fore is the Natural Shoulder which many call an "Ivy" suit because it was first worn by Ivy school graduates. Of the three, it's the most conservative in styling. This spring, commuting suburbanites will want to wear-the Natural shoulder in wool hopsacking that looks right in town and country.

Costume Ideas

Pretty version of the costume suit has a print blouse with the new wider collar, which also serves as the collar of the suit. Other suits are ready for day or evening roles, with decollete satin overblouses.

On The Beach

On the beach—conversation-piece hats. The bonnets are startling in color and design, yet practical in warding off sun. One model has a face hand-painted on the crown. Long wool pigtails tie under the wearer's chin. Another hat is named "Flower Drum Song" and is a wide-brimmed sunshade of straw that towers into a peak. Sprays of flowers trail down the sides. "Jungle Rot" is the name of another hat, which has a high crown, feathered jungle foliage and a crocodile creeping through at the sides.

Men's Suits Are Showing New Colors, Weight And Styling

Why is it a man will wear red slacks, a yellow shirt, and a bold patterned sports coat on the weekend, but on Monday he wears a dark gray suit, a white shirt, and a subdued tie to the office, and would think it outrageous to wear anything "louder"? Sometimes it seems men's suit styles and colors are unalterably drab-looking.

But this summer there is real news in men's suits! In color, in styling, and in weight.

For too many years now men have been wearing dark colors all year round. This summer, suit colors are going lighter—and after wearing black and dark grays and charcoal browns in the cold months, a man will be able to join in some of nature's springtime gaiety by putting on a light gray or blue suit, or a tan one. And it's about time!

Men's summer suits are now being made in such fabulously lightweight tropical worsteds—5½ to 6 ounces to the yard—that a man can really look forward to comfort on even the hottest days. Wrinkle-resistant worsted feather-weight suits are the perfect choice for July days because the more open weave construction of wool means it can best take the transition to air-cooled offices. And nothing tailors like wool—even these almost see-through weights. Or keeps its press and fresh looks, even on the most humid days.

Continental Look

The new look in suits is the Continental silhouette. Inspired by Italian suit design, this model means a shorter jacket with a coat front that is cutaway and rounded, with some waise suppression, and slanted pockets. Most Continental models will have two buttons rather than three and peak lapels rather than the notch lapels we have been accustomed to the past few years. The more high fashion models will have cuffed sleeves, no cuffs on the trousers, and no chest pocket. The shorter jacket makes a short man look leggier, taller, yet it looks good on a tall, thin man, too. The man with a paunch, however, had best try a modified version, because of the cutaway front.

The most popular suit model this spring and summer will be the American Ambassador model. Inspired by California designers, this suit coat will have a squarer shoulder with a forward pitch to the sleeve—which is a flattering silhouette to the man of mature proportions. The three buttons will be placed fairly close together below a long rolling lapel with a small notch.

The college man and the young executive will continue to champion the Natural Shoulder model, or so-called "Ivy League" look—with no padding in the shoulders, straight-hanging lines, and three buttons . . . a trim look flattering to today's weight-conscious male.

COLOR, CONTOUR BUY-WORDS IN TEENAGER'S SPRING SHOES

Color and contour are the buy-words for the teen-age miss shopping for new spring shoes.

Geranium pink, coral orange, turquoise, leaf green, bright blue—these are just a few of the colors seen in smooth leather and suede teen shoes that are contoured on sophisticated, tapered lines.

Needle-point toes hit peak popularity in shoes on all heel heights, from flat to the most-favored mid-heel. Starting with flats, the low-riding vamp tie is one of the top treatments in teen shoes.

Variations include the pointy-toed flat in bright-hued brushed leather with vamp tie of shiny patent or matching smooth leather, brushed leather with an instep tie in smooth leather, and the two-eyelet tie in smooth leather with brushed leather mudguard.

The T-strap shoe appears in a new version with the strap extending up from a cut-out vamp. Other variations are the short T-strap that stops just a little above the instep and the split T-strap that reaches up high on the instep.

The T's in many cases are of a contrasting leather.

Novelty ties add a new open look to ghillies. The hook-and-eye fastening popular last season is rivaled this spring by brass eyelets, sometimes in novelty shapes, and the ghillies are brighter, in new colors, and lighter, with slim, flexible leather soles.

Mid-heels, which get the big green light from fashion, are the top teen choice for day and dress wear. These heels are seen on silky-soft suede pumps for evening wear and on smooth or brushed leathers for daytime.

SHARON CORDONE, a student at Marin Catholic High School, welcomes spring in this cotton and silk polka dot dress from Royce's Department Store in San Rafael. The empire band is gathered into a tailored buckled bow in front and the dress also features a very full skirt, linen bateau collar and extended cap sleeve.

Girls' Spring Finds Waists Back Again

Little girls have their normal waistlines back this spring! The high-rise look, important in adult styles, is more a matter of trim than fit for children.

Popular young spring dresses have bouffant skirts, big collars and all manner of cummerbunds, obis and wide sashes.

Party dresses have never been more elegant. Flower-sized embroideries mark midriffs or climb on skirts. Row upon row of lace trims skirts. Ruching, fluting and tucking decorate bodices.

There are also many two-part dresses. These include pleated-skirt dresses with overblouses or cardigans, short waisted dresses with short jackets, jumper and blouse combinations and dress and coat or smock ensembles.

For very little girls, there are empire fashions with skirts pleated, flared or gathered smock-style from a high yoke.

However, most high-rise looks are built from a natural waistline, with raised-waistline markings on princess dresses, short jackets and false boleros, string laces nipping in the midriff and bows and bands placed at mid-bodice.

Favored fabrics include wash-and-wear prints, taffetas, organdies and silky cottons for dressy wear, cotton knits and linen-look rayons. Pastels are deep, and white skirts underline navy, red or bold print jackets.

Boys' Clothes Have Well-Tailored Air

For little boys, spring heralds the arrival of young suits and coordinates with a custom-tailored look. The toddler crowd's Eton suits often take to double-breasted styling, while such highlights as cording across jacket yokes or suspenders edged in contrasting colors add interest to other outfits.

New clothes for boys in the 10 to 12 age group, especially, interpret the well-dressed look in terms of the same styling Dad likes. Jackets, whether two-, three- or four-button models, are trim and slender, and so are trousers.

Checks and stripes are sports jacket favorites. Red continues popular, and white contrasted with black, brown or navy looks new and fresh.

Reversibles

Reversible skirts, jackets and loose pullover tops continue a popular fall trend into spring.

MRS. JOHN McInnis of San Rafael is wearing a navy blue silk soft skirted spring dress fashioned with boat neck and large white pique collar. The white straw breton with red velvet and red rose accent the ensemble. Black patent accessories and white gloves complete the fashion picture from the R and M Shop of San Rafael.

Scarf Wardrobe

Build up a scarf wardrobe for the wide,open necklines of clothes. Choose from a variety of houndstooth checks, gay prints, polka dots, mini-checks, and solids. A scarf may be tucked into a hat band and worn with a matching scarf in a suit neckline. Or drape a soft scarf into a mushroom collar for low-necked dresses. You also can drape a scarf just beneath the bosom for ahigh-waisted effect or float it from a high crowned hat.

Look Feminine

Very new and feminine looking are costumes with all-around pleated skirts and little jackets with big bow trims.

Sparkling Colors Share

Color, and lots of it, gives sparkle to the spring fashion picture. Varied and vibrant are the hues—pinks, reds, yellows, greens, blues, purples, in fact, most shades of the spectrum.

While the fashion importance of color was never greater, it's paradoxical, but true, that neutrals are enjoying increased popularity.

Navy, beige, gray and black win renewed interest for two reasons. In the midst of the riot of colors, the neutrals look ultra-fashionable, almost startling. And, they provide just what is needed to set off the vivid hues to great advantage.

Beiges often take on more than a hint of yellow and evolve into warm tones of honey and apricot This blending of hues occurs frequently throughout spring fashion, as pinks are influenced by mauve and blue, greens mingle with yellow and yellows and blues with green

Checks, flower garden and paisley prints, glen plaids and giant plaids, dots—from polka to coin in size — and stripes represent the most-seen spring patternings.

Belts Gain

Gaining fashion ground are belts for suits and dresses as well as sportswear. They range from narrow, for fitted styles, to wide, and sometimes crushed belts to wear above full skirts or as optional equipment for demi-fitted styles.

Healthy Trend Sweeps America; High Schoolers Are Dressing Up

The day when the junior-high and high school boy thought the only way to dress was as sloppily as possible—in blue jeans and a leather jacket—is gone. To look like that today is "square." Today the young man wants to look like older brother at college. Nor can Mother take him to the store and buy his clothes for him. He knows exactly what he wants — the "Ivy League" look.

And it has to be authentic. He is aware not only of natural shoulders and no pleats in his trousers, but he wants, too, to have the traditional lap seams, hook vent in back, and flap back pockets on his trousers. There are young men's clothes in the new Continental silhouette, but until it becomes more popular on college campuses, the high school boy will insist on the traditional "Ivy League" mode in both his dress and sports clothes. We have to admit he looks mighty good dressed up his way!

His favorite Sunday suit right now may well be made out of all-wool hopsacking, a loose weave with a smart look, that, sure enough, is also being worn by brother at college. There are wool hopsackings for spring that weigh only 6½ to 7 ounces to the yard — they are really feather-weight. And you'd better pack that suit, too, when you go on vacation this summer. When you visit Disneyland and come into Los Angeles for dinner on La Cienega boulevard, he'll want to look just as dressed up as Dad.

In his sports coats, too, he wants to emulate the university look. He likes a navy wool blazer, perhaps with an emblem on the chest pocket. Wool hopsacking is also a favorite in sports coats — and there are hopsacking blazers in black, red, white, and olive, as well as navy. The plaid sports coat is also currently popular, rapidly replacing stripes as a favorite pattern and the new combination colors are burgundy with black and olive with black.

Another neat touch that has become popular are fancy linings in those hopsacking suits and navy blazers. These vary from paisley designs to rich stripes to solid bright reds, but they are all colorful and in good taste.

He chooses his sweater in the same way—in imitation of a campus favorite, the shetland. There are shaggy shetland sweaters that are very light in weight for spring, and they come in both the solid colors and in new, very wide horizontal stripes of two contrasting shades.

Mother will be pleased to know that cuffless trousers are getting to be the accepted mode among the grade and high school crowd. Cuffs are only dirt catchers anyway, and if the boys decide they like their pants slim and tapered and that leaving off cuffs heightens the trim look of "Ivy," so much the better.

THIS TRIM MISS didn't actually step from Vogue's dry cleaner . . . but her smart cotton dress featuring the new wide collar and back-to-normal waistline illustrates the tissue-crisp freshness obtained through a new cleaning process for cottons as developed by Sanitone. The Cotton Clinic treating with style-set finish retains every detail of styling and fit plus prolonged new-look appearance of fine cottons. All this Miss needed was to add the jaunty straw hat and bag to her outfit and you could never guess that she had stepped from the dry cleaner instead of the show room. 2-Piece Bathing Suit To Be Back In Style

Come summer, the two-piece bathing suit will be back in fashion.

It's a compromise between the daring bandana bikinis — prohibited on most public beaches—and the conservative two-piecer of mamma's heyday.

The news came from a show of a designer's (Cole of California) 60 new models, ranging from $12 to $200.

"A whole new generation never has seen a two-piece bathing suit," said Anne Cole, vice president of the swim wear firm. "Because today's diets stress slim figures, these young things have narrow waists that make two-piece suits attractive."

A close-up view of a zebra-striped model, filled out by a petite brunette, gets Miss Cole's idea across with whistles.

For the curvy youths are vividly-colored beach wraps of sheer gorgette, as glamorous as a negligee in the moonlight.

New beach designs also offer a wide selection of one-piece suits for women to whom the two-piecers are only a memory — or should be. Included are clinging knitted leotards with cap sleeves and suits with wrap-around skirts.

The suits contain all the gimmicks developed since fig leaves went out of style to pinch in a bulge here, restore a curve there, and otherwise cloud the vision of a critical male.

Cottons are making a comeback this year. The natural fiber holds colors of new suits, ranging from soft pastels of blues and lavenders to vivid hues, all in the same garment.

Mohair Items

Mohair shows from the skinside out these days. Important were the big, colorful mohair coats and mohair-blend sweaters. Now Paris is turning out mohair sportswear and lounging items.

One style is a white, loosely-knit mohair combination negligee and tea gown with pink satin drawstrings and bows. The shawl collar stands away from the neck, the waistline is raised, sleeves are three-quarter length, and buttons open down the front.

Jacques Heim shows an after-ski outfit of ameythest velveteen knee-length tights with high, boned corselet top. A pale yellow mohair dress slips over the ensemble. He suggests ribbed knitted wool stockings, worn with velveteen flats to complete the costume.

Heart Items

Have a heart, ladies. The stores are full of them, says the Fashion Coordination Institute, which keeps tabs on style trends. The hearts range from miniatures on delicate gold chains to large "life-sized" types used as pendants, pins, and charms. Semi-precious and precious stones decorate some.

Favor Fit

Closer to the body is the fitting trend of spring fashions, but the "poured-in" look is avoided.

For Top Interest

Short sleeves for suits and coats, wider sleeves and softly shaped yokes are among fashion's new ways of achieving top interest for silhouettes.

Sports Clothes Make A Hit For Weekends In The Suburbs

Here's information on what's new in sports wear this spring and summer. We've carefully checked the stores, bearing in mind easy-to-wear and easy-to-care-for spring wool clothes. Leading sportsmen, too, were quizzed. Now we're passing on to you what the experts have told us.

Whether you're interested in golf, skeet-shooting, tennis, or just relaxin' in the sun, the new warm-weather fashions are styled right for around the clock.

Basic to a golfer's wardrobe are cool wool slacks in neat black and white hound's tooth checks and bold plaids. They're a welcome change from gray flannel. The new wool tropicals are practically tissue thin, yet the sturdy wool fiber holds its shape. The weaves are porous enough to allow for circulation of air to keep you cool and comfortable on the green. For sportsmen new to the game, golf slacks are fuller at the knee, come with extension waistbands whih don't cut into the waist the way a belt may. Ask any golf pro at any club and he'll tell you to look for slacks with extra-deep pockets with places for holding tees, and even a loop for your towel.

That golfing shirt should be in a porous knit that will "give" as you swing the club. Knitted wool shirts not only do this, but also "spring" back into shape. They absorb perspiration, keep you dry and comfortable as only a natural fiber can, and their dyes don't run. Wear blue this spring because it's the big color and the coolest-looking.

Whatever the sport, a light-on-the-houlder hip jacket helps prevent chills afterward. The new short jackets come in neat brown and white checks, oyster white wool gabardines. And they're water-repellent, some Syl-mer treated—to protect you during a sudden spring shower.

The yachtsman, in particular, should bear in mind the double-breasted wool flannel blazer in navy. What to look for? Deep side vents, slanted flapped pockets and a semi-peaked lapel. Whether your craft is docked on the Great Lakes, on Long Island Sound, or near the Golden Gate, you'll earn the accolades of your crew if you contrast the navy blazer with a hound's tooth check or muted plaid wool flannel slacks.

GLOVES SHOW ELEGANT AIRS, VARIED TRIMS

Gloves have an especially elegant look this spring. Trimming techniques are many and varied and always subtle. Typical are all-over pin tucks, appliques and discreet beading.

Embroideries have a handmade, delicate air. They appear in both vivid colors and such soft shades as pale green, blue and yellow. Some are empire-inspired designs of fruits or flowers.

Eyelets and perforations serve as decorations and also offer coolness.

Leather trims are popular, too, and leather is often combined with fabric. Patterned sheer nylon teamed with French kid looks new, feels light and comfortable, while washable leather and stretch yarns are another favorite combination.

North Marin Will Vote On Hospital Secession

Decision Made At Hearing

The proposed secession of North Marin from the Marin County Hospital District will be placed before the area's voters at an election probably to be held May 26.

After a public hearing in Novato last night, directors of the hospital district refused to allow the area to withdraw—which they could have done by vote last night—and took the only other alternative open: Called for an election.

Harold Riede, attorney for the hospital district, was instructed to prepare a resolution calling the election and present it to the board at its regular meeting at 8 a.m. next Thursday.

MAY 26 DATE

Riede said the law requires at least 60 days after adoption of the resolution before the election can be held. He added that the district wants to hold the election as soon as possible, and said he will set the May 26 date in the resolution he prepares, subject to approval of the hospital board.

A simple majority of votes would be sufficient to withdraw the Novato area from the district, he said.

Boundaries of the area proposed to be withdrawn are exactly the same as those of the Novato Fire District. The area includes Hamilton Air Force Base.

43 AT HEARING

Last night's public hearing, although it drew several sharp exchanges between speakers, was neither acrimonious nor heavily attended. Only 43 residents of the Novato area attended, several of them doctors who are actively supporting the secession move.

Khrushchev Accepts West's Bid To Big Four Session

MOSCOW (UPI) — Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev today accepted the West's invitation to a foreign ministers conference on Germany May 11. But he urged full scale talks by all World War II allies to write a final peace treaty with Germany.

Khrushchev made it known at an unusual Kremlin press conference that the Soviet Union will be represented in the Big Four negotiations urged by President Eisenhower in a radio-television address Monday.

The Russian leader signified acceptance even before the invitation had been received officially. The Western powers still are drafting a new round of diplomatic notes to Moscow.

Press reports said May 11 was the date the West had in mind.

The notes were expected to name Geneva as the site for a foreign ministers gathering.

The Soviet Premier put main emphasis, however, on a plea for a final peace treaty with

U.S. NUCLEAR BLASTS IN SPACE BARED

Tests Yield Data Valuable To Missile Defense

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States set off the world's first known nuclear blasts in space last fall and gained information valuable to development of anti-missile missiles.

This appraisal was given today by Deputy Secretary of Defense Donald Quarles. He spoke at a news conference after disclosure last night that the three high-altitude blasts had spread an electronic blanket over much of the earth.

SCIENTIFIC BENEFITS

He still was reluctant to go into any details of results achieved in the experiment, carried out by a Navy task force in the Atlantic last Aug. 27, Aug. 30 and Sept. 6. All he wanted to talk about was purse scientific benefits in the field of radiation and magnetism.

It was confirmed that the blasts were set off at an altitude of around 300 miles.

The closest Quarles and the deputies who flanked him would come to the subject of weapons was a statement that the experiment had "advanced the basis of knowledge required to develop anti-missile missiles."

RESULTS OF 'INTEREST'

At another point, Quarles said the trials—named "Argus"—had produced results "of interest to both offensive and defensive weapons."

"Nothing we learned has made us feel that we have to change the concept of the Nike-Zeus anti-missile program," Quarles said.

That amounted to a partial throw-down of one theory advanced by some scientists—that the creation of the electronic umbrella might in itself amount to a defense against nuclear missiles.

BLOCK MISSILES

Under that concept, disputed by other scientists, the electronic emissions might penetrate warheads hurtling in from space and either set off their nuclear charges prematurely, or block off the reaction altogether.

Quarles and Dr. Herbert York, director of Pentagon research, gave some details of the test shots under questioning about publication of an account of the trial in the New York Times.

They said the explosions were of very low yield in radiation. York said there was no radioactive fall-out on the earth from the tests.

MAIN OBJECTIVE

York said the main objective of the blasts was to test important theories about the trapping of electrons by the earth's magnetic field. He said the detonation of the bombs released electrons into space above the

Macmillan Arrives For Talks With Ike

WASHINGTON (AP) — British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan, arriving for talks with President Eisenhower, called today for Western policies that "combine firmness and reasonableness" in negotiations with the Soviet Union on German problems.

"I am persuaded," Macmillan told Vice President Richard M. Nixon and other U.S. officials who met him at the airport, "that the Soviet leaders realize that they like we, have a common interest in avoiding war."

What he and British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd achieved on their trip to Moscow recently, he said, was Soviet endorsement of the principle of resolving differences between nations by negotiation and not by force.

Nixon and Acting Secretary of State Christian A. Herter led a delegation of American officials who greeted Macmillan at the Military Air Terminal.

Macmillan was accompanied by a 29-member delegation which included Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd.

Their Comet airliner, the first to land in Washington, arrived ahead of schedule. The plane circled the airport for about 30 minutes so that Macmillan's appearance would be at the scheduled time.

Eisenhower and Macmillan will begin their talks tomorrow. If the weather is good, they will fly by helicopter to Camp David, Eisenhower's retreat in the Catoctin Mountains of Maryland.

SWALLOWS KEEP ANNUAL DATE AT CAPISTRANO

SAN JUAN CAPISTRANO (UPI)—The swallows returned to Mission San Juan Capistrano today to keep alive their traditional St. Joseph's Day Appointment.

Crowds of onlookers waited around the mission walls in anticipation of the event and heard the whirring of wings as thousands of birds descended and began building their nests.

Ted Hodges, a 25-year veteran at watching the arrival of the swallows, said he never had seen the birds return in such great numbers as this year.

Legend says the birds first were given shelter years and years ago by a kindly mission padre after an irate innkeeper destroyed their nests. The birds return each year on this date.

Murder Trial Witness Says He Got Threat

Turbulent emotions unleashed by the trial of Prince Sam Davis, 34-year-old Marin City garbage man accused of murdering his common-law wife, spilled out of Marin Superior Court and erupted last night in a threat to the prosecution's star witness, Matthew Walker.

Walker was an eyewitness to the shooting last Christmas Eve of iVola Baker, 34, in the kitchen of Davis's Marin City apartment.

Walker testified yesterday that after Davis fired a third shot he said, "I told you I was going to shoot you." Viola Baker died instantly of two bullet wounds.

REPORTS THREAT

At 8 o'clock last night Walker was threatened by Wade Henderson, 24, in Marin City, the witness reported to the district attorney.

Walker said he was slapped in the face and told that he was a liar by Henderson. Henderson threatened to kill Walker if Walker continued to "lie" on the witness stand, Walker told Dist. Atty. W. O. Weissich in a telephone call to Weissich's home last night.

Henderson is a brother of Jimmie L. Henderson, Marin City sailor convicted of murdering an officer aboard the USS Uvalde at Treasure Island in 1957. Wade Henderson recently served a jail sentence for stabbing a Hamilton Air Force Base airman.

CLAIMS FATHERHOOD

Tiburon Bridge Dropped From Highways Bill

State Sen. Randolph Collier (R-Yreka) has agreed to removal of the Tiburon Bridge from his California freeway system bill, it was reported from Sacramento late yesterday.

Se. J. Eugene McAteer of San Francisco said he had received Collier's assurance that he would drop the Russian Hill-Tiburon span from his proposal.

The Tiburon bridge plan aroused a storm of protest on Russian Hill when first proposed—and got a mixed reception in Marin County. It "died" in the Legislature last year, only to be revived in Collier's freeway measure this year.

McAteer said Sen. John F. McCarthy of Marin, most ardent supporter of the bridge proposal, agreed to its deletion from Collier's bill because of the adamant stand taken by San Franciscans.

McCarthy said he still thinks the bridge should be built, however. He suggested it might be one of the first projects of the Golden Gate Authority—if his bill to create such an authority is enacted into law.

Gunman Kidnaps 5 In Vengeance Plot

SOUTH CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—A crazed ex-convict held a mother and her three children as hostages today in a bizarre scheme to bargain their lives for the "head" of his "worst enemy"—a former prison cellmate.

Ex-convict Richard A. Payne, 22, unfolded his scheme in a letter delivered today to Gov. Cecil H. Underwood.

Authorities expressed grave fears for the safety of Payne's hostages—Mrs. Elma Baldwin, 29, and her children, Kenneth, 10; Danny, 7, and Susan, 5. Payne kidnapped them at gunpoint from their South Charleston home yesterday.

Payne's letter outlined a scheme for vengeance on Burton Post, 28, who is serving a total of more than 100 years in the state penitentiary at Moundsville from which Payne was released last week.

He demanded Post's life—his "head"—as the price for the release of Mrs. Baldwin and her children.

The bizarre demands made by Payne and the hatred he expressed for Post baffled law authorities.

Penitentiary Warden Jonathan Adams and state police said Payne, who had no history of mental illness, had been in trouble at times while in prison, once for fighting with another convict—not Post.

On the other hand, Post, who had spent three years at a state mental hospital had an "excellent" record in prison despite his criminal record, Warden Adams said.

"I thought Payne and I were good friends," Post told State Police Trooper Arthur C. Hill,

Pair Virtually Tie In Police Chief Exams

The two aspirants for the post of Sausalito police chief were so close in the combined scores of their recent written and oral examinations as to be considered tied for the appointment, Sausalito Mayor Howard Sievers said today.

He pointed out that in accordance with the procedure agreed upon by the city council, selection of a new chief to succeed Louis P. Mountanos will be made at an executive personnel meeting of the city council and City Manager Donald A. Duerr.

The meeting reportedly is to be held Saturday.

Candidates for the post are Acting Chief Howard W. Goerndt and Officer David Cooper.

Office Workers Local Wins Contract With Union Bosses

Office Employees International Union Local 3 won a contract last night with its members' bosses.

The Marin County Labor Council voted to sign a contract giving the office workers a 12-cent hourly wage increase, across the board.

It was a compromise settlement of a dispute that has dragged on since the office employees' contracts with unions in Marin and Sonoma Counties expired last Oct. 31. There have been periodic threats of a strike, which would present the unusual picture of union members picketing union halls.

The affair got to the point of a request for strike sanction from the labor council two months ago. The council refused the sanction, on a closely split vote.

The office employees had sought to have a severance pay fund built up by the employing unions. The union chiefs, in chairs on the opposite side of the bargaining table from those they usually occupy, balked at extending this benefit to part-time employees.

The raise finally agreed upon is only one-half cent per hour less than the total of the "package" sought by the office employees, but is a straight pay raise, without any severance pay "kitty."

One Marin union, the Hod Carriers, Construction and General Laborers, settled earlier on the basis of the office employees' demands.

Six other unions have been involved in the dispute in Marin County. As all are represented on the labor council, presumably they will sign contracts identical with that granted by the council. They are the retail clerks, operating engineers, painters, carpenters, machinists and bartenders.

Three More File For School Posts

An incumbent member of the Marin County Board of Education, Mrs. Nancy Rust of 37 Rancheria road, Kentfield, filed late yesterday for re-election on May 19, reported County Supt. Virgil S. Hollis.

Dr. Gordon Plattes, incumbent trustee of the West Marin School District, today filed for re-election. Doctor Plattes is a resident of Point Reyes Station.

Filing for the first time for the Lagunitas School District board of trustees is Ted Van Midde of Forest Knolls, who filed yesterday afternoon with the county superintendent.

CAKE GREETS CADETS AT HAMILTON

Cadets of the U.S. Air Force Academy at Colorado Springs grin appreciatively at "Welcome to Hamilton" cake baked especially for their arrival last night at the Marin airbase. The academy's class of '62—all 348 members of it—is at Hamilton for annual combat field training trip. Cadets were to participate in an open house program this afternoon.

Merchants Ask Extension Of One-Way Route

San Rafael businessmen near the Third street-Lincoln avenue area will soon lose their patience over the newly adopted one-way circle, unless the one-way system is extended to other parts of town, two businessmen declared this morning. (P)

Fred Pape, who owns the car wash near the underpass, and Thomas Parks of Parks Electric registered their complaints at a breakfast meeting of the mayor's One-Way Street Committee. They were armed with a petition from seven businessmen.

Pape and Parks said they do not oppose the one-way circle as such, but want the one-way system extended so that bottlenecks at Third and Irwin and Third and Lincoln can be unsnarled.

Under the one-way circle which went into operation on March 2, cars go one-way eastbound under the Irwin underpass, one-way north on Irwin to Third, one-way west on Third to Lincoln, one-way south on Lincoln to Francisco, and one-way east back to the underpass.

Pape offered a plan that would make Third street one way from Irwin to E street, then up E to Fourth, and one-way on Fourth to the Miracle Mile. Second street would be one-way from the Miracle Mile to the underpass. Irwin street would be one way from the underpass north to Mission avenue. This plan is similar to the proposal originally presented by the San Rafael Traffic Advisory Committee.

Discussion on Pape's plan will continue at next Thursday's breakfast meeting, set for 8 a.m. at King Cotton.

Rowlands Sticks By Guns In Tax Suit

P. J. Rowland, president of the Marin County Taxpayers' Assn., declared in a radio debate today that the association still intends to bring suit to recover six million dollars of "illegal" Marin County taxes, although County Counsel Leland H. Jordan asserted "I can't see how any thinking person" can agree with Rowland's claim.

Rowland repeated charges that a 26 per cent increase in assessed valuation of Marin County properties ordered in 1955 by the state Board of Equalization was illegal. The proposed lawsuit would be to recover taxes covered by the 26 per cent hike for 1955, '56 and '57.

Jordan termed "highly improper" efforts of the association to gain new members "on the basis of the association's conclusion that they will be in a position to obtain illegal taxes."

The opposing views were aired on radio KTIM's "Marin Sounding Board," which will be repeated from a recording Sunday at 12:30 p.m.

Other spokesmen who argued for and against the county's right to levy taxes on the higher assessments included Dixwell L. Pierce, secretary of the state Board of Equalization, and Mrs. Evelyn McDougall of Mill Valley, a taxpayers' association director.

"Mr. Rowland's assertion to the taxpayers that they have any chance whatsoever of recovering taxes paid during those years is absolutely incorrect," declared Jordan. "I can't see how any thinking person can agree that the board of equalization's action in establishing the higher assessment was illegal."

In Tulare County, retorted Rowland, the board of supervisors chose to fight a 35 per cent assessed valuation increase ordered by the board of equalization. A superior court there ruled the increase illegal, he said.

Three state supreme court justices have disagreed with the Tulare court's ruling, declared Jordan. "And the other seven have not yet offered their opinions on it. It would only take one more vote to reverse that opinion."

Pierce said "the board of equalization ordered 26 per cent increase for Marin County in 1955, not under the provisions of 1949 statutes, as Mr. Rowland said, but rather under the broad powers of the board granted in the state constitution."

Mrs. McDougall declared that a recent statement by Dist. Atty. W. O. Weissich appearing in the Independent-Journal that he is investigating the taxpayers' appeal, "is unwarranted and unfair publicity."

"The association is not guilty of barratry as has been implied," she said.

Rowland held it was "improper" for the district attorney to make public the fact that he is carrying out such an investigation.

"District attorneys before and after Mr. Weissich have and will announce to the public investigations, particularly when secrecy is of no concern. The public should be kept informed on such matters," retorted Jordan.

NUCLEAR

earth's magnetic field created a great sheet that eventually circled the globe.

The non-military part of the test, York said, was to find out more about the nature and origin of the Van Allen belt of radiation.

The Van Allen belt is a mysterious radiation band beginning at about 1,000 miles above the earth and extending, with more interruptions, up to at least 12,000 miles. It is named for its discoverer. Dr. James Van Allen, State University of Iowa physicist.

ARTIFICIAL EFFECT

York said the phenomenon created above the earth's atmosphere by the September tests consisted of a sheet of electrons which was "an artificial version of the natural effect" from the Van Allen belt.

The electronic sheet created by the bombs, York said, extended around the whole world except for breaks over both the North and South poles—a pattern similar to the Van Allen belt.

York would not disclose the depth of the artificial sheet or say how long the phenomenon lasted.

The Explorer IV satellite sent back some data on the tests. This information is to be released later.

Hamilton Puts On Big Display Of Airpower

Past, present and future officers of the Air Force—and the public—converged on Hamilton Air Force Base today as the base staged a mammoth display of air power in an open house.

A group of about 140 retired high ranking Air Force officers was on hand to represent the past. The famed Thunderbirds, the Air Force's spectacular precision flight demonstration team, were to stage a display of low-level, wing-tip to wing-tip flying late this afternoon.

The future is represented by 384 members of the Air Force Academy's class of 1962, who arrived at Hamilton last night and were to parade during the open house today.

The cadets "went supersonic" today, as 130 of them were given training flights in TF102 Delta Dart Convair fighters. The planes are two-seat trainer versions of the F102 fighter.

Their flights included supersonic runs over a course out to sea, simulated firing runs at a B29 bomber and simulated radar-controlled returns to base.

The cadets will be honored at a dance at the officers club tomorrow night, and will leave Hamilton Sunday.

Air Force fighters and other aircraft were on "static" display today, with personnel on hand to explain them to visitors.

at Viola, said Weissich. Davis says the baby is his.

The trial before a jury of 10 women and two men in Marin Superior Court, with Judge Jordan L. Martinelli presiding, was to continue at 1:30 p.m. today.

Public Defender Leonard A. Thomas, attorney for Davis, cross-examined Walker yesterday about the statement attributed to Davis after the shooting. At the preliminary hearing on Jan. 2, Walker had testified that Davis said nothing.

WOMAN'S STATEMENT

Walker said he remembered the statement after the preliminary hearing. He also testified yesterday to another statement, this one attributed to Viola, which he had not mentioned at the preliminary hearing.

Walker said Viola told him that she and Prince Sam always fought when he sought to press his love on her.

Walker testified that he went to the Davis apartment on the night of he killing and found Davis holding the door closed, the baby in his arms, so Viola couldn't get outside.

CHASES BAKER

He said Viola had chased Baker out of the apartment with a butcher knife and was slashing at a window of the front door as Baker held the door closed.

Walker testified that he was at the kitchen sink helping Viola wash a cut suffered while she slashed at the door, when she turned and was shot by Davis.

Davis said in an earlier questioning that Viola was reaching for another butcher knife and he shot her in self-defense. Walker testified yesterday that he did not see her reaching for a knife.

East and West Germany and the ending of the occupation of West Berlin by British, French and U. S. Troops.

"We are striving toward just one thing—to see to it that the dark clouds of a new war should forever disappear from the international horizon," Khrushchev said.

"We appeal to the governments of all countries which took part in the war against Hitlerite Germany to sit down at the table of negotiations and settle problems (and) to conclude a peace treaty with Germany," he said.

Khrushchev said the Soviet Union had made proposals on a German peace treaty and on "normalization" of the Berlin situation.

"It is now up to the Western powers," he said. "If they are seriously ready for talks, we shall not hold up matters. We shall do everything we can to make the talks a success."

Khrushchev said that during his talks with British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan it was acknowledged that East-West negotiations are "necessary."

Committee Favors 3rd Marin Judge

A bill to add a third judge to Marin County Municipal Court was approved yesterday by the Assembly Judiciary Committee in Sacramento.

The measure was offered by Marin's Sen. John F. McCarthy.

HOSPITAL

ation, urged the hospital board to grant withdrawal on its own motion last night, without a public vote.

He argued that the hospital district would benefit from the separation through addition of hospital facilities in Novato by the private corporation. This would relieve overcrowding now frequently experienced at the district-operated Marin General Hospital, he contended.

LONG STATEMENT

Harvey Vicchio, Novato resident, presented a long statement of arguments against withdrawal of Novato from the district.

Vicchio listed these arguments, among others:

1. The petitions asking withdrawal, filed last year with the hospital board, "do not represent the wishes of a true cross-section of the voters of this area."

2. "The wish for withdrawal of this area from the hospital district, as expressed by these petitions, is the result of a very strenuous and well devised campaign by a small, powerful and influential group of people in the medical profession in Novato and is being done for personal gain and profit only. There are at present between 8,000 and 9,000 registered voters in the area . . . Only 585 persons signed these petitions."

CORE OF PROBLEM

Dr. Paul F. O'Rourke, Novato physician, said the entire hospital problem in North Marin centers around the single fact that the area has asked for a district-operated hospital in Novato and the district has been, and is, unable to provide it.

The withdrawal move, he contended, is a plan under which hospital beds would be provided in Novato, "something the district cannot do."

To a question as to why a private hospital cannot be built without withdrawing Novato from the district, Grundstrom replied that lending institutions have indicated they would look with greater favor on loans for its construction if it were located outside a hospital district.

The board, in calling for an election, indicated it could not arrive at a finding that North Marin will not be benefitted by staying in the district, nor could it find that the district would not be harmed by withdrawal. Both findings would be required under law to justify board action to allow withdrawal without an election, Riede said.

On motion of Director William H. Thomas, the board formally found that North Marin would be benefitted by staying in the district, and took its only alternative: Calling an election.

ENTERPRISING BRITONS SET NEW RECORD

HATFIELD, England (UPI)—Undergraduates of the Hatfield Technical College breathlessly claimed a world record today—19 of them jammed into a telephone booth.

They thus thumbed their noses at London's University College, which last Monday set the previous mark of 18.

A U.C. undergraduate commented today: "They must grow them damned small at Hatfield."

The standard British phone booth has in internal volume of about 50 cubic feet, including the telephone.

CRAZED CONVICT'S VICTIMS — These are the kidnap victims of crazed gunman Richard A. Payne. The three children—Kenneth, 10; Susan, 5, and Danny, 7, plus their mother, Mrs. Elma Baldwin, 29, were being held by Payne today somewhere in West Virginia as hostages in a bizarre vengeance plot. who questioned him in the prison. "We were cellmates for years and the only argument I cat nhink of that we had was one time when we squabbled over a chess game."

Scores of police ,aided by FBI agents from Pittsburgh joined in the hunt for Payne.

Payne, in the letter to Underwood, said, "I have kidnapped some children who are citizens of West Virgainia . . . which you govern. Only you have the power to save them from certain death by granting my demands. I don't want money—I want VENGEANCE.

"My purpose is to kill and take the head of my worst enemy who is now out of reach. He is in West Virgainia penitentiary at Moundsville.

"I demand that you cause the convict whose name is Burton Junior Post, to cooperate with me. I HATE him with all my existence. Now I must kill him or go mad. I am honorable. Do as I say and I will prove my honor."

Payne's letter then described a "death circuit" which Post was to travel in an automobile. The circuit was a triangular area between South Charleston, Spencer and Salem, roughly 30 by 40 by 60 miles. Payne apparently wanted Post to drive in this area, and he would exact vengeance at some point to be determined by himself.

Payne gave the governor few alternatives.

"If you succeed, then I will release half the kids as soon as I can. I release the rest at the time I get Post. If Post refuses despite all I can do, I will release half the kids anyway but will torture the others to death," Payne threatened.

At another point the five-page letter said, "If Post refuses because you just want him to die . . . then all my captives will be tortured to death. I have spoken."

"By the night of the 21st, I should have his head," Payne wrote.

Pt. Reyes Park Urged By Speakers

More than 100 persons last night heard conservation leaders urge development of the Pt. Reyes Peninsula as a national recreation area, at a meeting of the Marin Conservation League at College of Marin.

Talks and color slide showing were presented by Dr. Paul Wilson, head of the college science department; Garner Curtiss, associate professor of geology at University of California; James Cole of the National Park Service planning department, and B. K. Dunshee of Ross, member of the league.

Mrs. B. K. Dunshee, a vice president, said the surprise speaker of the evening was Aivind Scoyan, associate director of the National Park Service, who spoke on the vital need for development of such seaside areas.

The recreation development is being opposed by West Marin property owners, who cite loss to the county's dairy industry if the land is turned into a national park.

300 AT FUNERAL

Dignitaries Pay Last Respects To Carter

Funeral services for Jesse Washington Carter of Sleepy Hollow, associate justice of the California Supreme Court, were attended by some 300 persons from all walks of life yesterday at the First Presbyterian Church of San Anselmo.

Among the notables paying final respects to the 70-year-old jurist, who died Sunday, were Gov. Edmund G. Brown, Atty. Gen. Stanley Mosk, Chief Justice Phil S. Gibson of the state Supreme Court and Carter's fellow associate justices.

Dr. Carl Gordon Howie, pastor of Calvary Presbyterian Church of San Francisco, officiated at the simple rites. There were four floral tributes, one of them forming the emblem of the Masonic order.

MASONIC RITES

Preceding the religious services were Masonic rites conducted by Robert A. Smallman, worshipful master of Fairfax Lodge 556. Justice Carter was a master Mason in Western Star Lodge 2.

Before placing a Masonic scroll on the closed casket, Smallman paid "the last tribute of our affection" to Justice Carter, who, he said, had entered "that celestial lodge above."

Dr. Howie quoted several selections from the Bible, including the 23rd Psalm. He offered a prayer asking that the good influences of Justice Carter's life be blessed and sustained "that they may continue to bless those whom he knew and loved."

'MEMORY BE SWEET'

"May the memory of him be sweet to those who knew him best," Dr. Howie said.

The funeral, directed by the Harry M. Williams Mortuary of San Rafael, was attended by members of Justice Carter's immediate family and many relatives. Burial was in Mt. Tamalpais Cemetery, San Rafael.

Family members present included the justice's widow, Jean; two sons and a daughter, Oliver Jesse Carter, a judge of the U.S. District Court in San Francisco, Prof. Harlan Field Carter and Mrs. Silvio Bui of Redding; two sisters, Mrs. Emma Lane of San Anselmo and Mrs. Lizzie Reese of Perris, Riverside County, and two brothers, Henry Carter of Redding and John E. Carter of Cottonwood, Shasta County.

ACTIVE PALLBEARERS

Active pallbearers included two nephews, Robert D. Carter of Modesto and John Harvey Carter of Sacramento; Daniel S. Carlton of Redding, Superior Court Judge Samuel Finley of Del Norte County, Charles Goff of Merced and Leonard Martin of Ross.

Governor Brown, Attorney General Mosk and Chief Justice Gibson were among the honorary pallbearers.

The rites were attended by many Bay Area attorneys and judges, the latter including Albert Wollenberg of the U.S. District Court in San Francisco; Murray Draper of the 1st District Court of Appeals; Jordan L. Martinelli, N. Charles Brusatori and Thomas F. Keating of Marin County Superior Court; Richard M. Sims Jr. and Harold J. Haley of Marin Municipal Court, and Byron Arnold of San Francisco Municipal Court.

PAY LAST TRIBUTE

Also among those paying final respects to Justice Carter were David Menary, former Marin County sheriff; George W. Hall, former Marin assessor; Donald T. Wood, San Anselmo police chief; Sally Stanford, Sausalito restaurateur; Senior Capt. Walter Nash of the Salvation Army; Arthur Samish, former legislative lobbyist in Sacramento; Edwin (Horsetrader Ed) Shapiro, San Francisco automobile dealer; Clinton T. Duffy, former warden of San Quentin Prison; Walter R. Castro, chairman of the Marin County Board of Supervisors; Joseph Karesh, U.S. commissioner in San Francisco; David Snodgrass, dean of Hastings College of Law, San Francisco, and Dr. Leo L. Stanley, former chief surgeon at San Quentin Prison.

'New Look' Atlas Missile Flops In Test

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Air Force fired a "new look" Atlas missile from Cape Canaveral last night but it developed trouble and fell far short of the planned intercontinental-range flight.

All indications were that the failure headed off an intended effort to recover the new model nose cone intact after its red hot re-entry into the atmosphere from the fringes of space.

The Air Force said today that the huge missile, carrying the same type of nose cone that would house a deadly thermonuclear warhead in combat, developed "propulsion and control problems." It dropped into the Atlantic about 700 miles from the launching pad on the Florida east coast.

The shoot was intended to send the Atlas about 4,500 miles.

NATION'S BUSINESS IN EASTER BOOM

Retail Sales On Increase In Most Areas; Only Big Deterrent Is Bad Weather

NEW YORK (AP) — Rising prosperity, a booming stock market and a return to fashions that flatter the female form are putting new life into the nation's Easter retail trade.

So say many of the merchants, bankers and chamber of commerce officials interviewed by the Associated Press in a coast-to-coast survey.

"Business is shapping up beautifully," says an executive of a big department store on Chicago's State street. "Easter sales are far ahead of last year."

SPENDING MORE

"People are spending with more confidence," said Richard H. Rich, president of Rich's in Atlanta.

"Consumers are more confident and seem to be spending more," observes Joseph Liebman, senior vice president of L. Bamberger and Co., Newark, N.J.

While optimism is the keynote, you'll find dissenters here and there. A New York department store executive complains that "women don't get excited about fashions when there's a half foot of snow on the ground."

HEAVY SNOW

Wide areas of the northeast and upper midwest were blanketed by a heavy snowfall late last week, and store sales took a nosedive.

Other localized deterrents to an unbounded shopping spree include: Persistent pockets of unemployment in some industrial centers, scattered state and local tax increases and—in cities where winter has lingered on—the earlier Easter date.

Not all merchants regard the earlier Easter as a handicap. In some southern and western cities where the weather has been mild, it is considered an asset.

L.A. SENTIMENT

That's the sentiment of merchants in Los Angeles where the mercury climbed into the high 80s while snow fell in New York. It's echoed by store officials in Miami, San Francisco, Dallas, Denver and Kansas City.

"Business is tremendous," exults Cyril Magnin, president of Joseph Magnin's, San Francisco women's store.

The weather is cause for much grousing among merchants in Boston, New York, Philadelphia, Seattle, Cleveland and Pittsburgh.

Marshall Resting Well In Hospital

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gen. George C. Marshall was reported to be resting well at Walter Reed Army Hospital today.

A hospital spokesman said there has "been some slight improvement" in Marshall's condition the past few days. The spokeman added that Marshall is visited daily by his wife.

Marshall, 79, has been in a serious condition for several weeks as the result of two strokes.

24-Hour Prayer Vigil

A 24-hour pre-Holy Week prayer vigil will be held from 8 p.m. tomorrow through 8 p.m. Saturday at the Mill Valley Methodist Church, Rev. Edgar Nelson, pastor, announced today.

STOCKS TODAY

NEW YORK (AP) — Stock prices turned mixed late this afternoon as many issues bounced back from earlier lows.

Trading ran at a relatively busy clip. Volume for the day was estimated at four million shares against 4,530,000 yesterday.

Standard Oil New Jersey picked up nearly a point. Royal Dutch added a few cents.

Ford maintained an early gain of, about two points while Chrysler and American Motors advanced around half a point.

Zenith surrendered some of its four-point morning gain but still was about 1½ ahead. Radio Corp. rose a fraction and Raytheon slipped a bit.

Anaconda, Kennecott and Phelps Dodge all lost around a point. Republic gave up about half a point. point.

Lorillard advanced more than two. Du Pont pared an early two-point loss to under a point.

U.S. government bonds held to a narrow range.

New Meeting Called On Bret Harte Access

San Rafael and Marin County officials will try again tomorrow morning to get the long-sought Auburn street railway crossing, which would provide an outlet from the Bret Harte area to Highway 101.

T. Fred Bagshaw, assistant director of the state Public Works Department, called the meeting for 10 a.m. in the county courthouse supervisors' chambers. Expected to attend are Supervisor William D. Fusselman, County Public Works Director Marvin Brigham, City Manager Dan Andersen and San Rafael Public Works Director Norris Rawles.

San Rafael wants Auburn street extended over railroad tracks to tie into the newly built highway access road, giving Bret Harte an access to the highway at the California Park overpass area. But Northwestern Pacific Railroad Co. wants either an overhead or an underground crossing of the tracks, which would be costly.

Roads exist on both sides of the track. About 100 feet of paving would connect the roads.

Social Meeting Set

A social meeting of the newly formed San Francisco-Marin chapter of Parents Without Partners will be held tonight at 7:30 o'clock in the Hall of the Good Samaritan, 1290 Potrero street, San Francisco.

Sign Ordinance Change Asked

Directors of the Mill Valley Chamber of Commerce, still wrestling with the city's controversial sign ordinance, voted yesterday to ask the city council to change the wording of one portion of the law so as not to limit the number of signs permitted for a multiple occupancy building.

The present regulation limits such signs to four.

Chamber secretary John E. McSweeney said the two buildings primarily involved are the Keystone Building on Lytton Square and the Avenue Market Building.

The directors also agreed again to sponsor the annual Easter flower display and to publish a membership list broken down by business classification.

Marin Employment Up; Some Jobs Are Unfilled

No only is there full employment for Marin County union members, but in two fields there is a shortage of help.

This was reported by union delegates at last night's meeting of the Marin County Labor Council in Painters Hall in San Rafael.

Pat Dailey of the Bartenders and Culinary Workers Union reported a shortage of worker, especially cooks and waitresses.

Omar McNally of the Machinists Lodge reported his union was having difficulty meeting demands for both skilled and unskilled labor.

Delegates from other unions generally reported full employment. Leon Ginsberg of the Carpenters Union said 60 members of that local are out of work, but such a small number "is almost unparalleled for this time of year," reported Hugh Cassidy, Labor Council secretary.

Two Slayers Will Die In Gas Chamber In May

Two convicted murderers on San Quentin Prison's Death Row will be executed in the gas chamber in May, Associate Warden W. D. Achuff announced yesterday. Both are double slayers.

Richard G. Riser, 33, of Stanislaus County, who fatally shot Mr. and Mrs. Earl Hastings during a holdup at their Oakdale tavern in July, 1955, is scheduled to die May 22.

The date was set in Stanislaus County Superior Court after the U. S. Supreme Court turned down an appeal for review by Riser's attorney, Carl B. Shapiro of Fairfax. Riser, who has been on Death Row since February, 1956, was to have been executed last September, but won a last-minute stay from Justice William O. Douglas of the U. S. Supreme Court.

Vender Lee Duncan, 31-year-old San Franciscan, will pay with his life May 29 for strangling two San Francisco women. Elizabeth Manning, 75, who was killed on Sept. 4, 1955, and Mrs. Ada Romig, 68, on May 9, 1957, had both been robbed and raped, reported the deputy warden.

San Francisco Superior Court fixed the date after the state Supreme Court affirmed Duncan's conviction. (All cases involving capital punishment are automatically appealed to the higher court.) Duncan was admitted to San Quentin last May 27.

Fund Drive Starts For Heart Surgery

ORINDA (AP)—Residents along the route of mail carrier Lawrence Isola launched a drive last night to raise funds for an operation to correct the deformed heart of Isola's 7-year-old son, Danny.

Doctors said Danny's condition was almost identical to that of David Stewart, the Sharp Park boy who underwent surgery at Chicago last Thursday.

Danny, who lives with his parents in nearby Concord, was born with a hole in his heart and with the two main blood vessels transposed.

Surgery has become imperative for the youngster, physicians explained.

Marin School Administrator May Suffer $1,288 Yearly Salary Cut

By WAT TAKESHITA

One of the top school administrators of Marin County will suffer a salary cut of $1,288 per year from the coming fiscal year, under a budget proposed by County Schools Supt. Virgil S. Hollis.

Among salary cuts recommended by the superintendent is a reduction by that amount of the salary of Leland J. Harris, assistant superintendent in charge of business administration services.

Dr. Hollis explained that Harris has been drawing regular pay ($10,860) from the county general fund, and in addition has been getting the $1,288 from the school services fund, which is state money. Dr. Hollis said he does not feel it is proper for a man who draws a regular county salary to get the additional pay from another source.

IN MERIT SYSTEM?

Whether Harris comes under the county merit system (which gives employees certain rights as to appointment, promotion and dismissal) or is serving at the discretion of the superintendent has also come up for question. Superintendent Hollis asked the county counsel for a legal opinion on Harris' status. In asking for the opinion, Hollis said he has no immediate plan for changes in his staff members.

"Some people thought he was under the merit system, and others thought not. I merely wanted a clarification of Mr. Harris' status," Hollis said.

County Counsel Leland H. Jordan's opinion, handed down this week, is that Harris has acquired permanent status in his position and therefore comes under the merit system. Thus, any dismissal would be subject to review by the county personnel commission and the board of supervisors.

UNUSUAL CASE

Under ordinary circumstances, the chief deputy or assistant under each department head serves at the pleasure of the department head and does not come under the merit system. Therefore, the county schools superintendent, for example, would be free to appoint or dismiss his chief assistant who is paid from general county funds. But the case of Harris is unusual, the county counsel points out. Here is why:

Harris was appointed director of school administration in 1953 under Dr. Wallace W. Hall. At that time, the position of assistant superintendent was filled by Miss Martha Smith. When Miss Smith retired in 1957, her duties were distributed among other staff members. And Harris got the title of assistant superintendent, although his duties remained the same as before.

UPHELD IN COURT

County Counsel Jordan points out that courts have upheld this line of reasoning: Where a public employee acquired job security under a merit system, as Harris had done, he cannot thereafter be deprived of his rights by changing the title of his position but not his duties.

If Harris should quit his post, a new man appointed to fill the assistant superintendent's post could be hired and dismissed at the will of the superintendent.

Mill Valley Library Board Meets Tonight

The Mill Valley Library Board will hold a special meeting at 8 o'clock tonight in the library to discuss capital improvements planned for the next five years.

President Robert Jenkins said the meeting is in accordance with a request from City Manager A. E. Almcrants to all city departments asking for such a report by March 31.

LIGHT MOMENT AT TRIAL — Mrs. Elizabeth Duncan throws back her head and roars with laughter during recess of her Ventura trial yesterday when reminded about some of the testimony presented to the jury which is determining the penalty for the murder of which it convicted her. Most of the laughs came from testimony of George Satriano, 51, one of Mrs. Duncan's dozen known husbands. He told of marrying her for her money and then discovering she didn't have any. (AP Wirephoto)

Mrs. Duncan Can't Keep Mates Straight

VENTURA (UPI) — Convicted murderess Elizabeth Duncan couldn't keep her 10 to 16 husbands straight today in a hearing to decide her penalty for hiring the slaying of her son's wife.

Mrs. Duncan took the stand to testify about her life from childhood in a New Mexico mining town in an effort by defense attorney S. Ward Sullivan to show what forces motivated the greying defendant.

Sullivan had progressed through eight husbands that Mrs. Duncan could remember, and was starting on her ninth mate when she interrupted him and said:

"I think D'Amato was before Sollenne."

Mrs. Duncan's list up to that point included Dewey Pessier, Frank Low, Frank Duncan, Joseph Gold, George Satriano, Stephen Gillis and Leonard Sollenne.

The man by the name of D'Amato testified earlier in the trial under the name of Robert D'Amato, 37. He said he had met Mrs. Duncan on his bus run from Los Angeles to Santa Barbara and back.

The bus driver said he had three motel dates with Mrs. Duncan but denied marrying her.

The matronly defendant insisted, however, that she and D'Amato were wed in Las Vegas. Sullivan asked Mrs. Duncan if the name Mitchell meant anything to her. She said "no."

According to Dist. Atty, Roy Gustafson, a man named Mitchell might have been one of her former husbands.

Speaking Contest Set Tomorrow

Student speakers contest zone finals for the Kentfield, San Anselmo and Fairfax Lions Clubs will be held tomorrow night at Rickey's Rancho Rafael in Ignacio.

Charles E. Gillis of the Kentfield club said the finalists will be David Wilson of Marin Catholic High School for Kentfield, Linda Allison of Sir Francis Drake High for San Anselmo, and Norma Fong of Sir Francis Drake for Fairfax.

The dinner meeting will start at 8 p.m. with talks scheduled to start about 8:45 p.m. The public is invited, Gillis said.

Topic for the competitive talks will be, "Complacency—A Danger to America."

The winner of the zone contest will go on into the regional competition.

Gillis said the Kentfield winner was chosen from a competition last month. He won out over Melinda Krause, Sue Hayes and Michael Anderson, all of Marin Catholic High.

Bible Expert Cites Sayings Of Jesus In Old Manuscript

NEW YORK (UPI) — A noted Biblical authority said last night that an ancient Coptic manuscript found in Egypt in 1946 contained 114 sayings of Jesus which may be as authentic as those found in the New Testament Gospels.

Dr. Oscar Cullman called the discovery of "The Gospel of Thomas" of greater significance to scholars than the finding of the famed Dead Sea Scrolls.

Dr. Cullman, professor of early Christianity at the Sorbonne in Paris, is a visiting professor at the Union Theological Seminary.

MANY PARABLES

He said in a lecture last night he had been in possession of the text of "the Gospel of Thomas" since 1956 and had found many sayings and parables attributed to Jesus that have no parallel in the gospels of Matthew, Mark, Luke or John.

The Biblical expert said the Thomas gospel appeared to be an apocryphal work compiled by a Gnostic and dating in part from the second century after Christ. He said the quotations attributed to Jesus were possibly derived from the same collection of Jesus' sayings that Mark — and perhaps Matthew and Luke—drew on when they wrote their testaments.

QUOTES 'PEARLS'

Dr. Cullman described some of the new sayings as "pearls" and said their interpretation would occupy scholars for decades to come. Some of the "pearls" he quoted were:

"Jesus said: He who is near me is near the fire, and he who is far from me is far from the kingdom."

"Split a piece of wood—I am there; lift the stone and you will find me there."

"Jesus said: If those who lead you say to you: Behold, the kingdom is in heaven, then the birds of heaven will precede you; if they say to you that it is in the sea, then the fish will precede you. But the kingdom is within you and it is outside of you."

Dr. Cullman stressed that the Thomas gospel is not actually a gospel with a narrative of events providing a setting for Jesus' utterances, but merely a collection of quotations. However, he said he believed it to be "much more important than all the other apocryphal gospels" because of the age of the material contained.

The Thomas gospel was one of 44 treatises written on papyrus and bound in 13 leather-covered volumes. The book had been hidden in a jar in a tomb in a limestone cliff near Khenoboskion, 60 miles from Luxor, Egypt. Peasants found them and burned at least one of them to heat a pot of tea before scholars in Cairo got wind of the discovery.

All but one of the books are now in the Coptic museum in Cairo.

Twang Talk

TOLEDO, Ohio, (AP) — Arthur Harris, "twanged" when he talked. Playing with his toys, he caught a coil spring ¾ of an inch long on his tongue and upper jaw. Manfully, he went to bed without telling his parents and ate breakfast the next moring without saying a word. Teachers at Lagrange school noticed his peculiar diction and sent him to a hospital where the spring was removed.

Public Barred From Bonita Lighthouse

The picturesque lighthouse at Pt. Bonita on the north side of the Golden Gate has been closed to visitors, according to Rear Adm. Russell E. Wood, commander of the 12th Coast Guard District.

A popular attraction for hikers and camera fans, the lighthouse was closed because "deterioration of the hazardous trail leading to the installation due to storm action," Admiral Wood said.

Although plans are being made to repair the trail, visiting at the lighthouse thereafter "will be discouraged due to the hazardous nature of the terrain," the announcement added.

The lighthouse has been accessible by traveling through Fts. Baker and Barry and past the Army Nike installation.

James F. Grant of San Rafael, New York Life Insurance Co. field representative, will speak on "prospects are where you find them" at a conference of his company's agents and executives tomorrow evening in San Francisco.

Hallinans In London For Start Of Tour

Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Hallinan of Ross and their sons, Butch and Tuffy, were in London today, the stepping-off place for a tour of Europe that will last until September.

The Hallinans will be in Moscow on May Day.

Their month-long visit to Russia will not start until May. Before that time they will tour Europe at will. Their Russian visit is carefully scheduled however, and will include tours of Kiev, Odessa, Sochi on the Black Sea, Tbilisi in Georgia, and Leningrad. They will travel Russia by train, boat and air.

Their travels will also take to Helsinki, Warsaw, Prague and East Berlin.

In June, 24-year-old Butch will return to the United States and leave for a trip to Mexico before entering Hastings College of Law in September.

The Hallinan's other four sons, Dynamite, Kayo, Flash and Danny, will join them in Europe at the close of school for an extended trip on the continent that will last until September. Mrs. Hallinan told Mrs. Alice Burman, Hallinan's secretary, they might pay a return visit to Russia at that time.

Fight World Hails Moore

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Triumphant Davey Moore, the world's featherweight crown perched on his head, today received the plaudits of the fight world for his 13th round knockout victory over Hogan Kid Bassey of Nigeria last night in a bruising title bout.

In one round, the sixth, the former national amateur bantamweight champion turned the tide of battle as he sent the champion reeling into the ropes with a wild flurry of blows that left Bassey dazed and an easy target.

The Springfield, Ohio, challenger followed up his advantage in the next round to cut up the champion even more. He then piled up a big margin of points through the 13th round when Bassey's manager, George Biddles, stopped the fight because the champion could not see from the blood flowing into his eyes.

Moore weighed 125½ and Bassey 125 for the bout.

BIG OVATION

The crowd of 10,000 which paid $65,602.98 to see the title bout in Olympic Auditorium gave both fighters a tremendous ovation when they left the ring after their nationally-televised bout.

"I knew at the end of the sixth round that I was going to win the title," Moore said happily as he received congratulations in his dressing room.

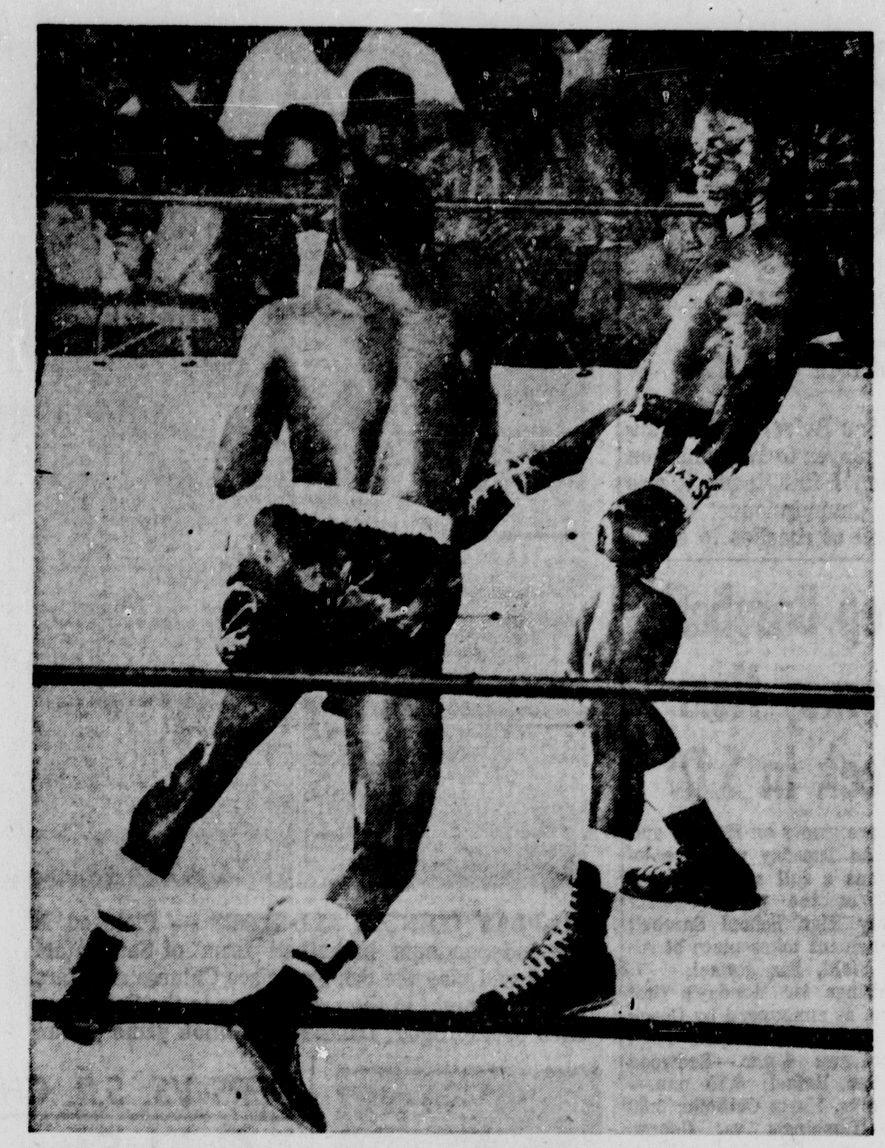
The fight agreement called for a return match within 90 days—if the champion lost.

COULDN'T SEE

"He couldn't see," Biddles explained to Bassey's wife at ringside after ordering the fight stopped. "I wouldn't send him out to be murdered — champion or not."

Mrs. Bassey's plaintive cry of "Come on, Hogan!" had resounded through the crowded auditorium repeatedly as she tried to urge on the little Nigerian.

Referee Tommy Hart had Moore in front on points, 126-119, after 13 rounds, as did Judge Mushy Callahan. Judge George Latka scored it 125-121 and the United Press International, 128-119, for Moore.



MOORE FLOORS HIMSELF—Davey Moore, of Springfield, O., misses champion Hogan Bassey with a sweeping right that pulled Moore off balance and momentarily to the canvas in the third round of their featherweight title fight last night. Moore went on to win the 13-round slugging match and the title when Bassey's manager stopped the brawl because of his fighter's eye cuts. (AP Wirephoto)

Cal Coach Scoffs At Home Advantage For Louisville

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Take a hot team like Louisville, blend in a heaping portion of home court advantage and you have the probable favorite in the NCAA basketball championships at Freedom Hall here Friday and Saturday.

Or do you? Coach Pete Newell of California's Pacific Coast Conference champions—for one—isn't buying the Louisville advantage.

"In a tournament like this," Newell said today, "a home team doesn't have the advantage it has for a regular season game.

"For one thing, the men officiating the games all are from different sections of the country. The rules sometimes are interpreted differently and whatever advantage a team might have would tend to be minimized."

"For another," Newell added, "with a tournament like this, the folks are here to see the championship decided—not to root solely for the home team."

Newell's Golden Bears, who swept past Utah and St. Mary's in the Far West NCAA regional last weekend while pushing their winning streak to 14, face Cincinnati and the great Oscar Robertson in the second game of Fridays semifinal program.

Louisville, a surprise survivor after successive upsets of defending champ Kentucky and Big Ten king Michigan State in the Mid-East regional, meet West Virginia's Southern Conference champions in the opener at 8:30 p.m.

California was the first of the three visiting teams to arrive, flying in in time for a workout.

"We got here early because we knew the boys would be tired from the long flight and would need a day to get back to normal," Newell said.

The next question was inevitable — and Newell was ready.

"What about Robertson?"

"We've been very good on defense all season (the Bears ranked No. 1 nationally) and I don't think this is any time to concoct anything strange or novel. We know we aren't going to shut him out—but we have an idea we can minimize him."

PLAYOFF ON TV

The California-Cincinnati game in the NCAA championship round at Louisville tomorrow night will be televised live in the Bay Area by station KTVU, Channel 2. Air time will be 7:30 p.m. PST.

The station said also that if California enters the finals, Saturday's championship game would be televised at 7 p.m.

LAS VEGAS, APRIL 21

Patterson To Defend Title Against London

NEW YORK (AP) — World Heavyweight Champion Floyd Patterson today was made a prohibitive 1-6 favorite to whip Britain's burly Brian London in a "warmup" title fight at Las Evas, Tuesday, April 21.

Broadway bookmakers set the odds shortly after Patterson's manager, Cus d'Amato and fledgling promoter Cecil Rhodes Jr., a Cranford, N.J., steel firm executive, announced the television (NBC) fight was set for the New Convention Hall in the Nevada resort city.

D'Amato stressed that Patterson's June fight in New York (probably June 23 in Yankee Stadium) with Ingemar Johansson, Sweden's undefeated European champion, still was scheduled.

"Patterson, if victorious—and I'm confident he will be—not only will fight London and Johansson, but probably will have other fights this year," said the manager.

London, a 24-year-old, 209-pound brawler, and former British and British Empire champion, is ranked fifth by the NBA and ninth by Ring. He lost his titles last Jan. 12 to Henry Cooper in a bloody, 15-round bout in London.

The son of a former British champion, Jack London, Brian won the British titles by knocking out Welshman Joe Erskine in the eighth round last June 23. When he followed up with a controversial fifth-round technical knockout (on cuts) over high-ranking Willie Pastrano on Sept. 30, he was boosted to No. 2 challenger.

London, a pro four years, has a 22-4 won-lost record, including 19 knockouts. He has been stopped once. That was by Cooper in their first clash in 1956 and was London's first defeat.

London will receive in the neighborhood of $75,000. D'Amato said Rhodes and the promoter's associates had guaranteed the fighters $250,000.

Patterson's cut (including D'Amato's share) figures to be around $150,000. If he should lose, the 24-year-old New Yorker will get a return bout within 90 days.

London has been in training for some time and is expected in New York within 10 days. Patterson has been training at Summit, N.J., for nearly three weeks.

Pearson O.K., To Return To Action

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP)—Albie Pearson, last year's American League rookie of the year, and teammate Ron Samford have a doctor's clearance to resume spring training with the Washington Senators.

After examining both ailing players in Washington yesterday, Dr. George A. Resta, Nats' physician announced:

"Pearson has a hernia but no surgery is indicated. Samford has a nerve injury of the shoulder that should clear up soon . . . I believe they'll be all right when the season starts."

Signups Tonight In Corte Madera

Twin Cities Pony and Junior Pony League baseball players will be registered tonight at the Corte Madera City Hall, 7 to 9 o'clock, it was announced yesterday.

The league also announced need of a coach and manager. Anyone interested is asked to contact Bill Purtell in Corte Madera.

TWO HOME RUNS BY BOCCABELLA SPARK MARIN

John Boccabella, considered Marin County's most promising high school baseball player, lived up to the reputation yesterday when he clouted two booming home runs in one inning to lead Marin Catholic to a 10-3 triumph over the Tamalpais Indians at Tam.

The husky senior slugger drove across five runs with his circuit shots to center and left field during Marin's nine-run explosion in the sixth inning of the seven-inning tilt. Twelve players went to bat in the big frame as Marin overcame a 1-0 Tam lead.

Lefty Dave Creighton went the distance on the mound for Marin, limiting Tam to two hits, one each by Bill Buffalow and Tim Farrell. Creighton and Jerry DeRosa each got two safeties for Marin.

Buick Electra To Pace 500-Miler

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — The Indianapolis Motor Speedway announced today that a Buick Electra convertible will pace the start of the 43rd annual 500-mile race May 30.

Two Indianapolis Buick dealers accepted Speedway President Troy Hulman's invitation to provide the pace car. Hulman said, "Selection of Buick is in keeping with the speedway's custom of choosing the car we believe has shown the greatest advancement in styling and performance."

S. F. OUTSLUGS CUBS

Roasting By Rig Perks Up Giants

PHOENIX, Ariz. (UPI) — Manager Bill Rigney sent Johnny Antonelli to the hill today here against Cleveland in hopes that his charges could improve their play behind the ace lefty.

After losing to the Red Sox for the third straight time Tuesday, Rigney roasted his players in a closed door session in which he reportedly warned them not to risk "going along on their 1958 reputation."

MORE ON GIANTS

Independent - Journal columnists John J. Connolly and Jack Hanley provide more interesting items on the Giants on pages 10 and 11.

Yesterday, the Giants got back on the win trail with an 11-8 victory over the Cubs, but even the staunchest Giant backer admitted that it was the type of loosely played comedy of errors which happened every spring, but seldom during the regular season.

BLINDED BY SUN

The crucial five-run San Francisco rally in the eighth was touched off when Tony Taylor lost Giant pinch-hitter Willie McCovey's pop fly in the blazing Arizona sun. Taylor, caught without his sunglasses, ended 10 feet away from where the ball landed as two runs cavorted home.

The Giants were scared in the ninth when with two on and two out mighty Ernie Banks strode to the plate. He had rapped four hits during the day, but took a called third strike when chunky Dom Zanni broke off a curve on the outside corner.

The San Franciscans outslugged the Cubs 15-13 while crowding nine of their 11 runs into the last two frames, during which 19 men came to bat.

RODGERS HITS

Andre Rodgers led the swat parade with three hits and three runs batted in, but looked disappointing in the field Filipe Alou and Don Taussig had two hits apiece.

For the Cubs, Taylor partially made up for his miscue with three hits.

Giant pitchers Mike McCormick, Gordon Jones, and Zanni pitched adequately, with the Cubs really getting to only Curt Barclay, off whom they scored five runs in one inning.

Meanwhile, an impatient Willie Mays told club officials he would be back in action Monday. The bandages were off his injured leg.

Tiburon Li'l League Tryouts Saturday

Tryouts for the Tiburon Peninsula Little League boys not assigned to major league teams will be held Saturday morning at 10 o'clock on Judge Field in Tiburon, according to Francis L. Hevern, Little League president.

Hevern also asked for a volunteer work crew to repair the diamond.

GRID COACHES GET TOGETHER

Two well-known coaches talk over plans for Saturday's High School Football Coaches Clinic at Redwood High School. Left is Larry Siemering of Santa Cruz, one of eight main speakers, discussing the clinic with Director Bob Troppman of Redwood. Troppman said an estimated 300 coaches will be on hand for what has become "the largest clinic of its kind in California." Program will start at 9 a.m. and continue through 5:30 p.m. Other main speakers include Bill Gott of Stagg High, Stockton; Stu Carter of Castlemont; Johnny Johnson, Oroville; George DeKlotz, of the Northern Diablo Valley champions; Joe Marvin, Sequoia; Bob Robinette, Carlmont; Milt Axt, Poly High.

Four Other Marin Aces Make All-NBL 2nd Team

Forward Brent Marshall of San Rafael High's Bulldogs was the only Marin County player to be named on the All-North Bay League Section I first team, it was announced yesterday by NBL Commissioner Walter Hemmerling who conducted a poll of coaches to select the all-star squad.

The Section I first team also included Andy Alkire of Montgomery, Neil Austinson of Santa Rosa, Willie Anderson of Vallejo and Bill Robertson and John Rawlins of Napa. Six men were picked on the first team because Robertson and Rawlins tied in the voting.

Marin County players dominated the Section I second team, taking four of the five berths, including Ray Edwards of Tamalpais, Dick Llewellyn of Drake, Dave Neumann of Redwood and Mike Curry of San Rafael. The fifth spot was filled by Doug Davis of Napa.

San Rafael and Vallejo were co-champions of the team standings with 11-3 records.

Novato High's Jack Sparrow won first team honors in Section II while Jack Woodard of Tomales was a first team selection in Section III.

Following is the league's complete all-star list, Varsity and Class B.

Prep Baseball Tourney Next Week In S.R.

Three games on Monday and four on Tuesday will give local fans a full schedule next week as the annual Marin County High School Baseball Tournament takes place at Albert Field, San Rafael.

Pairings for Monday's first round, as announced by Coach Ray Bell of Tamalpais High School are: 4 p.m.—Redwood vs. San Rafael; 6:15 p.m.—Drake vs. Marin Catholic; 8:30 p.m.—Tamalpais vs. George Washington High of San Francisco.

Washington was added to fill out the byes on the schedule and games against the San Rafael entry will not count in tournament standings, Bell said.

Tuesday's schedule will start at 1:45 p.m., followed by games at 4, 6:15 and 8:30 p.m.

Winning team will receive a handsome trophy donated by Taveggia-Brusati Sports Shop of San Rafael and 10 players selected on the All-Tournament squad will receive miniature gold baseballs.

20 Bouts On Golden Glove Ring Finals

A 20-bout ring program will bring Golden Gloves championships to an end in Civic Auditorium tonight where titleholders will be crowned in 10 weight divisions.

Those who capture senior titles will represent this area in National AAU competition at Toledo in April.

Veteran observers, after watching semi-finals, regard this year's crop of youngsters far better all-around ringmen than those who fought for the titles in the last five years.

Stanley Garcia, a young Oaklander, looms as one of the best fighters in the show. He clashes with Hal Doreun for the 156-pound honors.

San Jose will be well represented, The flyweights, George Gonzales and T. C. Chung, both hail from the Garden City.

James Erwin, 178-pounder, Johnny Hernandez, 132 and the two Berg brothers, Art and Bob, are just a few of the others slated to see action.

Russell Lee, who reached and lost in the finals last year, hopes to go all the way this time. The rangy Oaklander tosses punches with Sacramento's George Kostenko.

There is no raise in prices for the finals. Ringside $3.50, dress circle and main floor elevated $2.50, general admission $1.25.

Davis Cup Playoffs In Rose Bowl?

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The U.S. Davis Cup Tennis Committee is considering the Pasadena Rose Bowl for the 1959 challenge round, but no decision has been reached on the matter.

So says Perry T. Jones, nonplaying captain of the team. Jones and W. Harcourt Woods, chairman of the cup committee, have inspected the Rose Bowl, but have reached no conclusion on whether it is feasible.

Jones is leaving this weekend with Davis Cup stars Alex Olmedo and Earl Buchholz Jr. for a goodwill trip to Peru. After his return March 29, Jones intends to confer with Pasadena officials and go over the entire situation.

49ERS VS. S.R. CHAMPS

Grid Stars To Play In Marin Cage Tilt

Young Marin County autograph seekers should have a field day tomorrow night at San Rafael High School's gymnasium where several members of the San Francisco 49ers' professional football team will be on display.

Led by Captain Gordy Soltau, the 49ers will meet the Dugout Dandies, champions of Marin County, in an exhibition basketball game sponsored by the San Rafael 20-30 Club. The 49er stars usually remain on the court after each game to satisfy young autograph seekers.

The main event will start at 8 o'clock. A preliminary game will match the Independents of San Rafael against the San Francisco Chinese.

Tickets will be on sale at the gate, the sponsors announced.

The 49ers have surprised fans with their basketball skill, but it was no mystery to those who knew the players' backgrounds. For 1959, Player-Manager Soltau can present such stars as these:

R. C. Owens, College of Idaho and the National AAU champion Buchan Bakers; John Thomas, College of Pacific, who had a tryout with the world champion St. Louis Hawks; Clyde Conner, College of Pacific, All-Coast cager in 1954-55; Billy Wilson, three-year varsity cage letterman at San Jose State; Bob St. Clair, sophomore court star at the University of San Francisco in 1951.

Soltau himself earned a varsity basketball award as a sophomore at the University of Minnesota. Rounding out the roster are such 49er stars as Hugh McElhenny, Y. A. Tittle and Ed Henke.

Opposing the 49ers is the team that has won the San Rafael Men's League for the past four years in addition to invitational tournaments at Vallejo and Santa Rosa.

The Dugout Dandies' roster includes such well-known local stars as Glen Robinson, George Slender, Bob Stout, Al Murray, George Geister, Bob McGrath, Jack Wynn, Bob Liebe, Scott Jones and Harry Myers.

Robinson starred at College of Pacific and Stout and Slender at University of Oregon. The others have local high school, junior college and industrial league stardom to their credit.

St. Rita's Honors Its CYO Cagers At Dad-Son Fete

St. Rita's CYO basketball teams of Fairfax concluded their season with a father-son Communion breakfast held last Sunday in the parish hall.

The St. Rita's teams competed in 70, 80, 90 and 100 pound divisions, playing more than 40 games throughout the Bay Area.

Awards were presented in the 100-pound division to Tom O'Connell and Gary Kimball; 90-pound division to Pat Murry and Tom Fitzpatrick; 80-pound division to Bob DeMartini and Dan Foley; 70-pound division to Mike Courtz and Bob Stout. Honorable mention went to Bob Tobin and Gary Pfaff.

The teams were under the direction of Father Kenneth Hunt with Larry Walsh, Bob Sousa and Bob Warner serving as coaches.

Is S.F. Still Bobo Olson's Lucky Town?

Most fighters have their lucky towns and lucky fight arenas and Bobo Olson, who meets Rory Calhoun at the Cow Palace, Monday, March 30, is no exception.

Ever since the Honolulu-born Olson first arrived in San Francisco his ring fortunes have been good. He's fought 18 times in San Francisco, losing only one — a close 15-round decision to Sugar Ray Robinson.

Even that loss, in March, 1952, brought him luck—earning him far more recognition in the national middleweight picture than ever before. Even Robinson said later: "That fellow probably will be the next middleweight champ."

The Olson-Robinson scrap was held in the Civic Auditorium, leaving the Cow Palace, scene of the forthcoming Calhoun bout, as the luckiest arena. He scored important wins over Robert Villemain, Joey Giambra, Joey Maxim, Rocky Castellani and Pierre Langlois—the last two in title defenses.

Calhoun, accompanied by comanagers Frank and Al Bachman and trainer, Freddie Brown, arrives in San Francisco today and will open local workouts Saturday at Dolph Thomas' Gym, 541 Turk street.

The BULLPEN

With JOHN J. CONNOLLY

Jimmy Davenport Busiest And Most Improved Rookie From The '58 Crop

CONNOLLY

The busiest man on the Giants squad, whether it be in Phoenix, Mesa, Scottdale, Tucson or Yuma, is the most inconspicuous. His name is James Davenport, third baseman, out of Siluria, Alabama, 26 years of age, a free lance dinner speaker, an undestudy to the "Great Mails" in the winter and, for all intents and purposes, the most improved infielder among the crop of rookies developed in 1958.

No one, except Davenport, seems to know who the 1959 regular third baseman for the Giants is going to be . . . Jimmy is sure. And make no mistake about it he doesn't say it in a whisper, either. He speaks frankly, boldly and openly invites competition. He's the one in a million kid, apple cheeked and with a slight trace of fuzz still on his cheeks.

Davenport fully appreciates his somewhat flimsy batting average of .253 last season, his first as a regular.

"I HAD ALL I could do to concentrate on my fielding. But this year I'm devoting more attention to my hitting," he says modestly, but firmly.

No youngster in camp at Phoenix is more dedicated to his third base assignment than Davenport.

"I know I have a scrap on my hands, but I'm prepared. The pace I set last year was too speedy and I weakened when I should have just been getting my second wind," Davenport declares. "I know now how to pace myself and I'm not getting tired or weak any more. From now on when I feel tired, I'll get mad and when I get mad I usually get what I want."

So there you have an inkling of what sort of a gent the Giants are "stuck with."

Owner Horace Stoneham and Manager Bill Rigney, both would be happier if Davenport could hit harder.

IN FACE Rigney has switched several of his infielders to covering third base, but none of 'em seems to make the steady work click.

They've tried Orlando Cepeda, Ed Bressoud, Ray Jablonski, Ben Valenzuela and even Danny O'Connell at the hot corner. But after a short whirl, Rigney goes back to Davenport, so I assume he is fairly well satisfied that Jimmy will be the regular when the gong opens in St. Louis.

Davenport is beginning his fourth year as a Giant hand. He began in 1955 with El Dorado and played in 105 games, batting .363. Then came Dallas, Minneapolis and finally the San Francisco Giants.

At Dallas Davenport hit .271 in 153 games and at Minneapolis .291 in 148 games.

Considering that Cepeda drove in 96 runs batting .312, it isn't too bad a report card for Jimmy who hit .256 to bat in 46 runs.

Davenport has power, for he clubbed 12 home runs and 22 doubles among his 111 hits.

JIMMY IS no shrimp either in size or in weight. He tips the beam at 165 soaking wet and stands 5 feet 11 inches.

There is a touch of refinement in Jimmy and a shy manner that is unusual for such a peppery infielder. But that, perhaps, is part of his campaign to go higher in baseball than just that of a player. I wouldn't be a bit surprised to someday see Davenport moving into the front office and doing some scouting, directing, or farm club bossing, or even taking a whirl at public relations work. Jimmy's sights are set higher than just as ball player. He has potential, as the inner office guys say.

New Team Added To Pony League In North Marin

North Marin Pony League Tuesday night accepted a team from Raphael Village, Loma Verde and Hamilton Air Force Base as the seventh team in the league.

Manager of the new outfit is Lt. Richard H. Zyzak of Raphael Village.

Other teams in the league include three from Novato, two from Santa Venetia and one from the Marinwood-Terra Linda area.

Play will open May 24. The league schedule is being drawn up by Steve Meuse, and will be adopted at a meeting of league managers March 26 at the home of Major Gordon R. Sorensen, league president, at 1380 Joyce street, Novato.

HANLEY'S REPORT

At 40 Sauer Still Top Clutch Hitter

By JACK HANLEY
I-J Correspondent

PHOENIX, Ariz. — For John Henry Sauer life may be just beginning at the ripe old age of 40, but Big Hank says "I couldn't enjoy it more."

He is starting his 23rd year in baseball, his 15th in the majors and his third with the Giants, but No. 6 on the Giant roster isn't looking backward or even inclined to make more than a passing comment about the bygone years.

Sauer, a thorough-going realist, states it this way:

"What's the percentage in looking backward. All that can give you is a pain in the neck. No boss is interested in what you did several years ago. He is only concerned with what you are doing today. And that's the way it should be."

And what is Sauer doing today? He still is the kind of power hitter any club would like to have in a tight pinch-hit situation. An old pro, Sauer never freezes at the plate. Somehow he manages to put his big 6-foot-3½-inch frame to very useful work in clutch situations.

His bases-loaded, pinch-hit homer in the eighth inning against the Chicago Cubs a week ago was a flash of his 1952 form when he was the National League's most valuable player. That was Sauer's big year with 37 homers and 121 RBI's.

IN 1956 Sauer's career seemed to be reaching the end of the baseball trail. St. Louis released him. The Giants did not leave him long on the streets. They signed him and in 1957 he was the come-back-man of the year.

An even 40 on St. Patrick's Day, Sauer's Giant teammates surprised him with one of the largest birthday cakes ever seen in a Giant dressing room.

ANOTHER pleasing incident on his birthday, celebrated in Scottsdale where the Boston Red Sox clobbered the Giants for the third time in the Cactus League, was the fact that Ted Williams sought him out and ribbed him about being an old man.

"Everytime I pick up the paper I see where you are knocking another home run," Williams said. "You're an old man now. You shouldn't be doing that."

"I'm an old man?" Sauer ribbed right back. "Why, you have me in that category and you know it. You should be in that old timers celebration today."

Neither Williams, 41, nor Sauer took bows when real old-time baseball greats were introduced before the third Boston-Giant game. Among them were Ty Cobb, Lefty O'Doul, Art Nehf, Jimmy Foxx, Rudy York, Dutch Ruether and others.

Nevertheless, Sauer was willing to take a bow with them provided Williams did. But Williams, who had taken fielding and batting practice with the Red Sox team, did not appear on the field thereafter.

SAUER REALIZES that his playing days are nearing a close. He won't like it when he must retire No. 6 permanently. A fine golfer, who plays from scratch, he has given some thought to the possibility of becoming a teaching golf pro.

But his first love still is baseball and because he does have an adept way in advising and counseling young players on the Giant team, the president of the Giant organization, Horace Stoneham, may have other plans for him.

Sauer could wind up as a coach or a manager in the Giant organization. He believes it to be the best in baseball and as for the boss, Stoneham, Sauer says "He's just like another baseball player."

THE BIG STRETCH — Bruno Boin (22), at right, of the Buchan Bakers from Seattle goes high to regain a rebound in the AAU championships at Denver yesterday. Cliff Daniels (44) of the Marine Corps finds Boin a bit too tall and loses the ball. Other Seattle players are Arthur Day (33) and Charles Brown (20). The Marines upset favored Seattle by 63-62. See story below. (AP Wirephoto)

S.F. Battles Denver In Quarterfinal

DENVER (AP)—The co-favorites, Peoria and Denver, are still in the running as the 52nd national AAU Basketball Tournament hits the quarter-final stage tonight.

Peoria's defending champions pushed aside McPherson, Kan., 106-59, and Denver purred by Chicago 99-85 in yesterday's second round.

The U.S. Marine All-Stars overturned Seattle 63-62, and the Army All-Stars shot down favored Akron, Ohio, 88-71, in two form reversals.

The Army sharpshooters battle Peoria in tonight's first quarter-final. Denver plays the San Francisco Olympic Club which nipped the U.S. Air Force All-Stars 72-70.

The Marines face Bartlesville, Okla., which scrambled a rocky road to an 82-76 triumph over Louisville, Ky. Wichita, an impressive 99-68 victor over the Navy All-Stars, meets the tournament darkhorse in Baton Rouge, La.

The Louisiana club scooted by Milwaukee 90-75.

Bob Blake got the basket which gave the San Francisco team its decision over the Air Force. With the score tied at 70-70, the Californians swept down the floor for a last shot by Ron Tomsic, who contributed 34 points. Tomsic's shot rolled off the rim, but Blake rammed it in on the rebound.

Small Yacht Racing Assn. Announces 7-Race Schedule

By BETTY FROST

Small Yacht Racing Assn., youngest of the Bay Area's racing organizations, framed 1959 plans at a recent meeting held at the San Francisco Yacht Club, Belvedere.

Chairman Harry Jacobs of Mill Valley conducted the business meeting, which was attended by representatives of the Aeolian, Corinthian, Richmond, Sausalito, St. Francis and San Francisco yacht clubs.

A seven-race champion season was adopted. All races will start at noon. This is the schedule, noting dates, scene of the action, and sponsoring clubs:

June 28, Raccoon Straits, San Francisco Yacht Club;

July 5, Richmond, Aeolian and Metropolitan Y. C.;

July 26, Raccoon Straits, Corinthian Y. C.;

August 2, Richmond, Richmond Y. C.;

August 9, Richardson Bay, Sausalito Y. C.;

August 30, Richardson Bay, Sausalito Y. C.;

October 11, San Francisco, St. Francis Y. C.

The organization, which gives intermediate class boats a racing schedule on the Bay's deep waters, has attracted participants in the Star, 110, Zephyr, Mercury, Clipper, BB-11, and Dragon classes. This year the Mermaid class, with 12 boats registered, will be added to the keel boat racers.

Don Urquhart of Mill Valley continues as recorder. Urquhart, whose services to Small Yacht Racing Assn. have been widely recognized, has served the young SYRA as recorder since its organization in 1957. Frank Miszkowski of Mill Valley is SYRA secretary.

Signups Tomorrow Night For Novato

Novato youths who missed the early signups for Little League play will be given another chance to register tomorrow night, it was announced today.

League officials said they will signup the 8-12-year-olds at Druids Hall starting at 8 o'clock Friday night. Each boy must present proof of age and be accompanied by a parent. Each family will be required to pay a $3 registration fee to help cover costs of the Novato Little League.

Bill Russell & Co. Hot As Celts Win Playoff Opener

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Boston's "terrific trio" of Tommy Heinsohn, Bob Cousy and Bill Russell gave advance notice today that the Celtics are bent on regaining the National Basketball Assn. championship.

Heinsohn scored 28 points, Cousy counted 22 plus 15 assists, and Russell grabbed 32 rebounds and 19 points last night as the Celtics routed the Syracuse Nationals, 131-109, in the opener of their best-of-seven Eastern Division final playoffs.

Minneapolis reached the Western Division finals against defending St. Louis last night by defeating Detroit, 129-102, in the deciding game of their semi-final series.

Experts expect Boston and St. Louis to meet in the title round for the third straight year. The Western Division finals open in St. Louis on Saturday.

Rookie Elgin Baylor, pivotal figure in the Laker spurt to a playoff berth this year, scored 30 points to eliminate the Pistons from the post-season classic. Minneapolis, however, will have to be a "Cinderella" team to knock off the Hawks, who beat the Lakers in eight of 12 games during the campaign.

Plenty Of Easter Week Events; Marin Skier Wins At Sugar Bowl

If this lovely spring weather continues, next week in the Sierras will be an exceptionally good week of Easter ski activities.

The Sugar Bowl on Highway 40 has scheduled an Eagle Standard Race on Sunday, Guest Slalom on Wednesday and the sixth annual Sugar Bowl Family Race on Friday for all to enter. Events on the calendar for the youngsters include a Junior Obstacle Race on Monday, Three Legged Race on Tuesday, Annual Easter Village Langlauf Race on Thrusday, and the Sugar Bowl Junior Championships, FWSA for junior classes I, II and III, on Saturday.

Climaxing the week's activities will be the Torchlight Parade down Mt. Disney Saturday evening, and Easter Sunday the Easter Egg Hunt for children 10 and under, Annual Walt Disney Perpetual Trophy Race for children 11 and under, and the Easter Bonnet Parade on the Lodge porch at noon.

There is an average six-foot snow pack at Sugar Bowl and temperatures range from 26 to 65 degrees. Skies have been clear and skiing is good to excellent on all runs with all lifts and ropetows operating.

KRAMER HERZOG of San Rafael won first place in the boys' division of the Sugar Bowl Ski Club Championships last Sunday.

Other Marin skiers at the Sugar Bowl last weekend were Doug Herst and Charlie Evans of Ross, Terri and Angela Ford of Corte Madera, and Mark Hall, Stan Goldsmith, Robert and Willie Newhause of San Rafael.

SHELDON VARNEY, Tahoe school teacher, won the Snowshoe Thompson Memorial Cross-Country race last weekend for the fourth time at Echo Summit. The original course was changed from Edelweiss-Heavenly Valley to Echo Summit Ski Area-Edelweiss-Echo Summit-Edelweiss because of lack of snow on the eastern slopes of the Summit.

IN THE Heavenly Valley-Tahoe area last weekend were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Shotwell of San Rafael, Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Shimmin of Mill Valley and Linda Young of Kentfield.

Jeanne Snyder, Jane Felmlee, Ann Gannon and Gayle Charles of Dominican College skied at Peddlers Hill . . . Thelma and Stan George of San Rafael spent a week at Squaw Valley . . . the E. D. Robin family of San Anselmo and Gordon Brown of Kentfield skied at Dodge Ridge, and Kim Layton of San Anselmo skied at Squaw Valley.

THE NORTHERN team of Herb Blatt, Lewis Fellows, Al Grismer, Roger Crist, Joe Aukenthaler, Jack Turturici, Larry Dangel, Rusty Crook, Chris Berg, Bob Beattie, Jim Nicklos, Hal Roberts, Terry Schwegler, Pat Nast, Ruth Anderson and Sonja McCaskie beat the southern team for the third time in the fourth annual running of the grudge race held at Yosemite last weekend.

DeMAESTRI IS A's REGULAR S.S. AGAIN

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—It's still three weeks before the baseball season starts, and the Kansas City Athletics lineup is virtually set.

This is in sharp contrast to the club's three previous years.

The outfield is set with Bob Cerv in left field, Bill Tuttle in center and Roger Maris in right. Ex-catcher Hal Smith has nailed down third base and Joe DeMaestri of San Anselmo, Calif., will open at short. Harry Chiti and Frank House will share the catching.

There's still a scramble for the right to start at first and second base. Veteran Hector Lopez has an edge at second over Wayne Terwilliger. At first, it's a wide open scrap between Harry Simpson, Preston Ward, Dick Williams and rookie Kent Hadley. Simpson is regarded as the leading candidate.

TRUCK CRASHES THREE HOUSES — Unidentified man tries to comfort Richard Glenn Hubbard, Marin County Jail work furlough prisoner, as Hubbard lies on floor of San Francisco basement after truck he was driving (background) lost its brakes and rolled down Rivera street hill. The truck crashed three houses, going completely through one basement. (AP Wirephoto)

Runaway Truck, Marinite Aboard, Crashes Through 3 Houses In S.F.

A runaway truck, with a work-furloughed Marin County Jail prisoner at the wheel, crashed through three houses as it careened down a San Francisco hill late yesterday.

The driver, Richard Glenn Hubbard, 32, of 90 Porteous avenue, Fairfax, was reported in "fair" condition today at Marin General Hospital. He suffered several rib fractures, a fracture of the lower left leg, and extensive cuts and bruises.

The crashing truck did damage to the three homes which San Francisco police estimated at $15,000.

Hubbard's employer, Dennis Holtzinger of 39 Karl street, San Anselmo, co-owner of the H. Holtzinger Grading and Excavating Co., was in the cab with Hubbard when the truck started its roll down the Riviera street hill in Golden Gate Heights. He leaped out and suffered only minor injuries.

Hubbard was serving 100 days in the Marin County Jail for writing a bad check and making a false report of a vehicle theft. He was to complete the sentence March 31.

He drew 10 days for passing a fraudulent check, drawn on a Sausalito bank. He was given 90 days for falsely reporting that his car was stolen after he wrecked it against a utility pole in Tiburon in January. The sentences were to run consecutively.

He was placed under the work furlough program to enable him to support his present wife and two children, plus three children of a former wife. He obtained work driving a dirt-hauling truck for the Holtzinger company. Each day, he left the jail at 7 a.m. to report for work. Each night he returned to his cell.

Yesterday, he reported for work as usual and was assigned to an excavation project on Golden Gate Heights.

Everything went along routinely until about 3:30 p.m. Then the truck suddenly went out of control.

As Hubbard vainly pumped the brake pedal, the heavy vehicle, loaded with dirt, crashed into the garage of the home of Mrs. Bertha Jew at 501 Rivera street. It smashed a portion of the garage wall, and rolled on into Fifteenth street. Mrs. Jew and several children were inside the house, but were not hurt.

Holtzinger jumped. With Hubbard still clinging to the steering wheel, the truck slammed into the residence of John Lanfear at 2207 Fifteenth street. It lumbered clear through the basement, emerging festooned with broken electric wires and twisted pipes.

Witnesses said Hubbard jammed the truck into low gear to slow it down. But it wouldn't stop.

It went through the basement wall of a third house, that of Joe Francisco at 2211 Fifteenth street, finally halting against the wall of Francisco's basement rumpus room.

Seconds before the truck crashed against the Franciscos' basement wall, Hubbard jumped. He was unable to get clear. He struck a 4-by-4 inch post inside the basement and was dragged and twisted as the truck rolled on.

Police picked Hubbard off the litter-strewn basement floor and an ambulance took him to Park Emergency Hospital. Later he was transferred to Marin General Hospital. Holtzinger received emergency treatment at Park Hospital.

Rates Hiked For Kaiser Health Plan

An increase in rates of the Kaiser Foundation Health Plan amounting to an average of $1.80 per month per family was announced today by officials of the plan.

The Kaiser Foundation operates a medical clinic in San Rafael. Its hospitals are in San Francisco, South San Francisco, Oakland, Walnut Creek, Richmond and Vallejo.

"Steadily climbing costs of medical care" was cited as the reason for the increase.

In the standard coverage, dues for individual subscribers will go up from $5.50 to $6.55 per month; for subscriber plus one dependent, from $10 to $11.95; for subscriber plus two or more dependents, from $13.20 to $15.55.

QUITE A BIRTHDAY

It Was Fine St. Pat's Day For Young Flier

St. Patrick's Day is a special day for the Irish, and this year's St. Pat's day was an exceptionally fine day for John Garland (Butch) Taylor, who is a sophomore at San Rafael High School.

It was his birthday, his 16th, which also happens to be the minimum age for obtaining an airplane pilot's license. And that is just what he did.

Butch put his studies aside and flew to Sacramento, accompanied by his father, John W. Taylor of 675 Calle Arboleda, Ignacio, who also has a pilot's license.

There he took the written, oral and air tests, passing with flying colors.

Butch started flying at the age of 14 and has been taking instruction from George K. Matley of San Anselmo.

Butch's birthday was topped off when he returned home to learn that he and Mike Casselman of San Rafael had won a prize in the Marin County Science Fair with their wind tunnel model.

Hub Master Plan

Planning consultant James M. Campbell will meet with the San Anselmo Planning Commission for a work session on the city's master plan on March 26 at 8 p.m. in the city hall.

Almonte Club Hears 3 Fire Candidates

Members of the Almonte Improvement Club last night heard comments from all three candidates for a post on the Tamalpais Valley Fire District board in the April 7 election.

The three are incumbent Raymond J. Massagli, Wayne D. (Bill) Ellis and William Mibach.

The members named Patrick Price to a directorship, succeeding Jerome F. Downs, resigned.

Panel Moderator

Stephen C. Bruff of Novato, an instructor at College of Marin, moderated a panel discussion at last Saturday's annual meeting of the National Assn. of Geology Teachers, Far Western Section, at the University of California at Davis. Bruff is vice president of the section.

Teeners' Opinion On Dances Sought

Directors of the Strawberry Recreation District last night decided to conduct a survey among seventh, eighth and ninth graders of the district to determine interest in resuming Friday night teen-age dances.

District president L. J. (Budd) Smith said the plan would involve professional instruction at the dances, with a party to be held periodically.

Directors also discussed the summer recreation program which will again have College of Marin coach Cal Riemcke as director. Smith said the program would run about six weeks, with dates yet to be set.

Smith said about 150 boys are signed in the Little League and 35 in the Pony League for summer play.

Dance At Hamilton To Honor Academy

Hamilton Air Force Base officers' daughters who became 17 since last March had something special to look forward to. They became eligible to receive bids to the dance given in honor of the Air Force Academy Class of 1962. They have been included among the more than 300 young ladies aged 17-22 (matching the cadets' ages) from Marin and surrounding areas who received the invitation: "Commanding Officer Hamilton Air Force Base cordially requests the pleasure of your company—" tomorrow night at the Officers' Club at Hamilton.

The Hamilton girls, daughters of officers of other military installations nearby, and their friends make up the nucleus of the guest list. Others are coming at the specific request of cadets whose homes are in the area, and still others from schools in the vicinity. Lt. Robert W. Dobrowolski was assigned as project officer to invite the girls.

All Officers' Club members are sponsoring the dance and club officer Capt. William C. Webb has engaged an orchestra from San Francisco for dancing, and comedian Jack La Delle for entertainment.

Hosts for the evening will be Maj. Gen. and Mrs. Hugh A. Parker, Brig. Gen. and Mrs. E. L. Tucker, Brig. Gen. and Mrs. Curtis R. Low, Col. and Mrs. James H. Bearly, Col. and Mrs. Howard A. Cheney, Col. and Mrs. George F. Ceuleers, and Lt. Col. and Mrs. John M. Ballew.

LOOKING OVER the invitation to the dance in honor of the freshman class of the Air Force Academy to be held tomorrow evening at the Officers' Club of Hamilton Air Force Base are, left to right, Mary Beth Garrison, Patricia Wright, Karen Woodman and Carol Robertson.

MODELING dresses they will wear at the dance are Carol Robertson and Mary Beth Garrison. The Hamilton girls and daughters of officers of nearby military installations make up the nucleus of the guest list.

Rodef Sholom Will Stage Theater Party

A gala Theater Party will highlight the 1959 activities of the Women's Auxiliary of Temple Rodef Sholom on Wednesday, May 6, at the Sequoia Theater in Mill Valley.

The afternoon of fun will duplicate last year's successful format. It will include a fashion show revealing the newest in spring styles and a preview showing of a movie.

Mrs. Joseph Guterman, president of the group, has chosen Mrs. Mervyn Cohn to chairman the day. Assisting her will be Mesdames Joseph Arons, decorations, Abe Blumenfeld, refreshments, Wilfred Cohen, gifts, and Arnold Colton, ushers.

Mesdames Leo Strauss and David Cohn will co-chairmen the fashion show, which will feature styles selected by a San Francisco store.

The working committee-at-large also includes Mesdames Philander Beadle, Melvin Bleadon, Sidney Braverman, Joseph Cohen, Herman Cohn, Theodore Diller, Edward Goodman, Richard Harris, Steve Liggett, Kurt Rosenthal, David Rosenberg, Bert Rude, Sidney Rudy, Aaron Schwartz, Aaron Shenson, and Herbert Stark.

The Women's Auxiliary functions as a sisterhood to the young Jewish congregation, Temple Rodef Sholom, and has just completed its second year of service.

Women interested in attending the affair are asked to contact Mrs. Mervyn Cohn.

Junior Pink Ladies Attend Orientation

A special Orientation Class for Junior Pink Ladies of Marin General Hospital took place recently in the coffee shop at the hospital.

The unusual briefing was presented by Mrs. George Boyd and Mrs. Russell Chatham to the "Red Hot Y'ers" of Redwood High School, Marlene Asbell, Vicki Dufton and Jeanne Ongaro of Ross; Suzanne Girot, Cynthia Quick, Dorothy Wilson, Helen Wilson and Joan Wilson, all of San Rafael, and Pattie Patterson of San Anselmo.

Other Juniors who attended the class were Dona Billinghurst and Gail Garneri of San Rafael, Deanne Hensley and Nancy Orlandi of Mill Valley, and Susan Matteson of Kentfield.

One senior, Miss Sara Skinner of Sausalito, took the orientation prior to active in-service.

YWCA Directors Are Entertained At Verling Home

Members of the Marin YWCA board of directors and guests were invited to a recent tea at the home of board chairman Mrs. Kenneth W. Verling, 108 Woodland road, Kentfield.

Mrs. William E. McCormack, president of the San Francisco YWCA, Miss Mary S. Buchtel, executive director, and Mrs. Sallie N. Edwards, associate executive, discussed the progress of the YWCA in Marin County since its beginning two years ago. Miss Kaye Hunt, director of the Marin YWCA, presented the new program plans for spring.

Pouring tea for this affair were Mrs. Samuel Archibald of Ross, and Mrs. Frank Rice of Sausalito.

Guests included Mesdames T. J. Mellon, R. A. Galloway, and P. L. Fahrney of Kentfield; W. A. Hillhouse, Clyde Trudell, Clement McKaig of Sausalito; Albert J. Evers, Dan Dougherty, Balfour James and Albert Daniels of Ross; Rulon Brown of Terra Linda; Robert Agnew of Novato; and Hugh Middleton of San Rafael.

St. Rose Tour Planned April 11

The St. Rose House Tour will take place on Saturday, April 11, from 1 to 5 o'clock.

Houses on the tour include the Presidio Terrace home of Mrs. Joseph Alioto; the Marina Boulevard homes of Mesdames Rene Grialou and Harry Tocchini; the Pacific Heights home of Mrs. Robert Christian and the elegant apartment of Mrs. C. Harold Caulfield.

Tea will be served from 3 to 5 o'clock in the newly-acquirer Crocker home, Rose Court, at Pine and Pierce.

Both the Robert Christians and the Rene Grialous have summer residences in Marin County. Mrs. John N. Dicks is chairman; Mrs. John McCrystle is in charge of publicity and Mesdames Joseph Lopez and John Schaeffer and Miss Jeanette Bastiani are in charge of tickets.

Square Dance Party

The Mill Valley Folk Dancers' monthly party tonight will have a St. Patrick's theme with Irish music and dances planned by Mickey McGowan.

Everyone interested is invited to attend the party which begins at 8:15 p.m. at the Outdoor Art Clubhouse. Refreshments will be served.

Hostesses will be Mesdames Henriette Rush, Richard Bryant and W. J. McGowan.

Mrs. Jerrol Flood Will Address AAUW

"Project Pakistan-India-Ceylon" will be the topic of Mrs. Jerrol L. Flood when she addresses the International Relations section of the Marin Branch of the American Assn. of University Women Monday evening, March 23.

A member of this group, she is well qualified to speak on such a subject as she was sent to this area upon her graduation from the University of California in 1953. She was a member of a PIC team, a group of representative American students who with their advisers studied the social, cultural, economic and political patterns of the countries with the idea of furthering projects of friendship and aid. The aim of the team was for the students to live in the countries and bring back to the United States an understanding which might help in the easing of world tensions.

For a year after her return, Mrs. Flood addressed clubs and universities, interesting groups in the aims of PIC. Although now married and the mother of three children, she is still keeping up-to-date on the subject and will tell international relations section of the past five year's progress. She will illustrate her talk with slides she took while in Asia. All AAUW members are invited to the meeting, to be held at the home of Mrs. Emil Nelson, 6 Sierra circle, San Rafael.

Marin Women

Mt. Carmel Club Plans Family Dinner

"Italian Holiday" will be the theme for the Mt. Carmel Women's Club's family dinner to be served to parishioners and friends from 6 to 7:30 p.m., April 11 at the Mill Valley American Legion Hall.

Mrs. J. J. Rassella, awards chairman, announces that exceptionally worthwhile prizes to be offered during the evening are: a weekend for two in the fabulous Flamingo Hotel in Las Vegas, including roundtrip fare by plane from San Francisco; a dinner for four at Ondine's in Sausalito; and a nylon wool blanket.

Mrs. William Love, dinner chairman, will be assisted by Mesdames John Farnham, A. J. Almada, Frank Martinez, Claude Jones and the young girls of the CYO, who will help serve.

Taking reservations are Mesdames Keith Cramer and Carl Moore. Mrs. James Stinchcomb Jr. will be in charge of publicity.

Proceeds will go to the Mt. Carmel building fund.

At the last monthly meeting Mrs. John Larson made her report as a delegate to the third quarterly archdiocese conference of the National Council of Catholic Women held in San Mateo.

GUILD PLANS 'DAISY DOINGS' ON APRIL 15

April 15 is the date chosen by the St. Rita's Women's Guild for its annual luncheon and fashion show, at the Meadow Club. "Daisy Doings" is the theme, and Mrs. L. J. McCormick has been appointed general chairman. Mrs. Leo McClain will assist her.

Other chairmen include Mesdames Clyde Allyn, fashion show; Peter Helms, models; A. G. Niehaus, waitresses; Walter Sivori, decorations; Oscar Street, finance; Jack Hite, program; Albert Conta, hostesses: Charles Gnecco and James DeMartini, awards; and reservations will be taken by Mesdames Joseph A. Bianchini and William H. Behre.

AAUW Section Visits Studios In Sausalito

Members and guests of the Decorative Arts section of the AAUW recently spent the day in Sausalito where they visited artists' studios.

Mrs. Lothar Salin arranged the tour.

The group visited the David Cole Gallery, and the studios of Nan Fowler, Seige Trubach and Enid Foster.

The April 1 meeting of the section will be a panel discussion on "How to Select a Print."

West End P-TA Has Panel Program On Report Cards

At the regular March meeting of the West End P-TA, Dr. Mildred Barnard, director of instruction of the San Rafael Schools, moderated a panel discussion on report cards. Participants on the panel were Mrs. Daniel Turrentine, representing parents; Elmer Benedict, speaking from the teacher's point of view, and Lynda Anderson, sixth grade pupil who represented the pupil's standpoint.

Mrs. Marjorie Unruh's fourth grade class presented their program, "California Fiesta," with songs and dances depicting the days in early California history.

During the business meeting which preceded the program, Miss Edwina Codoni, principal, welcomed teachers from other schools who had come to hear the program. The meeting was turned over to Mrs. Avery McClurg, parliamentarian, and the following slate of officers was elected for the coming year:

Mrs. Richard Webster, president; Mrs. Douglas Godfrey, first vice president; Miss Codini, second vice president; Mrs. George Mezzera, secretary; Mrs. Bryce Anderson, treasurer, and Mrs. Louis Yuvan, historian.

Elected to the nominating committee to serve for one year were Mesdames John Macery, Reinhard, and Earl Dixon.

Fifth grade mothers were hostesses.

Fashion Focus Luncheon Guests Say 'Erin Go Braugh' Tuesday

St. Patrick would have been charmed with the gay "Shamrocks and Silhouettes" that paraded on Tuesday at Rickey's popular Fashion Focus luncheon before an appreciative audience of O'Toole's, O'Reilly's and a number of Smith's and Brown's!

"Erin go bragh" said Tuesday's honored guests, the members of the three Marin chapters of the Children's Home Society with 12 of their attractive group wearing the "Grace Graham Green" plus other enticing spring-into-summer country sportswear from Mrs. Graham's Kentfield shop.

The Jolly Roger, Peter Pan and Tom Thumb chapters work the year round along with 122 other auxiliaries throughout California to help raise the needed funds that assist the Children's Home Society in its wonderful adoption program, a work so rewarding that it truly makes all eyes to smile!

On Tuesday, carrying bouquets of spring flowers to accent the key color of their Grace Graham fashion, the pretty models enthusiastically answered questions as they modeled informally among the tables where guests could see and feel the luxury of a David. Crystal silk, the crispness of spring's sharkskin, the touch of cotton that feels like silk. They heard from Marion Bellamy, Fashion Focus coordinator, that everyone can find a fashion four leaf clover this spring.

COUNTRY COLLEEN

To keep a topknot as pretty as befits a country colleen, Penthouse Coiffures of Kentfield had created some important new spring hair fashions among them a spectacular double twist for the lovely long blonde hair of Mrs. Gerald Jampolsky; St. Patrick's Day make up magic for each model was planned by Gai Fleming.

Splashy shamrocks decorated the Rickey Smorgasbord with green flags flying to say "Erin go Bragh" as the fashion parade saluted St. Patrick with bold Kelly green and white fashions at beginning and end.

The Grace Graham "spring-into-summer silhouettes":

"Delicious Denims," the skirt a "tablecloth" check of blue and white, the long-line matching halter striped in white, the Jamaica's to mix or match as desired by Mrs. Ralph Natress. "The Silk Suit," green light to fashion success, David Crystal's sleek pure silk black town suit, the skirt slim and jacket a fitting detail to the figure of Mrs. E. M. Giles.

"Flower Song," Keynote shades from pink to red to maroon in dainty flowers splashed on white linen, the scooped neck piped in red, the whole slim and springlike for Mrs. Jampolsky.

"The White Coat," to win acclaim, white wool jersey, the new loose sleeve cropped at the elbow; the high empire belt buttoned over a matching wool jersey empired square neck sheath for Mrs. James Collins.

"The Silk Sheath," as elegant as its color, champagne, pure silk, the neck scooping front and back, the sleeves becomingly capped; Mrs. Walter Derr adding the Grace Graham touch, a voluminous full length chiffon stole delightfully polka dotted in varying greens.

"Joyous Jersey," easy on the upkeep, Gina of Italy's emerald two piece wool jersey, the skirt slim, the V-neck pullover banded in white stripes; Mrs. Rex Thompson topping it with Zolot's white knit mohair coat.

"Spring Separates," pink-pink and red-red delightfully combined; Sloat's red Moygashel linen detailed skirt with button trim; the shirt Lady Hathaway's imported cotton; the sweater, Braemer's elegant cashmere around the shoulders of Mrs. Douglas Faulkner.

CITY KNIT

"City Knit" sophisticated pleasure year round, black wool jersey knit, the elastiband at the waist for a becoming fit, the long tight sleeves and scooped neck becoming to Mrs. Andrew Ferrier.

"Garden Gadabout," how to be pretty while gardening answered by Mrs. Thomas Carson hidden head to toe in coveralls of khaki sailcloth, the paisley print flowers roaming the scene; a saucy straw hat and hoe her accents.

"Shirtmaker Standout," slick white sharkskin, the unpressed pleats a significant addition plus Mrs. David Ring and one boldly shocking striped cummerbund.

"Breezy Blazer," and blazing red to team with navy and white checked pleated skirt plus a white silk blouse and Roger Van S. navy calf belt, Mrs. Joseph Huffaker, blazing the Grace Graham trail.

"Spring Short Story," to miss the knee of Mrs. Phillip Hoehn, sleek white sharkskin Jamaica's, pin striped in coral.

"AUSTRALIA" was represented by Brownie Troop No. 24 of Strawberry Point School when it observed World Friendship Day recently in the multi-purpose room of the school. "The Foolish Koala" was the play presented carrying out the Australian Aboriginal legends that the koala bear could speak like a human being but was unpopular with the other creatures of the forest because he bragged so much. In the cast were (left to right) first row: Barbara Lischeske, Sandra Sonne, Sherry Partridge, Carol Drolla; second row: Rebecca Galloway, Brenda Newman, Sandra Ratto, Linda Chaffin, Peggy Jordan, Patsy Tierney, Annette Green, Virginia Ness and Phyllis Blaha. Gaye Marchini was absent.

TO HONOR SISTERS

Loretto Chapter To Conduct Annual Reunion On Sunday

Marin Chapter, Loretto International, will hold its annual reunion on Sunday, beginning with Mass at the Mission San Rafael Arcangel at 8:30 a. m. Rev. John Ferguson, S. J., will be celebrant.

The chapter has again invited Sister Ternetia and Sister Alexander to be their honor guests at this annual reunion.

Breakfast will follow at Deer Park Villa.

Mrs. Kenneth Ritchie has again assumed chairmanship for this event, and will be assisted by Mrs. John Pattocchi, Mrs. Dorothy Barton, Miss Elizabeth Irwin, Miss Carmel and William Marelli.

An invitation is extended to all former students of the Sisters of Loretto to attend. Anyone wishing to make reservations may call any member of the committee, or send their reservation to Marin Chapter, L. I., P.O. Box 458, Fairfax.

Marin Chapter is composed of former students taught by the Sisters of Loretto. These attended St. Anselm's Grammar and High School during the years 1926 to 1937. However, if there are any persons in Marin who are alumni of any of the Loretto Schools throughout the country or China, they are most cordially invited to join the Marin Chapter in this annual celebration, which is held in honor of the feast of the Sisters, the Feast of the Seven Dolors, which is on the Friday of Passion Week.

Missed greatly will be the late Sister Mary Stephen who was one of the teachers at St. Anselm's. She went from there to China to teach and with the other members of her mission was interned by the Japanese during World War II. In failing health she returned to this country and was at the Motherhouse in Nerinx, Ky., where she died a few months ago.

AT THE FIRST PRESBYTERIAN Church in San Rafael Marjorie Ann Futrell and Edwin Duane Stewart exchanged marriage vows. The newlyweds are now residing in Corte Madera. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Futrell of Novato are parents of the bride. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Joy Stewart of Corte Madera.

'Backstage Wives' Are Playing Diversified Roles For Comedy

"Backstage wives" are playing very important and diversified roles for the comedy "The Velvet Glove" to be presented April 9, 10 and 12 in St. Raphael's auditorium under the sponsorship of St. Raphael's Mothers' Guild.

As stage manager Frieda Turrini not only has the responsibility of seeing that the set is properly "rigged" and "all hands are on deck" to "man their battle stations" but she wields a mean and efficient hammer to boot! Both she and her assistant, Inez Nunes, double as "hostessses with the mostest" during rehearsals as they serve coffee to cast and crew during rehearsal breaks. The even spread their maternal wings to the extent that they serve hot chocolate to director Ursula McCarthy who is expecting her seventh child opening night of the play. Drama backstage as well as on!

Hovering like true shepherds over their flock are the reliable prompters Pat Bradley and Marian Grady. They "feed their sheep" by giving lines quickly and softly to the actors and actresses as nervous tension mounts within them as opening night approaches.

AT HOME

Making the thespian nuns and priests feel "at home" on stage is the challenging job of scene designer Elsie Nevin who has created a very authentic and attractive study of Reverend Mother's which is the locale of the comedy.

Finding, securing, and placing just the right properties in the right place on stage to enhance the authenticity of the convent setting is the demanding role of Captain Mina Costin. A "proverbial needle in a haystack" challenge for her and her assistant Petrinella Luchetti is the very small but important property . . . a Phi Beta Kappa key!

Transforming two members of the cast into very old people with wrinkles, pouches, shadows is the special talent of make-up artist Denise Cerutti.

Authentic robes for the Bishop and the elderly Monsignor are the creative contribution of Mrs. James M. Costin and Mrs. George Hermann.

With a view to making each performance of "The Velvet Glove" an entertaining and enjoyable evening Marjorie Butterworth and Virginia Snyder have arranged for a regular concession stand for each performance of the play.

In charge of usherettes with experience in smiling graciousness is Yvonne Vattuone. The attractive concert size programs of professional calibre are the creation of Pat Bradley.

Like fairy godmothers, production chairman Shirley Vanderbilt and her assistant Barbara Curtin hover over all their backstage wives, soothing and protecting the happy family that is excitedly engaged these weeks in the ever fascinating life of "show business."

MOTHER HEN

And like a true mother hen director Ursula McCarthy coaxes, leads, entices, commands when necessary her enthusiastic actors and actresses to reach their full potential of talent so that the audiences may refresh themselves in experiencing the joys of "The Velvet Glove," the Christopher award winning comedy by Rosemary Casey.

Tickets for the three performances on April 9, 10 and 12th are available at the following stores in San Rafael: Cottage Book Shop, Modern Eve, Charlie's Market, Dominican College Book Store, and Rossi and Hook Signal Service, 902 Irwin street; in Fairfax, St. Rita's Library; in Mill Valley, Mt. Carmel Library and Dimitroff's; and at Marin Catholic High School in Greenbrae. Those who would like to purchase by mail may send their check payable to St. Raphael's Mothers' Guild to Mrs. Gene O'Connor, 150 Forbes avenue, San Rafael. Tickets will be sent you upon receipt of your check. Further information regarding tickets may be had by calling Mrs. Guido Scotto.

Marin Terrace P-TA To Hold Spring Festival

Saturday, April 11 was the date selected for Marin Terrace Parent-Teacher Assn.'s spring festival at the recent meeting in the school, and Mill Valley District superintendent of schools gave the last in a series of talks on the philosophy of education.

Mrs. Paul White, president, appointed as committee heads for the festival Mesdames Jack Martin and J. B. Norall, booths; Robert Adams, games; Stephen Smith and Ervin Cox, refreshments; and Raymond Kemp, decorations and publicity.

Elected by unanimous approval of the slate of officers submitted by Mrs. Earl Reinke's nominating committee were Mesdames J. F. Young, president; J. H. Hemingway, vice president; Ada E. Gurney, secretary; Jaenne Ross, treasurer; G. R. Smiley, auditor; and W. O. Grimstead, historian.

According to McConnell, the only way to reduce school taxes is through an informed citizenry being interested enough to support good government and a wise fiscal policy. A question and answer period concluded the evening.

A social hour preceded the meeting, with Mrs. Grimstead serving refreshments.

IMPRESSIVE RITES

Judith Angier Wed To Naval Officer

It was a wedding in the finest tradition of the United States Navy when Judith Angier, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Angier of Belvedere, became the bride of Lt. (j.g.) Bruce Obbink, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Obbink of Berkeley recently at the Mill Valley Community Church.

As the young couple left the church following the noon ceremony they walked beneath an arch of crossed swords, held by the ushers, who wore Navy white dress uniforms.

Judith, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a white satin and lace gown with a train. The bodice and long sleeves were of lace and the neckline scalloped. An elbow length veil fell from a coronet of white satin sprinkled with pearls. The bride carried a shower bouquet of Eucharist lilies and lilies-of-the-valley.

The church was decorated with white stock, tulips and carnations and there were white tapers in the candelabra. The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Gordon L. Foster.

Attending the bride as maid of honor was Miss Elizabeth Fey and as matron of honor, Mrs. Bruce Barrie, both of San Mateo. Bridesmaids were the Misses Jennifer Mills of Berkeley, Jean Woyciehowsky of San Mateo, Gail Fitzgerald of San Carlos, Susan O'Brien of Philadelphia and Joy Webb of San Mateo. All wore emerald green chiffon ballerina length gowns styled with bouffant skirts, cowl necklines and three-quarter length sleeves. They had matching bows on their hair and carried white tulips and hyacinths.

The reception, which was attended by 250 guests, was held in the Veranda Room of the "Lurline" on which the bride and bridegroom were sailing for the Hawaiian Islands where he is station by the Navy. He is an aviator.

The three tiered wedding cake was decorated with bells on the top tier and heirloom figures of Dresden, double gold rings and two white doves. Miss Barbara Hill of San Mateo was in charge of the guest book.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Angier wore a Dior blue ribbon knit with matching accessories and pink orchids. The bridegroom's mother chose a dress of champagne lace with matching accessories and wore beige and brown orchids.

Judith attended San Mateo High School, the College of Marin and is a graduate of the San Francisco Dental Nurses School. She has been employed by Dr. Maurice M. Glazer of Belvedere. Her maternal grandmother is Mrs. Gussie Sollars of Belvedere and her paternal grandmother is Mrs. Nettie Angier of Carmel.

Bruce's best man was his brother Lee Obbink of Berkeley. Ushering were Lt. Carl Cook, Lt. (jg) Norman Mueller and Ensign Ronald Findley, all of Honolulu and Lt. (jg) Douglas Denton, Lt. (jg) William Smith and Lt. (jg) Neil Knott, all of Alameda.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Central Missouri State where he was affiliated with Sigma Tau Gamma. His paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Obbink of Lincoln, Neb., and his maternal grandmother is Mrs. J. W. Mills of Berkeley.

The engagement of the couple was announced last December at the home of the bride's parents.

The new Mr. and Mrs. Obbink will be at home to friends at Ewa Beach, Hawaii.

Marin Women

Musical Program Held By Mothers Of Nursery School

A fun-filled musical evening was enjoyed by the Mothers of the San Anselmo Co-op Nursery School at their recent meeting at the College of Marin.

Mrs. James Glen Carlson of the Creative Music School gave a demonstration performance on the banjo, guitar, recorder and autoharp.

The evening was highlighted by an impromptu performance by Mrs. Robert Cooper on the autoharp showing how easily one can be played. A five tone autoharp was donated to the nursery school by Mrs. William B. Lewis, member of the nursery school's advisory board.

Mrs. Carlson rounded the evening out with a question and answer period and recommended a few good books on music such as "How to Bring up your Child to Enjoy Music" by Howard Taubman and Margaret Sheehy's "Music in Children."

New Officers Named By West Novato P-TA

Officers for the coming year were presented at a recent meeting of the West Novato P-TA.

Mrs. Patrick Owens was named president with Mrs. James Studley, first vice president; Don Wineland, second vice president; and Mesdames Paul Henerlau, secretary; Thomas Masterson, treasurer; George Vierra, auditor and Fred Babo, historian.

A play was presented by Miss Mary Westwood's fourth grade class and the Board of Trustees was presented.

Creamed Crab

Creamed crab makes a delicious sauce to serve over tender green asparagus stalks for a special luncheon or supper dish. Add a little instant minced onion and California white dinner wine for fine flavor. A salad of orange and Calavo avocado slices with a tangy French dressing will make an excellent accompaniment.

Coleman P-TA Has Style Show

The handmade look and homespun touch were absent at the recent fashion show staged by the Coleman School P-TA in the cafeteria of San Rafael High School.

Mrs. John Chapman was chairman of the show. Decor included quince blossoms and miniature dolls and trees in silver. The dolls were featured at work on miniature sewing machines.

Mrs. Chapman was assisted in general planning by co-ordinators Mesdames Kenneth Walkmeister, Charles Strom and Ralph Markey.

Models were Carol Scovill, Debra Burns, Susan Burns, Mrs. Jack Ghilardi Nancy Nelson, Nan Grimes, Diane Grimes, Jane Walkmeister, Kirsten Walkmeister, Pamela Ghilardi, Nancy Colombo, Mrs. George Cary, Nancy Cary, Mrs. Kenneth Walkmeister. Mrs. R. J. Krugman, Lynn Krugman, Wendy Strom, Mrs. Chapman, Robin Rogers, Mrs. Ragnar Thaning, Mrs. Richard McGinnis, Theresa McGinnis, Patricia Bruck, Mrs. Kergan Bruck, Susan Clayton, Connie Clayton, Susan Woodbury, Rhea Budd, Carol Budd, Mrs. Ralph Markey, Mr. and Mrs. William Allen, Nancy Dorking.

Mrs. Albert Goldberg served as narrator and Mrs. Alfred Thomson was at the piano.

Cake and coffee were served by Mrs. George Melanson, tea hostess, and Mesdames Irving Blabon and T. Robert Nelson.

Cub Scout Den 7 opened the show with the flag ceremony. Installed as new officers of the P-TA are Mesdames Alfred Thomson, president; George Melanson, first vice president; Anne Philbert, second vice president; Chester Sipkin, secretary, and Richard Albert, treasurer.

'Woman's Place' Theme For AAUW

"A Woman's Place" is the provocative theme chosen for the monthly meeting of the Mill Valley Branch, American Assn. of University Women, according to Mrs. Milton J. Kodmur, March program chairman.

The meeting will be held Tuesday at 8 p.m. in the home of Mrs. Harry T. Magill of Mill Valley.

Development of the program theme will be accomplished by the evaluation of four current books.

"Mrs. Bridge," the new novel by Evan O'Conner, will be reviewed by Mrs. A. Robbins Whittlesey, while Jade Snow Wong's "The Fifth Chinese Daughter" will be discussed by Mrs. Norman Hammersley.

Mrs. Leonard Downing has chosen "The Natural Superiority of Women" by Ashley Montague for review, and "The Art of Loving" by Erich Fromm will be criticized by Mrs. Alfred F. Kerr.

The books deal primarily with contributions women can make and were selected by members of the branch book study group meeting monthly under the leadership of Mrs. Kodmur.

Brownies Have Party At Deer Park School

The Fairfax-San Geronimo Valley neighborhood of Brownies participated in a recent "Brownie World Friendship Party" at the Deer Park School in Fairfax. Mrs. James Tovatt acted as chairman.

A program of songs and dances in German, English and French were presented by the six participating groups.

Troops included 234 with Mrs. J. Kay Schneider as leader; 268, Mrs. Stanley Schriebman, leader; 28, Mrs. Alfred Schultz, leader; 255, Mrs. Robert Seeba, leader; 10, Mrs. Robert Moyle, leader, and 136, Mrs. Rosemary Magnus, leader.

Linda Gillespie was mistress of ceremonies.

Park School P-TA Elects Officers

Mrs. Harold Jolley was elected to succeed Mrs. Norman Ortman as president of the Mill Valley Park School Parent-Teacher Assn. at the meeting held recently at the school.

Others elected were Mesdames Robert Graver, first vice president; Steven Cook, second vice president; W. E. Casterson, secretary; and Robert Andresen, treasurer.

For the program a film entitled "3 R's Plus" was introduced by Mill Valley School District Superintendent Robert McConnell, with explanations done by Dr. Logan Miles, director of instruction for the Mill Valley School District.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Robert Knapp and her hospitality committee while questions were written for discussion and answer by the panel composed of McConnell, Miles and Leo Edson, Park School principal.

Arthur H. Hartig Feted On Birthday

To honor her husband's birthday which is on St. Patrick's Day, Mrs. Arthur H. Hartig of Little Reed Heights invited a number of friends and neighbors for cocktails on Saturday night.

Much admired by the guests was a new rock garden which has recently been added to the back area. The most popular spot during the evening was around the organ which the Hartigs have recently installed and which was played by Mrs. Audrey Gosser, one of the guests.

Among the guests were Dr. and Mrs. William Edwards Sr., of San Rafael and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Salamon, Mrs. William Moran and Charles Busekit of San Francisco.

Miss Helen Hartig and Miss Linda Menke assisted with the serving.

Sale In Lagunitas Set

St. Cecilia's Women's Club is holding its annual rummage sale at the Parish Hall in Lagunitas on April 18. Members are now collecting articles for it and anyone wishing to donate is asked to contact Mrs. Donald Pederson of Woodacre, chairman, or members of her committee.

SEVEN DECADES

St. Stephen's Guild Tour Will Be Event Of April 30

"Seven Decades of Homes in Belvedere" will be the theme of the annual house tour of St. Stephen's Guild which this year will be held Thursday afternoon, April 30. The earliest decade to be represented will be the 1890's when the first building boom occurred in the area. The other homes to be shown will represent subsequent years ending with a modern home built during the current construction climb. Hostesses at the six homes will wear fashionable gowns from each period.

Wealthy San Franciscans built their holiday retreats on Belvedere Island 60 years ago and their homes were of the Victorian and Edwardian period which featured luxurious comfort, country style. Today Belvedere is no longer an island and the homes for the commuting San Franciscans reflect modern convenience, suburban style.

The homes to be shown to represent this transition will soon be announced by Mrs. Harold Fletcher, tour chairman. This year's tour should have special appeal for students of architecture and period decor and local historians as well as the house tourist. Reservations may be made by calling Mrs. Thomas Wark of Belvedere or Mrs. George Stephens of Keil Cove, Tiburon.

Transportation from the village green will be provided and is being planned by Mrs. Robert Kirchmann and Captain H. Nordmark Williams.

Tea will be served during the afternoon at the San Francisco Yacht Club on the Belvedere Cove with Mrs. Chaylon Brown, Guild vice president, as hostess chairman.

College Women Will Attend Delta Gamma Meet, Auction

The Marin County Delta Gamma Alumnae will have as their guests at the Wednesday, March 25 meeting Judith Ann Crawford, Barbara Cushman, Virginia Gillis, Wendy Graupner, Martha Hurlbut, Lauralie Melland, Geraldine Solari, Carolyn Hoefer, Sheryll Illingworth, Nola Markey, Carol Martin, Wendy Robson, Katherine Solari, and Julie Williams.

These Marin County girls are attending West Coast colleges and will be enjoying a week away from studies during Easter vacation.

Mrs. Charles Wray's home in Novato will be the setting for this meeting and Silent Auction. Along with Mrs. Wray the co-hostesses for the afternoon will be Mesdames J. H. Smith Jr. and Skip Corley, and William H. McNamara. All Delta Gamma alumnae are invited. Please contact Mrs. Wray or Mrs. Peter Ribar of Kentfield for reservations.

Another highlight of the afternoon meeting will be information concerning the Founders' Day Reunion Luncheon to be held at San Jose, March 21, 22 and 23. The Gamma Eta Chapter of Delta Gamma is playing host this year and is inviting all Delta Gamma Alumnae to attend the 1959 Province XII Conference to be held at the chapter house.

Official To Visit Blythedale Rebekahs

Further plans for the official visit of Mrs. Charles Peterson, district deputy president of District 61, Rebekah Assembly of California, on April 9, were discussed at the recent meeting of Blythedale Rebekah Lodge 305 in the Mill Valley Odd Fellows Hall.

Also discussed was the 69th annual session of the Rebekah Assembly to be held in Long Beach May 18-22, for which Blythedale lodge will elect delegates at the March 26 meeting.

Committee chairman for the meeting was Mrs. Connie Ford, who was assisted by Mesdames Frank Gamble, Robert Gerrish and Susie Slape.

Stephens Alumnae

At the recent meeting of Northbay Alumnae of Stephens College at the home of Mrs. Robert M. Bramman in Marinwood, officers were nominated. Election will take place at the April meeting.

Sandwich Spread

Tired of the usual sandwich fillings? Try chopped tangy watercress, chopped ripe olives and lemon juice blended with softened cream cheese. Accent with a little salt and Tabasco sauce. Use as a spread for sandwiches or hors d'oeuvres.

William Stevensons Honored At Dinner

Honoring Mr. and Mrs. William Stevenson of Belvedere who are moving to Millbrae, the elders and deacons of the Westminster Presbyterian Church of Richardson Bay entertained at a dinner party at the Seafirth home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Benton Bostick Jr., recently.

Stevenson is an elder in the church and Mrs. Stevenson sings in the choir and has been active in the Sunday School.

Attending were the Rev. and Mrs. Forrest Youngquist and Messrs. and Mesdames Vernon Libby, Leslie Lippiatt, Claude Chapman, Charles Bigelow, Marvin Denekas, John Hackney, Vaughn Terry, Glenn Luther, Harold Curtis, William Gwynne, Mrs. David Boffey, Mrs. Alfred Graefe, Miss Winnie Johnson, David KortKamp and John Thomas.

Dorcas Society Marks Birthdays Of Its Members

At the recent meeting of the Dorcas Society of the Fairfax Congregational Community Church, birthdays of members whose birthdays occurred in January, February or March were celebrated. A special table was set and decorated for them but only five could attend. These were Mesdames Thomas Teare, Shirley Lucas, J. W. Darlington, C. J. Bergstrom and C. B. Brooks. To those unable to attend, the committee sent birthday cards. Mrs. John Herman was ill and Mesdames C. J. Condrette, Ernest Kruse, Thomas Humphrey and C. C. Welch were away from town that day.

The hostess committee for the month includes Mesdames Louis Dallara, August Rasmussen and Lucas. They will be hostesses at the meeting on Tuesday, March 24 at 1:30 p.m. A dessert luncheon will be followed by a business meeting to be conducted by the president, Mrs. C. J. Bergstrom. Plans will be discussed for two important meetings to be held in May, the first an Apron Day and the second the regular semi-annual bazaar.

Two Honored By P-TA In Kentfield

Mrs. Thomas E. Gilboy and Henry H. Muller are two Kentfield citizens who were honored recently by their fellow residents and P-TA members.

At a general meeting of the P-TA in the multi-purpose room of the A. E. Kent School they were presented with honorary life memberships in the P-TA in appreciation of their volunteer work for children and for the community.

Mrs. Gilboy, mother of five daughters, has for nine years played one of the leading roles in a program involving hundreds of children. She has devoted her summers to the Red Cross to help with their swim program. She is a Camp Fire leader, a member of a Sunny Hills auxiliary, a March of Dimes leader, past president of P-TA and past chairman of the Kent School May Festival.

Muller has been a Kentfield resident for 26 years, 15 of which have been spent in local business. To raise funds for the Kentfield Fire Department, he played football on their team from 1925 to 1929. For five years he was active in Cub Scout Pack 11 and Boy Scout Troop 11, both of which are still in existence. He took an important part in the Kentfield children's recreation program in 1946 and 1947 and inaugurated many of the ideas which are the basis of the present program. During World War II he was head of the Auxiliary police for Kentfield and was coordinator for Civil Defense in 1951. He has been chairman of the Ross Valley Flood Commission for two years and in 1956 he assisted in the formation of the Lion's Club. He served as the Lion's charter president in 1957 and is presently a member of the board of directors.

Beginners' Class

A beginners' class for those interested in learning square dancing begins March 26, sponsored by the Charm 'N Farmers. Classes are to be held at E Street School, San Rafael, from 8 to 10 p.m. Larry Twist, well known Marin County caller, will be the instructor. Anyone interested is welcome.

The next Charm 'N Farmer party night will be April 4 at Davidson School, 8 to 12. o'clock.

Job's Daughters Have Dinner Meet

Losing team members in the activity points contest conducted by Mill Valley Bethel 119, Job's Daughters, entertained the winners at a dinner recently in the Mill Valley Masonic Temple. Hostesses were past junior custodian Linda Brown and Mrs. William Brown.

During the meeting conducted following the dinner by honored queen Patricia Bogel, members decided to continue their Indian project. This project is providing Nevada Indians with clothes and food.

Another recent activity was a very successful go-to-church Sunday at St. Stephen's Church in Belvedere, which was followed by brunch at Sabella's.

Introduced and honored were honored queen Sue Reed of Bethel 246, Larkspur; Junior past honored queen Sandra Bishop of Bethel 119, Mill Valley; Mrs. Francis Burt, guardian, and Francis Burt, associate guardian of Bethel 119. Council members were also introduced.

Marcia Rideout Feted At Birthday Party

Marcia "Skofhi" Rideout, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. James Rideout of Legend road, Sleepy Hollow, celebrated her fourth birthday at a recent luncheon party at the home of her parents.

Camellias were used in arrangements and an Easter birthday cake was presented in her honor.

Attending were Mrs. Ernest Box and Wally; Mrs. Charles Hardeman and Mark; Mrs. John Rockwell and Stephen; Mrs. Hugh Stroupe and Marsha, Kathleen and Cynthia; Mrs. Gerfon Jacobs and Michael; Mrs. Gunnar Abramson and Nils and Elin: Mrs. Russell Schabel and Denise; Mrs. John Dumon and David, Mrs. Jerome Leitner and Judy and Mrs. Edward Ory and Babette.

For The Men

End a meal with this memorable dessert: apple 'n' raisin pie served with wedges of sharp cheese. It's one that will appeal particularly to men. Chop rather than slice the apples for this.

Woodwardia Circle Elects Delegates

Delegates to the meeting of District 14, Neighbors of Woodcraft, to be held in Santa Rosa in September, were elected at the recent meeting of Woodwardia Circle. Elected were Mesdames E. C. Berg, H. J. Cahill, J. M. Sullivan, F. A. Linebaugh, Joseph Santos and Mrs. Della Cline. Alternates elected were Mesdames F. J. Mattos, J. M. Bernards, G. W. Hall, C. A. Bell, Norvina Helton and Jessie Leavelle.

Mrs. Esther Lewis announced that Woodwardia's annual luncheon and bazaar will be held on Wednesday, March 25 at the IOOF Temple in San Rafael. Mrs. Lewis will be general chairman with Mrs. Bernards co-chairman. Mrs. Berg, guardian neighbor, presided at the meeting.

Georges Take Trip

Frank George of Ross, manager of Redwood Travel Advisors, and his wife, did a bit of traveling for themselves recently. They sailed aboard the "President Cleveland" from San Francisco and left the ship at Los Angeles. They flew to Las Vegas where they enjoyed the current hit show at "The Stardust." The "Cleveland" is on its way to the Orient with several of the agency's clients aboard.

PROTECTING THE DEARS

Anti-Loitering Law Asked In Mill Valley

Police Chief James P. McGowan asked the Mill Valley City Council last night for an anti-loitering ordinance similar to that adopted four years ago by the county.

McGowan cited recurring cases of vandalism, disorderly conduct and other police problems on lower Miller avenue in the vicinity of C's Drive-in as pointing the need for such a law.

Although the drive-in is located "on an island of county property just outside the city," the disorder has involved Mill Valley, the police chief said. The place has become an attraction for "disorderly young men," he asserted.

One of Mill Valley's oldest ordinances is a so-called curfew law but McGowan said it is virtually useless. The council considered a new law last year, but at the time McGowan felt it would not be required.

The council asked City Atty. Thomas C. Nelson to draw up a new ordinance.

The fire department also received attention of the Mill Valley council last night.

The council promoted Fire Capt. James Mathews to second assistant chief, on recommendation of Chief Leslie Armager. Also approved were promotions of Firemen Al Marovich and Henry Pierroz to captain, both to receive a $10 monthly salary increase. Mathews' pay is to remain unchanged.

The changes are to be effective April 1.

The council also:

1. Referred to City Treasurer Edward H. Daniel a request by the Mill Valley Garbage Co. for a rate increase of 15 cents monthly to householders and 15 per cent monthly for commercial customers. Daniel is to analyze the reasons for the request and make a recommendation.

2. Appropriated $400 toward restoration of the Old Mill and development of a nearby recreation spot by the Native Sons and Daughters of the Golden West. The amount is to be supplemented by $800 which is to be provided by the organizations.

3. Granted a request from the parks and recreation commission asking County Planning Director Mary Summers to set a date for completion of a feasibility study on Richardson Bay recreation and small craft harbor possibilities, including Mill Valley's proposed small craft harbor.

4. Also agreed to ask the county, through the county parks and recreation commission, to give high priority to acquisition of about 40 acres of tideland for a possible district recreation area.

5. Declined to support a request from library board president Robert Jenkins endorsing pending state legislation for library grants in aid. Although Jenkins declared it would be a method to help the library, Councilman Joseph E. Sheeks resisted it as being "not a good bargain" and one that "would tend to create obligations to the state and remove local control."

6. Took no stand on many written requests for and against the proposed Golden Gate Authority.

7. Approved a basic policy that funds collected from subdividers for future drainage corrections should be earmarked for the area served.

8. Accepted a proposal by property owners in the Del Casa area (Councilman Peter H. Behr abstaining) to pay for improvements if the city will accept them within five years.

9. Referred to the architectural advisory committee a recommendation from the chamber of commerce for changes in the sign ordinance.

10. Approved warrants totaling $25,583.17.

DUCHESS STILL GETS AROUND

Duchess, a 6-month old St. Bernard puppy in Kansas City, has been slowed down a bit by a couple of broken legs but she still gets around with the aid of a stroller contrived by her veterinarian. The puppy—she weighs 85 pounds—was struck by a car 10 days ago. She suffered fractures of both left legs. Her owners, the Joseph Lembergers, took her to the veterinarian who patched her up and got her into the stroller. She's able to wander around the animal clinic by pushing with her two good right legs. (AP Wirephoto)

Special Plea Made For Marin Blood Donors

The Irwin Memorial Blood Bank today issued a special plea for donors on the eve of a visit from 2:30 to 6:30 p.m. tomorrow at the San Rafael Elks Club.

Walter J. Jacobs, coordinator for the blood bank at Marin General Hospital, said the plea is being made because "it is imperative to keep up the blood reserves." He mentioned two recent cases where blood requirements of hospital patients diminished the bank's supply.

Nine-year-old Darlene Hitzeman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Hitzeman of 692 Gallarita way, San Rafael, has required 15 units of blood. Her future requirements are undetermined, he added. "Replacements in her name will be appreciated by her parents, and by Darlene herself," he declared.

Dr. Lorne Tanner, San Anselmo dentist, who has been confined to Marin General since Feb. 1, has required more than 24 units of blood, all of which have been replaced, said Jacobs.

Blood donated directly to a patient is returned to the bank if not needed within a 30-day period.

Brown Lauds His Tax Plan, Blasts N.Y.'s

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Gov. Edmund G. Brown took a verbal swing at New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller's "soak the poor" tax program here last night but urged support of his own as "fair and equitable."

Brown said that "the tax program I have outlined is fair and equitable as it can be. Unlike the 275-million dollar 'soak the poor' program of Governor Rockefeller in New York, it treats the low-income taxpayer fairly."

The governor told a meeting of United Steelworkers of America that his proposed taxes on cigarettes and beer "are sought only as a part of a much larger over-all tax program."

He claimed that "other taxes have been carefully designed to reach upper income groups and industries not paying their share of the tax load."

Brown reiterated the need for a minimum wage law and boasted that his bill to establish a Fair Employment Practices Commission "seems certain of passage."

Senate Move Places FEP Act In Doubt

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Progress of Gov. Edmund G. Brown's No. 1 legislative item—enactment of a Fair Employment Pratices Act—was slowed today by a Senate move which left its future in doubt.

The governor had better luck with another major proposal to strike at "hidden money" in California election campaigns. His purity of elections bill cleared the Assembly Elections Committee, 9-1.

The Senate agreed yesterday, 35-1, to refer the Assembly-passed FEP bill to its Finance Committee, presumably for a review of its cost features. Sen. Alan Short (D-Stockton) dissented.

The measure, creating an FEP commission to police job discrimination because of race, religion or color, previously was approved by the Senate Labor Committee, 5-2 Democratic.

The Finance Comittee is 7-6 Republican. Sponsors of the bill remained hopeful of getting it returned to the Senate for a vote, although possibly revised some more. The Senate is Democratic, 26-13, with one vacancy.

Brown himself was optimistic. He told a steel workers meeting last night that for the first time, "it now appears certain that we will have fair employment practices legislation in California."

Garden Society Awaits Speaker

Louis Glaudon of San Anselmo, Hugh Paterson of San Rafael and Linton Whitby of Kentfield will speak on azaleas and camellias at a meeting of the Garden Society of Marin at 8 p. m. tomorrow in the chemistry room of College of Marin.

The speakers, all members of the garden group, are authorities on their subject, according to president Eleanor Doll of Corte Madera. Specimen plants will be displayed and a question and answer period will follow the talks.

An American Field Service bank account has been opened at the First National Bank at Fourth and B streets.

MANY MARRIED COUPLES PAY TOO MUCH TAX

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—Some 10,000 to 15,000 California married couples have been overpaying their state income tax and the state isn't happy about it.

State Controller Alan Cranston said today that many couples inadvertently compute their tax on the basis of the tax rate schedule fixed for persons filing a separate return.

"Not that the state can't use it," he said, "but it is money that rightfully belongs to the taxpayer, and must go to the time and expense of refunding it."

Cranston said public accountants have been sent a circular warning them of the common error. Deadline for filing a state income tax return is April 15.

Awarded Degree

Southard M. Modry, 104 Garden avenue, San Rafael, was awarded the master of science (geography) degree by the University of Wisconsin as the first semester of the state university's 1958-59 school year came to a close recently.

Smog Research Plan Moves Up In Assembly

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—A bill establishing California's first statewide smog control project has reached the home stretch of its legislative race.

The Assembly Public Health Committee added its approval yesterday to a bill by Sen. Richard Richards (D-Los Angeles) which would direct the state Department of Public Health to find out how much smog it takes to injure a person's health.

Richard's legislation has already passed the Senate. It now must win approval of the Assembly Ways and Means Committee and the full lower house.

The measure is a modest beginning in the fight against smog. It contains no program to keep pollutants out of the air.

But Richards said the Health Department's survey would provide figures which would form a basis for later programs aimed at reducing or eliminating smog.

Richards said his bill was the first attempt to throw the weight of the state behind a smog control effort. In addition, he said the survey would produce uniform figures for the use of all air pollution control districts in the state.

The Los Angeles senator said his bill was "identical in purpose" with one introduced by Assemblyman William Byron Rumford (D-Berkeley) at the request of Gov. Edmund G. Brown.

Navy Pilot Killed In Alameda Crash

ALAMEDA (UPI)—The pilot killed in the crash of an SJ4 Fury jet fighter was today identified by Alameda Naval Air Station authorities as Lt. (j.g.) Roy David Varner, 26, of San Leandro.

Varner was attempting to land last night when his craft was believed to have suddenly nosed over and crashed into the runway.

The jet careened into an abandoned Quonset storage hut and set it afire. The flames were visible from the crowded Eastshore freeway nearby and police said they were deluged with calls concerning the crash. Nearby residents said the crash sounded like a sonic boom.

There were no witnesses to the mishap, which occurred just 100 yards from Encinal High School here.

The newly formed stamp club at Hamilton Air Force Base has chosen alternate Tuesdays at 8 p.m. for meetings. Next get-together will be on March 24 in the Riviera Room of the Service Club. CHP Chief Warns On Speed Limit

SACRAMENTO (AP)—The new boss of the California Highway Patrol emphasized yesterday the present speed limit will be strictly enforced until the 65 mile per hour ceiling goes into effect next Jan. 1.

Commissioner Bradford M. Crittenden told his first news conference that means you'll drive over 55 at your own risk.

The law now sets 55 as the limit but allows you to go faster under safe conditions. And most people do on the open road. Legislation signed by Gov. Edmund G. Brown last week provides for an absolute 65.

In the meantime, Crittenden said it would be a good idea for motorists who drive faster than 65 to get used to the forthcoming change.

He said, too, that the law will be strictly enforced on both public carriers and trucks.

Low Bidder Named For Mt. Tam Job

National Enterprises of San Carlos was low bidder on construction of a new electrical power installation and other revisions for the 666th Aircraft Control and Warning Squadron on Mt. Tamalpais, Col. John S. Harnett, Army district engineer, announced today.

The bid, one of nine opened Monday, was for $85,843. The Army said that the award of a contract would probably be made later this week, with 180 working days allowed for the job.

Bill Would Free Art From Tax

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Assemblyman Thomas M. Rees (D-Los Angeles) has struck a tax-exempt blow for art.

He introduced a bill to exclude works of art from the 3 per cent state use tax if the purchaser promises to make them available for exhibition at least three out of every 12 months.

Rees said the tax discourages private collectors from bringing in expensive works of art. He said one collector recently shipped one-and-one-half million dollars worth of art to New York rather than pay the tax.

10 Killed As Train Hits Auto In Ohio

XENIA, Ohio (AP)—A freight train plowed into a car carrying 10 passengers in a tragic railroad crossing accident near here yesterday. All 10—including eight Girl Scouts—were killed.

The car was dragged 50 feet along the tracks. The body of the driver, Mrs. Lucille White, 44, was found 75 feet beyond the car.

The daughters of Mrs. White and the other adult in the car, Mrs. Jeanette Randall, 39, were among the eight Girl Scouts who perished.

The girls were returning home from a library here where they had been studying for merit badges. They lived in Beavercreek, a rural suburb between Xenia and Dayton.

Kenneth Ward, father of one Girl Scout, is an auxiliary fireman. He was helping gather up the bodies, unaware his daughter was a victim, when he recognized what was left of the car. Then he found the body of his daughter, Linda, 12.

The other girls were Sharon White, Cindy Moorman, Connie Laprise, Patricia Lapinski, Ann North, Paulnetta Randall and Anna Wilvert.

All were 12 years old except Anna, who was 11.

W. R. Murray of Columbus, engineer of the Pennsylvania Railroad's three-diesel express freight, said the car slowed down as it approached the crossing. He thought it was going to stop, but it kept coming, he said.

The speed limit for trains in that area is 50 m.p.h.

The crossing is unprotected by flasher signals and has only a crossbar railroad sign.

Savings Bonds Sales

$4,000 Mink Coat Vanishes Mysteriously

A $4,000 mink coat vanished from a San Rafael home under mysterious circumstances, police reported yesterday.

Mrs. Leona Herzog Lee of 48 Summit avenue discovered the mink missing from her bedroom closet Tuesday. She said three other fur coats in the closet and jewelry in the same room were not disturbed. There was no evidence of a forced entry. The missing fur is insured for $2,500.

Mrs. Lee said the theft may have occurred on March 4 or 5 while she was away from home. She said she had left a sandwich in wax paper inside the refrigerator for the maid. When she returned, her maid told her the sandwich was gone, and the paper bag was left on the drain board.

The maid has worked for her for three years and is completely trustworthy, she reported.

Independent-Journal
SERVING ALL OF MARIN COUNTY

TODAY'S EDITORIAL

D. A. Should Stick With Prosecution Of Criminals

If District Attorney William O. Weissich isn't careful, he may wind up making martyrs out of members of the Marin County Taxpayers Assn.

Over the weekend he declared his intention to investigate the taxpayers organization to see if its leaders might be prosecuted for "common barratry," an obscure and vague offense involving unnecessary litigation.

Weissich also said he would have investigators and a court reporter present at tonight's meeting of the taxpayers at San Rafael High School.

Our feeling is that the district attorney would be better advised to limit his activities to the prosecution of criminals in Marin County, and we don't think there are any in the taxpayers association.

Several years ago we observed in this space that the taxpayers assn. had become a mere label passed from one special interest group to another.

P. J. Rowland is merely the present "owner" of the taxpayers assn. label. We agree with almost nothing he has said or done in the name of the taxpayers group. He and others of his clique regularly denounce this newspaper.

There's no love lost between the taxpayers assn. and the Independent-Journal.

But we'll go to bat for their rights, nevertheless. Their rights include the right to say and think what they please about anybody including the district attorney and the Independent-Journal.

Their rights also include the constitutional right to petition for redress of grievances, no matter how unfounded their petition may be.

And they ought to be able to say what they think in their meetings and file such legal actions as they think justified without being intimidated by investigations or implied threats of prosecution.

We disagree with almost everything Rowland and the taxpayers group have to say, but we will join up with them against anybody who tries to muzzle them or otherwise suppress them.

We don't agree with their claims of illegality in handling of taxes and assessments in Marin over the past few years, but we will join them in fighting anybody who tries to prevent them from "having their day in court."

As we said, the district attorney would be better advised to get back to the business of prosecuting criminals.

Lay That Pistol Down, Junior

A recent meeting of the Marin Audubon Society disclosed that juveniles were using our song birds for target practice. A member reported that he had approached the parents of one such rifle-toting boy to protest.

Instead of being indignant that anyone would intimate that Johnny would do such a dastardly thing, the parents seemed sore at the bird lover for calling the situation to their attention. It's alright with the Sheriff's Office, they bluffed.

Song birds are protected by federal, state and county laws. The Sheriff's Office assured the Audubon Society that the laws are being strictly enforced.

We won't argue here today against the doubtful wisdom of giving guns to minors when supposedly mature adults are daily blowing holes in their legs practicing "fast draws" and killing one another with guns they didn't think were loaded. But we must point out that every adult who permits a juvenile to have firearms assumes the awesome responsibility of seeing they are not used improperly.

One such improper use is the shooting of song birds. Parents who don't discourage it are apt to find themselves and their children in trouble.

THREE MINUTES A DAY

TEENAGERS SET UP SHOP

Five Long Island teenagers who left school because of their inability to keep up with studies, recently opened a "Fix-It" shop.

Local merchants helped the 16 to 18-year-old boys set up the project, which they feel is "something we can do on our own." The young men are prepared to tackle practically everything from washing windows to making electrical repairs.

The policeman who first suggested the idea was convinced of its fundamental soundness. He commented: "It is a prevention program that has unlimited possibilities. The boys are enthusiastic . . . they don't want any favors, just a chance to make a living."

Most young people, whether talented or not, start living normal, constructive lives when the energy which God has entrusted to each of them is directed into worthwhile channels.

Rather than complain too much about the apathy or trouble caused by some teenagers, uncover and nurture the power for good in every one of them.

"Do not withhold him from doing good, who is able; if thou art able, do good thyself also. (Proverbs 3:27)

Inspire parents and teachers, O Lord, to help young people to do good, rather than merely be good.

Single Girls Scream When They Hear Smart Remarks Like These

NEW YORK (AP) — Remarks single girls get tired of hearing or overhearing:

"How come a pretty girl like you never got married?"

"Seriously, dear, don't you think you're being too choosy?"

"Now, Harry, you can't tell that joke. Remember, not all of us here are married."

"Sorry, miss, we don't serve unescorted ladies at the bar."

"If that loud-mouthed sister of hers could land a man, I don't see why—"

"He's a little older than you, but—"

"I just love your premature gray hair. It is premature, isn't it?"

"Stop grumbling Harry, and pick up her check."

"Cheer up, honey, he's not the only pebble on the beach."

"Why do you waste your time on him? Can't you see he's not the marrying kind?"

"Why don't you try the Virgin Islands this year, Cecily? You've been everywhere else."

"I'd like to give you a raise, Cecily, but I've got to take care of the married men first."

"Isn't it ironic? In high school we all thought she'd be the first to get married."

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Religious Freedom Should Cover All

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

The editorial of Saturday, March 14, on religious freedom states, "Freedoms are interdependent and when we tread on our neightbor's liberty, we threaten our own." I agree wholeheartedly.

Nevertheless, the above is seemingly contradicted on the same page by the cartoon scorning those who are anti-Christian.

Perhaps, though, it was meant to cast reflection only upon the Russian dictatorship, It is hard to tell.

If agnosticss, as exemplified by Nobel Prize Winner Bertrand Russell, are meant to be included under the cartoon's anti-Christianity label, then I would like to quote Prof. Robert E. Egner.

In "Bertrand Russell's Best" he writes, "Those who claim that religious freedom is a necessary condition for democratic society sometimes forget that tolerance means more than a concordat between adherents of rival creeds. Religious liberty implies equal tolerance toward those who profess no dogma whatever."

Wants Juvenile Names Published

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

In reading the story headed "Four teen-agers held after wrecking spree" in today's issue (March 16), I note your return to your former weak-kneed policy in failing to report the names and addresses of the four individuals involved.

I heartily approve of reporting the names of such individuals for all to see and know what parents are responsible for them, regardless of who they are.

Unless this is so handled in reports of any such future incidents, I shall cancel my subscription to your paper.

'Little Wagner Act' Goes Ahead Despite Opposition

By JAMES C. ANDERSON

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — One of Gov. Edmund G. Brown's most important bills is finally beginning to move through the Legislature despite determined opposition from farm groups and employers.

The measure is AB 419 by Assemblyman Allen Miller (D-San Fernando) and has been called a "little Wagner act" overing labor relations within the boundaries of the state.

SELDOM HAVE SO many different interpretations, frequently diametrically opposite been placed on a piece of legislation.

Miller says the lot of the small businessman would be improved as far as work disputes were concerned if AB 419 became law.

But Gil Rowland, representing employer associations in San Francisco and Sacramento, said just the opposite when he testified on the measure.

"If you pass this bill," he said, "you'll turn over to unions the absolute power to organize every small business in California."

Miller insists that the bill, which sailed out of the Assembly industrial relations committee last week on a 5-1 vote, would in no way change existing law as regards to the rights of unions to organize or not to organize farm laborers.

But the testimony of Jack Ward, counsel for the Associated Farmers, was just the opposite.

"Agricultural labor is not beyond the concept of this bill," Ward said. "The Taft-Hartley law specifically excludes domestic workers and agricultural labor — but they are not excluded in this bill.

"It omits most of the protective conditions of the Taft-Hartley law," he added.

JACK HENNING, a onetime AFL-CIO official appointed by Brown to head up the state department, explained that the bill has three main proposals:

—it recognizes the right of workers to form unions of their own choosing, to select their own bargaining representatives and to bargain collectively with employers.

—it would repeal the jurisdictional strike act which Henning said some "unscrupulous employers" had used to recognize unions made up of strike breakers.

—it sets up state machinery to determine conflicts between unions and to settle work assignment disputes.

The bill declares public policy to be that workers "shall have full freedom of association, including the right to organize (and) to bargain collectively."

It would not, according to Henning, cover public employes or professional people such as doctors, lawyers or engineers — although employer lobbyists dispute that, too.

It provides for secret ballot elections to determine union representation although the act specifically bars strike breakers from voting.

The Miller bill is one-half of the governor's labor program. The other measure is SB 209 by Sen. Stephen P. Teale (D-Westpoint) and is similar to the Kennedy-Ervin bill setting up democratic procedures for labor unions and safeguards against corrupt practices. The Teale bill has not yet been heard by a legislative committee.

Search For 'Lost' Mission Turns Out To Be Comedy Of Flat Tires

"MANY PEOPLE have referred to the Santa Isabel expedition as a comedy of flat tires," said Donald Darling, 31-year-old chef of Red Robin catering service in Kentfield.

"This is partially true," he admitted. "We had 13 of them plus a broken axle and drive shaft."

He and his wife and two others embarked on a trip to Baja California, searching for a lost Jesuit mission called Santa Isabel where legend says a tremendous hoard of treasure was hidden.

With or without finding the lost mission, the four adventurers hoped to return with enough film footage for a travel film or television program such as "I Search For Adventure." (This also would bring in treasure of a sort.)

Amazingly, the adventurers armed with cameras believe that they actually did find the site of the lost mission.

Its location remains their secret until they can return and explore some more.

"THIS FIND WAS made possible only by a chance meeting with an old Mexican who said to look for a cross on a hill," continued Darling. The hill was somewhere in a mountainous region 25 miles north of Loreto on the Gulf of California.

What they found was a cross which looked more like an "X" and an ancient stone wall, almost completely buried.

Their excavation work was cut short by a landslide which put one of the party out of commission with a bad leg. At that juncture, the diggers decided it was time to return to California.

Someday soon they plan to journey south and begin excavation work in earnest to see if the Jesuit padres really buried their treasure near the odd cross.

THE LEGEND which lured them on their way in the first place went like this: At the beginning of the 18th Century, Jesuit missionaries penetrated into Lower California and began establishing missions.

Few of the 14 or 15 missions which once flourished are still standing. The adobe walls of the abandoned missions gradually disintegrated. The Jesuits, however, did not leave of their own volition.

King Charles of Spain issued an edit in 1767 ordering all members of the Jesuit order to be arrested and evacuated from Baja California.

His order ended 70 years of a virtual theocracy on the peninsula. Even the Spanish governor in Mexico City had been able to send only men approved by the Jesuits into their territory.

SHORTLY BEFORE the Spanish soldiers arrived to eject the padres, the Jesuits at Loreto received a confidential message from the Jesuit general in Rome revealing to the members of the order what was about to happen.

The message instructed the Jesuits to submit peaceably but to leave no trace of their wealth. Rumors had trickled out to Mexico City that the Jesuits had accumulated a fabulous hoard of gold and silver.

According to legend, treasure from the missions was transported by burro train to a deep gorge in the moutains someplace beyond Santa Maria. There the Jesuits are said to have founded one last mission named Santa Isabel as the hiding place for their treasure.

ROSCOE DRUMMOND

Rockefeller Off To Great Start As Governor Of New York State

WASHINGTON — If Nelson Rockefeller wants to be the Republican Presidential nominee next year — and I know of no one who says he doesn't — he is going about it the right way.

The best possible way for Rockefeller to bet ahead in national politics is NOT to try to get ahead in national politics but to prove, by his works, that he is a courageous and skillful Governor of New York State.

Obviously what has happened during his first two-and-a-half months is not a final answer, but the evidence thus far is on the side:

That Gov. Rockefeller is a decision-maker, not a report-maker.

That he is a determined and effective political leader capable of uniting his party behind a politically unpopular program — increased taxes to pay for increased public services.

That Gov. Rockefeller can govern.

It is certainly an arguable point whether the stand which he has taken in Albany to maintain and at points to increase spending for public services — hospitals, schools, roads, and other community facilities — and for higher taxes, will help him or hurt him in respect to the 1960 Republican Presidential nomination. My instinct is to feel that it would help more than hurt. What it does is:

Show that Mr. Rockefeller is a conservative party leader who does not intend to neglect the public and social-welfare services of the government.

Prove that Mr. Rockefeller stands for fiscal responsibility and for a pay-as-you-go, policy It is a stand for solvency which neither Gov. Harriman nor Harriman's Republican-controlled legislature would take.

In a word he has demonstrated that his leadership means using conservative principles to deal with public problems, not to brush them under the rug.

BUT THE LARGER significance of what happened in Albany this past week when both houses of the Legislature passed his budget and tax program — with nearly every Republican voting with him and every Democrat voting against him — is that it revealed Mr. Rockefeller's mastery — at least in this critical instance—of the art of political party leadership.

He took the politically unpopular course—raising taxes in order to keep the state solvent. He was absolutely firm in keeping to the substance of his program. He was sufficiently yielding to his party's legislative leaders in making changes in some details.

In this signal test — and a very exacting test at that — Mr. Rockefeller, with the opposition Democrats lined up unanimously against him, proved to be an effective Governor.

If there are more of these accomplishments, Gov. Rockefeller will not have to seek the national spotlight. The national spotlight will seek him.

No Place To Hide, State Stresses In Master CD Plan

Combined AP and UPI

SACRAMENTO — Stressing that no place is safe from nuclear attack, the state Disaster Office has compiled a master plan for saving as much life and resources as possible in the event of all-out war.

Harold G. Robinson, director of the disaster office, said the plan, released yesterday, gives California a head start of 18 months over the rest of the nation in such planning.

The disaster office, after a $300,000 study appropriation, made these points in its official civil defense operations plan:

NO PLACE TO RUN

1. There's no place to run from a nuclear attack.

2. California's coast line is particularly vulnerable because of the heavily concentrated population.

3. There is not enough adequate shelter.

4. No part of the state is free from the threat of radioactive fallout.

The most critical target areas listed are Los Angeles, San Diego and San Francisco Bay and the state's five prime Strategic Air Command bases —Castle, March, Travis, Vandenberg and Beale Air Force Bases.

The cities considered next vulnerable are Sacramento, Stockton, San Jose, Fresno and the San Bernardino, Riverside, Ontario vicinity.

11 MILLION PERSONS

The combined areas have a total population of more than 11 million.

The operations plan, contained in a book three inches thick, outlines specific duties for all state departments and divisions and for local government agencies.

Under the general medical plan, the less seriously injured are to get first priority on treatment. Patients would be admitted to hospitals only as a life-saving measure.

The plan stresses:

Survival depends upon the efforts of all.

When nations possess the capacity for total destruction, military victory becomes a matter of recovery ability.

EVACUATION DIFFICULT

Harry Braze, director of survival planning, said the statewide plan recognized that it is not possible to completely evacuate such population centers as Los Angeles and San Francisco.

But he said the system outlined would scatter the population wherever possible and save some segment of California's population from death or injury.

Braze said a major emphasis in the plan would be on the "relatively new" concept of operations by civil government in a war-caused emergency.

"The idea is to pick up the pieces," he said.

Most of the plan, he said, had been discussed on a local level but this is the first time it has been drawn together. The bulky plan includes a large map showing dispersal routes from most population centers—routes which may never be used.

VALUE OF PLAN

The value of this, Braze said, was to prevent evacuees from two large nearby cities from colliding with each other after an initial warning.

It was difficult to describe the escape routes, which ran everywhere but west.

From Los Angeles, for instance, the routes would lead in three directions—north as far as Kern County, east into San Bernardino County and south into Orange County.

From San Francisco, the routes run north and south along the coastline and then branch out eastward.

LEGISLATORS BOMBARDED WITH TEA BAGS

SACRAMENTO—(CNS) — With the state Assembly now furnished with free coffee and milk (two flavors) legislators also are being bombarded with free tea.

Tea bags are being sent to the lawmakers in opposition to the proposed 256-million-dollar-a-year tax program of Gov. Edmund G. Brown. There has been little activity of late on the tax bills, as the administration apparently is marking time until after passage of the budget bill (not before mid-May).

The tea bags bear the inscription: "Remember the Boston Tea Party." Some have a few pointed comments on the new tax program. One senator said he already has received more than 50 of the leafy missiles.

Bills Hiking Aid To Blind Pass Tests

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Two bills increasing state aid to the blind have passed their first legislative tests.

The Assembly Social Welfare Committee yesterday approved a bill eliminating the five-year residence requirement for blind and a measure appropriating half a million dollars for medical aid to needy blind.

Assemblyman John O'Connel (D-San Francisco) authored the bill which would eliminate the requirement that blind aid recipients must have lived in California for at least five of the preceding nine years.

O'Connell's measure would not change the requirement that persons asking blind aid must have lived in California for at least one full year.

Assemblyman Samuel R. Geddes (N-Napa) offered the measure providing $500,000 to pay half of the cost of hospitalization or nursing care to needy blind. Under Geddes' plan, counties would pay the other half.

Satchmo A Sellout

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (UPI) —The demand for seats at the April 2 Louis Armstrong concert was so heavy among jazz-starved Yugoslavs today that black marketeers were getting $10 for a $3 ticket.

Tickets for the concert, booked in the 2,000-seat auditorium of the Yugoslav trade unions, were sold out shortly after the box office opened Tuesday. Only 800 were sold to the public and the rest were reserved for Yugoslav dignitaries and foreign embassies.

High Catholic Honor Goes To Marinite

Cyril Jackson Fairhurst Sr. of San Rafael, president of Fairhurst Lumber Co., today was named winner of the De-Smet Medal, to be awarded May 24 by Gonzaga University in Spokane, Wash.

The medal, awarded to prominent Catholics who have advanced the cause of Catholicism, has not been awarded since 1942.

Fairhurst was named recipient, it was announced, "because he has always been a most exemplary Catholic and has consistently assisted the church and the Society of Jesus in many ways . . ." and "for the high moral principles he brought into the business world where he is respected as much for his integrity as for his ability."

4 Home Owners Plead Innocent In Sewage Case

Four home owners in the Fairhills section of San Rafael, accused of permitting a public nuisance to exist on Fairhills drive by allowing sewage to seep to the surface Feb. 16, entered pleas of innocent yesterday in Marin Municipal Court and demanded a trial by jury.

They are Joseph Storrs of 216 Fairhills drive, P. L. Van Shook of 272 Fairhills, R. H. Wiley of 276 Fairhills and Bari Frolich of 280 Fairhills. They were represented in court yesterday by attorney Raymond H. Shone who lives not far from them on Forbes avenue.

Judge Albert F. Sheidecker continued the case to April 8 at 1:30 p.m. for setting the trial date.

Historic Flag To Alaska

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate approved a resolution yesterday to award Alaska the first 49-star flag flown over the west front of the U.S. Capitol.

The flag, containing Alaska's statehood star, will be raised on the Fourth of July. It will be presented to the Alaskan congressional delegation which will turn it over to the governor for preservation.

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

Farm Output Up

WASHINGTON (UPI)—American farmers apparently are headed for a new production record again in 1959.

The Agriculture Department estimated yesterday that this year's crops will be grown on about 339,000,000 acres, almost nine million more than in 1958 when farm output rose to an all-time high.

The acreage in 1958 was the smallest since 1917 but record yields per acre produced the bumper harvest. If a similar production trend is maintained this year, America's huge farm surpluses will grow larger.

Son Kills Mother

NEWARK, N.J. (AP)—Lee Daniels Jr., an ex-convict, strode into his mother's luncheonette late last night and shot her to death, police said, when she refused to give him money. He also shot his sister.

Daniels, 24, was caught three blocks from the C and L Sugar Bowl where police say he fired two bullets into his mother, Clara Daniels, 58.

He was charged with murder.

The sister, Lorraine Taylor, 22, was also shot by her brother, police say. The slug lodged in her back. Her condition was reported as fair.

4 Children Die In Fire

GRANGER, Wash. (AP) — Flames raced through a frame house occupied by a Texas farm worker's family of 14 last night, killing four children.

Officers identified the victims as Maria Sandavol, 9, her sisters, Enedlia, 6, and Eva, 3, and a brother, Aleja, 4.

The father, Pedro Sandavol, 42, was hospitalized with burns. He escaped with his nightclothes afire after rescuing some of his children.

The mother and the other children escaped unharmed.

Airliner Claims Record

LONDON (UPI) — A British-built turboprop airliner which flew around the world in 65 hours claimed a record today for commercial aircraft.

The Britannia averaged 370 m.p.h. for the 24,000-mile flight.

Ike, Sean To Dine

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Sean T. O'Kelly of Ireland winds up his Washington visit today with the accent on art and education.

The 76-year-old visitor and his party then go to New York City.

He arranged a luncheon in honor of the President and Mrs. Eisenhower to follow a busy morning schedule taking the O'Kelly party to the National Art Gallery, and to Georgetown University for dedication of a new medical research building.

Actor Warned

SANTA MONICA (AP)—Actor Edward G. Robinson Jr. gets one more chance.

"This is it," Superior Court Judge Allen T. Lynch told him yesterday. "There aren't going to be any more excuses."

Robinson, 26, appeared for a probation hearing as a result of a disturbing the peace arrest last November. He has been on probation since serving 60 days on a drunk driving conviction in 1957.

Terrorist Ring Broken

ALGIERS (AP) — French authorities say they have destroyed a nationalist terror network that operated out of a Koranic school and a mosque in the heart of the Algiers Casbah.

Royalty To Visit Israel

BRUSSELS (AP) — Belgium's 82-year-old Queen Mother Elizabeth will visit Israel at the end of the month to dedicate an archeology museum in Jerusalem named for her.

'Safe' Golf Course

NORTHBORO, Mass. (AP) — Two physicians are planning what they call a noncoronary golf course.

Drs. John Decicco and Pasquale Tomaiolo asked the Northboro selectmen last night for permission to construct a nonhilly 18-hole course.

They said they also would need a permit from the Westboro selectmen as the course would straddle both towns.

Napoleon Hair On Sale

WORCESTER, England (UPI)— A lock of Napoleon's hair, snipped off after his death on St. Helena in 1821, goes on sale at a public auction here today.

Ship On Mercy Mission

HONOLULU (UPI)—The Navy icebreaker USS Staten Island, now in Wellington, New Zealand, will perform a mercy mission while en route to her home port of Seattle.

The New Zealand government and the American Embassy asked the Navy last night to send the Staten Island with emergency food supplies to Niue — a storm-devastated island possession of New Zealand.

Hoover Outbills HST

WASHINGTON (AP)—Herbert Hoover has drawn more government funds for office allowances as a former president than has Harry S. Truman, but has donated his personal pension to charity.

The information was included in testimony Feb. 24 to a House Appropriations subcommittee, which made it public today.

The law providing allowances and pensions for former presidents and for widows of presidents became effective last Aug. 25.

Lou's Girls Inherit

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Comedian Lou Costello left the bulk of his estate, valued at more than $200,000, to his three daughters.

Costello's will, admitted to probate yesterday, acknowledged his wife Anne had a right to half of the community property but said she had been adequately provided for before his death March 3.

Industrialist Dies

PHOENIX (AP)—Paul Weeks Litchfield, dean of the American rubber industry and honorary chairman of the board of Goodyear Tire and Rubber Co., died in a Phoenix hospital last night.

The 83-year-old industrialist had undergone surgery at the hospital a week ago.

After a career spanning 61 years in the industry, Litchfield retired last October as board chairman and chief executive officer of Goodyear.

NAVY JUNKING GALLANT CRUISER SAN FRANCISCO

Aging Warship Played Key Role In Crucial Guadalcanal Battle

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The Navy is scrapping the USS San Francisco, the cruiser that successfully challenged a Japanese battleship in a key battle for Guadalcanal.

Now mothballed at Philadelphia, the aging 10,000-ton cruiser is among five outmoded battleship, 23 cruisers and 15 light carriers the Navy is junking.

All that will be left of the gallant old cruiser will be two navigation wings from her bridge, a flagpole and a chipped ship's bell.

Those are part of a monument overlooking San Francisco's Golden Gate, halfway around the world from where the cruiser blasted her way into history the night of Nov. 12-13, 1942.

This was the situation: Attempting to reverse the tide of World War II in the Pacific, eight months after Pearl Harbor, the United States had sent Marines to take Guadalcanal. With planes based on this key island in the Solomons chain, the Japanese sweep of the Pacific had gravely threatened Australia.

The battle for Guadalcanal was a strategic turning point of the war.

The San Francisco was the flagship of a hastily assembled fleet of five cruisers and eight destroyers. That little force stopped two Japanese battleships and 14 destroyers from shelling Marine-held Henderson Airfield in a confused night action. Historians probably never will be able to recount it specifically.

The San Francisco went into that battle only one day after being hit by a falling Japanese plane that ruined her radar and killed 30 men.

In pitch darkness, the U. S. ships steamed into the middle of a Japanese fleet capable of throwing three times as much steel. Radar was imperfect. A lot of the firing was done at point blank range by the light of the ship's own searchlights and star shells.

American aims can best be summed up by this command of Rear Adm. Daniel J. Callaghan of Oakland, U. S. commander who was killed a few minutes later:

"Take on the big one first."

The San Francisco did. With 8-inch guns, she dueled the 14-inch-gunned battleship Hiei and crippled her so she was an easy target for U. S. bombers and torpedo plane to sink the next day. She also sank a destroyer before she was disabled.

When it was over, the United States had lost two light cruisers and four destroyers. The Japanese lost two destroyers plus the Hiei, so losses were called about even.

Most important, Henderson Field was saved. The next day, U. S. planes from Henderson disposed of 11 Japanese transports and their invading troops as well as the Hiei.

The San Francisco was hit by 45 shells, 15 of them 14-inchers from battleships.

Aboard were 107 dead. Her bridge was a shambles.

Among the dead were Callaghan and Capt. Cassin Young of Coronado, her skipper.

Lt. Cmdr. Bruce McCandless of Long Beach, communications officer and the only able-bodied man on the bridge, assumed command and got the cripple out safely. He was awarded the Medal of Honor.

A month later, the battered ship reached San Francisco for repairs at Mare Island Navy Yard, where she had been built.

News of her arrival at the Golden Gate spread quickly despite wartime secrecy. Hills were crowded with watchers. There were cheers —and poignant silence.

The men still aboard had won 29 Navy Crosses, 28 Silver stars, the Medal of Honor and a Presidential Unit Citation.

After repairs, the San Francisco went right on fighting. When peace came, her record read like a roll call of Pacific battles.

San Francisco dedicated its monument to the ship on Nov. 11, 1950. On it is engraved President Franklin D. Roosevelt's citation:

The San Francisco sailed right through the enemy fleet, her guns blazing. She engaged and hit three of the enemy vessels, sinking one of them. At point blank range, she engaged an enemy battleship, heavily her superior in size and firepower. She silenced the battleship's big guns and so disabled her that she could be sunk by torpedoes from our destroyers and aircraft."

Teachers Show 'Ivory Tower' Theory Untrue

By ROBERT MUSEL

LONDON (UPI) — "Where's Mike Todd Jr.," I asked.

"Follow your nose," said his friend. He laughed and laughed.

Ever since the son of the late, great showman announced that his solo debut in show business would be called "Smell-O-Vision" the jokes have been flying at half mast.

Example: How will young Mike calculate his percentage of theater grosses?

Why, count your noses, of course. (Laughter?)

Finally along came the man of a thousand smells, young Mike himself, with not even a whiff of after-shave lotion. He had been working on the contract for the star he hopes to get for his first film, "Scent of Mystery."

Mike explained he was calling his new process "Smell-O-Vision" because it was advancing the cinema another notch along the five senses.

They were originally called movies because they moved. Then talkies because they talked.

"Now," said Mike, "through a Swiss process fixed at each seat, the audience will be able to smell for a few seconds each of those scenes which are important to the story, or which give the audience greater identification with characters on the screen."

Young Mike can understand the amusement his idea is creating among the public but it took him only a few minutes to convince some hard-headed movie men that he has inherited his famous father's nose for that rarest of perfumes—money.

For what Mike will be shooting in Andalusia in Spain is a comedy-thriller that in story, writing and cast should be able to return him a profit as a film alone.

And to this big-screen extravaganza, he is adding the novelty of 15 different smells concocted by his Swiss backroom wizard, Hans Laube, all of which will help the audience follow the clues being pursued by Peter Lorre and others on the screen.

"We've tested it in an actual cinema," Mike said. "It was a fanatstic success. For example, on screen we've got a man murdered by being run down by a great cask of wine.

"Lorre sniffs the broken cask and says:

"'Portobello '52. An amusing wine but not much body.'

"The audience will not only note the pun about 'body,' it will actually smell the wine!"

For the film, Laube has also produced the aroma of peaches, coffee, freshly baked bread and horses.

Someone asked Todd if his business partner and stepmother, Elizabeth Taylor, was going to play in the film.

"Certainly," young Mike said. "She has a small but key part."

The inquirer could not resist:

"I smell success," he said.

SAFE DRIVING TIP

Following a car ahead too closely can lead to serious trouble.

For every 10 miles per hour on your speedometer you should be one car length behind the vehicle ahead of you, warns the Chicago Motor Club. Don't swing to the right around left-turning vehicles if you can't see what's ahead.

Be sure before you change traffic lanes that the road ahead is clear. On the open road never pass on the right side.

Bill Would Clarify Road Right Of Way

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—A bill to make it clear which driver has the right of way at intersections was introduced yesterday at the request of Gov. Edmund G. Brown.

The bill was drafted by the California Highway Patrol as a safety measure and was introduced by Sen. Carl L. Christensen (D-Eureka).

It it becomes law, drivers who want to make a left turn off a through street and drivers who want to enter a through street from a stop street must wait until the way is clear.

Under present law, cars may proceed into the intersection after waiting for immediately approaching cars. Christensen said this was "a statutory right to pull out into danger."

He said the present law results in many accidents in which it is a thorny question of who had the right of way. His bill eliminates the provisions which permit the driver to proceed after stopping for immediately approaching cars.

He said he knew there was a real problem for drivers who want to enter a through highway, but he said it was more a problem of traffic handling to be cured by traffic lights than by statute.

Miller's Stand On U.S. School Aid Comes Under Fire In House Hearing

Federal aid for teachers' salaries embodied in the 11.5-billion-dollar four-year school aid bill co-sponsored by Rep. Clement W. Miller, Marin's Democratic congressman, came under attack earlier this month when Miller testified in favor of the bill.

The complete transcript of Miller's March 5 testimony before the House Special Education Subcommittee was received today in Marin County.

The Marin congressman was criticized by Rep Carroll D. Kearns (R-Pa.) who declared: "When you start subsidizing teachers' pay, it is socialism."

SCHOOL AID BILL

The Murray-Metcalf school aid bill (co-sponsored by Miller) provides that individual states determine how federal funds are to be distributed between school construction and teachers' salaries.

Congressman Kearns objected to the salary aid. "Now suppose you took the teachers' subsidy phase of the Murray-Metcalf bill out, what does he have left? Then Mr. Metcalf and his co-sponsor would have to go back to my approach of brick and mortar. We will build school houses," said Kearns.

Miller replied: "What good does it do to have the brick and mortar if you don't have the teachers?"

KEARNS' RETORT

"You have the cart ahead of the horse," retorted Kearns. "If we can build the schoolhouses, they can take care of their teachers back in the local areas and the states, and you know that."

Miller: "There are a number of proposals in which we might get greater utilization of our schools. There is a growing feeling we might use these schools 11 months a year. If this is the case, we might be able to cut down on our investment in brick and mortar, and step it up in terms of teachers' salaries, and we would need more and more teachers . . .

"If I could respectfully say so, I believe that there is too great a preoccupation of this administration with brick and mortar and not enough with the intellect."

Miller scoffed at the notion "that somehow or other the federal government is going to reach down into the mind of the teacher purely because it is a federal dollar that pays part of their salary."

'My Boy Is Studying Communism In School,' Writes Worried Dad

"My boy is studying communism at school," an angry father writes. "I don't like it. He's in the 12th grade. He tells me all kids should study Communism. He says it will make them better Americans. I disagree. I think it is subversive. Don't you?"

Many people share your concern over the study of Communism in schools. I hope I can reassure you.

Properly done, the study of this subject makes the students better Americans. I don't consider it subversive. For many years our schools shunned Communism and young people graduated with no knowledge of it. They didn't know Communism's meaning. They had no concept of the threat it represents to our way of life. The results were bad. Some young people were victims of Communist propaganda. Remember the American prisoners who went over to the Reds in the Korean war? They're examples.

Educators saw what was happening. They revised their courses to include the study of Communism. The subject now comes in the 12th grade. Students read about Marx, Lenin, Stalin and Khrushchev. They look at the pros and cons. They compare life in the iron curtain countries with their own lives in the U.S.A. and draw the proper conclusion.

The Russian language was taboo too. Remember? Now we realize we need people who can speak it fluently. So this year we have thousands of high school kids studying Russian. The results will be good, not subversive.

I understand your anxiety. I can sympathize with it. But I think you are worried unnecessarily. Talk with the school principal. He'll explain further.

Novato Egg Hunt Set For March 28

Novato's community Easter egg hunt, sponsored by the Novato Volunteer Firemen's Assn., is set for noon of March 28.

Novato children 8 years and under will scurry across the Safeway Stores property on Diablo avenue in search of eggs —especially three golden eggs which will entitle finders in three age groups to special Easter basket awards. Age brackets are under 4, 4 to 6, and 6 to 8.

The event is being arranged by a firemen's association committee headed by Frank Helbing. Other members are Charles Smith, James Guibbini, Reno Pronzini, Paul Hansen, Robert Manzoni and Louis Cavallero.

2 Men Jailed On Morals Charges

Two men were jailed by sheriff's officers on suspicion of indecent exposure Tuesday.

Wayne Allen Minyard, 20, of 105 Auburn street, San Rafael, a delivery boy, was arrested in his car parked on Lucas Valley road near Marinwood Tuesday night about 7 o'clock.

Sheriff's Deputy Gerald Fries on patrol made the arrest.

In the second case, a man from Pasadena, identified only as Sheridan C. Blackburn, was found by the railroad bunkhouse near Grant avenue about 3:40 p. m. A mother who lives nearby complained that Blackburn was using loud and obscene language. He was booked on suspicion of drunkenness, vagrancy and indecent exposure.

Convict Denied Parole For Year

The state Adult Authority has postponed for one year further parole consideration for Wallace Cox, San Quentin prisoner serving a life sentence for the 1941 slaying of a fellow inmate.

Cox, who entered San Quentin in 1939 after conviction of auto theft, participated in the murder of an inmate whose throat was slashed in the prison basement. The victim's body was found stuffed in a ventilator.

Tried in Marin Superior Court, Cox was convicted of the slaying and sentenced to life. In 1952 he was paroled. Three years later he was convicted of attempted robbery in Los Angeles County and returned to San Quentin to resume the life sentence.

CAP Cadets To Visit Testing Area

Five Civil Air Patrol cadets from Marin are among 35 from Northern California who will go to China Lake Naval Special Weapons Testing Area during Easter vacation next week. The cadets were chosen by vote from their squadrons.

Representatives from Cadet Amphibious Squadron 2, which meets in Sausalito, are A/3c Raymond Riha and A/3c Paul Kordic, both of Mill Valley. From San Rafael's Marin Squadron 4 are cadet 2nd Lts. Gary Penders of Terra Linda and Robert Hamstra of San Rafael. Cadet 1st Lt. Karen Woodman, also of Terra Linda, works directly with the headquarters of the California CAP Wing.

The cadets will fly from Hamilton Air Force Base by military aircraft.

Guitarist Will Present Concert

A breakfast concert will be presented at Sabella's Sunday by Karl Herreshoff, student guitarist who won a $200 Marin Music Chest scholarship last year.

Herreshoff, 17, has been giving a series of performances to raise money for a trip to the University of Sienna in Italy, where he will study under famed guitarist Andres Segovia.

Angelo Sabella is donating the use of a dining room for 80 patrons. Breakfast will be served at 9:30 a.m. Reservations are available at Sabella's and at the Ave Maria Shop, 973 Grand avenue, San Rafael.

Dads Club Sets Variety Show

The annual variety show of the Larkspur-Corte Madera Dads Club will be presented April 24 and 25 at the Corte Madera Recreation Center.

L. W. Simmonds, director, said the show this year will be called "Midway Capers of 1959." He said the 14 variety acts will be done with a circus setting. Funds derived from the show will be used for extracurricular activities for children of the district.

Tenor, Soprano Will Wind Up Concert Series

Glade Peterson, National Broadcasting Co. opera tenor, and Korean-born soprano Joy Kim will present an evening of musical theater on April 2 as the final program in the Mill Valley Concert Series.

In their joint recital beginning at 8:15 p.m. at the Outdoor Art Clubhouse, the duo will stage scenes in costume from "La Boheme" and "Madame Butterfly," popular Puccini operas, as well as excerpts from Mozart operas and Korean songs.

Petite Joy Kim was brought as a child from Seoul, Korea, to Los Angeles and received her bachelor and master of music degrees from University of Southern California. Under a scholarship she also studied with the great opera singer Lotte Lehmann.

Miss Kim has sung with the Cosmopolitan Opera, toured Europe in recital for the U.S. State Department and appeared in motion pictures with John Wayne. She is returning from her engagement as star of the Wurzburg Opera on March 21 for her annual spring tour.

Born in Salt Lake City, Glade Peterson gave up an athletic career for one in singing and became leading tenor with the NBC opera after his first audition.

Peterson has starred in NBC opera-television productions of "La Boheme," "Rigoletto" and others, and was one of the four singers chosen by the hard-to-please Maria Callas to appear with her in her Carnegia Hall concert in New York last year.

Peterson comes to Mill Valley from Nassau, where he has been starring in the month-long light opera festival.

The duo's accompanist will be Raymond McFeeters, organist and composer, who has toured with such concert artists as John Charles Thomas, Lily Pons and Marian Anderson.

Those who do not hold subscriptions may obtain tickets at the door.

Committee Reports To Carry Prices

SACRAMENTO (AP)—The Assembly decided 55-18 yesterday to require interim committee reports to carry a price tag.

Assemblyman Jack A. Beaver (R-Redlands) pushed the resolution through on the argument the public is entitled to know how much was spent by the interim committees.

Disagreeing, Assemblyman S. C. Masterson (D-El Sobrante) declared the committee reports shouldn't be judged on what they cost but on the work that went into them.

Assemblyman Richard H. McCollister (R-San Rafael) cautioned the cost figures "will excite the imagination of a lot of people unnecessarily."

Ways and Means Chairman Jesse Unruh (D-Los Angeles) complained the resolution he called "lousy" carries things too far. He was against "telling everybody everything about everything we do."

In support of Beaver, Assemblyman Bruce F. Allen (R-Los Gatos) said the cost declaration would help educate the people to the fact it costs money to run the Legislature.

Dads Club Endorses School Bond Issue

The Larkspur-Corte Madera Dads Club went on record Monday night as approving the proposal for a $267,000 bond issue, on the May 19 election ballot in Larkspur School District.

The Neil Cummins School Parent-Teacher Assn. also has pledged its help in passing the bond issue, which would qualify the district for state aid in purchase and development of a fourth school site in Mariner's Cove subdivision.

Work Starts Soon On Apartments

Construction of three apartment buildings on Sir Francis Drake boulevard next to Zip's Drive-In is slated to begin early next month by Lang Construction Co. of San Rafael.

Plans for the buildings containing eight one-bedroom apartments in each were approved Monday evening by the San Anselmo Planning Commission.

Rudy D. Lang Jr. and Boyd Lang, brothers, are builders of the $275,000 apartment development.

San Rafael Man Guilty Of Burglary Attempt

A Marin Superior Court jury yesterday found Robert Eugene Gingras, 22, of 28 Stevens place, San Rafael, guilty of attempted burglary last Dec. 2 when he tried to enter the Red Fox Restaurant at 704 Fourth street, San Rafael.

Judge Richard M. Sims Jr. postponed sentencing until April 6 for a report from the probation department.

IT'S 'DESTRUCTIVE'

Actress Diane Varsi Gives Up Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Diane Varsi, one of the movies' brightest new stars, an Oscar nominee last year for her performance in "Peyton Place," says she's quitting acting to live quietly in Bennington, Vt.

Acting, she finds, is "destructive to me."

"It has nothing to do with my studio," she said. "I just don't want to act any more or be a part of this business."

Miss Varsi, 21, was flying today with Shawn, 2, a son born during her former marriage to James Dickson, 26, coowner of a record company.

A shy girl who drives an old jalopy and has shown up to talk to producers in blue jeans, shirt and bare feet, she said it's hard to explain her motives.

"I don't like some of the ways of Hollywood, but my reasons go deeper," she said. "It is the performing itself that I object to. I find it destructive to me. I don't see any reason to be made miserable just because other people say I should go on with my career.

"If I have any talent I will try to find some other outlet for it that will make me less unhappy. For the present I will just live quietly in Vermont and take care of my child."

Abandons film career

Protest Meeting's Place Changed

A tax protest mass meeting called by the Marin County Taxpayers Assn. for 8 o'clock tonight will be held in the cafeteria of San Rafael High School.

The high school auditorium, where the meeting originally scheduled, has been preempted for a repeat performance of "Oklahoma!" by the high school music department, announced Principal Ralph Phelps.

Curtain time for the "Oklahoma!" performance is 7:30 p.m.

Marin Man Named Showroom Manager

Walter Hotzner of 208 Miranda avenue, San Rafael Meadows, has been named manager of a new showroom of High Fidelity Unlimited at 1560 California street, San Francisco.

Formal opening of the San Francisco showroom will be 10 a. m. to 9 p. m. Saturday and from noon to 5 p. m. Sunday.

Science Fair Opens At Kent School

A. E. Kent School in Kentfield opened its science fair this morning with 150 entries from pupils in fourth through eighth grades.

The displays in the school multi-use room will be open for inspection from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. tomorrow. Displays were to be judged this afternoon.

The entries are of two types: One which uses the scientific method to evaluate something like the intelligence of rats with the aid of a rat maze, and another which is a visual aide, such as a model or drawing of a heart.

Spearheading the science fair have been upper-grade science teachers John Richard and Mary Howie.

Judge Fines 2 Men For Drunken Driving

Two men arrested last month for drunken driving were fined yesterday in Marin Municipal Court by Judge Albert F. Scheidecker.

John Reynolds, 46 of Ft. Barry was fined $263 for drunken driving on Bridgeway on Feb. 22. Reynolds withdrew an earlier plea of innocent and pleaded guilty yesterday.

Frank Edward Werner, 30, of 620 Nevada street, Sausalito, was fined $158 and put on six months probation. He was arrested Feb. 23 on El Portal street.

Dinner Slated To Benefit Little Theater

A cabaret-dinner will be held at the Marin City Administration Building at 7 p.m. Saturday as the first of a series of benefit affairs to launch Marin City's little theater.

Dinner of chicken-in-a-basket will be followed by an evening of entertainment, said Henry Malcheski of Mill Valley, who, with Harry N. Bailey of Marin City, is organizing the little theater.

Several San Francisco night club entertainers will be on the program, Malcheski said. Tickets are on sale at the Waldo Market in Marin City and the Mart in Sausalito, or may be obtained from Bailey or Dorothy Parker in Marin City, Lorraine Weinbrenner and Bruce Risley in Mill Valley and Betty Meredith in Ross.

The Marin City Community Theater has employed David Sacks, well known Bay Area director, to direct its first play, "Take a Giant Step," which is now in rehearsal.

Marinite's Ticket Drawn In Sweeps

An article in the April issue of Reader's Digest, which reached subscribers this week, calls the Irish Hospital Sweepstakes "the world's greatest bleeding-heart racket."

Maybe so, but you'd have a hard time today convincing Mrs. Ethel Sabraw of 1924 Grand avenue, San Rafael.

Mrs. Sabraw learned yesterday her ticket in the "Sweeps" has been drawn for a horse, Balsize, in Saturday's running of the Grand National Steeplechase at Aintree, England. This assures her of a substantial prize and gives her a chance at $140,000 if Balsize, a 33-to-1 shot, should romp in first.

Mrs. Sabraw is a beauty operator at Andre's Beauty Salon in Mill Valley. Her husband, Gerald, is a member of Sabraw Brothers, San Rafael building contractors.

Junior Theater Discussion Set

The Marin County Junior Theater will be the topic of discussion on Kitty Oppenheimer's KTIM radio program "Open House" at 11 a.m. Monday.

Mrs. Oppenheimer will interview Mrs. Paul Talbot, chairman of the Sleepy Hollow unit of the Marin County Junior Theater, and Mrs. Robert Salles, summer workshop chairman.

CLASSROOM TV CAN'T REPLACE TEACHER, COLLEGE PARLEY TOLD

Television in the college classroom may offer real competition to the professor, but there are certain areas where nothing but a human instructor is satisfactory, it was asserted at a conference of the California Junior College Assn. in Long Beach last week.

Ward H. Austin, president, and Paul Clymer, vice president of College of Marin were among educators attending the meeting.

Panelists at the conference held that "television in either an open or closed circuit situation" can present subject matter as well as can a teacher, Austin reported today.

Kennel Club Sets Show For April 19

An American Kennel Club sanction and all-breed obedience match for pedigreed dogs has been set for April 19 at College of Marin, J. A. Boegman, president of the newly formed Sir Francis Drake Kennel Club, announced today.

Winners of the match will be awarded trophies, but will not be competing for points toward earning AKC certificates of title, said Boegman.

Boegman, a Mill Valley resident, was recently elected president of the group. Other officers include Paul Putnam, Novato, first vice president; Arthur Foff, Mill Valley, second vice president; Thomas McWatters Jr., Larkspur, treasurer; Nora Randolph, Stinson Beach, corresponding secretary, and Helen Michaels, Corte Madera, recording secretary.

Anna Taylor, a woman, was the first person ever to go over Niagara Falls in a barrel and survive. This was in 1901.

Assembly Unit Passes Old Age Pension Hike

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—Legislation increasing the basic monthly check of California's old age pensioners from $90 to $100 has passed its first legislative test.

The Assembly Social Welfare Committee yesterday approved the legislation authored by Assemblyman John O'Connel (D-San Francisco) and sent it along to the Ways and Means Committee.

Pension promoter George McLain explained the bill provided a "cost of living" increase for the state's 265,000 old-age pensioners.

McLain said under present law oldsters were allowed $28.50 a month for food.

"It costs more for food than that," McLain said.

The measure was opposed by William Siegel of the County Supervisors Assn., who said the Legislature should establish a "priority list" for increases in public aid.

An immediate advantage from the bill would be enjoyed by 114,000 oldsters receiving both federal and state aid. When an increase in the federal grant went into effect last month, the state began deducting that amount from the state payment.

O'Connell's bill would permit federal-state aid recipients to keep the federal increase as well as upping their state payment.

Marin GI Injured In Mishap In Italy

Pvt. Ted L. Zink of Novato is undergoing treatment for two fractured legs at a U.S. Army hospital at Vinzanza, Italy.

He was injured in a barrack accident while serving with the Southern European American Tactical Army Forces in Italy. Zink, a graduate of San Rafael High school, is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold F. Zink of 805 Eucalyptus avenue, Novato.

Tam Evening School Opens March 30

The Tamalpais Adult Evening School will begin the week of March 30. Registration for the classes will be on the same night that the class is scheduled.

Classes which meet on Mondays at 7:30 p.m. at the Tamalpais High School are typing, bookkeeping, Americanization, water color, oils, jewelry, copper and fundamentals of high school subjects.

Classes which start on Wednesday, April 1, at Tam High are English for the foreign-born, improvement in reading, sewing, tailoring and ceramics.

Sir Francis Drake High School has the following classes at 7:30 p.m. on Tuesday, March 31: color photography, woodworking, public speaking, draperies, investments, basic and intermediate swimming. On Thursday evenings the following are offered: rug braiding, basic electricity, typing, bookkeeping and fundamentals of high school.

Four Who Fought With Loggers Plead Innocent

Four East Bay teen-agers who tangled with some tough loggers at Olema on March 8 entered pleas of innocent yesterday to charges of disturbing the peace and illegal liquor possession.

Their attorney, T. Roy Hoover of Oakland, entered the pleas before Judge Albert F. Scheidecker of Sebastopol, sitting in Marin Municipal Court.

The four are William P. Lipps, 18; Stanton G. Friedman, 19; James M. Cooney, 18, and Robert A. Fansler, 18. Fansler is from El Cerrito, the other three from Berkeley. They are free on $150 bail each except Friedman, whose bail was increased to $500 yesterday.

Jury trial was waived and their trial was set for March 31 at 9:30 a.m.

'Haman Hop' Slated

A "Haman Hop" will be held at the Marin Jewish Community Center in San Rafael Saturday beginning at 9 p.m. in celebration of the festive holiday of Purim, it was announced today by the Sisterhood sponsoring the event. Dancing, refreshments and entertainment are planned.

FASHIONS.....

It's spring—a fresh, exhilarating season so full of the joys of living, so completely wonderful that the whole family goes eagerly forward to greet it. Among spring's most exciting pleasures is the change to new fashions for everyone in the family.

Important fashion trends include the dainty party dress in organdy or taffeta, scalloped and deftly shaped with a skirt billowing into a trio of bouffant flounces.

"Continental" is the word for the newest style in men's suits this spring. Featured are jackets somewhat shorter than other styles, coming with two-buttons, as well as three.

In swimwear, the snug fitting armholes and tiny straps are a feature of designer's collections this year. Wool knits continue to be popular and expect bright colors at the beach.

Just like "Pop's" are the spring topcoats for little gentlemen. These new topcoats are lighter than ever in weight and the new styling also features shorter lengths. And, there are new colors and shades for the young men this season.

Fashion's "lifted look" with its focus on the top of the silhouette gets support from milliners, who give spring hats more height in the crowns. Hats show new softness this season both in trimming and shape.

Playclothes feature dainty touches from the blousson to the scalloped topette. Slim trim tapered pants are ever popular.

It is a safe prediction that more men will turn out in walking shorts this year with Bermuda lengths or longer getting the preference.

Bolder Patterns Seen In Neckties

Many of the new neckties are flaunting bright Spring-like colors, bolder patterns and lighter shades. Among the top neckwear choices are shantungs, in both bright and dull silk surfaces. Stripes and plaids predominate. The under-knot pattern or design is headed for quite a comeback this season. These are the ties that show a distinctive pattern under the knot, and go well with striped, checked or plaided shirt fabrics.

HOME AND ABROAD

Natural Line Gains Unanimous Approval Of Fashion Designers

By PATRICIA ZINN

The curtain has gone up on spring fashions and it is apparent that the shirtwaist dress, the short jacketed suit and the dress-and-jacket costumes with belt at the normal waistline are the outstanding silhouettes in the opening scenes.

Artistry displayed in today's fashion edition is by Independent-Journal staffers Jack Lucey who designed the cover and Ken Molino and Bob Hax, photographers.

The American woman has final proof that fashion is back to normal with the Paris high fashion houses united and singleminded about a new style, the "natural line."

Gone and let us hope forgotten are the sacks, chemises, trapezes and all silhouette exaggerations.

Skirts are longer than last year. They cover the knee cap with a couple of inches to spare.

The beloved shirtwaist dress has made a much heralded return to the spring scene in every type of fabric from cottons to chiffons.

The new suits will bring a welcome touch to many a wardrobe for their soft necklines, shorter jackets and slim skirts highly becoming to every woman. And the short sleeves, often ending at the elbow, that mark all the spring suits give special emphasis to bracelets.

No one color overshadows all others. White, coming up steadily the past seasons, is at its strongest for spring, in natural and bleached types, in white-on-white combinations, to pale down one or more colors, to accent such strong colors as red, vivid blue, black, yellow or navy. Cream and off-white show strength. Greens show the greatest increase perhaps of any family; pinks are strong in myriad shades; blues hold their own, and buttercup yellows are up-coming.

Now that the trapeze and chemise have been "sacked" what about the needle shoes? The graceful elongated last is still there, but there is less shoe to the shoe. The sides are lower or become straps — wide straps, sling straps, T-straps or intricate cut-outs. A whole spectrum of luminous shades and "hot" pastels have been produced. All told, to reach the height of fashion, point they must.

The over-all fashion picture can perhaps best be told by previews of leading designers:

MARJORIE CARNE says California stylings show these 1959 trends:

There will be fuller, shorter skirts and more form-revealing styles; waistlines will go down from their present highs; in swimwear, there will be two-piece, bikini type suits, bared midriffs, and bright colors such as yellow, orange and lime.

NETTIE ROSENSTEIN—This veteran designer, back at work after a one-season "sabbatical," cinched waistlines, scooped necklines, and featured the shirtwaist dress. Prints were among the prettiest seen in this, a heavy print season. They included light and dark blue florals; blue, violet and white combinations; and yellow gilt flowers on an orange ball gown.

CLAIRE McCARDELL clothes by Townley — Mildred Orrick, who became head designer for this firm after the death of Miss McCardell, featured the cardigan-jacket suit. The firm also is selling the chemise — with belt. "It's a house classic; we've always had it," said Mrs. Orrick. Some waistlines are high, but a woman can adjust the belt to suit herself—buttoning it on at any one of three locations.

PAUL PARNES—This manufacturer favors suits with slim skirts and short jackets. Jackets are semi-fitted or slightly bloused.

B. H. WRAGG—The classic shirtwaist reigns at this house, famous for its casual, young suburbanite fashions. Wragge also introduces the "slipcover" dress, oriental style. The overdress, or slipcover, is in print, unbelted and with side slits in the skirts; it's worn over a solid color sheath.

EDWARD ABBOTT—Designer Wilson Folmer fixes the waistline at normal, with east of silhouette above and below. "Puffery" is his term for a silhouette with bulk above the waistline.

ANN FOGARTY — This designer sticks with two silhouettes for which she long has been known—the sheath and the shirtwaist. The full-skirted shirtwaisters come with color-matched petticoats.

JANE DERBY—This designer likes the fitted silhouette, but without the taut look. Skirts and necklines of dresses, suit jackets and even coats are flounced. Big, soft collars and sheer fichus cover the shoulders in some costumes; other coats and suits are collarless.

VERA STEWART — Shirtwaist and coat dresses abound here. She also shows a group of sleeveless dresses paired with cashmere sweaters in a young-looking hipbone length.

BEN GERSHEL — Suit jackets are short, topping strictly slim skirts with neat, trouser darts. Coats in the collection suggest a high waistline in front. In some coats, an inner belt circles the waist, emerging only at the center front.

MARQUISE — Designer Philippe Tournaye gives waistline emphasis with cummberbund belts or wide, crushed sashes of suede. Topping suit skirts or slim-cut dresses. He also uses flat, half-belts on some coats and suit jackets.

Paris high fashion houses have seldom been uniform. When the season got under way with small, belted waistlines and a natural silhouette in the Heim, Patou and Cardin shows, the trend was firmly set. Laroche, Balmain, Lanvin Castillo, Matta and the others fell into step. Still, some experts wondered of Dior's young designer Yves Saint Laurent would follow.

He did, and unofficially christened the season's silhouette when he named his own version the "natural line." The other houses must have breathed a sigh of relief.

What the spring styles may lack in breath-taking originality, they make up in pure figure flattery.

IVAN FREDERIC points the way to a most beautiful spring. Polka dots, one of the season's most pleasant basic patterns, is a wonderful addition to any traveling or stay-at-home wardrobe. This dress is available in many colors at Mayer's in Mill Valley.

SPRING ON TO summer ensemble is modeled by Kathy Menini. The rayon linen sheath with matching orlon sweater in turquoise is featured at Kaufman's in San Anselmo. A black patent bag and Trifari accessories complete the outfit.

Handbags Like Smaller Size, Softer Shapes

Handbags, which for the past several seasons have had the proportions of small suit-cases, go ladylike this spring.

Smooth leathers are softer, grained leathers are finer, suedes are silkier — and dimensions have dwindled to meet the ladylike proportions of the feminine, more fitted silhouette.

One of the most popular new handbag fashions is the oblong, smooth and flat with soft gathering at the topline closing to give inside roominess without bulk. This handbag appears in both smooth and suede leathers for afternoon and evening, in the new bright colors as well as the off-whites and darks.

The smooth leather handbag with horizontal length and a gently rounded contour and single strap handle wins spring popularity, especially for daytime wear.

For casual or sports wear, handbags become more commodious but still retain a feminine appearance.

Boxiness is replaced with softened contours, gathered effects and expansion bases. Most effective in finely grained textures in mellow, natural tones or neutrals, these causal bags show little ornamentation except in shiny metal hardware or novelty closures.

New Emblems

Embroidered emblems are the newest fad for men's sports shirts. The emblems are made of Acrilan, which is washable, does not shrink or pucker. Look for crossed flags, heraldic lions, swordfish, and sports car designs. The shirts come in pullover styles, coat types, and a new bloused style which is elasticized at the waist. Colors are white, black, red and powder blue, aimed to show off the emblems.

A CARL Naftal cotton satin Polynesian brown and beige print dress is so becoming on Mrs. Robert Middagh. The ensemble, which is featured at Luana's of San Rafael, has a beige jacket of Burlington silk shake.

Front Pockets Take Over Wool Slacks

Have you taken a close look at your slacks lately? Chances are, if you compare them to the new exceptionally lightweight worsteds now in men's shops, you'll notice a marked difference in styling.

The slacks in your closet are probably more fully cut, with double pleats on each side of zipper, have conventional pockets, and of course, come with a buckled backstrap. To borrow an old phrase, all these details are old hat—and date them as yesteryear's.

Let's see what's new. Your eye is directed first to the unusual styling of the waistband and pockets. Let's take the waistband first. Most new worsted slacks come without belt loops, for the emphasis today is on trim extension waistbands and side tabs that make you look slim. You'll marvel at how they fit more comfortably around your waist, and without pleats, provide you with a trimmer appearance. And these cool wool tropicals have the ability to "give" with your body movements, yet retain their neat shape. Golfers, take note!

Now, about pockets. They've finally dared to make the move to the front of the trouser. West of the Mississippi, they're proudly called "frontier" pockets, but east of the Great Divide, it's something to do with the new Italian influence that's making a tremendous change in the styling of clothing for us Americans. And it's a welcome change, too.

You'll find these new sports slacks in the coolest wool-worsteds, some practically tissue-thin, and in patterns. Miniature checks and muted plaids are taking the place of drab solids. They're the perfect complement to a navy flannel blazer. One last word. Have them tailored cuffless for the "new" look.

THE RETURN to the natural line is seen in this navy blue crepe Caryle worn by Mrs. John Willcutt. The dark color is accentuated by a detachable white pleated collar and cuffs. The set-in waistband ends in a button belt in the back. The dress is from the Ross Valley Shop in Kentfield.

FOR SUBTEENS

Shirtwaist, Sheath Popular For Spring

Such well-established favorites as the shirtwaist and the sheath take subteens into spring. These fashions acquire a new-season air through fresh colorings, fabrics and trims.

Natural waistlines predominate, with the high-waisted look almost always a midriff line which gathers over young bosoms and draws in middles.

Brightly printed cotton dresses are liked with bouffant skirts and wide contrasting sashes, bows or cummerbunds. Splashy florals, woven plaids and polka dots are all popular.

The slim dress for subteens is usually a fitted sheath, banded under the bustline. It may be topped by a short jacket for an ensemble look. Two piece styles have banded or drawstring overblouse tops.

Shirtwaists appear in slim and bouffant versions, casual or dressed up by such details as organdy collar overlays and flower trims. Mushroom collars, full sleeves and cummerbunds provide other new looking accents.

The suit-conscious subteen has many interesting styles to choose from, including three-piece suits with blouses in harmonizing colors or prints. Especially new are jackets with scarf collars, bandbottoms, high belts or chesterfield styling.

Coats are favored in silhouettes that are full enough to wear over bouffant skirts. Many are marked by back-interest details. Slim coats have inverted back pleats for ease.

Some coats have shallow empire bodices joining flared skirts. Double-breasted closures are popular for toppers, one style being a cut-off version of the boy coat.

Popular coat fabrics include textured wools, navy and gray flannels, vivid mohairs, wool suede checks and monotone tweeds.

FRESHNESS OF SPRING INSPIRES IMPORTANT TRENDS IN JEWELRY

Spring is the season of newness—and the jewelry designed to complement spring fashions takes it inspiration straight from this mood of the new and the fresh, reports the Fashion Coordination Institute.

Important among the new trends is the shorter length of necklaces. Short bibs, shorter chokers and the shortest necklace of all, the dog collar, star for spring.

Short sleeves for suits and dresses spotlight bracelets, with a deep-cuff look and jeweled and textured surfaces.

Earrings assume new forms and designs to complement the shorter necklaces. Button earrings, with a dimensional, "crusted" and jeweled look, pair with short bibs or chokers, while other earrings sweep up the outline of the ear, to provide just the right accent for the dog collar.

Pins, pins and more pins of every size, shape and description fill a big fashion role.

But perhaps the most spring-like touch of all in new jewelry is color. With many pale pastels and many neutrals seen in dresses, suits and coats, colored jewelry has special importance in the fashion scheme of things, the Institute reports.

JOHN LARKIN, a senior at Sir Francis Drake High School, wears an all-wool student's sport coat made especially for the wide-shouldered, slim-hipped young man. His flap-back slacks are of Orlano, a new blend of orlon and wool worsted. The coat and slacks are featured at Marin's Boys' Store and Men's Corner in San Anselmo.

Missiles Miss

Look for the Miss in Missiles, say engineers with a Milwaukee metal spinning firm, which manufacturers rocket parts. They noticed a marked similarity between shapes of fashions and the rockets.

For example, the trapeze look, popular last year, is repeated in the conical spinning which forms part of the Honest John missile. The chemise, another 1958 style, looks like the cylinder that forms the first part of many missile spinnings. And the sheath, back in fashion this year, resembles a nozzle component from another missile.

Shoe Colors Feature Five Top Families

Color becomes a family affair in women's shoes for spring — a five-family affair, in fact. Grouped according to popularity, the five top families of fashion colors in leather shoes include hot pinks, brilliant reds, bright blues, light salad greens going into Irish greens and avocados, and deep, hot oranges and sea corals.

Other favored colors are mauvepinks, lilacs and deep purples, featured mainly in dress shoes. Continuing in popularity, too, is the beigeto-brown group, including bone, toast and the grayed browns.

Particularly beautiful are these dazzling colors interpreted in new calfskins that are silky soft with a subdued luster, shown for dressy, casual or street wear.

Use of multicolor for spring shoes is best interpreted in casual styles, but two-tone combinations are seen in daytime and dress shoes — blue brushed leather with accents of green smooth leather, geranium pink with pale orange in smooth, lustrous leathers, blued shocking pinks with lilac leather.

Ultra smooth surfaces or softly brushed leathers have great fashion appeal. Textured leathers, very finely grained, are seen in tailored shoes for street or country wear. High in popularity, too, are patent leathers in new fashion colors.

Shape of the shoe continues to be lean and tapered with needle-point toe or with a flattened and gently squared toe. The closed toe and heel pump is most favored, but the pump opens up a bit for spring, with cutout vamps and variations of the T-straps and ties.

The open shoe, such as the closed-toe muleback, wide strap styles that replace the stripping sandal and halter styles, finds a fashionable place at after-five occasions.

SPRING IS the season for brides and Tami Evans looks lovely in this bridal gown from Modern Eve in San Rafael and Novato. A drift of nylon embroidered organza, the ballerina gown is fashioned with a square neckline and sheer scalloped sleeves. The light silk bouvardia veil is attached to a scalloped half hat of tulle with pearl appliqued lace.

Saddle Shoe

The junior set will be back in the saddle shoe, predict shoe manufacturers. The saddles have new lightweight flexible soles in brushed leather which is said to provide insulation for foot comfort. The shoes are more sleek and tapered than previous models.

The all-leather sneaker also will be introduced for spring. It is so soft and flexible that the manufacturers claim you can roll it up in the palm of your hand.

Colors will be bright for both saddles and sneakers. Look for blues, reds, greens, yellows, pale beige, pearl grey and white.

Bridal Gowns Take Freshness, Charm From Fashion Ideas

Gowns for the spring bride combine traditional influences with new ideas for freshness and charm.

High empire waists are marked by bows, bands or sashes, often in contrasting pastel shades. Lace, floral appliques, seed pearl and crystal beadings are also used to emphasize an empire bodice.

Silhouettes range from dome shapes to styles with flat fronts and side fullness. Carriage skirts with bouffant backs and fan skirts with soft waistline pleating are other choices. Many skirts are slightly raised in front, with court trains in back.

Period influences include high-rising Regency backs and trains, Watteau panels and Victorian self-roses and bustle-back effects. Sleeves are usually never longer than elbow length.

Among the favored fabrics are Chantilly lace, taffeta, nylon chiffon and nylon tulle, peau de soie and satin. Sheer fabrics, such as organdy, are often embroidered with allover floral patterns or feature all-over lace appliques.

Sunny Themes Seen In Raincoat Styles

Styled for wear in sunshine as well as showers, spring raincoats combine weather protection and '59 fashion themes.

Attractive textures and distinctive colors characterize many raincoats. Corded cotton stripes, cable-stitch cotton knits light wool basketweaves, cotton checks and waffle weaves are among the choices.

Such classic raincoat fabrics as poplin and cavalry twill take a new look in floral or paisley-type prints.

Gently high-waisted effects vie with demi-fitted models and chesterfields for popularity.

NATIONAL FABRICS STYLISTS RECOMMEND Vogue's SANITONE.

Of course clothes help make the man. It pays to buy quality materials like British Woollens, and to get fine tailoring like that provided by Kuppenheimer. But don't stop there! To get the most out of all your clothes—from father's suits to little sister's sweaters—give them Sanitone care.

Sanitone with exclusive Soft-Set® Finish is the quality dry cleaning. It makes dirt and perspiration disappear like magic. Gets out deep-down, embedded dirt particles which cause wear. It keeps the woven-in, tailored-in quality of clothes "alive" even after as many as 25 dry cleanings.

So depend on our top-quality, nationally-advertised Sanitone Dry Cleaning for clothing care, just as you depend on leading brand names when you purchase clothes. Remember, there's as much difference in dry cleaning as there is in clothes.

SAUSALITO ..... Bridgeway & Princess

A SILK ensemble with print dress of bright floral design on a white background is modeled by Thelma Lavine. From Sarrae's of San Rafael, the dress has cap sleeves and an empire waistline while the short sleeve full length coat is lined with the fabric of the dress.

High Marks Being Given Spring Coats

The newest looking coats this spring are marked by high lines bright colors and versatile "personalities" that adapt easily to suburban, urban and travel situations.

This three-way wearability is achieved through fabrics that can assume several roles. These include vivid nubby and fluffy-surfaced woolens with interesting textures, mohairs, mesh effects and hopsackings, substantial double-knit jerseys in wool or cotton.

Colors are brilliant. There are golden yellows, flower tones of blue, vibrant pinks to ruby reds, melon shades, leaf and sea greens, lilac tones, bleached and unbleached whites. Navy, black, beige and rose-beige offer popular choices among neutrals.

A hand-woven look is stressed in plaids and a great variety of checks, from small worsted patterns to giant windowpanes They appear in bright or beige with white and in two-color and raised patterns.

For the high-waisted line, the waist may be lifted by belts, sashes, drawstrings or multiple seaming. Gathers, high pockets, flaps, tucks and banding are also used.

A return to demi-fitted and fitted silhouettes is seen in coats with either rounded full skirts or sheath skirts. The waistline is revealed by belts crushed softly at front, by short bodices worked closer to the figure and by all-around belts.

They're Reversible

"Reversible" is an important trend in new coats and jackets. Solid color on one side, print on another is a popular turnabout effect. Other reversibles offer a quick change from color to color and from fabric to fabric.

ALL READY for the Easter parade is Diana Burdisso in her lavender imported organdie and Panama straw hat from Henrietta's Children's Shop in San Rafael. A matching bouffant slip and flattering wide double lace collar make the little miss in perfect style harmony with spring.

Infants' Wear Is Pretty, Practical

Easy-care fabrics with a luxurious look and new views on color unite to produce a spring shower of infants' wear that's exceptionally pretty yet practical.

Colors for baby's wardrobe include pale lavender, sea green, pinks from bright to pale rose and organdy yellows.

For tiny girls, there are "empire" dresses with little bodices and full skirts. in a host of wonder fabrics, blends and easy-care cottons, adorned with laces and embroideries.

Miniature suits and coordinates for infant boys come in such fabrics as cotton knit, cotton cord, corduroy and broadcloth.

Washable woolens for both play and dress up help to make this a more restful season for mother.

THIS FAMILY is smartly outfitted in spring fashions from J. C. Penney Co., of San Rafael and Corte Madera. Mrs. Gerald Johnson, pictured with children Rebecca and Mark, wears a rayon spun linen with polka dot lined duster. Rebecca is wearing a pattern flocked nylon with permanent pleated skirt while Mark has on a four piece, two-slack sport ensemble.

Evening Costumes Show New Drama

Some of the most exciting coat and dress costumes of the spring season are those intended for evening wear.

They take into spring such opulent fabrics as moire or lame, as well as chiffon and other silks. Rich colors, prints and embroideries and much feminine flattery of style make them dramatically beautiful.

A favored silhouette for the dresses combines wide, shapely necklines with fitted bodices and belled, bubble or harem skirts. Lovely alternative is the softly slim long dress.

Companion coats are either wide and sweeping

Blues, Yellows Fashion Forecast For The Males

Most families like to take their vacation in a car. There's plenty of room for the kids, the dog, all the clothes, the baby's favorite toys — everything can be put in somewhere. You stop when you want, you eat and sleep where you want; you are your own boss. And the family has its fun together.

Whether this year you plan a long drive to the National Parks of the West or to a lake sixty miles from home, you want to take the right clothes with you. If you don't plan a proper wardrobe a lot of the enjoyment of a vacation can be spoiled.

When a man travels, he likes to be comfortable. When driving, he wears a sports shirt, and walk-shorts or slacks — all lightweight, uninhibited in color. When he goes away for a vacation, he takes a suit for evening, a sports jacket and a sweater, just in case. He prefers wool, because it holds up through a trip, always looks neater and fresher, makes him feel comfortable but well-dressed.

Walk-shorts — most popularly worn with knitted wool shirts this summer — come in all the brightest colors and in white and black. New are the lightweight wools with patterns, everything from stripes to plaids to novelty prints. The same is true of slacks — one of the smartest resort outfits this summer will be a pair of plaid worsted slacks worn with a solid-color wool blazer. Husband and wife can find matching "his and hers" walk-shorts and slacks, too, for a "togetherness" ensemble that will keep your friends talking.

The color you will see most this spring and summer is blue — in all shades from deepest navy to light copen blue. It will often be contrasted with white — for example, white slacks with a blue pullover shirt. But the high fashion colors are the yellows — mustard, lemon, bronze, brass — and they will look best, of course, worn with browns.

Low-holers — three or four buttons placed low to create a deep V-opening—are the smartest styling in both wool sweaters and leisure jackets. Many have shawl collars, but the newest syle jacket has no collar — a cardigan effect that is cooler in hot weather, a very sensible design. Knitted wool sweater-shirts are another welcome innovation, worn outside the trousers, very casual and comfortable, again usually in cardigan style.

Toppers Return

Toppers are staging a comeback in shock-hued shaggy wools or in matched tweeds with suits for the ensemble look.

Bridal Bouquet

Christian Dior adds a fifth "something" to the bride's apparel — pearl-trimmed shoes and stockings. Seed pearl motifs are hand embroidered on the front instep of each stocking and on the vamp of shoes. Called "Bridal Bouquet," the coordinates come in full-fashioned and seamless sandalfoot styles and champagne shades.

IN HARMONY with spring blossoms are these "Tree of Life" pumps in geranium pink from The Sandal in Sausalito. The Capezio shoes worn by Mrs. John Terrence Ward are fashioned with a princess heel.

FITTED COATS MAKE SPRING COMEBACK

Coming in strong for the girls' spring are fitted coats. High belts and pockets or bows at mid bodice mark many, while others are gathered, pleated or draped from a raised waistline.

As an alternate to the fitted coat, there are many versions of the chesterfield and classic reefer.

Little girls can choose their coats in a wide range of textured fabrics and bright colors. Looped wools and mohairs appear in such hues as vivid orange or aqua.

Navy, red and gray worsteds and flannels, bold tweeds and plaids and water-repellent cottons are all popular.

Newest looking of all are white coats.

Enter Silk

Silk coats bring black into the spring picture, with silk and worsted mixtures, silk ottoman and douppioni weaves.

CHRIS EDWARDS models a navy blue blazer tailored of fine wool in a basket weave and grey flannel slacks from Kaufman's in San Anselmo. The white Oxford button down shirt by Arrow worn with a pure silk rep tie in conservative stripings featuring tones of blue are compatible companions.

New Fabrics Take On Airy Look

Appropriately for spring, new fabrics take on an airy look, with textures refined, and often crisp. Mohairs are fluffy rather than shaggy, and tweeds and other fabrics show a marked preference for almost-lacy effects.

Looped mohairs and souffle woolens are impressive in open basketweaves, and fishnet mohair makes an entry, looking refreshingly springlike. Other cool and lacy looks are achieved in wool and mohair boucles, hopsackings, and blends of wool with silk, cotton or synthetics.

Some looped mohairs have been pressed flat, making for a novel effect and easier care. Also favored are brushed surfaces, tweeds lightly embellished with mohair loops, and the knit look.

Worsteds express texture interest through ribbed, linen-like or knit-look surfaces, with classic checked and glen-plaid worsteds continuing popular. One of the nicest new ideas in worsted for spring is worsted crepe, liked especially for suits and costumes.

On the crisp side are the refined tweeds, appearing in wool or silk or in blends of wool and silk. There's crispness, too, in new-looking blends of reindeer hair and wool.

Silk — a frequent choice for the all-popular dress and jacket costume — goes along with wool in the demand for texture interest. Rustics, such as tussah, and douppioni are among the leaders.

Both cotton and the man-made fibers show a new talent for emulating wool and silk in many dimensional textures.

HARBINGERS OF spring with their new colors of pistachio green, April in Paris red and soft beige, are these Avonette pumps with descending throat line modeled for Netboy's of San Rafael by Mrs. Maurice J. Koch. The pumps are accented with a diagonal band of matching pearlized calf. Matching handbags are also available.

New Styles In Millinery Show The Hair To Better Advantage

Fashion's "lifted look," with its focus on the top of the silhouette, gets support from milliners, who give spring hats more height in the crowns.

Along with this goes more news—and very welcome news for the many women who would like their hats to show greater respect for their hairdos. Spring hats take notice of the coiffure. New silhouettes often show more hair, and where the hair is covered, the hats are designed to protect the coiffure against excessive mussing.

Higher crowns frequently combine with wider brims this spring. The breton has a high-rising brim that goes straight up. Whether the brim is wide or narrow, the classic cloche keeps a tall crown. Toques are step-like or smoothly slanted. Sailors combine high or spread crowns with bumper brims, while pillboxes show new depth.

Wide-brimmed hats, flower-heaped, and head-hugging shapes are noted among the popular spring silhouettes. Still others have an Oriental motif.

Whatever the silhouette, hats show new softness, both in softness, both in shaping and trims. Fabrics are put to good use, from the airy light organdies to the textury checks, and many creators accent the use of fabrics in their designs. Both textured and smooth straws are evident in the millinery fashion world, the latter predominating.

Feathers, satin or grosgrain banding, velvet, chiffon and flowers from tiny to out-size are among the many pretty spring trimmings.

Dresses Follow The High Road To '59 Fashion

Dresses are taking the high road to fashion this spring, "high" meaning anything that is, or looks as if it is, above the normal waistline. While there aren't too many with true empire lines, a wide variety of "lifted looks" and "shortwaisted" looks may be chosen to flatter many different figure types.

One of the favored ways to achieve this look is through dress and jacket costumes, composed of dresses with a closer-to-the-body fit and jackets that stop just below the bustline or just above the waistline.

The trick may also be turned by mock bolero effects, contrast bodices, high-placed bows, inset bands, seaming or buttons. Then there are high-rising contoured belts, sashes, draped scarves and drawstrings all of which contribute to the "lifted look" for dresses.

Alternates to the high-rise effect are offered by many dresses with natural waistlines, some with dropped waistlines, and princess styles. Blousons continue as a popular favorite, with the blousing often starting above the waist. Tunics provide a new and fashionable look for still other dresses.

Neckline interest centers around large collars, usually standing away from the neck and often pleated, fluted or folded. Spring-like lingerie touches of white linen, lace or organdy are favored.

For Bridesmaids

Pretty fashion choices for spring bridesmaids are dresses with empire and princess lines, pouffed and back-interest styles and bell-skirted silhouettes.

Brief Toppings, Reversibles In Newly Luxurious Little Furs

Rising high in spring fashion's favor, the little jacket achieves some of its loveliest and most luxurious looks in fur. It appears in a variety of lengths—all short, and ranging from bolero-brief to waist length or just below—and in many furs, with mink predominating.

Along with the little jacket, notable fur fashion ideas this season are the long and narrow stole and reversible or convertible furs.

"Handled like cloth" is still the trend where fur is concerned, and fur jackets reflect this, being softly shaped to display spring '59 fashion themes.

In addition to shorter lengths, the jackets take many of the treatments that characterize the "lifted look"—large collars, double-breasted closings, short to bracelet length sleeves, notched collars, wide-away necklines, high-placed belts or belt effects and scarf necklines made to tie in many different ways.

Even classic shapes for the little fur jacket reflect fashion trends in fresh handling of necklines and collars. Flounced capelets, too, express an empire feeling.

COLORFUL AND GAY for spring is this white drip dry brunch coat by "Lazy Togs" fashioned with a tulip print midsection of either coral and pink or blue and fuschia tones. Model Eileen Herdman calls attention to the tie belt. The coat is from Munter's Intimate Apparel, San Rafael.

DASHing flair may be added to this "Palina" wash and wear from Montgomery Ward of San Rafael with either a self belt or polka dot tie sash. Carole Krause models the dress which features a circular skirt and three quarter sleeves accented by white linen cuffs.

STEPPING SMARTLY into spring wearing a beige silk linen bouffant dress topped with a fully lined short jacket of hop sacking is Nancy Roach. The dress with jacket covered in a floral print of shades of blue is featured at the Mayfair Shop, San Rafael.

Lifted Waistline Effects Seen In Newest Styles Of The Season

Fashion plans for spring revolve around the costume look. Although the general style trend is upward — shorter skirts, lifted-look waistlines, more top interest effects—the emphasis is not so much on silhouette as on the attractive combination of all fashion elements.

Such spring partnerships as the dress plus jacket or coat, the coat with a matching skirt and the suit with a coordinated blouse are present in abundance, ready for wearing. Certainly one or all of these will find their way into most wardrobes, and fashion-conscious women will want to assemble additional costumes, from dresses, coats, suits, jackets and blouses that are purchased separately.

As a focal point of fashion, costumes reveal the outstanding spring trends. Take, for instance, the little jackets, ribcage to waist length, that appear so frequently in dress-jacket combinations. These brief jackets help to carry out the high-waisted look, which is often just a look and not an actuality. Thus, a fitted sheath with natural waistline may rely on its accompanying short jacket to give a high-line effect.

Wide belts, fitted midriffs, brief bodices in contrasting colors and fabrics, and high-placed tabs, bows or belts are other ways that the lifted look is created.

Silhouette Fitted

All point up the fact that, while spring fashions owe inspiration to the empire and Directoire, some flattering changes have been made. Even when the raised waistline is a matter of fit rather than look, the trend is away from the mid-riff fullness of the true empire and toward a more fitted line.

Spring's view of color—plenty of "hot" and pale hues, with strengthening interest in basic navy, beige, black and gray is beautifully illustrated by coat and dress costumes, in such combinations as a pale beige coat over a dress printed in the vividest of pastels. Often the coat is lined to match the dress.

Important coat entries for spring as part of costumes or individually—are the coat with the gathered and tapered or blade-pleated back, the fitted coat, the slim sheath coat and the coat with a softly gathered high waistline.

With much attention being given to top interest, shoulder lines of both coats and suits are often wider, though not padded. More top interest comes from the big, big collar, a major fashion theme.

Adds a Scarf

In contrast, there's the collarless or mandarin neckline, indicative of an Oriental feeling seen in many phases of spring fashion. Top interest isn't neglected here, for the collarless-neckline coat or suit usually comes with a matching, and probably fringed, muffler-like scarf to wrap the neckline.

Because of the emphasis on the costume look, many suits are equipped with their own blouses.

Belts Are Back In Prettier Shape

Belts, sacked last year by the chemise, are back — and in prettier shape than ever.

Gently contoured or straight, the majority of belts meant to be worn at the waist — not empire fashion — are slim. To compliment the "lifted look," belts take on a sash effect in soft, crushed leather to be worn wide and high above the waistline.

For dressy wear belts are simply designed and, most often, ornamentation is merely a pleating or a scalloping of the leather itself.

For casual wear there are all sorts of amusing "hobby" belts made of glove-soft leather and ornamented with sports car insignia, foreign coins, sports symbols and other items.

Others feature double strap effects in matching or contrasting leather, novelty closures, and leather overlays.

Varied Effects

Hats are designed to wear level or tipped back on the head. Some styles have a decided tilt, worn at provocative angles. The Millinery Creators of America, a group of 17 designers, shows wide, floppy brimmed picture hats which give two different effects, depending on the angle. They hide the face when worn straight or frame the face in a youthful manner, dipping to the shoulder in back, when tilted.

Veils are in abundance — swathing evening hats, obscuring the face in a cloud, or falling from brim to neckline in harem fashion.

Lighter Look Seen In Children's New Soft Spring Shoes

Youngsters' shoes for spring are lighter looking, slimmer and more flexible. Toes, though gently tapered, follow the contour of the foot, for fit and comfort.

Ultra-soft leathers, of the type used in baby shoes, are prominently featured, most often in variations of the oxford.

Boys' "soft shoe" styles are simply designed with emphasis on comfort. Equally comfortable, girls' styles are dressed up with bright colors and dainty, decorative touches at the toe or vamp.

Slim little pumps and strap shoes appear in leathers that range from ice-cream colors to bright reds, blues and greens. Pumps are low-cut with "built-in" ornaments at the vamp or delicate cut-outs.

Swivel straps and T-straps are seen in dressy styles and also in bubble and saddle-type shoes. Shown in both smooth and brushed leathers, the square-toed shoe is seen in slip-on, oxford and moccasin styles.

Moccasin styling, generally, is favored, with new variations in close seams, flat seams and finely stitched patterns.

New Shop

In milliner Don Marshall's office, they'll be calling it a "chapeau" instead of a hat. Marshall has opened a new shop in Paris in the house of couturier Serge Matta. The milliner, who designed Grace Kelley's controversial "honeymoon hat," specializes in veil-hats which cover the hair lightly without mussing it. His other offices are in New York and Beverly Hills, Calif.

Cutaway Liked

A modified cutaway line — high in front, dipping slightly lower in back—is liked for easy suits. Wide belts for dresses and suits follow the same line.

IN STYLE FOR square dances this spring are Wilieta Moore of Moore's Square Dance Shop in Novato who wears one of her cool looking new summer dresses of white gorgette trimmed in black lace with horsehair petticoats and pantalettes. Irv Links of Irv Link's Novato Men and Boys' Store wears black frontier trousers with autographed drip dry western shirt and removable studs. Wilieta is a member of the Novato Fiddle Footers and Marin Crickets while Irv is a member of the Charm 'N Farmers.

Hues, Styles Reflect Gay Young Ideas

Juniors and teens can choose from all the things that fashion favors this spring — among them, checks, vivid colors and new-looking neutrals, textured fabrics, lifted-look silhouettes, costumes, reversible coats.

In addition, young and young-figured shoppers will find that the new fashions designed for them are marked by a special flair for adapting to their busy lives.

Both the slim dress with closer fit and the full-skirted dress get extra attention from junior and teen designers. And there's also a generous helping of shirtwaist, blouson, princess and harem-skirt styles.

Youthful gayety is reflected in bright colors, vivid patternings and a world of exciting accents. Green, red, vibrant pinks, yellows and blues show up as solids or, prominently, in checks. Bold plaids and vibrant stripes are liked, as are paisleys, polka dot and prints in blue-green colorings.

For contrast, there are browns, and beiges, followed by navy, gray and black. Classic prints, in black or navy and white, come in for spring attention.

Resort Cottons

The high-waisted look is tops in resort cottons. Waists range from a small elevation of about two inches to an extreme Empire line. The Oriental look also is strong. Designer Greta Plattry shows a beach ensemble with a polished cotton swimsuit in butterfly print, wide obi sash worn slightly above the waist, and a mandarin-coolie coat in solid color.

Another ensemble by Cabana teams a dressmaker beach-dress coat over a flowered Empire swimsuit. A Directoire slit tunic goes over a suiit by Brigance.

A BRIGHT, open shoe with a bonbon look that satisfies a yen for fashion's spirited prints in Fiancees' "Prissy" featured at Chapman's Shoes in San Rafael and Novato. A cool, pale sandal in the softest black patent, just made for short billowing skirts, gay hours.

Bridal Colors

Subtle color treatments are an intriguing feature of spring bridal gowns. They included elicate pink or blue midriffs with looped obi back bows, colored embroideries and white lace or organdy over a pastel foundation. Sometimes the entire gown is in ivory, blush pink or ice blue, as an alternative to the traditional white.

Walking Suits Vary Fabrics For Season

Walking suits move into spring, continuing the fashion interest they attracted during the fall and winter season. Now they appear in a choce of coating-weight wools — often with fur collars — for early spring wear and lighter weight fabrics such as dress worsteds for late spring. Favored silhouette of these topper-and-skirt combinations is slim, with a fitted, easy or tapered-oval jacket.

FLORAL ACCENTS

Fresh And Pretty Is Lingerie Theme

Interesting colors and prints and feminine trims help to make lingerie look very fresh and pretty this spring.

Flowers "bloom" everywhere Floral accents are embroidered on pastel slips, peignoirs and sleepwear, while flowery prints team with harmonizing solid colors for a new look in sleep sets.

These prints are characterized by a delicate air, inspired by Oriental watercolors or English gardens.

Other prints are bright and bold, sometimes with an opalescent effect. They include overblown blossoms, space prints over pigment white stripes and scattered fruits in flat black outlined technique. All are effective designs for dusters, on glazed or plain percales or cotton satins.

Embossed cottons and flocked and printed nylon sheers for robes make use of such new ideas as allover lace effects and patterns that suggest Swiss applique.

Texture Is News In Tinted Hosiery

Growing interest in new textures joins the continued trend to color, to create fashion news in stockings for spring.

Shades range from pale bisque tones and pastel mists to dark off-blacks. Stockings may have only a whisper of a tint or come in such hues as deep, rich blue or bright pink.

There are colors to complement just about every fashion shade, including greens, lilacs, golds, apricots, grays and beiges. Some are treated so as to give a fragile glow to the leg.

Textured sheers with a look of lace are sometimes reminiscent of the early Thirties.

Among other textured stockings are those with a very fine rib effect, shadowy check and tweed patterns in such two-tone combinations as beige-brown and gray-white, and honeycomb weaves. Many come in seamless styles.

It's not always necessary to match hose to costume colors. More striking effects may be achieved by wearing dark stockings with white, pale stockings with bright colors and adventurous shades with prints.

Enter Horsehair

Enter horsehair of another color. Underslips for little girls now come made in nylon horsehair with patterns. The fabric also comes in petticoats and slips for toddlers. It is guaranteed to stay permanently stiff for the life of the outer garment.

FABRICS SHEER

Curve-Conscious Silhouettes Foundations Shaped To Aid

For a curve-conscious spring, foundation garments form a pretty alliance with fashion, underlining shapely, feminine day and evening clothes.

Colors for the new foundations are lush pastels, along with white and black, and fabrics are sheer, though controlling.

For spring's modified empire styles — which are better described as short-waisted than high-waisted — there are brassieres with gently curving cups, and bands that stretch downward, sometimes passing the waistline.

Cropped jackets, shaped close to the body, likewise focus attention on the bustline, and offer another argument for the youthfully uplifting brassier which underplays rather than accentuates the bosom.

For the slim, easy-fitting sheath, there are new corselets, most of them all-elastic and virtually weightless. Down-stretch paneling front and back flattens where most figures need flattening.

In both brassieres and corselets, particular attention is paid to styles for the A-cup and the D-cup figure. And the young teen-ager will find greater variety this season in all types of foundations.

For the dress with naturally placed waistline and pleated or swirling skirt, the cinch is making a comeback.

Not so "belittling" as the cinch of the multi-petticoat era, but nevertheless intent upon tapering, are these types of waist control: the hip-length brassiere, usually called a bralette; the high-rise girdle or panty girdle, and the narrow band with waist-whittling its sole purpose.

Hip control is concentrated in the side panels of girdles and panty girdles alike, with additional paneling front and back to trim the figure from the waist down.

Long-legged pantie-girdles are available in junior, average and full-figure versions to trim the thighs for spring sheaths.

Late-day and evening fashions have prompted a wonderful collection of strapless and low-cut foundations. Both brassieres and corselets plunge front and back to accommodate either the short strapless dress with billowing skirt or the long, wand-like sheath with deep decolletage thinly veiled by chiffon.

Travel Light

A woman can pack a complete wardrobe and still "travel light" with a new collection by Lane Bryant. There's a non-muss jersey raincoat which can be worn on sunny days; a suit; four dresses for all occasions; a knit two-piece suit which can't stretch or wrinkle; a waltz-length gown and robe; and a slip to fit either a sheath or flowing dress.

IN THE HEIGHT of fashion is Gladys Sanquinetti in this feminine dressmaker suit of pearl gray chiffon flannel by Moordale. The ensemble which is featured at Modern Eve in San Rafael and Novato is fashioned with the wider lapels and natural waistline. A black straw sailor sets off the suit.

NAVY AND WHITE, so good this spring fashionwise, is shown in this navy rayon crepe sheath from Maryon Taylor, Inc. in Ross. The sheath, modeled by Mrs. John Parsons, is completely lined and the linen collar may be removed.

PERFECT FOR the spring and summer cocktail party is this "After Five" dress from Fio-Rita's in Sausalito modeled by Mrs. Leonard S. M. Beckett. The pure silk navy check has elbow length sleeves and jewel scoop neckline with blue ribbon accents.

Little Girls Go For All-American Look

Color coordination is especially important in girls' sportswear. The red, white and blue "American" look is favored, along with sun colors, deep pinks and aquas.

Although color and textured fabrics—such as hopsackings, twills and spring corduroys — take precedence over silhouettes when it comes to young sportswear fashion news, there are new style approaches, too.

Ponchos and bloused tops, for instance, team up with pants or skirts, creating a fresh look and vying with overblouses and tuck-ins for popularity. Just-below-the-knee slim pants and no-bag knickers join Jamaica and Bermuda shorts in a bid for spring attention.

Women In White

The women in white now can wear mix-n-match uniforms. Skirts fasten to blouses by means of the new nylon adhesive closure (Velcro). Thus blouses cannot pull out, giving a messy appearance. The uniform separates come in white slub-textured Dacron. Skirts are wrap-around style, with a single patch pocket. Blouses have deep V-seaming in front and cuffed cap sleeves.

Orlon Separates

The Paris couturier, Hubert de Givenchy, has designed a line of separates in Orlon. The collection includes combinations of knits — long-haired yarns with fabrics. Waistlines are small, and definitely marked Skirts bell gently. Colors are bold, teamed with black or muted shades. For evening, Givenchy showed a full shaggy, knitted skirt worn with a scooped-necked pullover in flat knit. Bulky pullovers with enormous collars are shown with at-home pants in loopy fabric of Orlon, wool and mohair.

Prints Popular

Prints on silks, cottons and blends are much in demand. They have a modern art look of shock color contrasts in such combinations as orange and yellow, hot pink and red, blue and aqua, in abstract florals or paisley effects.

Ladies Color Stockings Are Up In Sales

By PATRICIA McCORMACK

NEW YORK (UPI) — Ladies color stockings are going up.

"Up in production and up in sales," said William F. Williamson, head of the National Assn. of Hosiery Manufacturers.

"More than 400 bright 'tints' color one pair of every four going to market this spring. One major maker has colored 50 per cent of his line."

American women, according to Williamson, buy better than 700 million pairs of sheers in a year. The "average" Miss or Mrs., he said, buys about a pair a month. Career girls excepted. They wear out 20 or more pairs a year, the NAHM spokesman said.

Statistically, it's estimated that the average woman will buy colored hose three times during 1959:

A sprinkling of color was tried four years ago, but the idea didn't catch on full-blast until recently, according to Williamson.

The snag, he recalled, stemmed from the fact that most ladies looked down on sheers of red, green, violet, orange, blue, yellow.

"Motivation experts told us colored stockings had a quite offensive reputation in most women's minds. To break down that notion, we've been saying that the stockings have just a hint of a colorful tint."

Celebrities turning to colored sheers during the past year also helped to crumble the resistance, Williamson said.

IDEAL FOR Marin County is this three-season suit worn by Aaron Schwartz of Schwartz Bros. in San Rafael. The three button continental suit is of a silk and wool in shadow plaid.

CASUAL TURNABOUT look for spring is modeled by Beverly Schwartz from Ella Joseph, Casuals, San Rafael. Pockets in the back are featured in the new Schooner blue sweater with matching flannel skirt.

Range Of Masculine Sportswear As Bracing As A Spring Tonic

As bracing as a spring tonic is the 1959 range of masculine sportswear. In addition to colorful good looks, these garments for fun and leisure also boast new construction features for greater comfort and ease. And greater use of "science" fibers in the fabrics makes for easier care, says the American Institute of Men's and Boys' Wear.

A quick run-down of what's new for and in tune with 1959 starts with sports jackets, fashioned in lighter-than-ever wool fabrics, wash-wear cottons, man-made fabrics, or blends of any or all of these. All are designed for that basic consideration: To keep cool in the hottest weather, and to look smart and crisp at all times.

As for the good looks, the jackets range all the way from the traditional blazers in solid colors, to bold checks and kingsized plaids. The muted tones of India madras are also in favor.

Fans of wool will find lightweight hopsaking weaves attractive, while other men will prefer the sleekness and sophistication of silk coats. Flannel blazers never go out of style, and this year will be found in solid colors, stripes, and again solids with contrasting piping.

The same variety and appeal are to be found in the range of sports slacks, with Ivy models heading the list for many. Some of these feature pack-flap pockets, English-inspired self-supporting beltless slacks, and the new-as-tomorrow "Continentals" which are distinguished by their single-pleat cut, slim lines, polo pockets and side tabs, among other features.

The growing demand for wash-wear slacks brings about a greater variety of them than ever. There are even wash-wear, featherlight flannel slacks this year, ready to wear after laundering and drip-drying. Other models include slacks with that now-familiar iridescent sheen effect and a great variety of patterned types that go with solid colored blazers.

It's a safe prediction that more men will turn out in walking shorts this year than ever, with Bermuda lengths or slightly longer versions getting the preference.

Sweaters continue to enjoy their great revival, with cardigans among the standouts. These feature button-up fronts among other styles, and are woven in lightweight woois, "science" yarns and cottons — or blends.

Widely Collared

Wide collars, some shoulder-spanning, have strong fashion significance this season.

Bigger The Better Is Word For Hats

PARIS (AP) — The bigger the better is the word for new Paris hats.

Brims of all shapes and sizes are the dominant note in all collections, in both tailored and frilly versions.

Paris milliners say there's a hat for every woman's taste in the new lineup. The tailored girl may take her pick of trim, mannish sailors and derbies, preferred in shiny straws and often worn with big-mesh veils drawn snugly over the face. Great swaths of fine tulle veiling also are much in evidence, either softening the severity of tailored hats or adding drama to evening confections.

The big, dramatic black hat for restaurant dining also stages a comeback this spring. A striking example is a huge crownless cartwheel made of shirred black tulle, sparked by a huge jeweled ornament front and center. This is designed by Paulette.

In addition to brimmed hats, there are plenty of deep cloches and bulky pillboxes, but even these take on added height and width.

New Sports Coats Weigh About Pound

In the summer the family spends as much time out-of-doors as it can. If a man is in his own backyard, a pair of shorts and a shirt are all he needs to wear, but when the barbecue is at one's neighbor's, or the family decides to have dinner in the country or go to an air-conditioned movie, the first thing a man reaches for is his wool sports coat. He'll wear a tie if he has to, but his sports coat is a must.

Men are practical (in spite of what their wives may think!). They want comfort above all. And sports coats for summer are so lightweight and comfortable, they hardly feel any heavier on one's shoulders than a shirt. The smartest patterns are found in all-wool jackets that weigh only about one-pound!

THE BLAZER

The wool blazer is going to be even more popular this summer than last. In navy it looks fine with white slacks or the new check and plaid slacks you see this season. But there are also striped blazers, and white and red blazers, and double-breasted blazers — all with the fancy metal buttons.

There will be many new styles in lightweight wool sports coats this year. The once popular Norfolk has returned, both in the traditional model and one with a yoke front, vertical center panels, and no belt. There are hacking jacket models — with slanted pockets, a ticket pocket and side vents — usually in bold checks and plaids. The new Italian Continental silhouette can be found in featherweight wool sports jackets, too — a shorter coat with two buttons and a cutaway front. Many jackets show novel pocket treatments — like curved V-shaped button flaps.

The patterns are bolder than last season—wide panel stripes, oversize plaids, madras type plaids in wool, and even wool challis and paisley patterns. And colors are brighter — mustards, reds, and multiple-color plaids and checks. The sports jackets are bold and cheerful, in tune with the summer sun and the fun of vacation and outdoor living this July and August.

CARDIGAN JACKET

Becoming more popular for warm weather are cardigan-jackets, with no lapels — extra light, very comfortable, and sensible for hot July days. You will find cardigan wool blazers in one button styling in all colors. Favorite fabrics are the cool open basket weaves and wool hopsackings.

Sports clothes take a lot of punishment in the summertime —it is wool that keeps its shape wears best, and keeps you comfortable both in the hottest sun and the cooler evenings. And only wool has that noble look of a real gentleman's sports coat.

For all but the dressiest occasions, in summer a lightweight wool sports coat is a man's best wardrobe friend.

BLACK AND WHITE so stylish this season is worn by Mrs. Lois Nacch from the Marin Smart Shop, San Rafael. The black pique sheath is fully lined and features a companion black and white jacket. A white Milan straw bag and hat set off the ensemble.

Sheath Styles Lead For Maternity Garb

High-waisted sheath styling predominates in maternity fashion this spring, giving fabric interest and color first importance. Textured fabrics appear by day, while chiffon and printed silks and wool challis are liked for dressier outfits.

Checks and solids are often combined, sometimes in such off-beat combinations as orange and lavender. Other interesting color combinations, appearing in prints and plaids, include orange and turquoise and burgundy, black and navy. Neutral basics may be alternated with brilliant reds, hot pinks, willow greens, coral and gold.

High waistlines appear in the form of drawstring ties, front or central panel ties and bands, bolero effects and fringed ties or bows. Mix and match separates, tunic tops and blouson silhouettes are all popular.

Today's Jet Age In Travel Calls For Worsted Suit

Five and one-half hours actual flying time between New York and Los Angeles on the new jets, and chances are the wool suit you have on at departure time from New York's Idlewild International will see you through important business appointments in Los Angeles that very same day. With distances between cities growing shorter, it's most important for executives to wear the newest styles in fine woolworsted suits, in up-to-date wool clothes that are right at home wherever business takes you.

THREE MODELS

Here's what the top styles in men's medium-weight worsted suits will be this spring '59 . . . the Italian Continental, the American Ambassador, and the Natural Shoulder.

Newest entry is the Italian Continental. It originated in Rome only last fall among style-conscious businessmen. The true Italian influence is seen first in the length of the two-button worsted jacket; it's much shorted than other models, more cutaway, and has side vents. You'll notice, too, the definite shape to the silhouette. Pockets are angled, flapless. Lapels come semi-peaked. And trousers, which are beltless and held up with side adjustments, are tapered, pleatless. We predict you'll wear them cuffless.

BLUE IS NEW

You'll see the new Italian Continental in trans-season wool-worsteds comfortably thin for spring's warm days and cool nights. If you're a travelin' man, you'll appreciate the way they hold a press. You'll admire the new smooth iridescent jacquard weaves in all shades of blue, the small checks in gray, and brown ombre stripes . . . shades and patterns which make the Italian Continental a handsome suit to own—and to wear.

The American Ambassador, which made a favorable impression a few seasons back, continues to grow in popularity with mature businessmen throughout the country. The three-button American Ambassador in worsted emphasizes squarer shoulders, an indented jacket, flapped pockets, and slim trousers with single pleats. Trousers are worn cuffed. Easterners favor medium to dark shades. On the Pacific Coast, light to medium shades are more popular. Midwesterners and southerners go for these tones, too.

The suit that did most to bring men's fashions to the fore is the Natural Shoulder which many call an "Ivy" suit because it was first worn by Ivy school graduates. Of the three, it's the most conservative in styling. This spring, commuting suburbanites will want to wear the Natural shoulder in wool hopsacking that looks right in town and country.

MOHAIR and wool sport jacket for spring is worn by George Campanelli, right, while Louis Malvino, left, wears the new all-weather suit of dacron and worsted. The clothes are modeled by the owners of Louis George Men's Fine Apparel, Corte Madera Center.

On The Beach

On the beach—conversation-piece hats. The bonnets are startling in color and design, yet practical in warding off sun. One model has a face hand-painted on the crown. Long wool pigtails tie under the wearer's chin. Another hat is named "Flower Drum Song" and is a wide-brimmed sunshade of straw that towers into a peak. Sprays of flowers trail down the sides. "Jungle Rot" is the name of another hat, which has a high crown, feathered jungle foliage and a crocodile creeping through at the sides.

Costume Ideas

Pretty version of the costume suit has a print blouse with the new wider collar, which also serves as the collar of the suit. Other suits are ready for day or evening roles, with decollete satin overblouses.

COLOR, CONTOUR BUY-WORDS IN TEENAGER'S SPRING SHOES

Color and contour are the buy-words for the teen-age miss shopping for new spring shoes.

Geranium pink, coral orange, turquoise, leaf green, bright blue—these are just a few of the colors seen in smooth leather and suede teen shoes that are contoured on sophisticated, tapered lines.

Needle-point toes hit peak popularity in shoes on all heel heights, from flat to the most-favored mid-heel. Starting with flats, the low-riding vamp tie is one of the top treatments in teen shoes.

Variations include the pointy-toed flat in bright-hued brushed leather with vamp tie of shiny patent or matching smooth leather, brushed leather with an instep tie in smooth leather, and the two-eyelet tie in smooth leather with brushed leather mudguard.

The T-strap shoe appears in a new version with the strap extending up from a cut-out vamp. Other variations are the short T-strap that stops just a little above the instep and the split T-strap that reaches up high on the instep.

The T's in many cases are of a contrasting leather.

Novelty ties add a new open look to ghillies. The hook-and-eye fastening popular last season is rivaled this spring by brass eyelets, sometimes in novelty shapes, and the ghillies are brighter, in new colors, and lighter, with slim, flexible leather soles.

Mid-heels, which get the big green light from fashion, are the top teen choice for day and dress wear. These heels are seen on silky-soft suede pumps for evening wear and on smooth or brushed leathers for daytime.

Men's Suits Are Showing New Colors, Weight And Styling

Why is it a man will wear red slacks, a yellow shirt, and a bold patterned sports coat on the weekend, but on Monday he wears a dark gray suit, a white shirt, and a subdued tie to the office, and would think it outrageous to wear anything "louder"? Sometimes it seems men's suit styles and colors are unalterably drab-looking.

But this summer there is real news in men's suits! In color, in styling, and in weight.

For too many years now men have been wearing dark colors all year round. This summer, suit colors are going lighter—and after wearing black and dark grays and charcoal browns in the cold months, a man will be able to join in some of nature's springtime gaiety by putting on a light gray or blue suit, or a tan one. And it's about time!

Men's summer suits are now being made in such fabulously lightweight tropical worsteds—5½ to 6 ounces to the yard—that a man can really look forward to comfort on even the hottest days. Wrinkle-resistant worsted feather-weight suits are the perfect choice for July days because the more open weave construction of wool means it can best take the transition to air-cooled offices. And nothing tailors like wool—even these almost see-through weights. Or keeps its press and fresh looks, even on the most humid days.

Continental Look

The new look in suits is the Continental silhouette. Inspired by Italian suit design, this model means a shorter jacket with a coat front that is cutaway and rounded, with some waise suppression, and slanted pockets. Most Continental models will have two buttons rather than three and peak lapels rather than the notch lapels we have been accustomed to the past few years. The more high fashion models will have cuffed sleeves, no cuffs on the trousers, and no chest pocket. The shorter jacket makes a short man look leggier, taller, yet it looks good on a tall, thin man, too. The man with a paunch, however, had best try a modified version, because of the cutaway front.

The most popular suit model this spring and summer will be the American Ambassador model. Inspired by California designers, this suit coat will have a squarer shoulder with a forward pitch to the sleeve—which is a flattering silhouette to the man of mature proportions. The three buttons will be placed fairly close together below a long rolling lapel with a small notch.

The college man and the young executive will continue to champion the Natural Shoulder model, or so-called "Ivy League" look—with no padding in the shoulders, straight-hanging lines, and three buttons . . . a trim look flattering to today's weight-conscious male.

SHARON CORDONE, a student at Marin Catholic High School, welcomes spring in this cotton and silk polka dot dress from Royce's Department Store in San Rafael. The empire band is gathered into a tailored buckled bow in front and the dress also features a very full skirt, linen bateau collar and extended cap sleeve.

Girls' Spring Finds Waists Back Again

Little girls have their normal waistlines back this spring! The high-rise look, important in adult styles, is more a matter of trim than fit for children.

Popular young spring dresses have bouffant skirts, big collars and all manner of cummerbunds, obis and wide sashes.

Party dresses have never been more elegant. Flower-sized embroideries mark midriffs or climb on skirts. Row upon row of lace trims skirts. Ruching, fluting and tucking decorate bodices.

There are also many two-part dresses. These include pleated-skirt dresses with overblouses or cardigans, short waisted dresses with short jackets, jumper and blouse combinations and dress and coat or smock ensembles.

For very little girls, there are empire fashions with skirts pleated, flared or gathered smock-style from a high yoke.

However, most high-rise looks are built from a natural waistline, with raised-waistline markings on princess dresses, short jackets and false boleros, string laces nipping in the midriff and bows and bands placed at mid-bodice.

Favored fabrics include wash-and-wear prints, taffetas, organdies and silky cottons for dressy wear, cotton knits and linen-look rayons. Pastels are deep, and white skirts underline navy, red or bold print jackets.

Boys' Clothes Have Well-Tailored Air

For little boys, spring heralds the arrival of young suits and coordinates with a custom-tailored look. The toddler crowd's Eton suits often take to double-breasted styling, while such highlights as cording across jacket yokes or suspenders edged in contrasting colors add interest to other outfits.

New clothes for boys in the 10 to 12 age group, especially, interpret the well-dressed look in terms of the same styling Dad likes. Jackets, whether two-, three- or four-button models, are trim and slender, and so are trousers.

Checks and stripes are sports jacket favorites. Red continues popular, and white contrasted with black, brown or navy looks new and fresh.

Reversibles

Reversible skirts, jackets and loose pullover tops continue a popular fall trend into spring.

MRS. JOHN McInnis of San Rafael is wearing a navy blue silk soft skirted spring dress fashioned with boat neck and large white pique collar. The white straw breton with red velvet and red rose accent the ensemble. Black patent accessories and white gloves complete the fashion picture from the R and M Shop of San Rafael.

Scarf Wardrobe

Build up a scarf wardrobe for the wide open necklines of clothes. Choose from a variety of houndstooth checks, gay prints, polka dots, mini-checks, and solids. A scarf may be tucked into a hat band and worn with a matching scarf in a suit neckline. Or drape a soft scarf into a mushroom collar for low-necked dresses. You also can drape a scarf just beneath the bosom for a high-waisted effect or float it from a high crowned hat.

Look Feminine

Very new and feminine looking are costumes with all-around pleated skirts and little jackets with big bow trims.

Sparkling Colors Share

Color, and lots of it, gives sparkle to the spring fashion picture. Varied and vibrant are the hues—pinks, reds, yellows, greens, blues, purples, in fact, most shades of the spectrum.

While the fashion importance of color was never greater, it's paradoxical, but true, that neutrals are enjoying increased popularity.

Navy, beige, gray and black win renewed interest for two reasons. In the midst of the riot of colors, the neutrals look ultra-fashionable, almost startling. And, they provide just what is needed to set off the vivid hues to great advantage.

Beiges often take on more than a hint of yellow and evolve into warm tones of honey and apricot. This blending of hues occurs frequently throughout spring fashion, as pinks are influenced by mauve and blue, greens mingle with yellow and yellows and blues with green.

Checks, flower garden and paisley prints, glen plaids and giant plaids, dots—from polka to coin in size — and stripes represent the most-seen spring patternings.

Belts Gain

Gaining fashion ground are belts for suits and dresses as well as sportswear. They range from narrow, for fitted styles, to wide, and sometimes crushed belts to wear above full skirts or as optional equipment for demi-fitted styles.

Healthy Trend Sweeps America; High Schoolers Are Dressing Up

The day when the junior-high and high school boy thought the only way to dress was as sloppily as possible—in blue jeans and a leather jacket—is gone. To look like that today is "square." Today the young man wants to look like older brother at college. Nor can Mother take him to the store and buy his clothes for him. He knows exactly what he wants — the "Ivy League" look.

And it has to be authentic. He is aware not only of natural shoulders and no pleats in his trousers, but he wants, too, to have the traditional lap seams, hook vent in back, and flap back pockets on his trousers. There are young men's clothes in the new Continental silhouette, but until it becomes more popular on college campuses, the high school boy will insist on the traditional "Ivy League" mode in both his dress and sports clothes. We have to admit he looks mighty good dressed up his way!

His favorite Sunday suit right now may well be made out of all-wool hopsacking, a loose weave with a smart look, that, sure enough, is also being worn by brother at college. There are wool hopsackings for spring that weigh only 6½ to 7 ounces to the yard — they are really feather-weight. And you'd better pack that suit, too, when you go on vacation this summer. When you visit Disneyland and come into Los Angeles for dinner on La Cienega boulevard, he'll want to look just as dressed up as Dad.

In his sports coats, too, he wants to emulate the university look. He likes a navy wool blazer, perhaps with an emblem on the chest pocket. Wool hopsacking is also a favorite in sports coats — and there are hopsacking blazers in black, red, white, and olive, as well as navy. The plaid sports coat is also currently popular, rapidly replacing stripes as a favorite pattern and the new combination colors are burgundy with black and olive with black.

Another neat touch that has become popular are fancy linings in those hopsacking suits and navy blazers. These vary from paisley designs to rich stripes to solid bright reds, but they are all colorful and in good taste.

He chooses his sweater in the same way—in imitation of a campus favorite, the shetland. There are shaggy shetland sweaters that are very light in weight for spring, and they come in both the solid colors and in new, very wide horizontal stripes of two contrasting shades.

Mother will be pleased to know that cuffless trousers are getting to be the accepted mode among the grade and high school crowd. Cuffs are only dirt catchers anyway, and if the boys decide they like their pants slim and tapered and that leaving off cuffs heightens the trim look of "Ivy," so much the better.

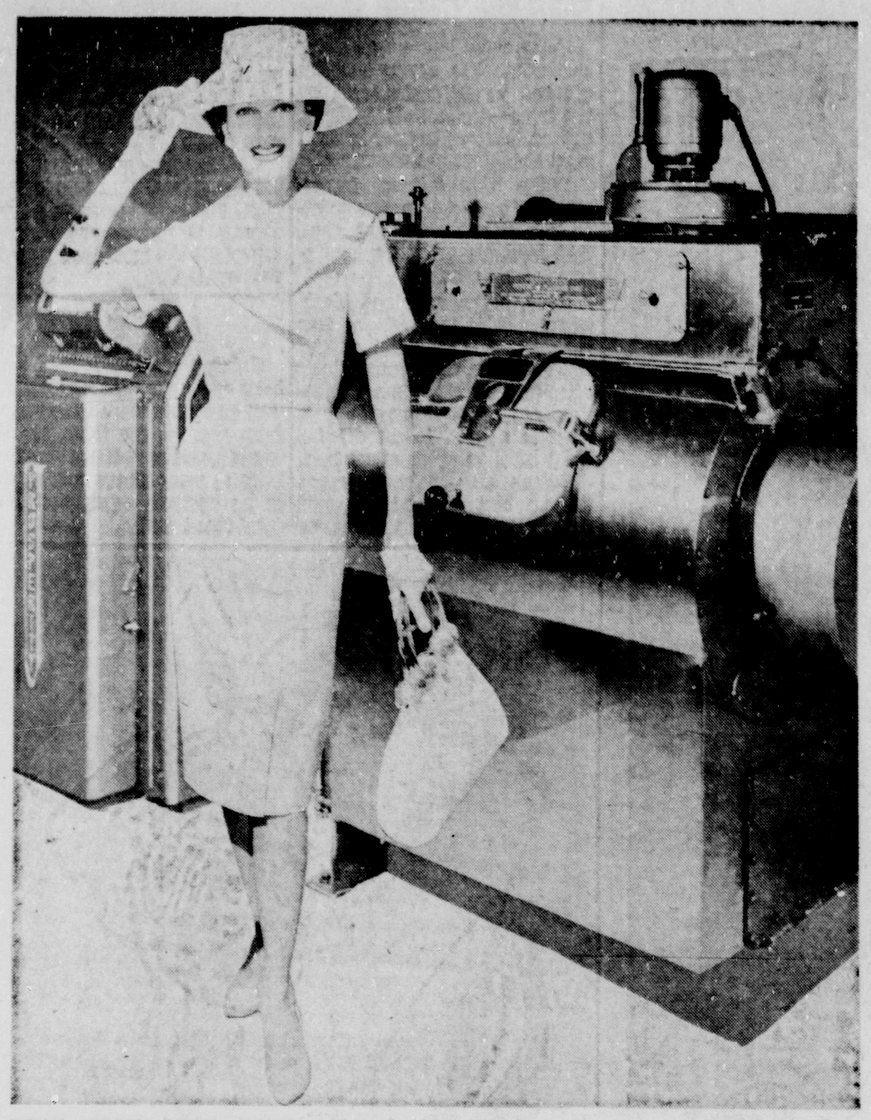
TWO PENNEY STORES TO SERVE YOU — SAN RAFAEL — CORTE MADERA



THIS TRIM MISS didn't actually step from Vogue's dry cleaner . . . but her smart cotton dress featuring the new wide collar and back-to-normal waistline illustrates the tissue-crisp freshness obtained through a new cleaning process for cottons as developed by Sanitone. The Cotton Clinic treating with style-set finish retains every detail of styling and fit plus prolonged new-look appearance of fine cottons. All this Miss needed was to add the jaunty straw hat and bag to her outfit and you could never guess that she had stepped from the dry cleaner instead of the show room. Vogue Cleaners Inc. is Marin's exclusive Sanitone representative.

BEVERLY DIERCKS models a pair of the new spring shoes from GallenKamp stores in San Rafael and Corte Madera. The Dream Step of white leather features the French heel and an attractive leather bow accessory.

Mohair Items

Mohair shows from the skin-side out these days. Important were the big, colorful mohair coats and mohair-blend sweaters. Now Paris is turning out mohair sportswear and lounging items.

One style is a white, loosely-knit mohair combination negligee and tea gown with pink satin drawstrings and bows. The shawl collar stands away from the neck, the waistline is raised, sleeves are three-quarter length, and buttons open down the front.

Jacques Heim shows an after-ski outfit of ameythest velveteen knee-length tights with high, boned corselet top. A pale yellow mohair dress slips over the ensemble. He suggests ribbed knitted wool stockings, worn with velveteen flats to complete the costume.

Heart Items

Have a heart, ladies. The stores are full of them, says the Fashion Coordination Institute, which keeps tabs on style trends. The hearts range from miniatures on delicate gold chains to large "life-sized" types used as pendants, pins, and charms. Semi-precious and precious stones decorate some.

Favor Fit

Closer to the body is the fitting trend of spring fashions, but the "poured-in" look is avoided.

For Top Interest

Short sleeves for suits and coats, wider sleeves and softly shaped yokes are among fashion's new ways of achieving top interest for silhouettes.

2-Piece Bathing Suit To Be Back In Style

Come summer, the two-piece bathing suit will be back in fashion.

It's a compromise between the daring bandana bikinis — prohibited on most public beaches—and the conservative two-piecer of mamma's heyday.

The news came from a show of a designer's (Cole of California) 60 new models, ranging from $12 to $200.

"A whole new generation never has seen a two-piece bathing suit," said Anne Cole, vice president of the swim wear firm. "Because today's diets stress slim figures, these young things have narrow waists that make two-piece suits attractive."

A close-up view of a zebra-striped model, filled out by a petite brunette, gets Miss Cole's idea across with whistles.

For the curvy youths are vividly-colored beach wraps of sheer gorgette, as glamorous as a negligee in the moonlight.

New beach designs also offer a wide selection of one-piece suits for women to whom the two-piecers are only a memory — or should be. Included are clinging knitted leotards with cap sleeves and suits with wrap-around skirts.

The suits contain all the gimmicks developed since fig leaves went out of style to pinch in a bulge here, restore a curve there, and otherwise cloud the vision of a critical male.

Cottons are making a comeback this year. The natural fiber holds colors of new suits, ranging from soft pastels of blues and lavenders to vivid hues, all in the same garment.

Sports Clothes Make A Hit For Weekends In The Suburbs

Here's information on what's new in sports wear this spring and summer. We've carefully checked the stores, bearing in mind easy-to-wear and easy-to-care-for spring wool clothes. Leading sportsmen, too, were quizzed. Now we're passing on to you what the experts have told us.

Whether you're interested in golf, skeet-shooting, tennis, or just relaxin' in the sun, the new warm-weather fashions are styled right for around the clock.

Basic to a golfer's wardrobe are cool wool slacks in neat black and white hound's tooth checks and bold plaids. They're a welcome change from gray flannel. The new wool tropicals are practically tissue thin, yet the sturdy wool fiber holds its shape. The weaves are porous enough to allow for circulation of air to keep you cool and comfortable on the green. For sportsmen new to the game, golf slacks are fuller at the knee, come with extension waistbands whih don't cut into the waist the way a belt may. Ask any golf pro at any club and he'll tell you to look for slacks with extra-deep pockets with places for holding tees, and even a loop for your towel.

That golfing shirt should be in a porous knit that will "give" as you swing the club. Knitted wool shirts not only do this, but also "spring" back into shape. They absorb perspiration, keep you dry and comfortable as only a natural fiber can, and their dyes don't run. Wear blue this spring because it's the big color and the coolest-looking.

Whatever the sport, a light-on-the-houlder hip jacket helps prevent chills afterward. The new short jackets come in neat brown and white checks, oyster white wool gabardines. And they're water-repellent, some Syl-mer treated—to protect you during a sudden spring shower.

The yachtsman, in particular, should bear in mind the double-breasted wool flannel blazer in navy. What to look for? Deep side vents, slanted flapped pockets and a semi-peaked lapel. Whether your craft is docked on the Great Lakes, on Long Island Sound, or near the Golden Gate, you'll earn the accolades of your crew if you contrast the navy blazer with a hound's tooth check or muted plaid wool flannel slacks.

GLOVES SHOW ELEGANT AIRS, VARIED TRIMS

Gloves have an especially elegant look this spring. Trimming techniques are many and varied and always subtle. Typical are all-over pin tucks, appliques and discreet beading.

Embroideries have a handmade, delicate air. They appear in both vivid colors and such soft shades as pale green, blue and yellow. Some are empire-inspired designs of fruits or flowers.

Eyelets and perforations serve as decorations and also offer coolness.

Leather trims are popular, too, and leather is often combined with fabric. Patterned sheer nylon teamed with French kid looks new, feels light and comfortable, while washable leather and stretch yarns are another favorite combination.
